MANIFESTO OF THE LEAGUE OF STRUGGLE FOR NEGRO RIGHTS ON CASE OF SCOTTSBORO BOYS

The League of Struggle for Negro Rights, on the 8th instant, issued the following statement in protest of the recent conviction of the negro boys. They have been convicted in a jury trial in the famous Scottsboro case. Their conviction is generally regarded as one of the most flagrant violations of the civil and political rights of negroes in the history of the United States.

The League of Struggle for Negro Rights is convinced that the convictions of the negro boys in the Scottsboro case are a clear violation of the law and the Constitution. They believe that the convictions were obtained by a combination of forces that is designed to suppress the political and civil rights of negroes.

The League of Struggle for Negro Rights is calling on all people of good will to do everything in their power to secure the release of the negro boys from prison. They believe that the convictions of the negro boys are an attack on the civil and political rights of negroes and that the convictions must be reversed.

The Murder of Harry Simms: A Challenge to the Working Class

Harry Simms, former leader and member of the National Executive Committee of the Communist Party, was killed in a gun battle with a police officer in 1932. Simms had been involved in organizing workers and fighting against the police and the state. His death was a significant loss for the working class movement in the United States.

Defenders of the Hoover Program

A good example of how the "official" program and demands publicized by the Hoover administration, to help the working class, were in reality negative. The Hoover government, through its policies of deflation and restriction, led to increased unemployment and hardship for the working class. The Hoover program was a failure and had a negative impact on the economy and the working class.

Armed Thugs Hold Up Highway Bank

The armed robbery of a bank in a small town was a significant event that showed the impact of the economic crisis on the working class. The robbers were armed and时间段 to demonstrate the strength of their demands and to seek justice for the working class.

Negroes barred from Gov’t. jobs on Hoover order

The discrimination against African Americans in government jobs under the Hoover administration was unacceptable. The government should have treated all citizens equally, regardless of race.

Rush Relief for Kentucky-Tenn. Strikers

The relief camps for the strike workers in Kentucky and Tennessee were a significant event that showed the solidarity of the working class in the face of economic hardship. The strikers were fighting for better wages and working conditions, and their struggle was an important part of the larger struggle for workers’ rights.

KENTUCKY MINERS ARE RALLYING TO THE COMMUNIST PARTY

The struggle of the Kentucky miners was a significant event that showed the strength of the working class in the face of economic hardship. The miners were fighting for better wages and working conditions, and their struggle was an important part of the larger struggle for workers’ rights.

OFFER REWARD FOR JACKSON DEAD OR ALIVE

The search for the killer of Jackson was a significant event that showed the impact of the economic crisis on the working class. The killer was still at large, and the search continued until his capture.
