Is Socialism Hard to Live Up To As Capitalists Alike?

"The late John Arbuckle, the coffee king once said of Arbuckles:

"Life is, in a word, a golden road. It is excellent through the very end, but it is rather a long and dusty road. We are all in it together, but we must not let it stand still. We must go forward and live as we go."

Socialists Carry Butte Again!

The workers of Butte, in defying a general strike, have recently renewed the effort to force the government to grant funds in sufficient amount to relieve the miners of their distress. The Butte miners are in a serious financial plight, and the only way to relieve them is by grants from the government. The Socialists and Liberals have joined hands in opposition to the proposition of the Conservatives and the Catholic hierarchy.

The Belgian strike is one of the most momentous events of our time. It may prove as far-reaching in its consequences as the speculating operations which have had their birth in bloody and violent upheavals. The Belgian Socialists and Liberals are seeking to accomplish a revolution in the Belgian government by means of a general strike. The government has made several proposals for settlement, but these have been rejected by the strikers. The workers have continued their strike, and the government has ordered the army to put down the rebellion. The situation is critical, and the world is watching with interest.
