40,000 RUHR COAL MINERS FIGHT CUTS

ESSEN, Germany.---Over 40,000 miners in the Ruhr valley walked out on strike against the bankruptcy of the Essen coal company, and the strike is spreading rapidly.

The miners are striking against the attempts of the Essen bank groups, which are trying to take over the mines and make the workers bear the brunt of the plan of the Ruhr mining manager, Mr. von Klever, to liquidate the Essen mining company. The miners want a better wage and the miners have refused to return to work until their demands are met.

This is the eighth day that the miners have been on strike. They have not been able to return to work, and the strike is spreading throughout the Ruhr mining district.

Army Rags, Slop, Workers' Pay--But No Jobless Aid

While the "helping the unemployed" bill is being passed out daily by Hoover and Woods, millions of workers over the country are on the verge of starvation, must go on their hands to get food, and stand off bread from the "charity."" It seems that the only way to "help" them is to turn them out of their homes, and feed them with the food they are making.

Mrs. Walter of Dallas, Texas, who is in charge of giving out food, said: "The University of Illinois is offering a $100 a month salary with 3 days' classes, and other positions are available at fair wages. Thousands of unemployed workers whose heads are spinning trying to figure out what to do next."

Charlotte Gets 1,000 Signers for Bill

Charlotte, N.C.---One thousand signatures to the unemployment insurance bill have been collected in this week alone.

The Workers' Council and the local Socialists have been canvassing the city, and the papers have been frank in their discussion of the bill. The workers are demanding that the bill be passed without delay.

Lie About Jobs In Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.---The workers have been gathering in large numbers at the U.S. Pipe and Brick plant, and at the Crane-Kahn and other plants.

Thousands of workers were turned away from the assembly where they expected to be able to vote for the renewal of the service contracts. The papers have been circulating among the workers, and the workers are determined to fight evictions of workers for non-payment of rent.

To Displace Many Farm Workers

A cotton harvester which can pick 40 percent more cotton than the old machines has been developed, and plans are being made for its use on the large plantations. This would make it possible for the machine to be used on the large plantations, and would make it possible for the farm owners to sell their cotton at a profit.

This machine is put into general use on the large plantations, it will mean that hundreds of thousands of acres will be worked and added to the permanent army of the unemployed.

The machine is a result of the same movement in the Southwest, and the machine will be used in conjunction with the local socialists to pull the workers out of the fields.
GREEN OFFERS SELL-OUT PLAN FOR DANVILLE

GETTYSBURG, Va. — The address on their fourth month of struggle against the Danville & Western Railway, workers, led by John A. Williams, president of the Southern Railway, have set their sights on the local mill. The railroad's plan to sell the mill to Williams, who also controls the local power plant, has sparked a strong backlash from workers and community members.

Conditions Of Soviet Farmers Improve Daily

The grip of exploitation is slowly loosening its hold on the Soviet countryside. Thanks to the recent reforms, the number of landless laborers has decreased significantly. Farmers are now able to keep a larger portion of their harvest, which is leading to increased productivity and better living conditions.

WALES MINERS STRIKE: MILLS MAY FOLLOW

CAREYES, Wales — 140,000 coal miners struck at South Wales coalfields against wage cuts, as reported in December. As William Green, president of the Amalgamated Union of Engineering Workers, said in his speech: "The miners are fighting to preserve their standard of living and to stop the trend towards poverty they have experienced in recent years."

SANDINO RESISTS YANKO EVADERS

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — Sandino's forces, led by General Mauro, have launched a counteroffensive against the United States forces in Nicaragua. The conflict has sparked international concern, with many calling for a peaceful resolution.

Textile Mills Lay Off Hands

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Many textile mills have been forced to lay off workers. The rising costs of raw materials, such as cotton, have made it difficult for these factories to remain profitable.

LYNCH LAW AT WORK

Sheffield, Ala. — A lynching at Sheffield, with the hanging of three Negroes, shocked the town. The victims were accused of raping a white woman, a crime for which there was no evidence.

Marion, Ind. — A Negro soldier was killed in a fight with a white mob. The same day, another Negro was shot dead in a similar incident.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The police have arrested four young men for the murder of a white man, the third in a series of lynchings in the city.

Reading and Writing Class

Chattanooga, Tenn. — A new reading and writing class for Negroes is being held at the Methodist Church.

BEINBERG WON'T HIRE WORKERS THAT STRUCK

Bemberg's mills in Elberta, Al., are deserted except for a few night guards as workers strike for higher pay. The strike was called by the Elberta Workers' Union, which hopes to organize the textile industry in the area. If successful, it would be the first such union in the South. The workers are demanding a raise to $1.50 a day, plus better working conditions and shorter hours. The company has offered a $1.25 raise, but the workers refuse to accept it. The strike has brought the mills to a standstill, and the company is losing money. The workers are determined to win their demands, and they are supported by the community.

WANT MORE "SW" For Elizabethon Workers

A letter to the editor of the Southern Worker magazine expressed concern about the conditions in Elizabethon, N.C. The writer noted that the workers in Elizabethon were working long hours and earning low wages, and asked for more "SW" (Southern Worker) subscriptions to support the workers. The writer also expressed sympathy for the workers and their struggle for better working conditions and fair wages.

Not Scared By Police Beating

A worker at the Southern Maid plant in Alabama was beaten by police officers who entered the plant without a warrant. The worker was one of a group of workers who had been arrested earlier that day for marching without a permit. The police officers entered the plant and beat the worker with nightsticks and sharp objects. The worker was taken to the hospital and treated for injuries. The police have not released any information about the incident.

New Machines At U.S. Pipe Lay Off Workers

The U.S. Pipe Company in Elberta, Al., has introduced new machines that will replace workers. According to the company, the new machines are more efficient and can produce the same amount of output with fewer workers. The workers who are laid off have been given a week's notice and will be paid their normal wages for that week. The company has stated that the layoffs are temporary and that workers will be recalled when production increases.

A former soldier who has four children sick with pneumonia is in need of financial assistance. The soldier, who served overseas during World War II, has been unable to find work and is unable to pay for medical care for his children. The soldier has tried to contact various organizations for help, but has been denied assistance. The soldier is in desperate need of financial assistance to care for his children.

Low Pay, Long Hours At Western Union

Workers at the Western Union office in Birmingham, Ala., are complaining about low pay and long hours. The workers are paid $1.50 an hour and are required to work 8-10 hour shifts, with no overtime pay. The workers are also required to work on weekends and holidays. They have tried to organize a union, but have been met with resistance from the company. The workers are demanding better working conditions and higher wages.

Dicks Shoot Workers Gathering Coal

According to local reports, a group of workers was killed and injured when they were shot by police officers while participating in a peaceful protest. The police officers fired shots at the workers, who were demanding better working conditions and higher wages. The workers were shot in the back and were taken to the hospital. The police have not released any information about the incident.

Negro Truck Driver Work 12 Hours for $1

A Negro truck driver working for a company in Tifton, Ga., is being paid $1 a day for a 12-hour shift. The driver is one of several thousand Negroes working in the local industries. The driver has been working for the company for several years and has no other job offers. The driver is trying to support his family, which includes his wife and two children. He has been working long hours and earning low wages, and is in need of financial assistance to support his family.
