Kentucky Miners Prepare Strike Machinery In Spite of New Raids and Arrests by Gunmen

Sheriff's Gang Can't Wash Out Organization Which Is Becoming Rooted in Pits and Building Net Work of Committees That Will Develop Drive Against Slave Conditions and Thug Rule

HARLAN, Ky.—Four cars loads of coal miners were arrested Monday morning as they attempted to deliver coal to the homes of miners in this county. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff F. M. Rice and two deputies. The miners were charged with "violating county orders" and were taken to the county Jail.

The raid was made by the coal company's forces as part of their "anti-union" campaign. The miners had been working without authorization from their employers and were forced to leave their homes when the company ordered them out. The miners have been working without pay for several weeks and are demanding their rights under the new labor laws.

The strike is expected to continue indefinitely until the miners are granted their demands. The company has threatened to fire all strikers, but the miners are determined to continue their work and demand fair treatment.

BY ANDY MALLON

The labor movement in Kentucky is gaining strength in the Harlan area. The miners are demanding better wages and working conditions, and the company is fighting back with force. The strike has been going on for several weeks and is expected to continue for some time.

The miners are being supported by the local community, who believe that the company is treating them unfairly. The company has been accused of using violence and intimidation to keep the miners from striking.

The strike is likely to have a significant effect on the coal industry in Kentucky. If the miners are successful, it could set a precedent for other coal miners throughout the state.

Morgan, Mellon, Ford, Insull Back of Murder Gang Active in Harlan

Within the sphere of Morgan influence, in Harlan County, the Murder Gang is active. The group is led by Andy Mellon, a notorious figure in the coal industry. The gang has been responsible for several violent incidents in the area, including the murder of a local union leader.

The gang is aided and abetted by the local officials, who have turned a blind eye to their activities. The local law enforcement agencies have failed to take action against the gang, allowing them to continue their illegal activities.

The situation in Harlan is desperate, with the miners under constant threat. The company is using all手段 to keep the miners from striking, and the local community is being used as a tool to keep the miners in line.

The strike is likely to continue for some time, with the miners determined to fight for their rights. The company is likely to use violence and intimidation to keep the miners from striking, and the local community is being used as a tool to keep the miners in line.

The situation is likely to escalate, with the miners and the company at loggerheads. The union is likely to call for outside intervention, and the state and federal governments may be forced to intervene to stop the violence.

The strike is a symbol of the struggle for labor rights in the United States. It is a battle between the working class and the capitalist class, and the outcome will determine the future of the labor movement in Kentucky.

The situation is likely to continue for some time, with the miners determined to fight for their rights. The company is likely to use violence and intimidation to keep the miners from striking, and the local community is being used as a tool to keep the miners in line.

The situation is likely to escalate, with the miners and the company at loggerheads. The union is likely to call for outside intervention, and the state and federal governments may be forced to intervene to stop the violence.

The strike is a symbol of the struggle for labor rights in the United States. It is a battle between the working class and the capitalist class, and the outcome will determine the future of the labor movement in Kentucky.
Mooney Sends United Front Call to Harlan Miners

Miners’ Union Calls Workers To Support Their Class Party

″In view of the conditions that have existed in the political campaign central on the present election campaign,″ the National Miners’ Union has set up a national election campaign against the United Miners (Mooneyite) political organization and the National Labor Union (Mooneyite). The condition of the miners is made clear as they are being fooled by false promises.
WORKERS GIVE SPEED-UP MAN BUM'S RUSH

GREENVILLE, S. C. — The little mill town of Greenville, S. C., with a population of 19,000, has been in the grips of a labor struggle for the past six months. The owners of the mill, the Southern Textile Corporation, have been trying to force the workers to accept a wage cut of 25 cents an hour. The workers, who are mostly women, have been striking for almost two years and have not been paid less than 75 cents an hour. They have been joined by other workers in the area, and the strike has spread to other mills in the county.

Big Soviet Farm Organized and Run by Young Workers

GREENVILLE, S. C. — James Murray, the president of the unemployed council, has announced that a large-scale strike is imminent. The council, which represents many of the unemployed workers, has been organizing for several months. They have been holding meetings, distributing literature, and educating the workers about their rights.

The council has received support from various organizations, including the International Labor Defense and the Communist Party. They have been able to supply the workers with food and clothing, and have been organizing for a march on Washington.

Night Raids To Scare Leaders Of Unemployed

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The government has been involved in a series of night raids aimed at the leaders of the unemployed workers. The raids have been carried out by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and have resulted in the arrest of several leaders. The government has been trying to suppress the strike, and has been using all available resources to do so.

Charity Fake Forces Jobless to Donate Workers

By a Worker (Correspondent)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — When the workers entered the police station, Mrs. Brown, who is in charge there, did not give them much of a welcome. She told them that they should go to the labor exchange, which is just down the street. The workers explained that they had come to the station because they had nowhere else to go. They were out of work and had no money to buy food. Mrs. Brown told them that they would have to get a job through the labor exchange.

Foundry Cuts Wages; Drives Workers More

By a Worker (Correspondent)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — The workers at the foundry have been forced to work longer hours and for lower wages. They have been protesting for months, and have been organizing for a strike. The management has been trying to suppress the strike, and has been using all available resources to do so.

Improves Old Place; Landlord Wants Pay

By a Worker (Correspondent)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — The landlord of the house has raised the rent. He is trying to force the workers to pay their rent on time, or his house will be repossessed. The workers are trying to organize a union to negotiate with the landlord, but he is trying to suppress them.

Many Starve To Death Daily In Auto City

DETROIT — The workers at the auto plants have been on strike for weeks. They have been demanding better working conditions and higher wages. The management has been trying to suppress the strike, and has been using all available resources to do so.

AKANSAS CUTS WAGES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — All state employees have had their salaries cut by 10 percent beginning the first of September.

Thieving Preacher-Landlord Robs Whole Cropper Family

CHATTANOOGA — I want to tell you about how our local preacher-landlord lives in luxury. He owns a fine house in the town, and lives there with his wife and family. He has a large garden, and keeps many chickens. He also owns a horse and a cow.

The preacher lives in luxury, and his tenants are forced to pay him high rent. He has a good income, and is able to live comfortably. He is a good minister, and is respected by the people of the town.

Salvation Army Captain Tries to Fool Ex-Soldiers

BIRMINGHAM — Cap. T. S. Wells, the Salvation Army Captain, is trying to get the ex-soldiers to return to work. He is offering them jobs, and is trying to make them feel that they are wanted. He is trying to prevent them from organizing, and is trying to keep them in line.

This is not the first time that the Salvation Army has tried to organize ex-soldiers. They have been trying to do so for many years, and have been successful in some cases. The ex-soldiers are tired of being unemployed, and are trying to organize to get better working conditions and higher wages.
STARVATION PLUS SLAVERY ON FARMS OF THE SOUTH

By JACK CARSON

The conditions of the farm laborers, share croppers, and tenant farmers is to-day, is therefore, an emergency that demands the closest and most thorough investigation.

The greatest majority of the Negro laborers and share-croppers are in a state of complete helplessness. They hardly know what money looks like, and during the winter when work is scarce, they have no opportunity to save anything. The only way they can obtain sustenance is through the good will of their landlords.

The situation is not much better for the share-croppers. They have no land, no means of supporting themselves, and are at the mercy of the landlord to whom they pay one-third of the crops.

During the last war, the Negroes were able to live on the produce of their farms, but the hard times that followed have left them with nothing to fall back on. They are forced to live on the kindness of others, and many are left to starve.

The situation is so critical that the government must take immediate action to prevent a crisis. It is imperative that steps be taken to ensure the well-being of the Negro laborers and share-croppers.

STOCKTON STRIKE

By W. F. MCKEE

The Stockton strike of 1919 is a significant event in the labor history of the United States. The strike was led by the United Steel Workers of America, and it lasted for several months. The strike was fought over wages and working conditions, and it ultimately led to the formation of the United Steel Workers of America.

FORCED LABOR ON HIGHWAYS IN ALABAMA

By J. W. DOUGLAS

The conditions of the Alabama highway workers are harsh and deplorable. They are forced to work long hours under difficult conditions, and their wages are insufficient to meet their basic needs. The state government must take action to improve the working conditions of the highway workers.

YOUNG WORKERS FIGHT WAR AND CHARITY FAKES

By L. H. MCKINLEY

The young workers are fighting against the war and the war-related charities. They are resisting the draft and refusing to support the government's war efforts. The government must take action to prevent the spread of this movement and to ensure the success of the war effort.

ARREST KIMBEL IN HARLAN

By J. H. GREEN

The arrest of John Kimbel in Harlan, Kentucky, on a charge of criminal syndicalism was a significant event in the labor history of the United States. The case was fought over the right to organize and strike, and it ultimately led to the success of the labor movement in the United States.