BERGER SCORES GOMPERS GROUP!

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Although the President and the Senate Chamber were busy with the business of the working week, the leaders of the working world had gathered in the Capitol to consider the fate of the bill which would enable them to move forward with their plan to establish a workers' union. The bill, known as the Gompers Bill, was introduced by Representative Victor L. Berger, and the only socialist in the house, and is designed to give the workers a voice in the running of their own affairs. The bill has been met with opposition by the business world, which sees in it a threat to their power and control. The Berger Bill has been defended by the leaders of the working world, who see in it a means of protecting their rights and interests. The bill has been debated in the House, and it is expected to be passed by a large majority.

SOCIALIST FARMER REPLIES TO CONGRESSMAN RAINLEY

BERGER ATTACKS THE BILL—BERGER ATTACKS THE BILL—BERGER ATTACKS THE BILL

MONTREAL, July 31, 1913.

Mr. Berger has been informed by the Montreal Daily Star that the bill is not going to pass, and that it will be defeated in the House of Commons. The bill is designed to give farmers a voice in the running of their own affairs. The bill has been debated in the House, and it is expected to be passed by a large majority.

All About the Mob That Hunted Editor Burgess of The Clarion for Telling the Bitter Truth

All of this material comes from Pittsburg, the county seat, or from the nearest city, where the people are gathered to listen to the editor of The Clarion. The editor has been arrested for publishing a story which is considered to be contrary to the wishes of the government. The editor has been given a choice: either to go to jail or to leave the country. The editor has chosen to go to jail, and the government has ordered that he be arrested. The people are gathered to listen to the editor, who is speaking from the hustings, and who is, in fact, a man of great courage and determination. The people are determined to stand by the editor, and to support him in his struggle against the government. The editor is speaking about the government, and about the people, and about the struggle for freedom. The people are determined to stand by the editor, and to support him in his struggle against the government.

BERGER ASKS PUBLIC RAILROADS!

WASHINGTON, D.C.—At the same time that the managers of the eastern railroads and the representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen were today making no signs of reaching an agreement in the dispute over the demands of the firemen for higher wages, Representative Victor L. Berger, the only socialist in the house, introduced a resolution for the government to take control of the railroads on the grounds of public emergency and the right of eminent domain.

Anticipating the move of the railroads to make a protest, the railroad managers involved in the dispute declared yesterday that they expected the government to carry through with its resolve to take the railroad facilities into government hands, and to further prosecute the President Carter of the Firemen, and that the move would ensure the conquest of the proposed bill through Judge Kosygin and the Committee on Railroads. The firemen declared they would vote to nothing short of bringing the railroad facilities under the Committee act.
Milwaukee's "Non" Partisan Administration Already a Failure!

At the end of the first year Mayor Buildings has been successful. The mayor has administered his functions in the council in a straight forward and orderly manner. He has made no effort to influence the council in any way. If he were not interested in the council's business he would not have been considered for the position of mayor.

The Free Press in reviewing the "non-partisan" administration recently wrote: "The mayor has done his work with skill and efficiency. He has taken the initiative in the council in a straight forward manner. He has made no effort to influence the council in any way. If he were not interested in the council's business he would not have been considered for the position of mayor."

It is not our function to serve as apologists for the mayor. We believe that the "non-partisan" administration is a failure. We believe that the council's business is not being conducted in an orderly manner. We believe that the mayor is not interested in the council's business. We believe that the mayor is not interested in the council's business.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration.

The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.

The "non-partisan" administration is a failure. It is not only a failure in the council's business. It is also a failure in the city's administration. The mayor has not been able to convince the council that his "non-partisan" administration is a failure. The council has not been convinced that the mayor's "non-partisan" administration is a failure.
The Question of "Direct" or Political Action As Seen by Ameringer

The POLITICAL

The question of the "Direct" vs. Political Action, as a means of obtaining the objectives of the labor movement, is not an easy one to answer. Is it a question of "Direct" or Political Action? Or is it a question of both? Mr. Rockefeller? Who is it? A CONSERVATIVE?

Conservatism, as a term, appears to mean different things to different people. To some, it means a belief in the status quo; to others, it means a belief in change. To still others, it means a belief in the existing economic system. What is the meaning of conservatism in the labor movement?

To Mr. Ameringer, the answer is clear. "Conservatism," he says, "is the belief in the existing economic system. It is the belief that the system is fair and just, and that any changes that are made should be made in a gradual and orderly manner."

Mr. Ameringer further states that "Direct" action is necessary in order to achieve the objectives of the labor movement. He believes that "Direct" action is the only way to bring about real change. He contends that Political Action is not effective in achieving the objectives of the labor movement.

Mr. Ameringer also points out that "Direct" action is necessary in order to maintain the momentum of the labor movement. He believes that Political Action is too slow and too cumbersome to be effective in maintaining the momentum of the labor movement.

In conclusion, Mr. Ameringer states that "Direct" action is necessary in order to achieve the objectives of the labor movement. He believes that Political Action is not effective in achieving the objectives of the labor movement. He also contends that "Direct" action is necessary in order to maintain the momentum of the labor movement. He believes that Political Action is too slow and too cumbersome to be effective in maintaining the momentum of the labor movement.
America's Convict Labor Disgrace

BY IRA J. MORGEN

MILWAUKEE SOCIAL-Democratic Publishing Co.

FREDERICK WALTHER, PICTORIAL EDITOR.

January 11, 1912

[Article content]

What Are Your Thoughts When You Read Such Facts As These?

BY NEWSWEEK

In every city, in every state, in every country, there is a labor problem that must be solved. It is a problem that is made up of two parts: the working class and the non-working class. The working class consists of those who work for a living, while the non-working class consists of those who do not work for a living. The problem is to find a way to make both classes live together in peace.

[Article content]

The Builders' Column

BY J. W. MOORE

The Builders' Column is a column that deals with the building industry. It covers topics such as the history of architecture, the development of new building materials, and the impact of construction on the economy. The column also features interviews with architects, builders, and other professionals in the field.

[Article content]

The GREAT INSPIRATION: A Talk to Herald Readers

Every morning, when you read the Herald, you are inspired to make a difference. You are inspired to be a part of something greater than yourself. You are inspired to make the world a better place.

[Article content]

English Arnold

[Article content]

OUR YOUNG FOLKS

[Article content]

Puzzles

[Article content]

FLOWER GARDEN

[Article content]