COSSACKS CAUSE OF MINE TROUBLE

Miners Turn Tables, Have Troopers Arrested and Prove They Incited to Riot.

Into Crowd, Shot Two of Pennsylvania's Standing Army, Kept to Fight Workers, Held in Jail.

WILKES-BARRE, Aug. 24.—Striking coal miners of the Pennsylvania Coal Company retaliated today for the arrest of one of their number yesterday by having Sergeant John R. Moutjoy and other troopers of troop B of the Pennsylvania standing army arrested on the charge of inciting to riot. They each gave $500 bail.

The eight troopers who rode down a crowd and shot two men were held by Squire Philip Swartz. About ten witnesses were heard, who testified that there was no disorder till the arrival of the troopers; that the troopers fired a number of shots from their revolvers, and that they rode their horses along the sidewalk, bumping men, women and children in clearing the streets.

Sergeant Moutjoy testified that he gave no order to fire to the troopers under him Monday night, but Attorney E. A. Amerman, who appeared for the strikers, elicited the information on cross-examination that the sergeant heard some shots fired.

Burgess Regg, the man who sent for the troopers, was wanted as a witness, but got out of town this morning before a subpoena could be served on him. Deputy Sheriff P. V. Shanley jumped into an auto when he heard the burgess had left for Scranton on a street car, and overhauled him at Taylor. The subpoena was served on him, and he was taken back immediately to Squire Swartz's office.

He then was forced to admit that though there were no disturbances, he had summoned the Cossacks to Old Forge.

The strikers charged that the troopers incited the rioting at Old Forge on Monday night in which two of the strikers were shot. The company has imported many scabs, but the 1,100 strikers have the colliery well picketed.

Late last night a priest from Taylor, returning from a sick call, was severely beaten by unknown men. As usual, the miners are blamed.

A few scabs managed to reach the No. 2 colliery of the company at Avoca today, but they were not enough to do the work. The strikers at this colliery claim that owing to the excessive dockage there is a difference of 3,000 tons between the amount they have mined during the last two weeks and the amount for which the company will pay them.

Further reinforcements of armed guards and hired thugs were sent to the colliery at Avoca and Old Forge this morning in an effort to "protect" the mine.

SAYS TIN PLATE STRIKE IS ENDED

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—President P. J. Mahalle, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, has announced that the strike which has been in progress against the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company for about nineteen months since the corporation declared the "open shop" policy will be ended tomorrow. This decision was reached at the meeting of the executive board of the organization held last night.

President Mahalle states that while the board will be officially declared of next week, he is not in a position to say when the men will return to work. Following the voting of the two lodges of the Amalgamated Association, at New Castle, Saturday last, recommending the immediate calling off of the strike, the lodge at Martins Ferry, W. Va., voted to do so last Monday night, and it was the result of the vote of both places that the executive board decided to call the strike off.

BODY OF KIDNAPPED BOY CUT TO PIECES

KINGSTON, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Peter, the four-year-old son of Frank Fabian, an Italian, disappeared from his home at Porterville, a few miles north of Kingston, on Friday last. Hundreds of Italians searched for the boy until this morning, when his body was found cut to pieces alongside an out-house on an adjoining neighbor's property.

The father went to New York Sunday and consulted a fortune teller and when he returned Monday night the father said that the fortune teller had told him that the boy would return within three days. The opinion now prevails that the boy was kidnapped and when the kidnapper learned of what the fortune teller had told the father he killed the child and placed the body where it was found. Searchers had yesterday passed the place where the body was found this morning, also at other times since the boy disappeared, but the body was not there then.

About 6 o'clock this morning some of the searchers who had been out all night with lanterns saw a tiny hand sticking up out of the contents of an out-house in the yard of a neighbor of the Fabians. Assistance was called and Italians overturned the house and soon a body was pulled out which turned out to be the boy.

Dr. Montgomery, of Saugerties, was sent for, who, after making an examination, said the boy had been dead not over twenty-four hours. There were cuts as if made with a knife on the body of the child and finger nail marks on his neck, his face being black, indicating he had been strangled to death. That the boy had been killed and his body poked into the privy vault is not doubted.

The father is employed in the yard of the Empire Brick Company at Porterville, several miles north of this city.

SMALL BANKERS SEEK INJUNCTION

To Restrain Attorney General From Enforcing Amended Banking Law.

Argument on the motion or an injunction to restrain Attorney General O'Malley from enforcing the amended state banking law requiring small bankers to take out licenses and file bonds aggregating $20,000 before such licenses will be issued to them was heard yesterday by Judge LaCombe in the United States Circuit Court. A test was brought by Morris Engel and others, who assert that their business does not warrant any such security and who are unable to deposit $20,000 to get the necessary license. The law as amended last May goes into effect on September 1, unless the court enjoins the Attorney General.

Robert C. Beatty appeared as counsel for Engel, and Louis Marshall for Attorney General O'Malley. It is contended by Engel that the law is a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution and will destroy the plaintiff's business. Marshall, on the other hand, contends that most of the small bankers in cities of the first class handle the money of the ignorant and illiterate foreigners, who have no protection whatever against losses, and who have no means of knowing the character of the bankers with whom they deal.

BULLET EXPLODED BY CAR HITS A WOMAN

Some one put a .32 caliber cartridge on a northbound track of the Third avenue surface line at 23d street about noon yesterday and when May Kenny, nineteen years old, of 69 West 23d street, stopped near the track to allow a car to go by the cartridge was discharged and the bullet struck her in the forehead.

The young woman was removed to Bellevue Hospital, where it was found that the bullet had traveled across her left temple and embedded itself over the ear. Her condition is not considered serious. A newboy said he had seen a boy put the cartridge on the track, but the boy could not be located.

EXCITING SCENES AT SEAMEN'S CONGRESS

Germans a Unit for Industrial Organization While Anglo-Americans Are Strongly in Opposition.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 24.—There were exciting scenes at today's session of the international congress of transport laborers, the American and English delegates opposing the Germans, who were against the English strike plan, and an Anglo-American motion, which was supported by the Danes, re-establishing a special International Seamen's Union in connection with the existing International Transport Workers' Federation, which arranged the present convention.

The federation control committee, which consists only of Germans, insists that seamen join the federation, which includes dock laborers, railway men and car men. The Americans and English violently attacked the Germans, accusing them of lack of comradeship, and of damaging the English seamen's interests. They also accused them of damaging the strike plan by articles in the federation's journal.

The Germans want an industrial plan of organization to take in all workers in the transportation industry pertaining to shipping, while the Anglo-American delegates want each group organized separately. This is the basis for the clash that threatens to break up the congress and undo the work of several years tending toward an international organization.

The big shipping corporations are watching with great interest the developments, and a split in the congress will be much to their liking. Much was expected by the transportation workers generally from this conference, and if its work is barren of results, as the present seems to indicate, it will be a serious setback for the seamen and dock workers all over the world.

DRUG CLERK'S ERROR COST BABY'S LIFE

Said He Was Thinking of Something Else When He Put Carbolic Acid in Medicine.

Mrs. Margaret Shea, of 231 East 96th street, called in Dr. Thomas Gonzales, of 1458 Lexington avenue, yesterday morning to attend her year-old baby, Dennis, who was suffering from stomach trouble. The doctor left a prescription, which was taken by one of Mrs. Shea's children to the drug store of Herman L. Bergers, at 1863 Second avenue.

A clerk named Ira B. Cantor filled the prescription and the child took the bottle to her mother. According to directions Mrs. Shea gave the baby a teaspoonful of the mixture. The child was instantly seized with violent pains and went into convulsions. Its mother sent for Dr. Isaac Stein, who lives near by at 106 East 96th street. When the doctor got there the child was dead. Dr. Stein smelled the contents of the medicine bottle and found that it contained carbolic acid. He took the bottle to the drug store and questioned the clerk.

HELD FOR DEATH OF HUSBAND'S BROTHER

Jeanette Anderson, a good-looking woman, about thirty-five years old, was arraigned before Judge O'Sullivan, in General Sessions yesterday morning, charged with murder.

The indictment alleges that Mrs. Anderson killed James Wilson with a knife in her home at 22 Hubert street, on July 2 last. Wilson was half-brother to her husband, John Anderson, and boarded with them. Both Wilson and Anderson were longshoremen.

ORDER OF EAGLES BEGINS GRAFT PROBE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 24.—The taking of evidence in the graft investigation by the special trial committee of the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the convention here, was still in progress late tonight. Strict orders were issued by high officials of the Eagles in convention today that any delegate found divulging the trial proceedings would be subject to dismissal from the order. From a well informed delegate, however, it was learned that the prosecution concluded about 3 this afternoon with the testimony of Grand Secretary Conrad H. Mann, of Kansas City, who made the discovery of the alleged graft.

After luncheon at 3 this afternoon Edward Krause, of Wilmington, Del., former grand president, who is one of the four high officials accused, took the stand in his defense, and continued his testimony tonight.

MADRIZ BEATS IT TO COSTA RICA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Dr. Madriz, ex-president of Nicaragua, is today on his way to Costa Rica, according to a report from the American consular agent at Managua, Honduras. Madriz, Irias, Otyiz, Vasquez and about seventy other prominent figures of the Madriz faction in Nicaragua arrived at Amapala on Monday on the Pacific Mail steamship from Corinto. Madriz was to take a coastwise steamship for Costa Rica today. As president of the court of justice of the Central American republics, he resided for some time in Costa Rica and may intend to make his future home in that country.

The American consul at Corinto has informed the State Department that General Estrada had ordered the release on Sunday of 200 prisoners confined on an island near Corinto. Consul Olivares at Managua reported that one of the first acts of General Estrada as president was to revise the tariff. All foodstuffs were put on the free list until further orders.

AMERICANS FALSELY ACCUSED RELEASED

NUOVA GERONA, Isle of Pines, Cuba, Aug. 24.—L. C. Giltner, A. W. Gardner, F. M. Nelson, E. W. Clark, F. D. Ramsdale and J. B. Saul, American residents of this place who have been in jail several days on a trumped up charge of having burned a house where a Cuban laborer named Lara, an employe of Gardner, lived, were released without bail early this afternoon. Although the Cuban secretary of state, Senor Sangulliy, informed a correspondent on Sunday night and Mr. Jackson, the American minister at Havana, on Monday that he had sent a wireless dispatch here ordering the admission of bail and the release of the men, the judge received no instructions to that effect until 11 o'clock this morning.

FURTHER "REVISION" BIG BILL'S KEYNOTE

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 24.—President Taft's keynote for the coming congressional campaign has become known here. He will favor a further revision of the tariff. While he is still convinced that the Payne-Aldrich law is the best tariff the country has had up to this time, he has at last reached the conclusion that there is room for improvement.

DIAZ AND PALS FEEL GOOD OVER REPORT

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—Much satisfaction is felt in government circles over the good showing made by the National Railways of Mexico, commonly known as the government mergers system, for the twelve months ending July 31, of this year. The earnings of the system including the owned and leased lines, exclusive of the Texas Mexican, which runs between Laredo, Tex., and Corpus Christi, Tex., 162 miles, for the period named were $70,081,279, Mexican silver, an increase of $6,841,302 over the corresponding twelve months of the previous year. The total length of the National Railways of Mexico, including the 254 miles of the Mexican Southern, taken over on January 1 of this year, but exclusive of the 162 miles of the Texas Mexican, is 7,226 miles, as against 6,965 miles at this time last year.

CHAMP CLARK FOR PRESIDENT.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Aug. 24.—Former Representative Robert W. Miers, of this city, points to Champ Clark, of Missouri, as an ideal candidate for the Democratic party in the presidential campaign of 1912. Judge Miers regards him as a coming man and thinks the Democratic party could do no better than to name him as its standard bearer. His political orthodoxy is one trait that commands him to call men as Judge Miers.

DRISCOLL NOT AFRAID OF WORD 'SOCIALISM'

Speech at Pittsburg, Insisting on Honest Weigh's and Measures, Cheered by Hotel Stewards.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 24.—"Ladies and Gentlemen—My address may seem to you to verge on Socialism. If so, I wish to say that nothing has been further from my mind. If, however, anything I may have said will have a tendency to obtain for the poor buyer of the country 36 inches to the yard, 32 quarts to the bushel, and 16 ounces to the pound, then I am in favor of Socialism. If the Mayor of New York should choose to remove me tomorrow morning, I will still retain my ideas."

Clement Driscoll, commissioner of weights and measures in the city of New York, made this statement this afternoon, after he had read an address of 3,000 words before the tenth annual meeting of the International Hotel Stewards' Association, and the 400 delegates rose and cheered him to the echo. The address was, perhaps, one of the most pointed that has ever been delivered before any convention in Pittsburg, dealing principally with conditions which exist in New York city.

In part, he said: "Until the legislative powers of the nation are prepared to treat cheating at weights and measures, as a crime, and to provide punishments of a character provided for all criminals, little or nothing can be done of a truly effective character to protect the merchants against the dishonest dealer."

Speaking of trade custom plan, Driscoll said: "It has infected the most healthy of business houses in the United States, and its infection has run through the blood of the firm, from the very head to the smallest employe. In the city of New York this disease has cost the citizens no less than $12,000,000 a year. Its symptoms vary with the patient."

"In the dry goods house the symptom is calling nine yards ten yards. Marking sheeting, pillow cases, linens and other dry goods at other than their true measure. In the rubber business the symptom is marking rubber goods at a greater weight than is true. In the produce business the symptoms of disease is selling a barrel of potatoes which the law requires to contain 174 pounds, or 100 quarts, but which in truth is capable of holding but 145 pounds."

After chiding the American housewife for ordering her supplies by phone, thereby making it comparatively easy for the tradesman to cheat her, Driscoll said: "Until the United States insists that a yard be 36 inches, that a pound shall be 16 ounces and a bushel 32 quarts the general public cannot be expected to regard the conditions which exist as serious."

"In the great city of New York, with its 5,500,000 of people, with foodstuffs already beyond reach of the poor people, there was a total disregard for the standards of weights and measures. If we must be sensational, let us think of the wholesale robbery of the poor people of America today."

IT WAS A LUXURY.

Two Men Liked Ease in Hospital So Much They Stayed.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—Harrison Aronson and Sam Kruka revealed in the luxury of a hospital bed at St. Joseph's, on the South Side, and enjoyed it so much that the threats of the police and the importunities of physicians and nurses could not get them out of the building when it was found that they were not hurt. When a trolley car bumped their junk wagon they were tossed into the street. They were removed to the hospital.

CLOAK STRIKE IS NOW UP TO THE AMERICAN NATION

Speakers at Meeting Relate How Present Strike Is Fight Against Misery.

THE CALL IS IGNORED

Greed of Rich Bosses Forces Little Ones to Seek Help.

Grand Jury Called On.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 24.—The 4,000 people who gathered today at the farmers' picnic, the most important public affair of the year in this town, and one of the oldest institutions of an old and conservative community, were somewhat surprised to find that it had been captured by the Socialists and suffragettes, and that whereas agriculture has in former years been the subject most generally discussed, this year Socialism and women suffrage was the main topics of interest.

The Greenwich Equal Franchise League, composed largely of Greenwich and New York society women, was responsible for the metamorphosis. They secured permission to have speakers at the meeting and brought Mrs. W. W. Penfield, prominent society woman of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and former president of the Westchester County Woman Suffrage Association, to represent them.

The Connecticut Woman Suffrage Association sent Mrs. Ellis Reeve Bloom to represent them. Mrs. Bloom, besides being a suffragist, is a candidate for the office of secretary of state of Connecticut on the Socialist party ticket, which names Robert Hunter for governor. The address of Mrs. Bloom was the most eloquent of the occasion, and she received a spirited ovation.

The meeting last night organized itself into a body known as the People's Conference. The method of procedure in other cities will be as follows: Committees will be sent to the cities which are within a few hours' distance from New York to raise funds there. Cities in the West, South and North of the United States will be reached by telegram. The labor unions in these cities will be asked to get busy at once and raise funds for the New York strikers.

GARFIELD TO ECHO "MY POLICIES"

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—James R. Garfield, Secretary of the Interior under Roosevelt, will leave his home at Mentor, Ohio, tonight, for a speaking tour of the West, during which he will join Roosevelt and Pinchot.

Garfield will speak tomorrow at Sycamore, Ill. On Saturday he will join the Roosevelt party at Cheyenne. On the evening of August 29 he will speak before the Round Table Club of Denver, on conservation, his address being a reply to the statement of Secretary Ballinger that the Roosevelt conservation policy is obstructive. At Osmawatomie, Kan., on August 31, from the same platform on which Roosevelt and Pinchot will speak, he will talk on the "Influence of Corporations in Politics." He will continue with Roosevelt until he delivers his address before the conservation congress at St. Paul, September 6.

ALLEGED ASSAILANTS OF VOLZ RELEASED

Magistrate Steinert, in the West Side Court, in Manhattan, yesterday discharged Kid Broad, the pugilist, and Ralph Gillespie and Edith Ives, the actress, who were arrested in connection with the mysterious falling from a window of a theatrical boarding house in West 42d street of B. C. Volz, alias Bertram Vanderbilt, a few nights ago.

Yesterday, in the Flower Hospital, Volz said he did not know how he got his injuries, but said the prisoners were not responsible.

Broad asked if he could make a charge of burglary against Volz because the latter was in his room, but the magistrate refused the request, telling Broad he was lucky to get off as easily as he did.

JANER'S BODY SENT HERE.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 24.—The body of Joseph M. Janer, the Brooklyn man who died in the Maryland penitentiary on Monday from tuberculosis, where he was serving a twenty-one-year term for assault on Catherine Leorch, a Brooklyn child, was shipped from Baltimore to Brooklyn on the 2:45 train this afternoon. Mrs. Janer did not come to Baltimore, but a friend of the family called and arranged with William Tinker & Sons, funeral directors, to have the body shipped direct to the Brooklyn home of the Janers.

LABOR DAY ISSUE

The editors of The Call on Labor Day, September 5, will be especially interested in suggestions among labor men for arrangements for the celebration of the day. A meeting of notable speakers is being held at the call of the editors and the date will appear.

enberg's address was brief. He could not speak long, he said, as he was exhausted from going around from hall to hall meeting strikers, and making brief speeches here and there.

Rosenberg merely told of a few incidents of the determination of the strikers to win this struggle for humane conditions and American homes.

"The strikers," Rosenberg said, "must be helped and helped promptly; if they are not helped the strike will not be lost, but there will be a great deal of suffering. We cannot lose this strike. The men will not return to work unless they win their demands. They will sooner starve, yes, actually die from hunger, rather than go scabbing."

"What little we distribute in strike benefits is accepted gratefully with a murmur at its inadequacy. And in every case the strike benefit is taken with the assurance that it will go for milk for the babies and for dry black bread for the rest of the family. As long as the strikers will have this—milk for the babies and black bread for the rest of the families—they will hold out cheerfully for the promise of a better day, of a regeneration in the cloak trade that the successful ending of the strike will mean."

"Send in your dollars, send them in from every corner of the United States, and send it in quickly. A dollar today will be worth more than $5 a week or ten days later. The strike will be won, whether you help the strikers or not. But if you send in yours at once it will be at a much smaller sacrifice, with much less suffering to the families of the strikers."

Sending Families Away. Vice President Pollakoff told of hundreds of instances where friends and relatives of the striking cloak makers in other cities came to their assistance and requested them to send their families, and have them stay with friends in those cities until the strike is won.

Contempt for The Call. The list of questions which The Call addressed yesterday to the cloak manufacturers, with a view of learning what the manufacturers understand or misunderstand by the terms closed and open shop and such like, were submitted to the manufacturers for a reply in the afternoon.

men congregate in one spot. Since the letter reached Commissioner Baker the police have practically kept their hands off the strike. They have allowed gatherings that they never before would have permitted and have stood idly by while the beginnings of a fight were forming under their very eyes. It is not felt that the fault is with the uniformed men. They have only obeyed orders and the grand jury intends to inquire into the reason for the issuance of such orders and into the results that have followed obedience by the police to them.

The statement of the manufacturers that the police favor the strikers is ridiculous, said Alexander Bloch. "The records of arrests in the present cloak strike show that the police are as active in this strike as they can possibly be. What the manufacturers seem to want is that the police should be taking orders from the cloak bosses and not from the City Hall. What they are complaining against is the fact that the police do not permit the hired thugs and special police of the manufacturers to come out into the street and beat up strikers with impunity."

The statement of Bloch was verified by President Rosenberg, and, in fact, was a limited by the manufacturers themselves yesterday, when their attorney, Marshall, issued figures showing that 500 arrests had been made during the seven weeks of the cloak strike. This, the union leaders asserted, does not look as if the police were inactive or partial to the strikers.

The list of questions which The Call addressed yesterday to the cloak manufacturers, with a view of learning what the manufacturers understand or misunderstand by the terms closed and open shop and such like, were submitted to the manufacturers for a reply in the afternoon.

1. What is your understanding of the "closed shop?" 2. What is your understanding of the "open shop?" 3. What sort of a "union shop" would be acceptable to you? 4. What do you mean when you speak of "surrendering the control of your business to the union?"

WILL ASSESS MINERS TO AID STRIKERS. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 24.—The international board of the United Mine Workers, in session at the headquarters in the State Life building, spent practically all of today in framing a circular to be sent to the members of the organization, levying the assessment of $1 a week on each working member to support the strikes now in progress in several of the districts. It was believed that as soon as this was completed the board would adjourn. This was the principal matter of business before the board.

COAL BOSSES TO CRUSH MINERS. CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Coal operators, it is said, have begun preparations for a final fight with the striking miners in the Illinois district. This was agreed upon tentatively at a meeting of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association, held at the headquarters in the Fisher building. Detailed plans, however, were left undecided.

WOMAN SLASHES HUSBAND. Mrs. Nettie Coon, a Venezuelan woman, of 207 West 22d street, thought that her husband, Martin Coon, an engineer, was sick, so yesterday morning she took a razor and slashed his right ear nearly off. An ambulance surgeon from New York Hospital decided that Coon must lose his ear. The woman was arrested for felonious assault and in the Jefferson Market Court was held in $1,500 bail.

SUGAR TRUST DROPS ARROGANT STAND

Willing to Listen Now Even to Higginbotham's Mediations—Strikers Go On With Their Picketing.

Magistrate Higginbotham, who has volunteered to act as arbitrator in the sugar strike, was five hours late yesterday in giving the report of his interview with the sugar trust's officials to the strikers who waited patiently at Lithuanian Hall, 103 Grand street, to listen to the message of "his honor." Higginbotham told the strikers that the trust would take all the drivers back to work; that 800 men could return to work immediately, and that the wage question would be discussed at a conference arranged between him and the trust officials, at 9 o'clock this morning.

He assured the strikers that he would get a good settlement for them, and that they would all be satisfied. He had held a long conference with the board of directors, he said, and would hold another session today. He told the strikers to select representatives of each craft involved to call on him at the Bedford Avenue Court, at 11 o'clock this morning. After the committee had called upon him, Higginbotham said he would come to the meeting at 103 Grand street and address the men again.

Higginbotham has taken a sudden and marked interest in the workers since his recent run-ins with The Call. When Higginbotham called on the strikers Tuesday afternoon he told them that he was to hold a conference with the trust representatives at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and afterward he would call at the strike headquarters and submit the settlement conditions of the trust. Two o'clock came, then 3, then 4, but not a word came from Higginbotham. The strikers waited in much suspense, and finally they decided to go on picket duty, and not to wait further. After their departure, Organizer Cal Wyatt, of the American Federation of Labor, called up the Bedford Avenue Court and asked for Higginbotham. The clerk said that the magistrate was at the Gates Avenue Court, where a session of the board of magistrates was in progress. Gates Avenue Court was then called up, and through a messenger Higginbotham stated over the phone that he would be at the strikers' meeting at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Higginbotham finally reached the meeting some time after that hour. While the settlement negotiations are pending the strikers are continuing their strike work as usual and pick-

SOCIALISTS ATTACK BRITISH TYRANNY

A'quith Cabinet Denounced in Manifesto Issued by Executive Committee for Crimes in Hindustan.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The executive committee of the Social Democrats have chosen the moment when an important conspiracy trial is going on at Dacca, Bengal, to issue a manifesto denouncing British tyranny in India, which, it is declared, is going from bad to worse.

Among other things the manifesto contains the following: "All the infamies denounced by members of the present cabinet when they were committed in Russia, Austria, Turkey and China are now being perpetrated in Hindustan by the A'quith government. Is it to be wondered at that secret conspiracy and open assassination are spreading? When free speech, free combination and a free press are suppressed, what other course is open to an enslaved populace. Our despotism has forced the most peaceful, most submissive race in the world into an anarchist propaganda."

India has been steadily impoverished for five generations by British robbery and extortion, and the horrors of peace have become far worse than the horrors of war. We will take care that this manifesto is distributed in the native languages throughout Hindustan, so the population will know there is an active and growing party here, which has neither part nor lot in the outrages and crimes committed by the government."

DYING WOMAN WON'T DISCLOSE IDENTITY

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 24.—An unknown woman lies at the point of death in the Ann May Hospital at Spring Lake. All attempts on the part of the hospital attendants and the county authorities to compel her to disclose her identity have been unavailing. She was the companion of William Miller, a Belmar carpenter, on Monday night when he was drowned in Shark river, and she had a very narrow escape from the same fate. Arnold Bullwinkle, the third member of the party, has returned to his home in Brooklyn. He refused to talk of the affair when interviewed at the depot before leaving, hence the mystery is as deep as ever.

It was about 12:30 p.m. Monday that William Young, manager of the camp, formerly Rhode Island Point, on Shark river, was closing up when he heard screams from across the river. He rushed to the shore and, shoving off in a rowboat, rowed hastily in the direction of the screams. Here he found Bullwinkle clinging to the canoe, which had righted itself, although half filled with water. The young man was greatly frightened, but not much injured. He told Young that there were two others in the water. Looking around quickly Young espied a deep black spot on the shadowy surface of the water. He rowed to it and found it was the girl's hair. He pulled her into his boat and then took the young man aboard. About that time Harry Bahler arrived in a launch and this being speedier than the other boat the two victims of the accident were taken in it to Murphy's Camp, where Dr. Kimmoth was called.

A searching party was then organized and spent the night looking for the body of the missing Miller. The camping party came down last Friday and pitched its tents on the shore of the river at County Neck.

3D R. R. VICTIM DIES; COMMISSION MAY ACT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Governor Harmon today ordered the 3d regiment, headquarters at Cleveland, to come to Columbus for strike duty Saturday. The 5th will relieve the 1st regiment, which after nearly two weeks' service will go into camp at Fort Ancient. The governor today left on a motor trip over the state to visit county fairs, reunions, etc., as a preliminary campaign movement. It is the first time in several weeks that he has felt at liberty to leave the Capital city. He will return by Sunday, assuming if he feels it is necessary.

George W. Pope, attorney for the car men's union, today called upon the mayor to disarm detectives brought here by a Cleveland agency employed by the Columbus Railway and Light Company. He declares these detectives have no legal right to carry weapons, as police powers have never been given them. He also refers to the alleged police record of the agency's head.

Politicians in the city council will seek at a special meeting tomorrow night to force Mayor Marshall to reinstate in the department thirty-three policemen who were dismissed two weeks ago when they mutinied and refused to obey an order to ride on the street cars. The mayor has declared they can't serve again under him. The council, however, by holding strings to appropriations, may be able to make Marshall reinstate them.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Coin collectors who are fortunate enough to possess such oddities as copper dollars, copper eagles or other experimental coins struck by the United States mint had better bury them deep in their inner sanctaries of numismatics. A suit is now pending in the United States District Court in Eastern Pennsylvania, instituted by the government, for the possession of twenty-four so-called "pattern pieces," sold last spring by Edward W. Haseltine, a coin dealer, of Albany, N. Y.

The government regards these unusual coins as "public property in private hands," and claims that they belong in the United States mint, and nowhere else. Numismatic and antiquarian circles has been deeply aroused by the contention. The government asserts that the coins must have passed from the mint without due authority, that Haseltine never really passed them, and that hence he had no right to sell them.

The collection of trial pieces was valued by the Treasury Department at $1,000. The dates of the coins range from 1860 to 1883, and there are such freak pieces as 2-cent coppers, a 5-cent copper, 50-cent copper and a $1 copper in the assortment. There are also some gold and silver pieces, differing from the regular coins in an inscription or some variation of design. The case is expected to come early in the fall.

Y., Aug. 24.—Charged with having stabbed a New York policeman with a hat pin, Miss Evelyn Palmer, a very attractive girl of twenty years, was arrested at the home of her father in this city today on request of John E. BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 24.—John Lathrop, formerly a justice of the Supreme court of Massachusetts, and a lecturer and writer upon legal matters, died this morning at his summer home in High street, Dedham, known as the Richard B. Whitney estate.

CHARGED HUSBAND WITH SHOOTING HER

Extra Policeman, Accused by Wife, Denies Firing Shot—Is Held by Police. Policeman Scanlon, of the Hudson street station, heard a revolver shot followed by a scream in the basement house at 305 Hudson street late last night. He ran upstairs and on the second floor found Mrs. Nellie Roth, twenty-six years old, lying on the floor with bullet wounds in her right arm and in her abdomen. Scanlon blew his whistle for assistance and Detective Londrigan responded. Londrigan ran up to the roof of the house in time to see a man's head disappearing through the scuttle of the adjoining building. He followed and cornered the man in the space between the roof and the ceiling of the top floor. The fugitive was dragged out and identified as Peter E. Roth, the husband of the wounded woman.

COIN COLLECTORS HAD BETTER TAKE WARNING

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Coin collectors who are fortunate enough to possess such oddities as copper dollars, copper eagles or other experimental coins struck by the United States mint had better bury them deep in their inner sanctaries of numismatics. A suit is now pending in the United States District Court in Eastern Pennsylvania, instituted by the government, for the possession of twenty-four so-called "pattern pieces," sold last spring by Edward W. Haseltine, a coin dealer, of Albany, N. Y.

The government regards these unusual coins as "public property in private hands," and claims that they belong in the United States mint, and nowhere else. Numismatic and antiquarian circles has been deeply aroused by the contention. The government asserts that the coins must have passed from the mint without due authority, that Haseltine never really passed them, and that hence he had no right to sell them.

"BUILDING LOT" MAN MOBBED BY VICTIMS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—More than a hundred angry men, women, and even boys and girls, victims of the alleged building lot swindlers now being prosecuted by the government through the local United States postal inspectors, thronged the corridors of the federal building this morning to attend the hearing of Edwin M. Darnalt, manager of the South Jersey Realty Company.

Most of these people, all of whom claim to have been defrauded out of sums of money ranging from $5 to $500, are in moderate circumstances, and include clerks, housekeepers, messenger boys, domestics, laborers and scrub women, who had been eager to grasp the opportunity of securing a plot of ground with a few dollars of their savings. Darnalt is the second person to be arrested here within the past week by the federal authorities on the charge of using the mails to dispose of what the government will contend are fake or worthless lots. The first arrest was that of George K. Eastwick, promoter of the Seacrest Realty Company, who was taken into custody Monday and held under $1,000 bail.

According to Inspector Cortelyou, Darnalt's land proposition, which was called "Cape My Terrace" in his advertisements, consisted of 10 acres of the most desolate sand along the coast, and unimproved sand at that. It would be dear at $3 an acre. Cortelyou said. Divided into 3,600 lots, Darnalt advertised to give several hundred of them away to the solvers of a simple puzzle, the inspector declared, but he exacted a trifle over $3.60 for "entry."

COLUMBUS POLICE MAY BE REINSTATED

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Governor Harmon today ordered the 3d regiment, headquarters at Cleveland, to come to Columbus for strike duty Saturday. The 5th will relieve the 1st regiment, which after nearly two weeks' service will go into camp at Fort Ancient. The governor today left on a motor trip over the state to visit county fairs, reunions, etc., as a preliminary campaign movement. It is the first time in several weeks that he has felt at liberty to leave the Capital city. He will return by Sunday, assuming if he feels it is necessary.

George W. Pope, attorney for the car men's union, today called upon the mayor to disarm detectives brought here by a Cleveland agency employed by the Columbus Railway and Light Company. He declares these detectives have no legal right to carry weapons, as police powers have never been given them. He also refers to the alleged police record of the agency's head.

Politicians in the city council will seek at a special meeting tomorrow night to force Mayor Marshall to reinstate in the department thirty-three policemen who were dismissed two weeks ago when they mutinied and refused to obey an order to ride on the street cars. The mayor has declared they can't serve again under him. The council, however, by holding strings to appropriations, may be able to make Marshall reinstate them.

DIES FOUND IN FIRE-SWEPT AREA

Fire-Fighters Missing in Idaho, Refugees Relate Thrilling Escapes. Towns Still Menaced.

AVERY, Idaho, Aug. 24.—The bodies of twenty forest service men, who were caught by the forest fires, have been found.

Two Japanese railroad employes, who had been fighting fire, emerged from the woods near here last night severely burned and reported that one of their fellow laborers had perished.

Four negro soldiers of Company G, Fifth United States infantry, are still missing.

WALLACE, Idaho, Aug. 24.—Wardner, Kellogg, Burke and Murray are threatened with disasters similar to the one Wallace suffered, but the danger here is entirely over.

The fire broke out all over the Coeur d'Alene at the same time and reports pour in of the finding of the dead in unexpected places the fear grows that many may have met death or fatal injuries who have not yet been missed.

At Wardner and Kellogg, Idaho, fires are approaching the town from two directions.

At Burke, Idaho, the fire is three miles distant, but coming down the canyon toward the mining camp.

On Big Creek survivors of the fire who arrived here today say that seven men were crowded into a prospect hole five feet long.

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 24.—Refugees from the fire-swept district of western Montana are beginning to arrive at various points, reducing the number of persons reported missing.

One of the most thrilling experiences thus far described was that of Mr. and Mrs. A. Patterson, of Wallace, Idaho, who, with a party of five men, arrived at Iron Mountain, Mont., last night.

When the fire overtook the party it was one day's trip from a railway.

Among the refugees here are George Cook and wife, of Mullan, Idaho, who were in the mountains near Mullan when overtaken by the fire.

When the fire overtook the party it was one day's trip from a railway.

NATURALIZATION GRAFT IN REPUBLICAN CLUB?

Dishonesty in Connection With Granting Naturalization Papers Is Alleged.

Accused of making statements that the "school of instruction" for tutoring prospective voters who apply for naturalization papers is a source of graft to those connected with it, Ignatz J. Eliascu must face a committee who will determine whether his charges are well founded.

A petition calling for his resignation was presented at the meeting of the club Tuesday night, there being forty signers. The technical charge in the petition is "conduct unbecoming an officer and member of this club and circulating false statements regarding 'graft' in connection with the naturalization school."

Eliascu has not been long in this country and only recently secured his naturalization papers and it is expected that he will have some rather sensational charges to make when the hearing before the committee of five convenes in the next few days.

TAFT JOLLIES HIS SPANISH AUDIENCE

President Rewards Charles Francis Adams, Winner of Boat Races Between Americans and Spaniards.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 24.—President Taft presented the Taft cup today to Charles Francis Adams, 26, winner of a boat race between the Spaniards and Americans held off Marblehead last week.

The President and the Spanish minister made brief speeches and the President proposed a toast to the King of Spain. It was drunk in champagne while all present stood. Taft's health was drunk in turn.

The President and the Spanish minister came aboard to the piping of the buglers of the strains of the national airs of the United States and Spain.

After the guests had partaken of luncheon, the President said: "Gentlemen—I am in receipt of the following cablegram:

The Royal Sporting Club, of Bilbao, beg to tender you exceedingly their most respectful greeting, homage and gratitude for the kind attention and favorable reception of the American subjects toward the members of their representation in the regattas off Marblehead."

"It is a great pleasure to welcome the sporting representatives of Spain here, and I feel that this is only the beginning of closer associations between us and the Spaniards. The Spanish language and the English language cover most of the globe. It has been my fortune within the last ten years to come in close contact with Spanish civilization, and with the results of Spanish energy and enterprise and courage. I think the Spaniards may well continue to take part in sailing contests when you look back to Maheljan, as I learned to say in the Philippines, to Lemaspi, and Elcano and those heroes who founded new worlds in cockle shells that no sane man would try the ocean with now, a record of bravery that is unequalled in the history of the world. My experience with the Spanish speaking people has been so delightful that I have to admire the Spanish character, and Spanish courtesy so much that it gives me the greatest personal pleasure to meet these representatives of that grand old kingdom, and I extend to them a heartfelt welcome, and as an evidence of our feelings, and I am sure I speak for all the American people, I wish to give you the toast, "Long live the King of Spain."

HID BEHIND HOUSE TO KILL HIS WIFE

NYACK, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Edward Wegner, of Nanuet, shot and killed his wife with a shotgun early this morning, and he was arrested during the day and held for the grand jury on a charge of murder by Justice Cooper, of Pearl River.

For several years past the home had been unhappy because of Wegner's hard drinking. When he came home intoxicated he would beat his wife and sometimes drag her around the floor by the hair of her head.

The husband visited the farm early this morning evidently for the purpose of killing his wife. He secreted himself behind a small building about seventy feet from the house, and when his wife came out to feed the chickens he raised his gun and fired. The woman fell dead almost instantly.

The news of the murder soon spread, and search was made for the murderer, who had fled. He was found later at Pearl River, and the hearing began this afternoon.

JAPAN SHOWS TEXT OF KOREA'S DOOM

Little Kingdom, Fought Over by Powers, Will Give Up Independence About August 29.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—The text of the convention under which Korea, the "Hermit Kingdom," is annexed to Japan, was communicated at 11 o'clock this morning to the representatives of the powers. It appears that the document was signed on August 22, but it will not be effective until officially promulgated.

The struggle for whose control started the Russo-Japanese war.

Baron Hirata, minister of the interior, summoned the proprietors of all the Japanese newspapers to his cabinet today and requested them to publish no unauthorized information regarding the situation in Korea.

The Japanese government, which has a large number of representatives already in Korea, will be prepared to take over the machinery of administration in Korea without delay.

Considerable uneasiness is reported at Seoul, because of the circulation of threats of disorder after the annexation. These emanate, according to the view taken here, from "malcontents" who have not received the consideration which they think their due in the provision made by the convention for the future of the Korean royal family, nobles, and officials.

Sporadic outbreaks in protest against the absorption of Korea by Japan are anticipated, but serious rioting or even widespread objection from the Koreans is not expected.

CATHOLICS PLANNING NEW DEMONSTRATION

MADRID, Aug. 24.—Defeated in its plans for a monster pro-church demonstration at San Sebastian on August 7, the Spanish clerical party is completing arrangements for a tremendous showing of its strength throughout the entire country early in September.

The various local committees of the clericals have formed a general organization August 7, and have a powerful central committee which is working with the Carlists. A formidable group of financiers is said to be working with the clericals, hoping to bring about a slump in securities so that they may buy them in at a low figure.

DEPUTIES HOT AFTER PRESIDENT FALLIERES

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Executive clemency, manifesting itself in the pardon of numerous criminals sentenced to the guillotine, is likely to bring an "interpellation" of President Fallieres at the next session of the chamber of deputies.

Public indignation is so high over the recent commutation of the death sentence of four cold blooded assassins, that several deputies announced today that they will demand that the president explain his action.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC BOTHERS TOURISTS

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The cholera epidemic in Russia and Italy is seriously interfering with tourist travel. Practically the entire Russian frontier is under quarantine. Roumania is taking the lead in cutting off travel from Russia, lining her frontier with troops.

Today's dispatches say the disease is increasing in southern Russia, but is on the decrease in St. Petersburg. Cases are reported in Milan. A number of cases are reported in Turkey.

CRETAN CANDIDATE WINS

ATHENS, Aug. 24.—Elections to the national assembly have been held during the past week. The returns as yet are incomplete, but an important result is the victory of the Cretan leader, Venezelos, who heads the poll in Attica, which comprises the territory of Athens, and who is likely to be the next premier.

DISAGREEMENT OVER INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Medical Association of the District of Columbia, and the health officers here are at loggerheads over the question as to whether so-called "infantile paralysis" is a communicable disease. Members of the association criticize Dr. Woodward, health officer of the district, for causing undue alarm over the prevalence of the disease.

Dr. Woodward was criticized at a meeting of the association for announcements from his office that the mortality among children from infantile paralysis in the district during recent weeks has varied from 16 to 18 per cent. A member of the association said that it had not been over 5 per cent at a rough estimate.

GIBBONS DIES OF WOUND

Morris Gibbons, who was shot on Friday last by detectives when he resisted arrest on a charge of burglary, died yesterday morning in the Brooklyn Hospital from injuries received. Gibbons, the police say, had a criminal record, having served a seven-year sentence in the Trenton penitentiary. Detective Bronson, who did the shooting, was not hurt.

FATHER JAILED; FAMILY DESTITUTE

Jersey Justice Sends Workmen Up Under Peculiar Conditions—Effort to Release Him.

Destitute, with six children to care for, Mrs. Bertha Collinowsky, of Irvington, a suburb of Newark, yesterday called at the offices of the prosecutor, the sheriff, and Recorder Turton, and pleaded with them to aid her in getting her husband, Joseph, released from the Essex county jail, where he was sent because he could not pay a fine of $10 levied against him on the charge of trespassing upon the property of Emil Kosel.

Mrs. Collinowsky charges that her husband is the victim of the Irvington triumvirate of wielders of the law to suit themselves, Constable Gegegenheimer, Justice of the Peace Paul Ludwig and Emil Kosel, the complainant against Collinowsky. Recently Public Prosecutor Mott severely roasted this trio in open court.

Collinowsky was arrested Tuesday night by Constable William Gegegenheimer on a complaint made by Kosel and arraigned before Justice Ludwig and fined $10. Mrs. Collinowsky said, and when he was asked to pay a fine of $10 and did not have the money he was remanded to jail.

But why? That is the question being asked all over the village. What was there in the arrest and jailing of Collinowsky for Justice Ludwig, Constable Gegegenheimer and Kosel?

It was stated at the county courthouse in Newark yesterday that an effort will be made to free Collinowsky.

The same trio were mixed up in a case somewhat similar to that of Collinowsky on July 22 and Public Prosecutor Mott called "Gegegenheimer a 'cut and scoundrel' woman, Rosa Wenglar, and tried to place handcuffs on her." Mott said, "I don't know what authority you have, but I do know that whatever you had you exceeded it."

RETURNED TO FIND WIFE MARRIED AGAIN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 24.—After being mourned as dead for four years, Samuel Stephens, who left Indianapolis to escape arrest, came back to life and to his wife last night to find her married to another man and known to her friends and neighbors as Mrs. William Hall. Just before Mrs. Stephens was arrested today on a charge of bigamy made by the police, Stephens went to the home, and took away with him Fred, age six, who was a baby of two when his father left home. Stephens then disappeared.

About a year ago, she says, Charles Bogart, a grocer, brought a letter to her, bearing news of the death of her husband. The particulars given were meager. Mrs. Stephens says yellow fever was given as the cause.

Her marriage to Hall followed the receipt of the letter, in January of the present year. Hall, husband No. 2, was not at home. When he returned he was told by Mrs. Stephens that she was not his wife, and that she would have to leave him.

CONTRACTOR SKIPS WITHOUT PAYING MEN

Unwittingly the Newark Board of Education has been drawn into a very serious labor trouble at the school being erected on Ridge street in that city. Supervising Architect Guilbert reported to the board that one of the subcontractors working for the Industrial Engineering Company, to whom the contract was originally awarded, had skipped town on August 5 without paying his workmen in his employ.

Forty-six workmen who were employed by this subcontractor, whose name has not been made public, have refused to continue at work until they are paid. The wages due to these men aggregate $1,200.

Attorney Eugene Datto has been retained by the men. He appeared before the building committee of the board of education and served notice on the committee that he intends to file a lien against the contractor's pay to protect his clients.

The building committee assured Datto that they will make every possible effort to see that an early settlement is made with the workmen, but he'll file the lien to insure payment to his clients.

STOWAWAY SHACKLED TO SEAMEN'S BRIDGE

Passengers Intercede to Prevent His Deportation—Bunker Worked in U. S. Several Years.

When the Atlantic Transport liner Mamba came to her pier yesterday George William Bunker, a stowaway, was shackled to the stanchions on a bridge.

Several passengers on the steamer interceded for Bunker, whose extraordinary story of misery and misfortune stirred many to sympathy.

When I left home six years ago, said Bunker, "to come to this country, my father, mother, brother and sister lived together in London. All had tuberculosis. I went to Nebraska and later to Creston, Iowa, where I worked several years for Watson, Wood & Kelly, cattle and horse dealers.

After landing I hurried to my home in the Black Friars district in London. The house was closed. Neighbors told me that my mother and sister had both died since I received Elizabeth's letter in America.

Ordinarily the immigration authorities would promptly deport Bunker. But Walter Johnson, of Geneva, N. Y., and Lawrence O'Rourke, passengers on the liner, have interested themselves in the young man's behalf and it is said will make an effort to have him permitted to land.

TENANTS ALARMED BY BOMB EXPLOSION

A slow fuse bomb was set off at 1 o'clock yesterday morning in front of the five-story tenement at 232 Elizabeth street, on the ground floor of which Giuseppe Di Giacomo, of 449 Court street, Brooklyn, has a cafe.

The police from the Elizabeth street station, a few blocks below, arrived in front of the building before the echoes of the explosion had died away, but saw no one running in either direction.

With Di Giacomo, asleep in the rear of the cafe, was his ten-year-old daughter, Josephine. She was not awakened by the explosion, which sent her father and the tenants of the house to the street in a panic.

BEAT HIS WIFE AND POLICEMAN TOO

"Easiest thing in the world for me," said Policeman Hildebrand, of the Essex Market Court squad, yesterday, when a warrant for George McGuire, of 323 Monroe street, was handed to him to serve.

Hildebrand found McGuire asleep in the sun on his stoop. As soon as McGuire was awakened and saw who it was he was planted his left in the policeman's ribs and then jolted him in the jaw.

Three months ago McGuire was ordered to pay his wife $3 a week. He has not only failed to do this, she says, but has followed her wherever she got work at her trade of making cigar boxes and stirred up such a scene that she was discharged.

SENATOR DICK IN TROUBLE WITH TAFT

Tried Sherman Act in Ohio and Gets Disliked—He Wasn't Invited to Beverly.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Senator Charles Dick, of Ohio, has fallen into the same class as Vice President Sherman, so far as President Taft is concerned. If a certain letter, which it is understood, has been written to a prominent politician, is made public, it will show that President Taft has officially disclaimed responsibility for an attempt made by Senator Dick to elect Carmel Thompson, a candidate before the recent Republican convention for governor, chairman of the Republican state executive committee.

According to a report which has reached Washington from high sources, Senator Dick planned a meeting of the Republican central committee of the state last Friday. He is said to have written a letter to W. F. Brown, chairman of the state central committee, to the effect that President Taft wished Thompson made chairman of the executive committee.

Brown is understood to have informed Senator Dick that it would be impracticable for the committee to meet last Friday, but he agreed to call a meeting for tomorrow at Columbus. In the meantime the plan is said to have reached the ears of the President, and to have aroused him to a high pitch of anger.

NEW LAW CAUSES RUSH FOR DANCE HALL LICENSES

Applications for dance hall licenses under the new law, which became effective June 30, are coming in fast to the office of the license bureau, the time when the dancing season gets into full swing being near at hand.

In order to gain the license the applicant must file a full statement of the conditions under which he expects to operate. The application then goes to the Building Department to have an inspector determine whether the place where the dances are to be held is according to the specifications set forth in the ordinance; thence to the Fire Department, to see if proper fire precautions are provided for, and the third step is the reference to the Police Department, which is expected to look into the moral hazard before recommending that the license be granted.

Under the new law there will be special dance hall license inspectors appointed, to see that all of the requirements of the ordinances are carried out. There will be six of them in Greater New York, with probably two assigned to duty in Brooklyn. The license fee of $50 for each dance hall will go to pay the inspectors, with a provision that revenue bonds may be issued for any deficiency.

Under the new law, licenses issued between April 1 and September 30 are to expire on March 31 of the following year, with licenses granted between October 1 and April 1 expiring the following September 30. In case there are complaints, calling for the revocation of the license twice in any period of six months, the law does not permit a new license to the premises within a year following the last revocation.

WILSON'S CASE CALLED.

Alleged Effort to Get "Jack Pot" Dealer to Testify. CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—State's Attorney Wayman today, in Judge Honore's court, called the case of State Representative Robert E. Wilson, charged with having been the distributor of the alleged "jack pot" at St. Louis.

Three persons who were charged by Deputy Inspector Northrup with having children in their employ working nights, were also before the magistrate. They were Elizabeth Heppie, of 47 West 12th street, who conducts a candy booth; William Johnson, of 186 Prospect Park West, who runs the "Ben Hur" ride, and Henry Brill, who runs a souvenir stand in Surf Avenue. All were held for Special Sessions in $300 bail.

LID BANGS AGAIN AT CONEY ISLAND

Slowly but surely the lid is being tightened on Coney Island. When several resorts were closed a couple of weeks ago and this activity was followed by a full lid clamping, the word was passed around there would be no more police interference. Ten plain clothes men made their appearance at the island Saturday night, however, and their mission at first was somewhat of a mystery.

It was explained in the Coney Island Court yesterday, however, when two of the "cops" appeared as complainants against women they had arrested on the Bowery. The offenders were charged with disorderly conduct and Magistrate Gelsmar held them for examination. They gave their names as Grace Selegen, twenty years old, of 2848 West 19th street, a singer; Florence Gibson, twenty-four years old, a saleswoman, living on Henderson's walk, and Helen Walls, twenty-two years old, of West 17th street.

Merchant Tailor is the title you spread on your sign. Perfect fits made of material that every one knows you sell nothing but shoddy. And that you never yet made a suit to fit anybody. When a customer has once in your meshes been caught you learn that repairing alone is your forte.

Yorkville Court yesterday on a charge of assault and battery committed on Desider Kuhn, of 247 East 23d street. Kuhn had a battered face and looked "done up" in regular Interboro fashion. It was the conductor, he said, that had "done him up." This happened on August 20, when on a southbound Third Avenue "L" car he was cramped together with many others in a manner that made breathing impossible. While the train was jerking its way downtown, throwing its passengers one way and the other, two toughs were amusing themselves with a long-bearded Jew, whom they called "Sheeny," "Tay" and other names. The conductor seemed to have enjoyed the fun and Kuhn spoke up: "As one in charge of this car you should put a stop to this," he said. "Nough sed." The conductor jumped on him, punched him, kicked him several times and at the 14th street station threw him off in a mutilated condition. On that station Special Officer No. 171 sent in a call for an ambulance. Dr. Brannon, of the Bellevue Hospital, responded, but he found that a little fixing up would put Kuhn in shape to get home, so he did not take him to the hospital. Counsel Mukden, for the Interboro, argued that as long as Kuhn was able to go home and was not altogether dead the assault must have been not very serious and he wanted the defendant discharged. This was denied as the case was adjourned until the 29th.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF TROLLEYS SUCCESSFUL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Municipal ownership and operation of a street car system has proved remarkably successful in Belfast, according to Consul Henry B. Miller. To students of municipal ownership problems there is special interest in a report on this subject from Consul Miller. Low cost of transportation, economy of administration, lack of accidents are points chiefly emphasized by Miller in explaining the success with which Belfast has run its own street cars. The regular fare on cars there is 2 cents. One of the unusual features of the system is the concentration of all lines through a general central station, which makes every part of the city accessible from that center. Belfast took over the street car system of the city about five years ago. Its head is a general manager selected by the city council.

FUNDS NEEDED FOR LARKIN'S DEFENSE

What is known as the "Larkin case" is just now attracting widespread attention in Great Britain and Ireland. Most of the Irish radical journals have denounced the action of the government, while the British labor and Socialist papers have severely criticized the treatment of James Larkin by the crown. Though many requests were made to have the Larkin case questioned in parliament, the so-called labor members have not only ignored the question thus far, but have allowed the house of commons to adjourn without attacking the law department of the crown. The latest development in the case was the appeal from the decision of the packed jury as mentioned recently to the higher courts in Dublin. The crown, with a brilliant array of legal artillery, such as are only used in great state trials, opposed the motion for a retrial. Their lordships, the judges, on technical grounds sustained the lower courts and even refused to allow the appellants counsel to address the court. The Irish Transport Workers' Union has decided to carry the case to the house of lords, the supreme court of Great Britain and Ireland. To do this requires much money and they appeal for funds to all who can aid in any way. At a meeting on Broadway and 39th street last Saturday night $2 was contributed to the Larkin fund. Any one desirous of sending any contributions can address them to Miss Flynn, 511 East 134th street, New York city.

Was Showing Marksman and Gun Went Off Accidentally. CORRY, Pa., Aug. 24.—While showing how he would kill a burglar with his new rifle, Dewey Thompson, twelve, today shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Robert Thompson, of Pittsfield, near here. The gun was discharged accidentally and a bullet entered Mrs. Thompson's brain, causing instant death. FUSES FOOL POLICE. Patrolman David Turnstall brought into the Flushing precinct station house, Tuesday night, three metal tubes, each about three inches long and one and one-half inches in diameter. They contained gunpowder, and each one had a percussion cap on the end. They were found, he said, by his wife, on the lawn of the police training stables, at North Hempstead turnpike and Jackson street, Flushing. How the deadly things came there is a mystery. The tubes were well soaked in a pail of water at the station house before the police made a minute examination of them. They are believed to be bombs, but how they came to be where they were found is a mystery. The bureau of combustibles in Manhattan was notified and an expert was sent over to Flushing to make an examination of the supposed bombs. They were found to be fuses from an electric car, and then all the police breathed more freely.

That the old hulk of capitalism is fast becoming a political derelict? That the people, as never before, are willing, nay, anxious, to listen to our message? Do you realize that we hold all the winning cards, and that if we play them, we shall startle plutocracy next November? Don't lay down just at the psychological moment, when we are about to reap the harvest of our past effort in sowing the seed with so much painful energy. Get into action at once, with every Comrade at the place of duty and the results will be startling. FRANK HUBSCHMITT, Sec. Socy. For W. S. KILLINGBEEK.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

In a recent issue of his paper, the Louisville Courier-Journal, Henry Watterson made the statement that "if the Democratic party loses another Presidential battle it will probably, as a historic entity, pass from off the scene. The label may survive, but the leaders and the genesis will be altered."

Colonel Watterson is quite mistaken. The Democratic party will "survive" defeat in 1912 as it has "survived" all its defeats since the election of Abraham Lincoln. A living organism is bound to die, sooner or later. A petrified organism may endure through endless time. It is the same with political parties. A national party that is actually living, one that represents great social needs and aspirations, may pass away from the scene of action after its aims have been achieved. But a party that represents no such needs may continue to lead an impotent, parasitic existence in the face of successive defeats.

As a national party the Democracy passed away when it split into fragments on the slavery issue. The victory of the North over the South and the definitive overthrow of the states' rights doctrine made it impossible for the Democracy ever to come to life again. To be sure, it has continued to maintain an existence as a congeries of local parties in the North and as an anti-negro party in the South. But as a national party it has become a sham and a delusion.

Twice the Democratic party was restored to power in Washington, and both times it demonstrated its incapacity to accomplish anything of moment. It could not even bring about "tariff reform"—the sole issue that gave it the semblance of life. For a moment it was galvanized into an unnatural activity by the free silver delusion, but this again only served to demonstrate the fact that it was dead beyond recall. A political party with the breath of life in it does not chase after delusions.

As a national political party the Democracy would, not improbably, have passed out of existence long ago if it had not been artificially fostered by the astute leaders of the Republican party. The latter are well aware of the fact that their own party is creaking in all its joints, and that its divergent elements would fly apart if there was not an opposition party. The Democratic party serves their purpose in an excellent manner. Its opposition is feeble and innocuous, but the pretense is useful. It helps to fool the people. And whenever there is need of succor, as in the last session of Congress, the Republican leaders know that they will get as many auxiliaries as the occasion calls for from among the Democrats.

The Democratic party is a survival of social conditions that have passed away. It represents no class and serves no social need. It is nothing more than an aggregate of petty local and personal interests. Even the Democrats take a greater interest in the factional fights of the Republican party than in the meaningless differences of their own leaders.

THE GRANDFATHER CLAUSE IN OKLAHOMA.

All accounts agree in representing that the grandfather clause was not really adopted by the people of Oklahoma as a part of their state constitution. It was supposed to have been carried by a small majority. But this majority was obtained by counting as in favor of the amendment all those who were entitled to vote on it but did not vote. It is, to say the least, extremely doubtful if so unheard of and audacious a procedure will stand the test of the courts.

The manner of voting upon the amendment was also against the law of the state. The constitution of Oklahoma requires that when an amendment to it is voted upon, printed copies of the arguments for and against the innovation must be submitted to the voter with his ballot. This was not done when the grandfather clause was voted on.

The object of the amendment is to deprive 25,000 negroes of their vote. The champions of the measure could not even advance the customary argument of Southern communities, that the supremacy of the whites was at stake, since the negroes constitute only about one-fifth of the total population of the state.

The amendment, if allowed to become a part of the state constitution, would therefore serve only one purpose: to perpetuate the rule of the Democratic party in Oklahoma. This being its sole purpose, a writer in the New York Sun suggests that possibly the federal courts and the Republican majority in Congress may not wink at this violation of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, as they have winked at its violation in those states where the negroes constitute nearly one-half or more of the total population.

A writer in the Globe, of this city, states that of the total number of persons, 44,061, who died in Manhattan and the Bronx in 1908, 6,341, or 14 per cent, were buried in Potter's Field. The burials in Potter's Field were most numerous from the assembly districts that are known as Tammany strongholds. Therefore the writer concludes that Tammany rule is productive of misery to the masses. The relation is, in reality, quite the reverse. These districts are poverty-stricken, not because they are Tammany strongholds, but they are Tammany strongholds because they are poverty-stricken. And whichever party would be the majority party in this city, the poverty-stricken districts would be among its strongholds. These districts are the product, not of Tammany rule or Republican rule, but of capitalist rule. Even the Socialist party could not do away with the misery of these districts, though it might, and undoubtedly would, alleviate their condition, so long as the capitalist class ruled in state and nation.

The long strike of the remnants of the once powerful Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers has at last been called off. Again the workers have been defeated by the Steel Trust, which will now wipe out from its plants the last vestiges of unionism. What has become of the great campaign against the Steel Trust decided upon at last year's convention of the American Federation of Labor? Is it to consist of nothing but petitions and news words? Does American unionism confess itself helpless before the trusts?

THE TEN DEMANDMENTS OF SOCIALISM.

By W. E. P. FRENCH.

Now the Voice of the People, which is the Voice of God, spoke all these words, saying:

I. We demand that all children shall have the right to be born of decent, healthy parents; that they shall be properly and hygienically fed, clothed and sheltered; that they shall have every advantage of free medical, surgical, and dental service; that they shall be given the best education, mental and manual, that the state and nation can afford; and that they shall be taught to work, rest and play in such wholesome proportion that clean minds shall dwell in strong bodies and the prison be replaced by the school.

II. We demand that all women shall have equal political, industrial and social rights, duties and opportunities with men, and that the mothers of the race shall be freed from economic fear.

III. We demand the abolition of child labor, the social evil, the slum, the sweatshop, the brothel, and the dive.

IV. We demand that the home be made fit for human beings to live in, and that it be safeguarded from the greed of the user, the rack-renter, the speculator, the landlord, or the church.

V. We demand that the nation, the state or the town shall own and operate all natural and artificial monopolies and opportunities, and that personal, private and individual property be let alone.

VI. We demand that all corporate bodies, secular, financial, and religious, be made to pay their just proportion of taxes.

VII. We demand absolute freedom of religious belief, and freedom of political action, without responsibility for any of the three; and we demand absolute freedom of speech and of the press, with lawful accountability therefor.

VIII. We demand the right to work, the right to rest, and the right to be amused and happy; and, in order to attain these rights, we demand a reasonable work-day, and such just compensation as shall be measured by the average of our joint production.

IX. We demand the right of peaceable assembly, freedom from arrest without warrant, and the rights to organize, strike, whitelister, boycott, or in any lawful manner co-operate for human betterment.

X. We demand honorable retirement on a proper pension after forty years of honest, faithful service, or when injured in the line of duty.

Now this is our first and great demandment: We demand a square deal and a white man's chance for every human being, and mercy and kindness to the animals.

And the second is like unto it: We demand that to each shall be given according to need, and that from each shall be demanded according to ability.

SOCIALISM OR SAVAGERY.

By JOHN N. LANDBERG.

Our present day iniquitous social system is wrong and vicious in so many aspects, that it is difficult to point out which of its failures and defects have the most pernicious effect upon the lives of the great masses of the people.

It crimes against childhood, womanhood, and manhood, are so stupendous, so far-reaching, so destructive in their bearing upon the material, moral, and ethical upbuilding of the human family, as to baffle the imagination of any one attempting to single out one particular phase in the operation of the "system" as the most condemnable.

My darkened vision does not discern a more sinister ghost ever present in but midst than the specter of unemployment.

It is universally agreed that we have a standing army of 1,600,000 jobless men in times of "prosperity," which swells to four or five million in disastrous periods of industrial depression, crisis, or panics.

That little, helpless children and frail women should be enslaved in ill-lit, ill-ventilated factories, shops, and mills for a pittance, is cruel and sad. That poverty-stricken, penniless men, pitted one against the other in the competitive labor market, should be forced to hire themselves for low pay to slave at the most hazardous employments, which, at best affords them a hand-to-mouth existence, one week's wages separating the toilers from the porchouse or the suicide's grave, is melancholy, indeed.

But that one million human beings, right before our eyes, should tramp the streets of our cities and towns, vainly seeking for the priceless privilege of finding a master to work for—homeless, breadless, unwashed, unshaven, without a friend to talk to or receive a helping hand from week after week, month after month, in rain and cold, clad in rags, is a sight too horrible to contemplate, and too hellish to tolerate.

How much happier is the wild savage roaming in the jungles of Africa or Australia, whose swift legs, keen eye, and strong arm seldom fail him in getting a dinner? He is, of course, hourly in danger of becoming a dinner for some quadruped brute, but, then, he knows wherein his danger lies, and is prepared to meet his foe in an equal, fair contest. The woods, the lake, and the river are his, and being the most gifted animal and best endowed by mother nature in the tooth-and-claw world he inhabits, he is, usually, the victor in the struggle for food, and can get along quite comfortably, provided he manages to keep within a safe distance away from the scourge known as civilization.

The savage or barbarian is a free man. He does not have to labor for a master, nor is he subject to any despotic domination of those who now despoil the workers of the fruits of their toil. His rights as well as his duties are co-equal with those of his fellow-tribesmen. He is practicing the most perfect social democracy prevalent today.

Contrast with this democratic, free, independent savage brute-hunter of the jungle, with the "civilized" job hunter of say, Philadelphia, the latter having the disadvantages of association with 1,500,000 fellow creatures, selfish, jealous, cheating, fighting maniacs, madly racing after dollars, utterly regardless of what hardships, suffering, and pain their vicious social order entails upon their jobless, hungry fellowmen—and get what consolation you can out of the comparison.

Verily, I'd a thousand times prefer being a denizen of the jungles rather than roam in the wilds of "civilized" Philadelphia, unsuccessfully hunting for a job.

By all means, let us either vote in collective, co-operative Socialism, or, else, adopt the rude communism of the tribesmen of the South Sea Isles.

SATTAR KHAN, HERO OF PERSIA.

By Ehad.

A Persian revolutionist writes to the Berlin Vorwaerts:

"The hero of the Persian revolution, the celebrated Sattar Khan, who had fought with such great energy and steadfastness for a parliamentary regime, has recently taken up arms against the constitutional government, but was defeated after a struggle extending over several days. His change of front can only be comprehended abroad, when it is clearly understood that in Persia all statesmen and popular leaders, I regret to say, are actuated to a very great extent by their own personal interest.

"The former robber chief, Sattar Khan, gained his popularity through his great courage and bravery during the fighting in and around Tabriz. Of course, he had hardly any idea of scientific generalship or organization of an armed force. But under skillful supreme command he was most valuable as a fighter. Subsequently he utilized the great influence thus gained for his personal advantage. Already during the revolutionary rising in Tabriz he amassed a fortune, partly by robbery and bribes, partly by imposing and collecting fines or accepting so-called donations. He built for himself fine houses and established marvelous gardens.

"When the revolution came to an end, his part was practically finished. He was surely unfitted for the role of statesman, for he could scarcely read and write. Yet he constantly meddled with public affairs, to the great detriment of the state. He became the terror of Tabriz. The government had no end of trouble to get him at last away from that city.

"In Teheran, the people received him with boundless enthusiasm. For a time he lay low. But when the general disarmament was decreed in order to protect the country against the reactionary elements and the Mollahs, Sattar Khan refused to lay down his arms, since that would end his personal standing as a power. So he led his followers into the street, giving open battle. It ended with his defeat and capture, made necessary in the interest of constitutional development, for which once Sattar Khan himself had battled in such a prominent manner."

"QUAND VOUS SEREZ BIEN VIEILLE."

From the French of Ronsard, by George Allan England.

Thou (being sometime old), by candle light
Close crouch'd by the fire, spinning and mumbling o'er
The past, shalt crown my verses, marveling more
That Ronsard sang thy praise, what time thy bright
First beauty was. Then, hearing these recite
Such things, thy drowsy maid, through weary-sore
And nodding off to sleep, shall wake before
My name and thine, with blessings infinite.

I under earth shall be, a soul in vain
Seeking my rest where myrtle shadows play;
Thou by the hearthstone cinge, out-worn and blear,
My love regretting, and thy cold disdain.
Live! and thou hear'st me, wait no other day!
Gather life's roses ere thy night be near!

AN EXPERIMENT.

A prominent Yale professor is exceptionally fond of mushrooms. His son, who is an enthusiastic botanist, one day brought some home and told his mother to have them prepared as a special treat for his father. When the professor came in to dinner he was delighted to find his favorite dish at his place.

"These are not all for me, are they?" he asked, not wishing to be selfish.

"Yes, father, I gathered them especially for you," answered the dutiful son.

Next morning his son was awaiting him with rather anxious expression on his face. "Good morning, dad," he ventured. "Did you sleep all right last night?"

"Fine," was the encouraging reply. "Not sick at all or didn't have any pain?"

"Why, of course not," answered the professor.

"Hoorah!" said the botanist. "I have discovered another species that is not poisonous."—Success Magazine.

Letters to the Editor

FUNDS FOR THE CITY AND STATE CAMPAIGNS.

Editor of The Call:

I was very much surprised at the display of provincialism on the part of the city executive committee in sending out a circular virtually asking the Comrades of New York city not to contribute to the state campaign fund. It would seem that they are like a vast number of New Yorkers who think that San Francisco is only a village and ought to be incorporated as a part of Greater New York, while all the rest of the globe outside of the United States is merely a group of unimportant islands.

And their reason for this request? The state committee is going to use its entire 40 per cent outside of Local New York! Pray, what is Local New York going to do with its entire 60 per cent (if I read the spirit of that circular correctly) but use it inside of Local New York?

Where is the state going to get its funds from if not from the Comrades and sympathizers in New York state, including those in New York city? And where will they use them if not in the portions of the state where they are most needed? Is Local New York, with its boasted 2,000 members, so helpless that it needs this fund more than the portions of the state where we have weak organizations, but have material for the revolutionary army just as good as in New York, even if they are not green enough to be felled by Wall Street or baseball syndicate gamblers or Broadway tows.

Further, the circular is misleading in that it conveys the idea that it is an innovation for the state to get 40 per cent on these lists and then use it outside of Local New York. In my memory serves me right, these lists have for years been divided on the 40 per cent basis and the funds have never been used directly in New York city.

As to the state and Call Conference affair draining our resources, don't let us forget that with the improved condition of The Call it will do far more good than leaflets distributed at street meetings and occasionally from house to house, for which this money that is drained away would have gone if we did not have The Call.

In circulating the circular they express the hope that it will do much to clear up the misunderstanding and confusion that exists in regard to these funds. Well, it seems to me that it will do more to cause a confusion that did not previously exist, than it will to do away with a confusion that may have existed.

Instead of going to the state convention and saying that we do not think the usual 60 per cent enough for the locals, the city executive committee sets up a howl because the state committee does not say, "You have divided your 100 per cent with us and now we will divide our 40 per cent with you." This circular tends to bring about a state of affairs whereby the state will have lists circulating throughout the entire state, the local will have lists throughout the entire local, and the branches will have lists throughout the branches, and the people will have their hands up in the air and padlocks on their pockets. Of course, this will not cause confusion, oh, no!

The circular has caused me to decide that if I can scrape up anything for the campaign fund I will mark it for the state campaign, and I hope that many others will do likewise in order to offset any loss that this circular will cause to the state fund. Fraternally,
W. E. CASILLE.

"WHY SOCIALISTS PAY DUES."

Editor of The Call:

"If I had thought that the payment of dues was compulsory I would not have joined the Socialist party. Why, that would be exalting the dollar above the man."

So spoke a delegate at a meeting of a certain county local. A few men were arguing for a better observance of the dues-paying regulation.

The specious plea of "exalting the dollar above the man" sounded well, and the few objectors were silenced. At that meeting a long list of applicants were "accepted" without payment of dues. It is needless to add, the local alluded to has very little money for speakers or literature or any other kind of agitation, and the movement in that county is at a standstill.

To cap the climax, when the state secretary was appealed to he upheld the majority; so it would seem that the "man higher up," needs also some instruction in "Why Socialists pay dues."

The need of some more cogent reason seems evident, for all these men referred to had doubtless read the little pamphlet "Why Socialists Pay Dues."

I realize that the above adds nothing to the reasons why Socialists pay dues except by implication. I also realize that there are not many real Socialists who would vote against dues-paying. But my experience proves there are a few. I think this discussion should prove interesting.

IGNORE THEM.

Editor of The Call:

As to the attitude we should take on the church and its activities, I personally don't think it worth our while, since its effect for evil to our movement, in my opinion, today is waning.

This week, for an illustration, one Rev. C. E. Boone, of Baltimore, was in Wall Street interviewing lay members of the Roman Catholic church as to the non-attendance of the people in general. This looks to me like the church was worried over this most important item, to them, and I think that unless we are attacked, we should ignore them. That has always been my attitude, as a former member of the church, and one which for me has yielded favorable returns.

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
Mrs. Rogers lay in her bed, Bandaged and blistered from foot to head.
Bandaged and blistered from head to toe,
Mrs. Rogers was very low.
Hottle and saucer, spoon and cup
On the table stood bravely up;
Physic of high and low degree;
Calomel, catnip, boneset tea—
Everything a body could bear,
Excepting light and water and air.

I opened the blinds; the day was bright;
And God gave Mrs. Rogers some light.
I opened the window; the day was fair.
And God gave Mrs. Rogers some air.
Bottles and blisters, powders and pills,
Catnip, boneset, syrup and squills,
Drugs and medicines, high and low,
I threw them as far as I could throw.
"What are you doing?" my patient cried;
"Frightening Death," I coolly replied.
"You are crazy!" a visitor said.
I flung a bottle at her head.

Deacon Rogers he came to me;
"His wife is comin' round," said he.
"I really think she'll worry thru;
She scolds me just as she used to do.
All the people have pooped and slurred—
And the neighbors have had their word;
'Twas better to perish, some of 'em say,
Than be cured in such an irregular way."
"Your wife," said I, "had God's good care
And His remedies—light and water and air.
All the doctors, beyond a doubt,
Couldn't have cured Mrs. Rogers without."

The deacon smiled and bowed his head;
"Then your bill is nothing," he said.
"God's be the glory, as you say;
God bless you, doctor, good-day;
good-day!"

If ever I doctor that woman again,
I'll give her medicine made by men.

POST SUBMITS TO PRINTERS.
Here's the latest postscript to the record of Post, of Battle Creek, the chemical-food man:
Pleading guilty this week to the slugging of a newspaper man, the evidence being so conclusive that he could not deny it, he was fined $10 and costs. And then here's still another postscript:
The printers on his daily paper, the Enquirer, struck last week for the eight-hour day, and poor Post had to grant the demand, not because of his boasted (wolfish) love of the workingman, but because (the rival daily, the Journal, has been on an eight-hour basis for some time, and Post did not dare to make his paper any more unpopular with the people than it now is.—Social Democratic Herald.

FAKIRS AND SUCKERS.
There are only two great classes in the world, I say—fakirs and suckers.
The suckers do the labor and the fakirs draw the pay.
The suckers do the voting and the fakirs hold away.

The suckers raise the crops, but the fakirs fix the price.
The fakirs hold the markets and get the biggest slice.

The fakirs take the harvest, the suckers hold the bag.
The fakirs dress in broadcloth, the suckers chew the rag.

The suckers feed the cow and the fakirs get the milk;
The suckers feed the silk worms, the fakirs get the silk.

The suckers build the mansions the fakirs occupy;
The suckers are the balers, but the fakirs eat the pie.

The suckers make the fakirs, but the fakirs own the pie.

A young lady who taught a class of small boys in the Sunday school desired to impress on them the meaning of returning thanks before a meal. Turning to one of the class, whose father was a deacon in the church, she asked him:
