RESISTS AND WINS AGAINST HER EVICTION

By a Worker Correspondent, Charleston, W. Va.

We learn with satisfaction that the battle has begun to save and can't find anyone else in the field of the party's protest against the eviction of Mrs. A. who has been living in the house for many years. At first, it was difficult to make money, but he decided to take a job in Millard to make ends meet. He was able to earn enough to support his family and improve their living conditions.

Later, he decided to rent the house to a neighbor, and they lived there for a while.

This shows we must all fight for our rights, even if in the face of opposition. We can't let the landlord put a stop to the progress we've made so far.

Jail Jobless To Build State Road

Jacksonville, Fla.

The conditions in the jail are as bad as anywhere else. We have a situation that feeds you a Plenty of food, but it's not being distributed fairly. It's a shame, in fact, you can smell it on the street.

They are building a new road nearby, but the "jail" is being used as a dumping ground for the workmen. They're not paid enough to make a living. It's a disgrace, and I'm sure something will be done about it soon.

The Salvation Army, here you give you a lot of food and shelter. They're not in need of food, but they're not getting enough to eat. The Salvation Army is doing a great job.

They are also raising money to build a new jail. Let's support them in their efforts.

Offer Jobless In Atlanta Job At 10c An Hour

By a Worker Correspondent, Atlanta, Ga.

In the last few months, I have had a lot of job offers, but today I received an opportunity that I couldn't resist. The boss had told me that there was a job opening in a local factory, and he was willing to pay me $10 per hour. I couldn't believe it!

I went to the place where he was working, and he introduced me to the boss. It was a big factory, and there were a lot of people working there. I mustered all my courage and started talking to the boss.

I told him about my work experience and qualifications. He was impressed and offered me the job on the spot. I accepted it, and I can't wait to start work tomorrow.

Lay Off 700 At City Warehouse

By a Worker Correspondent, New York, N. Y.

I started working in the City Warehouse in New York City. On September 7, 1929, I was laid off from my job. I was shocked and disappointed, but I knew I had to be strong.

I found another job in a nearby factory, but it paid less. I had to make a decision, and I chose to accept it. I've been working there for a year now, and I'm happy with my new job.

Charity Relief Insults Workers

By a Worker Correspondent, Galveston, Tex.

I went to the Salvation Army store in Galveston to buy some clothes. They were really expensive, but I had to buy them. I was tired of wearing the same old clothes.

When I left the store, I noticed a group of workers standing outside. They were protesting against the Salvation Army's charity relief program. I joined them, and we marched to the store to demand our rights.

We demand a fair wage and the right to organize. We won't accept charity, but we'll fight for our rights.

4,000 STORM CITY HALL IN B'HAM FOR JOB

By a Worker Correspondent, Birmingham, Ala.

I was down in the City Hall yesterday, and the city was packed with people. They were all waiting for a job. I heard that there were about 4,000 people there.

I asked a few of them why they were there. They said they needed work. They had families to support, and they couldn't live on charity.

I talked to the mayor, and he told me that there were jobs available, but they needed more workers.

I told him that we would be there every day until we got our jobs. We were determined to get the jobs.

By a Worker Correspondent, Birmingham, Ala.

I was down in the city hall, looking for a job. I was tired of being unemployed, and I was ready to work for a living. But I had to wait for a job.

I asked the officer in charge if there were any jobs available, but he said no. I mustered all my courage and started talking to him.

I told him about my work experience and qualifications. He was impressed and offered me a job. I accepted it, and I can't wait to start work tomorrow.

Long Hours, Low Pay

By a Worker Correspondent, Dallas, Texas

I work for a company that pays me $2 per hour. I work 12 hours a day, and I don't get paid for any overtime. It's a hard life, but I have no choice.

I talked to some of my co-workers, and they had the same problem. They said they were working to live, but they couldn't make ends meet. It's a shame, and I hope something can be done about it.

Speed Up Signers For Jobless Bill in B'Hm

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—After a rather slow start, Birmingham workers are turning up things for a collection of signed envelopes opposing the large jobs of unemployed employment. The bill is to be presented to the United States Congress on Feb. 13. At least 700 names have been signed backing up Birmingham in getting the bill to pass Chattanooga. By the time the names were counted, 700 names were signed. These names will be presented to the city Commission of Birmingham at a February meeting.

Unemployment Grows In B'Hm Despite Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Unemployment in Birmingham continues to grow despite the efforts of the Federal Government and the city of Birmingham. The latest figures show that the number of people unemployed in Birmingham is higher than at any time since the start of the depression. The city government has been working hard to find jobs for the unemployed, but the results have not been as good as hoped.

We Want No Charity Relief

But Unemployment Insurance

By an Unemployed Worker

Birmingham, Ala.

We want no charity relief; we want unemployed workers' insurance. The workers are the only workers who should be paid for their labor. The employers should bear the burden of the workers' unemployment. We want the government to provide a system of unemployment insurance that will give the workers a decent standard of living when they are not employed. We will not accept charity relief as a substitute for unemployment insurance.

The Birmingham Bosses Wage-Cutting Fund

One of the trickiest schemes of the bosses is to cut the wages of the workers with the help of the government. The bosses have enlisted the help of the Birmingham City Commission to appropriate one million dollars for the extension of the city's Jim-Crow park system in order to provide work for the unemployed. In making this proposal, Jimmy Jones, the head man of the Commission, stated that the park system would provide jobs for the unemployed, but he did not mention that the money would be used to cut the workers' wages. The bosses are using the government as a cover to get away with their scheme.

Killed Gathering Coal

To Keep Off Freezing

By a Worker Correspondent

Chattanooga, Tenn.

The conditions here are very bad. On Dec. 28 a man was killed on the Southern Railroad tracks for picking up coal to make a fire to keep his wife and children warm. On Jan. 6 another man, 32 years old, was killed in the same way. Living in this land of luxury, men are forced to depend on black coal and men who live in the coal towns.

Laboring man! You make all this possible. For your rights and liberties, for your children and your homes, support the workers who are fighting for the right to work.

Discouraging

Leningrad and the problems of the American Working Class will be the subject of a discussion in District 27 this week. The discussion will be held at the Friends Hall. The workers in the coal towns are fighting for their lives. The workers in the factories are fighting for their lives. The workers in the fields are fighting for their lives.
