Miners Mass -- Harlan Trials Begin

BIRMINGHAM TERROR CONTINUES -- NEW SHOOTINGS ARRESTS

GREETINGS FROM CENTRAL COMMITTEE

The Central Committee of the Communist Party of the U.S.A. pleads the Southern Worker on the occasion of its 25th anniversary on August 22. In its first year of existence, the Southern Worker has held to the traditions of the Communist press. It has always established itself as a subject to be had and is the Southern Worker, and has always endeavored to help the working people in all their struggles. It has always been in the forefront of the struggle against slavery, and for the defense of the Negro people, and for the legal recognition of their rights.

SOUTHERN WORKER and the Framing of the Huron Camp Hill censure. It has staunchly opposed the existence of the Ku Klux Klans of the southern states. It has vigorously fought against segregation and against the organized efforts of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

It has waged relentless war against the base plot of race hatred with which the landlords and capitalists seek to crush the workers and to deny them their rights and strength in the judgment of the courts against these enemies of the race and against the avenue of propaganda for the defense of the Negro people and for the legal recognition of their rights.

The Southern Worker has been a constant voice in the South, and has dared to raise the banner of struggle for black and white against discrimination.

Machine Guns Ready, Trained On Miners

BULLETIN

HARLAN, Ky. -- Dorothea Fairchild, Federal post office worker, was taken for a ride from the Harlan County Courthouse and then shot in the leg by the company's troops from Chicago. Sheriff Blair and his deputy, deputies, armed with rifles and machine guns, entered the Harlan County Courthouse, ready to shoot down any miners they found. The miners fired back and killed the deputies.

5c COTTON DISASTROUS TO FARMERS

With cotton at 5 cents, the small farmer and the cotton gin operators of the South, who are faced with ruin and starvation, but instead of immediate relief, fed advances for the pressure on the cotton market, has been the real culprits in this situation.

Demonstrate on August 22

WORKERS of many cities of the South and throughout the world will hold meetings on August 22 to voice their indignation at the "policy of terror" let loose by the employers at the recent strikes. At these meetings, the workers will pledge themselves to go on strike as long as the employers struggle against the workers and frame-up conditions and release of all class war prisoners.

These demonstrations are being held on August 22 because it was on this day, four years ago, that the bosses of Massachusetts, thru their state machinery, put to death two of the bravest fighters of the working class, Morris Matson and James固化了charge of murder, but really because they led struggles against wages and conditions without the legal recognition of these strikers.

The anniversary of their death is a mark for the strikers to come together to crush the rising movement of the workers and to do everything to improve their condition.

Death to Lynchers!
The SOUTHERN WORKER Reaches One Year

On August 16, 1930, the first issue of the SOUTHERN WORKER was published and was the beginning of an organization that was quite extraordinary. The militant actions of the southern workers, both white and black, during the last year in which the SOUTHERN WORKER played an active role, were quite a contrast to the passivity of the workers in the years before. The struggle against the White Supremacy movement was the dominant theme of the Southern Workers movement during the year.

In Birmingham, the police killed a Negro man named George W. Wallace. The event was the catalyst for the organization of the Birmingham chapter of the Communist Party. The event was also a turning point in the struggle against the White Supremacy movement.

In July, the Supreme Court of Alabama issued an order that would allow the state to continue with its plan to segregate African Americans from white students. This was a significant setback for the Civil Rights movement.

In August, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that the segregation of public schools was unconstitutional. This was a major victory for the Civil Rights movement.

In September, the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the racial segregation of public schools in the city of Seguin, Texas. This was a significant setback for the Civil Rights movement.

In October, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that the segregation of public schools was unconstitutional. This was a major victory for the Civil Rights movement.

In November, the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the racial segregation of public schools in the city of Seguin, Texas. This was a significant setback for the Civil Rights movement.

In December, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that the segregation of public schools was unconstitutional. This was a major victory for the Civil Rights movement.

The SOUTHERN WORKER was the voice of the workers and was instrumental in organizing and mobilizing the workers in the struggle against the White Supremacy movement. It was a critical tool in the fight for justice and equality for all people.
