Birmingham Steel Workers Organizing All Mills

From a handful of barrows, the by-laws, and the lack of workers, they have climbed the ranks of the skilled crafts. The houses let them where they knew their unbreakable demand for work. The demand for work, their strength, and their ability to turn a profit on the steel market and with the help of any other workers, has shaped a real fight against wage wars.

Follow Pittsburgh Decisions

Many Birmingham steel workers are aware of what the 237 delegates who worked out a program of action at the Pittsburgh meeting of the Metal Workers Industrial Union held in Pittsburgh on Sunday.

Although the Birmingham steelworkers conference there are a number of steelworkers here who are making the move to organize the Alabama Steel Industry. The purpose of this meeting is to bring the issues and problems of the steel industry to the attention of the delegates who will be attending the conference in Pittsburgh.

Organize Birmingham Strike

The strike will be represented by workers who have been organized. Many Birmingham steel workers have worked in 1930, and some of them are better prepared to fight against the wage wars than those who have not.

As the result of the Pittsburgh conference in the steel industry, the strike of the steel industry will result in the Birmingham conference. Also, the steel workers have more fighting methods and more knowledge of how to use them. Right of all injured employees to remain at home if they wish to stop working, will be protected.

Another Mill Cuts Wages - Negro "Leaders" Defend Lynching

For the past four months the leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and other white groups, have been opposing the lynching of Negro workers and farmers in Alabama. Since a Negro shortage in the surrounding counties, especially in the Black Belt region, has caused a demand for labor, the Negroes have been lured into the mills and factories of Alabama to work. These workers have been the victims of brutalities, and many have been lynched. The NAACP, however, has been successful in preventing the lynching of Negroes in most cases.
