GIVES DETAILS OF ITALIAN VICTORY

ROME. June 0.—General Caneva, the commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Tripoli, has sent to the government a detailed report of the victory by the Italians at Zankur oasis on Saturday. The report shows the battle to have been among the bloodiest of the present war. The Turks lost at least 1,000 killed and the Italian losses were 11 killed and 8 officers and 252 men wounded. The advance began at 3:30 o'clock in the morning.

trying to solve it is to misrepresent the majority of them.

"While it isn't going to be settled in a day, or even in a decade, we are making some headway. The domestic labor problem is going to be worked out and by the women, too. How? By putting the household on a business basis. Women are learning that ness basis. Women are learning that they have as great an economic re-sponsibility as spenders of money as their husbands have as earners. It is up to them to conduct their end of the domestic enterprise with the same shrewdness and attention to détail that the husband devotes to his af-

TAFT'S YACHT AVOIDS COLLISION NARROWLY

OLD POINT COMPORT, Va., June B. President and Mrs. Taft and their party of guests on board the naval yacht Mayflower narrowly escaped collision with the steamer Northland, of the Norfolk and Washington Line, in the lower part of Cheanpeake Bay off Smith's Point light, early this morning while going to Hampton Roads.

As the Northland was attempting to pass on the port side of the Mayflower, the naval vessel crossed over the Northland's how. If Captain Frederick Posey, of the Northland, had not stopped his engines and turned the bow of his vessel away from the Mayflower's stern, the two vessels would have collided.

President and Mrs. Taft and their guests were asleep at the time and were not aware of their narrow escape from accident until this morning.

Congress first passed a law constituting eight hours a day for all la-borers, workmen and mechanics em-ployed by or on behalf of the Government of the United States on June $5, 1868.

By an act approved May 24, 1888, the Eight-Hour Law was strengthened by specific provisions requiring the government to not "permit" any laborer or mechanic to work more than eight hours a day in any one calaneight hours a day in any one calen-dar day except in cases of extraordinary emergency. From June 25, 1868, until March 21, 1866, the enforcement of the provising of the Eight-Hour Law by the government officials was extremely lax, but upon the latter date the Exceutive Council of the American Federation of Labor registered a most vigorous protest against the violation of the law.

That protest to a considerable ex-tent had the effect of securing a closer observance of the law by the officials onservance of the law by the omclaim in charge of the government works.

The law just passed materially extends the scope of operation of the Eight-Hour Law, and will be of instimable benefit not only to workmen employed directly by the government, but will affect many institutions that do contract work for the tutions that do contract work for the government. One material addition to the law provides that armor plate shall be manufactured under the Bight-Hour Law.

SOCIALIST PICNIC IN NEW ROCHELLE JULY 4

There will be a Fourth of July pienic in Dillon Park, New Rochelle, under the auspices of Local New Rochelle of the Socialist party. All New York Comrades can reach the grounds easily by trolley or train. The fare from Harlem River station (Third avenue elevated) is 15 cents. Full directions how to get there will be given later. This to get there will be given later. This picaic entails a heavy expense on the local Comrades, and will cost them $200. They are depending upon their friends to come and belp them out.

There will be a baseball game between two good reams for a cup, and there will be dancing to six pieces of music. It is hoped to obtain as the speaker of the day one of the candidates chosen a few days before at the State conyention. Committees will visit New York branches with tickets. 25 cents, spiece, and the Comrades are urged to give the same support as the usembers in West-chester have given to New York. Comrades and friends from all parts of West-chester County will be out in force, but the support of the members in New York is needed. No admission will be charged for small children.

THE MOCK OF MATRIMONY

It was a bright idea on the part of some deep thinker in the Dorchester (Mass.) Club to auction off a bunch of bachelors. It greatly simplifies matrimonial questions, makes it easier for the soor male to "surrender," gives the mere female a chance to bid for group, the men who broke the Philadesirable, and adds greatly to the club fund. Mayor Pitzgerald, years are will put up a strong fight. who, when he is not attending to his business as a politician and political manipulator, runs a religious paper that, in spite of its theological excellence, is not in very good standing with Cardinal count of the importance of the tourna O'Connell's publicity and religious machine, has persuaded Thomas ised the men a half holiday with full Lawson to act as auctioneer in this excellent auction.

Instead of this being a case where there is a lottery, where the women pay their dime or their dollar and run the chance of evidenced by the university getting a desirable or an undesirable, they are going to offer so W. much money for the man they want or think they want. He will prizes have been donated by Caesar's not be masked, either. If the women do not like his looks, then Coney Island barker living at Oyster they need not bid.

Perhaps no one better than Lawson could have been found for the position of auctioneer. These many decades now he has been one who, through stock market manipulation, through wonderful financial schemes, especially busting the "system" and knocking out Amalgamated Copper, has driven many a person to the point where he or she had to go on the auction block to be knocked down at Trust in regard to this progressive bargain prices. Lawson has produced a tremendous pile of damaged human goods and caused various other human goods to be defective.

Never before, however, has he been in the happy position of hero medals to all graduates. uctioning off these human beings, of selling them to the highest bidder and of helping along the matrimonial market.

This is a startlingly bright idea. Matrimony, to the Catholic. la a sacrament. Mayor Fitzgerald is a Catholic. To people of other religious beliefs it is likewise a holy and sacred institution. a great and solemn affair. Regularly, every Sunday, Thomas W. Lawson, after his week's work at giving the public that degree and many churchmen, such as the occasion of bunco the public needs, becomes very religious. Yet these two men, great and reverential, unite to make a jest of marriage, a mock of matrimony, and to make a few dollars through their imbecilic fooling with this most important matter.

Still that does not amount to much, for they have degraded everything else in the same way.

In Massachusetts they sell children and women by the thou-In Massachusetts they sell children and women by the thousers and Arturo Giovannitti are growing daily in working class importance. THE FUTILE MEAT BOYCOTT it may last a week or two, there will speedily come a point where their fiendish policy of preserving the public will resume the consumption of meat to the extent the working class restriction and eliminapublic will resume the consumption or meat to the public pocketbook will permit. Then it will be possible to charge William D. Haywood, William F. Trautman, William Yates, Thomas Halliday and Guido Mazzerrell, on the conspiracy, to the end that cott was on. Neither do the packers fear in any way the destruction charge of conspiracy, to the end that of meat. The retailers have to pay for it in all events, and if there new is any incidental loss, then the loss must fall on the dealers. Later political and economic organizations atrive with might and main. These men on the dealers, like the good, sensible business men they are, can are individually and collectively as fine manner, short and well built stature, and of deliberate speech.

Short less dividually and collectively as fine manner, short and well built stature, and of deliberate speech.

Thomas Holliday is, like Yates, or threatened the undisputed the they lost during the trouble.

But the public are foolish in these matters. Many persons be-element in modern society. lieve prices can be regulated through this form of violence or that spicuous for ability and devotion to the packers and the dealers can be frightened into conceding lower prices. Because the public cannot pay for the very article they loyalty to their class, under the most want and must have, they imagine that something can be won through the destruction of that article.

There is nothing could be more absurd, nothing that will lead that, though little known, in the case them further away from the desired result. Instead of destroying, the aim should be to possess and control. Instead of permitting the packers to retain possession of the great slaughter houses and rederation of Mores and the intendthe slaughter houses. Instead of permitting the distribution of the slaughter houses. Instead of permitting the distribution of even prior to the Laurence strike. This is also true, to imaller extent, should take charge of it through public markets with compactation of all the other men insicted for conuld take charge of it through public markets with competent ublic employes in charge.

Merely refusing to eat meat is self-inflicted punishment, somewhat similar to the idea involved in the Japanese custom of going and and committing suicide on the doorstep of the man who has offended you. Destroying the meat gives the packers still further excuse for running up the price, and gives also a chance for plaining to the dear public that there is a shortage, and therefore he price should be high.

The proper thing to do is to take the control of the meat supply sy from those who are at present using it as such a villain eens of extertion.

The panic of 1907 poured countless millions into the pockets of the richest of the rich. The last five years must have been very favorable for the accumulation of capital. This is shown by the fact that the newspapers frequently re-port the death of some man who is wholly unknown outside his immediate circle and whose possession of millions is first disclosed at the reading of his will.

The development of gigantic fortunes is overywhere accompanied by the exploitation and the wretchedness of the m But the special characteristic of this development in America is the shameless ness with which the great capitallast trample upon the restraints set by the capitalistic statutes against the "industry" of exploitation. The history of these fortunes is the story of a long series of vulgar crimes. This brasen fact is but little known to the great mass of the people and where known is not realised in its full significance. It is especially true in America that the billionaires are litely is given to result to the manus and method in its full significance. My landlord told me the other day that I have no complaint coming. John makes a good living. A good living, indeed, How in the world is a body to live on the $12 per week which he gets? Who is there that is wise enough to tell ms? Even Mr. Taft said "God knows," when eaked.

Even Mr. Taft said "God knows," when asked.

Nothing to complain about! Food higher than it was since I can remember. Thirty-three cents a pound of lamb chops! Why, we ardinary people can't touch them. Four chops to the pound-not enough for John alons, and what about the others? Pork is not much cheaper. And what is a body to live an cowadays? Five cents a pound for potatos—just five small pointoes to the pound—a penny apiece! Five cents a loss for light, airy breas! weighs about hair of what it used to weigh a couple of years ago, even if it does look the same. The bakers have learned the truck of bleering it up to the same sim.
