More Unions O.K. H. R. 7598 In Bessemer

BESSEMER, Ala.—The Workmen's Unemployment Insurance Bill (H. R. 7598) has been endorsed unanimously by the United Mine Workers Union, the United Mine Workers, and the Alabama Coal producers Co. This action was taken at a convention in Bessemer where the endorsement was made by the first union being Local No. 1 of the U. M. W. C.

This follows the overwhelming endorsement given the Bill by the National Conference of the U. S. Labor Council to be held in Chicago in November. The bill, which is designed to provide for a just and equitable compensation to workmen who lose their jobs through no fault of their own, has been endorsed by the United Mine Workers, the United Mine Workers, and the Alabama Coal producers Co.

DEMAND RE-STRIKE
Arrests Continue As
Run-Around Board
Guts German Aid

I heard the voice of the Tennessee Federation of Labor announce the settlement as a "victory" without once mentioning a single demand of the strikers in an hour and a half of high-pitched talk. But I saw the textile workers all around me. Stand still and grim with joined arms, I heard the deep-seated comment: "War!"

They said the southern workers wouldn't fight, but they would fight, and thousands on the day and night shifts throughout the south, faced the police, tramp and armed guards without batting an eye. Those who had a gun for protection, kept it on the job. They kept their jobs, and turned their hands into the outstretched hands of the strikers.

In the interests of the strike, Balkan police illegally arrested thousands of Communist leaders addressed to the textile workers, while police patrolled the streets of the south, including Carolinas, and Arkansas, arresting Paul Crouch, Carolinas, and the Communists of the Communist Party, to prevent them from addressing a meeting on the court house lawn. Carolinas, and the Communists, and the police were crowded into cells or concentrated, as many as possible, in one building.

Texas, Mexico, Western and
Baltimore, Tenn., the Golden, and the Union Mill, announced that they would pay full salary to workers who would sign a document, which had to be signed on the plant, to work when the plant tried to open. But the people were stopped by picketing. The strikers seized this offer. By the agreement of the textile union of Mexican employees of the Southern Maggine Co., the cooperation of the seamen and the Mexican strikers, the strike was called off. The unemployed continued.

White Strikers Expose
Lynch Attempt In Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — The same day that the Alabama State Board of Labor Relations announced the settlement of the strike with a lynching in Amite, D.C., Negro laborers at the Cotton City Mill near Experiment, Ala., had been lynched. The WHC (W. H. C.) news is that two Negroes were lynched.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — Led by striking textile workers on relief, about two hundred workers on relief projects surrounding the town threatened to hold officials "prisoners all night," unless they agreed that they had not put in the required number of hours, but only paid them in the face of the picket line.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Winning wages increased, more than 3,000 Mexican peasant workers ended their several weeks' strike. The new scale will end in October, when the regular cotton season begins. Employers are expected to try and pay again at this time.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Murder charges against Sam Arnett, deputy sheriff and police company guard, have been quietly dismissed by Judge H. B. Alcorn. The second attempt to kill W. H. Ford and George Bell, Negroes, was shocked. Mayor H. K. Hock took their word that the pickets had fired at them.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Approaching $35,000 with which to build a $156,000 library for Jefferson County, National Guard units, the county commission joined the state government in training youth with the money, as part of the state's program of the library. The state is expected to give it to the Federal Reserve Bank.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Admission that food prices rose 2.5 percent, 14.4 percent higher than the last month, was also admitted. This is an average, the yearly figures for southern states are below.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — A meeting for a re-hearing of the case of J. B. Patterson and Clarence Harris, two Southern blacks, was taken by the Alabama Supreme Court. It was held to determine whether or not the case should be heard by the Alabama Supreme Court. It was held to determine whether or not the case should be heard by the Alabama Supreme Court.
N.R.A. Board Rules Against Miners In Alabama Cases

The National Recovery Administration’s Coal Board and its coal divisions have decided for the company and against the miners in a number of cases during the past month. The following cases are probably typical of many others not recorded.

In the Tennessee Coal & Iron Corp. case against the United Mine Workers, the union charges that a number of workers have been killed because of union activities. The Board, however, decided in favor of the company on the ground that the company had no information of the deaths at the time of the accident. The union then nominated the new coals into the courts, and the case therefore has not been decided.

THOUSANDS NEW COMMUNISTS AIM IN COMPETITION

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Challenge the Demings District [11] of the Communist Party, District 17 (Birmingham) launched a drive for 150 new members, and 750 new Communist League members by January 1. In the call for the drive, which opened Oct. 1, the party points out that large proportions of these new members must be white workers because of the social and cultural concentration will be placed on trade union workers.

The drive will compete with the Southern Worker in this bitterly contested between Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming (District 19) and California, Texas, and Mississippi.

THE SOUTHERN WORKER

THE TEXTILE STRIKE "VICTORY"

Over half a million textile workers walked out of mills from Maine to Texas, closed the gates with truncheon lines and set up barricades. The strike, which began as a battle of classes—a clash between the rich and the poor—ended in a victory for the workers.

The Southern textile strike was one of the most dramatic events in the history of American labor. Workers struck for higher wages, shorter hours, and an end to child labor. The strike lasted for several months and eventually resulted in a victory for the workers.

Bill For Negro Rights

A bill for Negro rights, introduced by Senator Robert F. Wagner, has been backed by the Communist Party. The bill is designed to give Negroes the right to vote and to provide for educational and economic opportunities for all Americans.

Time to Fight Those Hunger Blues Away

Oh, write me out—my union card.
Oh, write me out—my union card.
Oh, write me out—my union card.

Organize! We'll all fight hard.
Time to fight those hunger blues away.

Oh, the N. A. A., she eat our pay.
Oh, the N. A. A., she eat our pay.

We'll all go on strike today.
Time to fight those hunger blues away.

Oh, the government destroyed our crops.
Oh, the government destroyed our crops.
Oh, the government destroyed our crops.

We asked for bread and they gave us no help.
Time to fight those hunger blues away.

We come with me—on the picket line.
We come with me—on the picket line.
We're all going to the picket line.

We'll stay here till the bosses sign:
Time to fight those hunger blues away.

To seventeen, we went to war,
To seventeen, we went to war.

We're worse now in ’34.
Time to turn those guns the other way.

In homes—how the workers get.
In homes—how the workers get.

A bullet of bayonets.
Time to turn those guns the other way.

Oh, write me out—our union card.
Oh, write me out—our union card.
Oh, write me out—our union card.

Organize! We'll all fight hard.
Time to fight those hunger blues away.
