State's Tin Soldiers Will Become More Willing Butchers of Strikers.

(By National Socialist Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 .- Unless

The House Committee on Military fairs has approved and is ready to ort favorably a bill introduced by esentative Pepper. of Iowa, hich provides for a system of federal my for the organized militia of the veral States. This bill has been strongly pushed by the War Department and the varis military organizations of the

It is generally believed that the bill will have easy sledding in the Senate. great obstacle to the Pepper bill has always been the House Committee on Military Affairs. But now it is re-ported that the committee will give this bill its unanimous indorsement.

ported that the committee will give this bill its unanimous indorsement. Should the Pepper bill pass over 120,000 soldiers would be added to the United States standing army. The bill provides that members of the militial shall get one-fourth of the pay now received by the regular army. This means that the government would pay wer $8,000,000 a year in salaries in sider to put the State Militia more settly under the control of the Pedad War Department.

The passage of the Pepper bill will not only give the bloodthirsty patrices at army thrice the present size, but will make the militia more serviceable to the employers who occasionally need soldiers to subjugate their workmen. Under the federal pay system the militia will become even a greater mance to strikers than it is now.

The Pepper bill is in many respects more dangerous to the workers than the notorious Dick Military Law. It proposes to organize with money those has a siready enlisted in the service of the capitalist class. It intends to make these hirelings more efficient in their inhuman calling. After all, the Dick Military Law cannot easily mapel the people to turn the guins last themselves. But the Pepper so Dick Military Law cannot easily mpel the people to turn the guns alast themselves. But the Popper I is to reach those who are already plains to level guns at the people. A newspaper man who has made a was of both houses says that the nees for the peasage of the Popper II "are exceedingly bright."

DANGEROUS MILITARY LAUNDRY STRIKERS GET WEEKLY BENEFIT

Fully $2,000 Paid Out to Men and Women Fighting for Living Conditions.

Nearly $2,000 was paid out in strike benefits in the last two days to the laundry workers, who have been on strike for some weeks to enforce better conditions and gain higher psy.

At the headquarters of the strikers in Lenox Casino there was more determination yesterday than ever to fight to a finish. Despite the fact that only $3 was allowed single people and $5 to those having families, the strikers felt as if they had come into large fortunes.

"All I want is milk for my baby and bread and tea for my other two children and myself," said one middle aged woman. "I am ready to stay out until the fight is won, even if I have to half starve myself. When you come down to it, the wages they pay us now are no more than starvation wages, and the hours are frightfully long."

This was the spirit of nearly every one of the strikers. Convinced of the justice of their demands, the stubborn attitude of the owners of the steam laundries, for whom these workers pile up fortunes, only makes the laundry workers more only sucked the stubborn are not the stubborn attitudes only makes the laundry workers more only makes the laundry workers more for whom these workers pile up fortunes, only makes the laundry workers more determined to strike until they win. It was stated by Phillip Gosseen, one spokesmen for the strikers, that several of the big steam laundries are now willing to settle. They are willing to grant all the demands made by their employes and sign an agreement with the strikers, but still balk against signing an

of the strikers, but still holding out against signing the union agreement.

The hearings going on in the City Hall into the conditions under which the laundry workers in New York are employed is having its effect upon the laundry bosses, it was said yesterday.

While many of the bosses put up all sorts of excuses for the low wages paid by them and try to smooth over the expose of unhealthy conditions in their shops, which came to light upon investigation, yet they feel that many of their trade secrets are coming to the attention of the public and feel inclined, therefore, to give in to the strikers in order to stop the matter from getting further publicity.

A many settlement of the striker will be held this afternoon in Clinton Hall, 151 Clinton street, where prominent labor men will address the laundry workers.

The Central Federated Union is backing the strikers to the utmost, it was stated. Letters have been sent out by that body to all trade unions in the city for financial support. The money paid out in benefits thus far came from the Women's Trade Union League, it was said.

The battleship New Hampshire, which was undergoing repairs here, is being made ready to sail for New York. The New Hampshire was to spend two weeks here receiving repairs.

Her machinery was taken out and she was practically out of commission. Today orders were received to put the machinery back in the ship and make her ready to sail for New York.

The torpedo boats Roe. Terry. Paulding and McCall, which were damaged by the storm that swept the Atlantic Coast two weeks ago are also being made ready to sail. The McCall and Paulding reached Norfolk today from Bermuda.

The mechanics were today given six days in which to make up their minds whether they would sign the cards or lose their jobs, and in addition practically close the Norfolk yard.

GOMPERS COMES IN

Emory, of National Assoc. of Manufacturers Prefers Present A. F. of L. Head.

They had a nice, old fashioned heart warming reception at the head quarters of the National Association of Manufacturers, 30 Church street, vesterday morning, for Capt. John D Fredericks, District Attorney of Los Angeles County, who did his best to hang the McNamara brothers for blowing up the Times Building in Los Angeles. Large manufacturers and small manufacturers, tall manufacturers and short manufacturers, fat manufacturers and thin manufactur of business and personal prosperity, and manufacturers whose worried and harrassed looks betokened the fact that they and the "industries" they represented were being caught stones," gathered from far and near but mostly near, to shake by the hand a tall, lanky Westerner, who vainly strove to find a place for his big hands and otherwise showed himself to be ill at ease among the polished, slick New York "industrial captains" who took the initiative in greeting the latest here to come out of California.
Socialism and labor formed the main topics of conversation between the pompous looking local celebrities and their "distinguished" guest. They would gather in groups and for the 'steenth time renew the gushy con-'steenth time renew the gushy congratulations showered upon the now famous prosecutor upon his arrival here and then would ensue a guid discussion, mostly conducted in undertones, concerning the recent "trial," the "movement" (referring to labor) and another and more feroclous agitation which none dared refer to by name, but which was strongly suspected of being Socialism. The amiable gentlemen passed around perfectos of undoubted quality, and as they delved into the mysteries of their mysterious subjects the self-possessed speakers would look about them to guard against the possibility of eavesdroppers—that is, all but Fredericks would look about. He was too busy transferring his big hands from his pockets to behind his back and then to his pockets again to look about him, but he managed to respond monosyllabillically to the profound truths being echoed about him, and his very reticence, 'though born of confusion, deepened the respect and admiration of his hosts the more. of his hosts the more. For did it not indicate him to be exceedingly wise? How best to proceed against that unnamable force—aye, there's the rub! Was not Fred D. Warren pardoned by Taft after due conviction for a long list of offenses committed through the medium of the Appeal to Reason, in order that he might not be made a "martyr"? So argued James A. Emory, chief counsel of the association, who was at Frederick's side all the day long, as the Los Angels lion of the hour nodded conlion of the hour nodded stant assent, until one would have thought the vertebrae might be strained by the walking-beam, action And did not Taft say that it was be cause he feared to make a martyr of Warren that he pardoned him? In reply to a question as to whether the recent Socialist defeat in Los Angeles was due to the McNamara confessions, he said:

"I always prefer to accept the results without trying to analyse them, because when you try to inquire into the cause of antiling you den't always.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS IN NINTH ANNUAL MEET

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The night national congress of the French Socialist party will be held on February 18, 19, 20 and will be held on February 18, 19, 20 and 21.

The principal questions contained in the order of the day will relate to the campaign against anti-Semitism, the agrarian question, the formation of a municipal program, the revision of the statutes (the constitution) of the party, and the organization of the Young Socialists.

Various other questions have been proposed for discussion, but it is doubtful if they can be reached at this session. Among these are the high cost of living, the campaign against alcoholism, the conditions of labor and wages in Algeria and the Algerian native question in its relation to the Socialist party.

rish Players to Be Arraigned in Philadelphia Court Today.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18 .- Acording to William A. Gray, counsel for the members of the Clan-na-Gael. who were thrown out of the Adelphi Theater during several productions of "The Play Boy" this week, the threatmanager of the show for Liebler & Co., has been postponed.

Nothing occurred today to support the dire threats made by Irish-American dissenters to the play, who declared that they were going to break up future performances by their behavior in the theater.

Opposition to the show appeared to have died out. Not a single one of those who were arrested on the two nights when disorder interrupted the plece, all of whom were members of the Clan-na-Gael, could be found yesterday to lift a protesting voice.

Joseph McGarrity, the wholesale liquor dealer whose wealth and influence in Gaelle circles have been the recognized support of the tank and Gray. They had a copy of the play before them and were picking out alleged objectionable passages, in order to present them at the hearing before Majistrate Care tomorrow morning, when the entire cast of the players will be arraigned on the charge of acting in an indecent and immoral show.

Interesting in this connection is the fact that every capitalist newspaper in New York is in possession of the dispatches showing that Morgan dictates the recall of Bacon, and not a single one of these newspapers dares print it, despite the fact that the statements contained in the dispatches are common property in the American colony in Paris.

Morgan, Kahn and Frick are now in Paris holding a conference.

It is known that many other American securities in which these money kings are interested did not get listed on the Paris market in a manner satisfactory to Wall Street, and Bacon is the man blamed for it. Hence the request or demand by J. P. Morgan that he be removed.

It is well known that Bacon liked his post and would not think of resigning if he had not been ordered by Morgan and his coterie.

APPARENT HARMONY REIGNING IN CUBA

But Veterans Are Not Entirely Reconciled and May Keep Up Fight.

(By Laffan News Burezu.)

HAVANA, Jan. 18.—The restora-tion of harmony between the various warring factions and of peace and order throughout Cuba seems to be assured unless it should turn out that the veterans are merely sparring for time. This morning sundry veteran leaders declared that they would continue the patriotic work of ousting the "guerillas" from office and purify-ing the government. After a meeting of the veterans however. General Nunez, the president of the associa-tion, and Colonel Coronado, one of the leaders, visited the Palace and had a long conference with President Gomez, at the conclusion of which the President gave out the following official statement:

FISTS FOR POLICE INSTEAD OF CLUBS

Waldo Now Starts Classes In Pugilism and Jiu Jitsu.

Commissioner Waldo has another brilliant idea. He will teach policemen the gentle art of pugilism so that an officer can knock down a man without using his nightstick.

Ostensibly this knockout business is meant for toughs and gangs. But as the police force of Kew York is ratheresloin dealing with gangs and altogether too industrious in the matter of assaulting innocent persons, the jiu-jitsu ideas of Commissioner Waldo will fall largely upon the heads of guiltless persons.

Waldo has hired for the job of wrestling master Tom Jenkins.

10-YEAR-OLD BOY

A 10-year-old boy was crushed to death yesterday when he fell in front of an auto coal truck at First avenue and 14th street. The truck was going north, following a car, when the boy started to cross the avenue. He waited until the car passed and then tried to run in front of the motor vehicle.

He slipped and fell directly in front of the auto, and before the driver, Frederick Merckle, of 301 Avenue A, could stop, the front wheel had pased over his body. The boy died immediately after reaching Bellevue Hospital. Merckle was overcome by grief over the accedent There was nothing in the boy's clothing to identify hum. The body was removed to the Morgue, and the police are trying to find the victim's parents.

When Chief Justice Marshall died the three victorious sections of the ruling class were the slave owners, the State bank owners and the combinations of land grabbers.

Marshall's successor, Roger B. Taney, had, as an attorney, represented all three sections. Taney's father was a slave owner, and Taney himself was attorney for the slave traders. Taney was also a State bank director, and as Secretary of the Treasury had been the tool of the big land grabbers.

"The capitalist class has always taken pains to see that the "proper men" were put in office, especially in the courts.

No one can doubt the carrying out of this systematic policy after having read the chapters of Gustavus Myers' "History of the Supreme Court of the United States" already published in The Sunday Call.

But many more interesting, significant and original facts are presented by Myers in the chapters on Chief Justice Taney beginning in next Sunday's Call.

Taney was boss of the United States for twenty-nine years. What the Supreme Court did under him is well worth following in this comprehensive and striking history.

National Sporting Club, last night. Though the bout was hard fought it did not come up to expectations, for all had apparently felt that there was going to be something more clas sy than was witnessed.

It seemed this was entirely due to Attell's mode of fighting, which was below "par excellence" in comparison to the way he has performed here of late. He let Brown do all the forcing, never taking the initiative himself except in the last few minutes of the final round. This was his mistake, for it gave him little chance to do his fancy boxing, the heavier weight checking him considerably forcing the issue. Though he percuts to Brown's head while in the clinches, his jabbing at long distances vas not as accurate as in times gone

Package Party for Louis A. Baum.

Troubles never come singly. Having just got married Comrade Baum was indiscreet enough to lose all his earthly possessions, including his wearing apparel, in a fire at his photograph studio in the Bronx. In order to assist him to get on his feet again a package party has been arranged for his benefit at Branch clubrooms, 1461 Third avenue, tomorrow (Saturday) night. An excellent program has been arranged, and there'll be pienty of fun, music, dancing and surprises. Gerald M. P. Fitzgibbon will introduce some of his latest and most amusing feats of magic, second sight, and hypnotism. Mrs. Louis A. Baum will entertain at the plano. Mrs. William I. Sackheim will render some classical and popular songs. Louis Bromberg will paint a picture in full view of the audience. There will be many other features too numerous to mention. Branch 10 Street Meeting. The members of Branch 10, true to their nature, living in the most norththeir nature, living in the most north-ern part of Manhattan Island, have determined to brave the weather and hold a street meeting tomorrow even-ing at the corner of 181st street and St. Nicholas avenue, not so much to cool off their revolutionary fervor, but to inform the pagans of that ter-ritory of the new gospel and to make cool off their revolutionary fervolubut to inform the pagans of that territory of the new gospel and to make it known that one James Maurer, who does not wear a red hat, but the red banner, has arrived and that on Sunday, January 21, at the stroke of the 5th hour past meridian said James Maurer, who has carried the red banner in the legislative halls of the nearby colony of Pennsylvania, will tell the inhabitants of the heights how it was done and show them the necessity of doing likewise.

NEW YORK.

State Committee Meeting.

What promises to be one of the most important meetings of the State Committee ever held will take place next Sunday, January 21, at 10 a.m., next Sunday, January 21, at 10 a.m., at the Central Labor Union Hail, 77 State street, Binghamton. There are two such meetings held every year, one in the month of January and the other in the month of July, and in order to bring the members in touch with the progress of the movement in the State, these meetings are being held in different cities every six menths.

The meeting next Sunday will in all probability prove to be the largest ever held by the party, as not less than nine new counties will be represented for the first time. The committee is composed of fifty-three members, representing every organized county in the State, and it is expected that nearly every organized county will be represented. The expenses of the meeting will be covered out of the treasury of the State Committee.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19.

"CAPTURING" A LABOR CONVENTION

It has always been a favorite method among capitalists when conducting war upon labor unions to represent these bodies as composed of honest, credulous, non-combative workingmen, either imposed upon by the oratorical sophistries of their leaders or ter-rorized into membership by a process of coercion exercised upon them by lawless agitators. The labor host they always represented as a herd of dumb, driven cattle, which had been duly "captured" by the agitators aforesaid. This presentation, of course, enabled the capitalist union smashers to pose as champions of "industrial freedom" as against the "slavery" imposed by trade unions upon

So fixed has become this idea of the "capture" of masses of men that the term is pressed into service whenever an organized body of any kind changes its policy or leadership, even though the changes mean nothing essential or important. Conventions of the old political parties are always represented as "captured" by Roosevelt, Bryan, Taft or Murphy, as the case may be, sometimes by oratory or by running the "steam roller" over the delegates and "capturing" the flattened remains.

And, of course, the efforts of the Socialists in trades unions, to leaven those bodies with their ideas, is also represented as an attempt "".

"capture," and great are the rejoicings when such attempts are

The latest news from Indianapolis, where the United Mine Workers are holding their convention, appears therefore in the capitalist press as the "capture" of the convention by the Socialists.

The assemblage indorsed a resolution for collective ownership of industries and discussed others censuring Mr. Gompers as a reactionary, and proposing that the Socialist party be indorsed as the political party of the working class.

These things are presented in such a manner as to leave the impression that the masses of the miners have not been thinking about them particularly, but rather that their representatives have been temporarily swept off their feet by the persistent and plausible oratory of a group of Socialists among them, and, not knowing exactly what befell them, indorsed the resolutions thus sprung upon them unexpectedly. This sort of thing constitutes the "capture," which has always an element of the unexpected in it. And, of course, It leaves room for the counter proposition, the possibility of "recap ture" by similar methods on the other side.

Whatever elements gave an apparent similitude of truth to this view there may have been in the past are fast vanishing before the advance of Socialism in the unions, which is a proposition of an entirely different sort. There is no possibility of "recapture" for the simple reason that nothing is "captured" by the Socialists. To represent the matter as a "capture" is to completely misrepre-

What has taken place in Indianapolis is a result of a long and careful study of existing conditions continually proceeding in the minds of an ever increasing number of the membership of the United Mine Workers. Socialist propaganda, Socialist agitation, the steady and continuous distribution of Socialist literature going on for years among the miners, and these things in connection with the growing exploitation and oppression of the mine owners, the fearful loss of life through neglect, the spectacle of political power invariably exerted on the side of the proprietors and against the workers, have gradually and certainly turned the minds of the membership toward Socialism as the only remedy for their economic ills.

The result was certain, the only element in it that exactly calculated upon was the time when it would manifest itself exploitation and oppression by the mine owners, the fearful loss openly as the deliberate attitude of a representative body.

And the result in Indianapolis is simply the forerunner of similar action on the part of other labor conventions that are certain to follow the example of the United Mine Workers, not as a matter of imitation but from the working of the same process that finally!

determined the attitude of the mine workers.

The censuring of Mr. Gompers, though perhaps necessary in one sense, is in another perhaps superfluous. Mr. Gompers has to have left his license in the created a sort of reputation for himself as a leader of a band of and thus could not produce it at the determined warriors "fighting" against Socialism to prevent its "capture" of the trades unions. It is, on the whole, an undeserved reputation. All that Mr. Gompers and his associates can do in the time as his trial took place. long run is from time to time to call the roll of those not yet fully convinced of the necessity of Socialism, the number of which is another around the field, and demand steadily diminishing. He can do nothing whatever with those who steadily diminishing. He can do nothing whatever with those who are so convinced, nor prevent their number from increasing. He may be said to "fight" Socialism in about the same sense that a man on a rock at low water can be said to "fight" against the rising tide. And Socialism can no more be correctly presented as "capture" the unions than can the tide be said to "capture" the rock when it finally covers it.

While Socialists are pleased and gratified with the actions of this convention, they are not rejoicing as people who had achieved this convention, they are not rejoicing as people who had achieved this convention, they are not rejoicing as people who had achieved this convention, they are not rejoicing as people who had achieved this convention, they are not rejoicing as people who had achieved this convention, they are not rejoicing as people who had achieved they also knew of the fact that if

"A schoolmaster rather than a statesman," is the description given of Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, by Editor Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Wilson, he declares, has no sense of political obligations, and is therefore impossible as a nominee for the Presidency.

A knowledge of the incident which brought forth this opinion will serve to show that under present conditions Mr. Watterson is eminently correct.

Wilson, it appears, was being boomed for the Presidential nomi nation by one Harvey, the editor of Harper's Weekly, a "journal of civilization" that has functioned as political guide, philosopher and friend for millions of respectable citizens in the past. He discovered that the publication had, like many another business, been Morganized, that Harvey owed his position as editor to Morgan, and these circumstances prompted him to write to Harvey requesting that he cease booming his nomination, as in his opinion it was "affecting his candidacy injuriously." He did not want to be sied "affecting his candidacy injuriously." He did not want to be tied up to Morgan politically. Harvey had no alternative but to comply with the request, and now comes the pronunciamento of Watterwith the request, and now comes the pronunciamento of Watter-son and other Democrats to the effect that Wilson is unfit, has no use of political obligations and has destroyed his own chances of nomination. Which is, as we said, probably correct.

A statesman would have been expected to overlook the Morgan mership, or if his attention was called to it, deny that it had any

Roosevelt is a statesman, according to this test, although he says the role of schoolmaster at times also. At the same time essays the role of schoolmaster at times also. Governor Wilson seems to imagine that because he was able to repudiate the local New Jersey political "bosses" who did the necessary dirty work required to insure his election as Governor that he can repudiate Morgan just as easily, but he will find the latter a different proposition. Morgan is an old and experience "savior of the country," where Wilson is but the rawest novice. He has been saving it—for himself, to be sure—ever since the panic of 1907, through the last year of the Roosevelt regime and the entire administration of Taft, and that an upstart like Wilson should imagine that he can actually supplant Morgan as a "savior," and do it without Morgan's leave or assistance, is a demonstration of political incapacity and lack of knowledge on his part that fully bear out the opinion of the shrewd ôld politician who conducts the Louis wille Courier-Journal, that Wilson may be a schoolmaster, but me the conduction of the shrewd old politician who conducts the Louis wille Courier-Journal, that Wilson may be a schoolmaster, but me the conduction of the shrewd old politician who conducts the Louis willed Courier-Journal, that Wilson may be a schoolmaster, but me the conduction of the shrewd old politician who conducts the Louis willed Courier-Journal, that Wilson may be a schoolmaster, but me that the can be supplied to the can be conducted that the can be caused the can be caused to the can be caused to the caused that the can be caused that the can be caused the can be caused that the can be caused to the can be caus ville Courier-Journal, that Wilson may be a schoolmaster, but
