Cary is the Massachusetts House on Communism

The following is a brief extract of a speech made by Comrade Cary in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on May 6, 1899. Cary provided trial by jury in case of contempt of a national legislative body and said: "ought not to pass" by the Joint Judiciary Committee.

"Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to a mistake that has been committed; third, it provides that the House of Representatives shall protect its prerogatives in the existing at that time; but owing to the increasing the proceedings may be passed into the hands of a class—a small minority of a class. The situation is critical, and the question to be asked is: Have we, as a people, taken the necessary steps to protect our interests and the protection of the real interest of our men and women by the very unem-

Karl Marx, the great socialist, was born November 5, 1818. He was the author of "Das Kapital," the masterpiece of the scientific socialism.

Socialism as Sure as the Seasons.

In his work on the "Development of Romanticism from Kant to Hegel," Frederick Engels sums up the course of the class struggle, and其所的 significance in the development of the proletariat. In the following clear manner:

Socialism—Small individual production. Means of production are owned either individually or jointly, immediately producing and serving a sufficiently large number of people. The outcome of such production is not distributed among the various consumers, but is used to support the social community.

But, remember, it is not the number of the people who work on the big farms, but the number of the people who work for "living wages," that is important. Let us quote the following:

"The question is often asked, "What does the laborer do for his dollar?" On this point a careful investigation of the size of thirty-five ordinary farms gives the following:

Net profit, $30,557.24.

MARY E. LEASE, SOCIAL DEMOCRAT.

Let Newport bay boast of its 32 new members admitted at one meeting, and let Boston harbor pride themselves upon their increased membership. In numbers, we in Boston have cause for boasting.

Our Boston branch, No. 1, at last meeting, had 147 members. Our last meeting took in 36 new members, and the Socialist party of New York city is known, because that one was the only mass meeting held in New York, where the trials reveal virility, and only genuine workers are evidenced. Mrs. Lease's excellent work in organizing temporally in New York, one time pupil, and the greatest worker in the country, in 1873, joined our ranks. Mrs. Lease travels through the city, and wherever she can belong to our branch in Boston, she is a member as well as a leader.

The following is a copy of the application she presented to the branch, which Mrs. Lease filled out and signed:

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY.
APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP.

Branch 1, Mass. April 24, 1890.

1. Do you believe in Socialism, as defined by the Social Democratic party, that is, the collective ownership and operation of the means of production, credit and transportation, as to be attained by means of a political party organized for that purpose.

Answ'y: Yes.

2. Do you subscribe to the principles and objects of the Social Democratic party as set forth in the Constitution of the party, and do you approve the platform and its constitution?

Answ'y: Yes.

3. Do you promise to do all in your power to assist and to aid in the political work of the branch?

Answ'y: Yes.

4. Have you been or are you now a member of another party?

Answ'y: Yes.

5. What is your occupation?

Answ'y: Trade Union organizer.

MRS. ELIZABETH LEASE.

4208 N. Larrabee, Chicago.

This leaves no room for doubt, does it, as to where Mrs. Lease stands? She is one of the most prominent workers there, but her influence, her powerful pen and voice and her unswerving faith in behalf of the Social Democratic party, so great is it that I may be a factor for good in our grand campaign. Mrs. Lease is am I with heart and soul on the platform and principles. Hence, I feel that I am not alone, but that I have a band of comrades with whom I am working for a great cause.

Our comrades, with their usual sturdiness, have decided to take advantage of their good fortune in having within their ranks one of the most prominent women in all the ranks. This has, of course, been a source of great encouragement to us.

Some time ago, I was invited to meet Mrs. Lease and she gave me an interview. She has spoken in a few words to the women's clubs and she made a great impression on them. She is not only a great thinker and speaker, but she is also a great organizer.

Mrs. Lease is a woman of great ability and she has the ability to organize a movement.
