Don't Starve—Fight for Social Insurance!

National Miners Conference July 15

I. L. D. Demands Scottboro Boys Taken From Death Cells

MINERS!
UNITE AND FIGHT!

Against Starvation in Coal Fields

SEND DELEGATES TO PITTSBURGH, PA., JULY 15TH AND 16TH, FOR FIRST MEETING OF THE CENTRAL BANK AND FILE STRIKE COMMITTEE, NATIONAL MINERS UNION, NOW LEADING THE PENNA. AND WEST VIRGINA STRIKE. ALL WORK ON A PROGRAM OF DEMANDS AND ACTION AND A UNITED FRONT OF ALL MINERS.

Conditions in the coal industry have become intolerable. Fully 40% of all miners are completely unemployed, and the rest work only part-time. The wages are lower than those paid in the days when they were made by the Union. The strike is being supported by the IWW, which has been working since the beginning of the year. It is a struggle for the rights of all workers in the industry.

The coal operators constantly make our conditions worse. In this they are working with every weapon at their disposal. The miners have been forced to accept lower wages, and have been subjected to constant harassment and oppression. Everywhere the miners are struggling against these unbearable conditions.

4,000 STRIKING OR BLACKLISTED IN HARLAN, KY.

Danville Mill Workers Support Miners Struggle

August 1, 1931—A resolution was adopted by the 4,000 striking miners in Danville, Virginia, and a better prospecting the work of a linen mill in the town.

The Danville mill workers have been working for the past week, and have levied a strike to protest against the unfair treatment of the workers. The mill workers are demanding a raise in wages and better working conditions.

Send Delegates To Pittsburgh

By Wm. Z. FOSTER

On July 13th, in Pittsburgh, Pa., the workers gathered in joint conferences with the Central Bank and File Strike Committee, leading the Pennsylvania, Ohio, W.Va. strike of 40,000 miners. The meeting was called to discuss the current conditions in the coal industry in Pennsylvania, organized and action for the rank and file, and the situation of the workers in the Pittsburgh area. The miners were asked to join the movement, which is led by the IWW, and all workers in the industry should be united in the struggle for the rights of the workers.

All these struggles must be joined together. This means that they must be based on a common program of demands, organization, and action for the rank and file. The miners are demanding a raise in wages and better working conditions.

The miners are beginning to organize, and the strike is being led by the strikers of 40,000 miners in Pennsylvania, Ohio, W.Va., who are fighting for a better wage and working conditions. It is time all workers in the country came together to demand a better life for all workers. The miners in Danville, Virginia, are leading the way. Unite and fight!
MINERS! UNITE AND FIGHT!

The strike in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia, led by the Central Rank and File Strike Committee, now in its 25th day, and its 25th day, and is still going strong. It is estimated that 150,000 miners have been idle for the past six weeks, with at least 30,000 of those being struck at the present time. Our people are fighting bravely on in the face of the most determined opposition. The coal companies are making every effort to break the strike, but so far their efforts have been unsuccessful. The miners are determined to stand firm and will not give up until they have won their demands.

The UMW, represented by the miners, is in a state of emergency, and is working out new plans for the defense of the strike. The state of the coal industry is very serious, and the miners must be prepared to fight for their lives under the banner of the National Miners Union.

Our great strike here is just one of the many fronts of the widespread struggle for the rights of working people. The coal miners of West Virginia and Southern Illinois are waging a similar strike, and battles are being fought in other parts of the country. The struggle is not confined to the coal industry, but is a part of the larger struggle for the rights of all workers. We must take a stand and fight for our own wages and working conditions, or we will lose our chance to build a better future.

Our comrades are wide awake. The operators are cutting wages and working conditions are worsening. The companies are trying to break the strike, but the miners are fighting back with every weapon at their disposal. We must stand firm and not give up, or we will lose our chance to win.

The miners are not alone in their struggle. The workers everywhere are united and are fighting for their rights. We must join together and fight for our freedom.

Unemployed Put Back Furniture In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—After the Unemployed Council had put back the furniture, the unemployed woman who was given out of her house because she was unable to pay rent, the sheriff arrested her and took her back to the house. The woman then started to tear up her furniture and take everything out of the house. The Council called the police, who arrived and took her away. The woman is now in jail and the furniture has been returned to its rightful owner.

The Unemployed Council in the Charlotte section is still making strong efforts to help the unemployed. They are working hard to provide food, clothing and shelter for those in need. They are also working to provide jobs for those who are able to work.

The Council is currently working on a plan to open a community center where unemployed workers can come to get help and support. They are also working to organize a union of unemployed workers to fight for better wages and working conditions.

Would Keep Job Not Save Boys

(Handwritten note)

The houses are up to their noses in strikes. The workers are not afraid of the strike. The workers are fighting back. We will not save boys. We will save our jobs.
