The Social Democrats have been in an uncomfortable situation in the last few weeks, facing the need to balance revolutionary zeal with practical considerations. The recent arrests and trials have put the party in a difficult position, but the leaders are determined to maintain their radical stance.

Carri Court has included a fine and a, jail sentence. He will be in jail for a year. George Dyer, who was also convicted, was sentenced to two years in jail. Both men were active in the movement and their arrest has caused much consternation among the ranks.

HATFIELD OF WEST VIRGINIA

West Gov. Bigfoot West Virginia took possession of the executive office in March. His administration is characterized by a strong, decisive leadership. The states have seen a significant decrease in lawlessness and crime since his takeover.

Marching Toward the Sunrise

We are in the midst of an important campaign for socialism. The struggle for freedom is the struggle for the future of the world. The struggle for socialism is the struggle for the freedom of the world. We must unite our efforts to achieve this goal.

SEYMOUR STEEDMAN OF ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE ON SOCIALISM

It is the opinion of the Socialist Party that the best way to handle the working men is to employ them on a socialist basis, and to gradually advance them to a higher grade of life. The Socialist Party believes that the working men should be given a voice in all matters affecting their lives, and should be able to determine the policies of the government.

TEXT OF WEST VIRGINIA REPORT

The last of our series of reports from West Virginia is now published. The mine owners have been very active in their efforts to keep the miners from striking. They have offered a number of concessions, but the miners have refused to accept them. The situation is very serious, and the miners are determined to continue their strike until they are satisfied.

Father Haire.

In 1890, at a meeting of farmers, Father Haire was appointed the chairman. He was a man of great influence, and his words had a great effect on the farmers. He was a true friend of the working man, and he always stood up for the rights of the poor.

What About Canada?

Describing the conditions of labor in Canada, Father Haire said: "The working man is in a worse position in Canada than in the United States. He is not protected by the law, and he is not given a fair chance to make a living."

Miss Morgan's Wisdom.

"The working man is not a fool," said Miss Morgan, "but he is not a businessman. He is not a politician, and he is not a philosopher. He is a man who works hard to support his family, and he should be given a chance to do so."

Our Backward Cities.

"The cities of our land are backward," said Father Haire, "and they are not prepared for the needs of the working man. The government should be doing more to improve the conditions of the working man."

More Ballingherrites.

The Secretary of State of Illinois said that he had received the application of the Ballingherrites for a charter. He said that he would be glad to grant the charter, as it would be a great benefit to the working men of the state.

AN INTERESTING PROPOSITION

The Menace of Socialism

By M. J. Burns

The man who works with his head and hands should be as free as the man who works with his head alone. The working man should have the same rights as the man who works with his head alone. The working man should be able to live as he wishes, and he should be able to do as he wishes.

There is no freedom which workers are in for.——Bolshevism.
CITY HOME RULE

The arduous task of making Milwaukee a city of Home Rule and the Unique City Home Rule movement in that city, which the citizens have now courageously undertaken, may be more important than the results of the recent national campaign of the Republican party. The make-up of the proposed Home Rule Board of Aldermen is of the highest order. The Board, which includes George H. Keith, a civil engineer of national reputation; George H. M. Kiehr, a well-known lawyer; and F. W. Pope, a successful businessman, is composed of men of exceptional ability and experience. The Board is expected to do a great work in bringing about greater intelligence and better control of local government, and to make Milwaukee a model city in the eyes of the country. The citizens of Milwaukee are to be congratulated on the splendid organization of the movement and the able leaders who have been chosen to carry it through.

WISCONSIN

A Capitalism Sense.

Many people are saying that a social convention is to be held in Wisconsin, and that the proposed Home Rule Board will be in attendance. This is not the case. The convention has been called by the Republican party, and the Board has been invited to attend. The Board, however, has declined to do so, and the Wisconsin Republican party has determined to hold the convention without the Board.

A Forward University.

The University of Wisconsin is to be a Forward University, and the Board of Aldermen has given it a charter for the purpose of making it a Forward University. The Board has also given it a charter for the purpose of making it a Forward University, and the Board has also given it a charter for the purpose of making it a Forward University. The University of Wisconsin is to be a Forward University, and the Board of Aldermen has given it a charter for the purpose of making it a Forward University.

WOOD GOES FREE—JURY TAMPERING?

BOSTON—William H. Wood, president of the Wood Trust, was acquitted by a jury alleged to have been tampered with. The matter is to be investigated. Great is capital law.

For while its origin and meaning of the structural iron-workers were continued to the federal prisons at Leavenworth, Kan., interesting the Having determined property, William H. Wood is to be tried this week, the jury into whose hands he was placed, finding him on every charge against him.

Further evidence of the different methods of investigating the cases of the steelworkers, was based on the fact that Wood had never been before, while the testimony of the workers, were built in fact almost a case of a trumped-up charge of being an accessory to the murder of a woman killed during the strike by a member of the steelworkers union, who was doing the bidding of the mill owners of the Wood Trust, to an attempt to beat down the strikers.

William H. Wood, Frederick Allis and Charles Colson were placed under indictment for conspiracy to violate the Sherman law. Wood is a former member of the organization and has been for years a prominent member of the Democratic party. He was one of the leaders of the strike in 1909.

The trial was conducted by W. C. H. Halsey, who was also one of the leaders of the strike. The jury was composed of citizens of the district and was chosen from a list of names submitted by the parties.

The case was brought to the court by the district attorney, who had been called by the attorney for the steelworkers. The defendant was represented by a lawyer from Chicago, who had been retained by the Steelworkers Union.

The defendant, William H. Wood, is on trial for conspiracy to violate the Sherman law. The charges are that he and others conspired to violate the law by engaging in a boycott of goods produced by the Steelworkers Union.

The trial was opened by the attorney for the Steelworkers Union, who stated that the defendant was an active member of the union and had been for years a prominent leader in the organization.

The attorney for the defendant, who had been called by the district attorney, stated that the defendant was not a member of the union and had never been a leader in it. He stated that the defendant was a law-abiding citizen and had never been accused of any crime.
