Socialist workers both for and against.

The Socialist candidate for President, Eugene V. Debs, received more than 65,000 votes in the last presidential election, and is expected to receive a larger vote in 1920. The Socialist party is divided into two sections - the National Socialist Labor party and the Workers' party. The former is composed of the workers and farmers, while the latter is composed of the industrial workers. The Socialist party is opposed to all forms of capitalism, and advocates the establishment of a socialist Commonwealth. The Socialist party is also opposed to war, and advocates the establishment of a world peace organization. The Socialist party is also opposed to the possession of arms, and advocates the establishment of a world peace organization.

SHOOTING FIRE-CRACKERS IN KANSAS CITY

Capitation papers in Boston, Wisconsin, and other places, have been issued to the people of Kansas City, who are preparing to shoot fire-crackers in the streets. The police have declared that no permits will be granted to anyone who refuses to obey the law.

SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY AND Socialism

The Socialist Labor Party is a political party in the United States that was founded in 1872. The party is committed to the idea of socialism, which it defines as a system of economic and social organization in which the means of production are owned and controlled by the working class. The Socialist Labor Party is one of the oldest and most radical socialist parties in the United States, and has been active in promoting socialist ideas and practices since its founding.

The Socialist Labor Party was founded in 1872 by a group of socialists who were opposed to the capitalist system. The party was founded in New York City and quickly spread to other cities. The party's first leader was William Haywood, who was a prominent socialist and labor organizer. Haywood was a skilled speaker and organizer, and was able to attract a large following to the party.

Brothers-Fight.

The falling out in Pittsburg, Pa., of "Biz Capital" and "Biz Labor.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 16.—A long struggle has resulted in a violent and emotional clash between the owners and the employees of the Pittsburgh Steel Co., a branch of the Usery Steel Co., which is one of the largest industrial concerns in the world and one of the largest employers of labor in the city.

The dispute centers around the question of whether the employees should be organized into a union or not. The owners of the company are opposed to any form of unionization, while the employees are strongly in favor of it.

The conflict has been going on for several years, and it has reached a climax in recent months. The employees have been on strike for several weeks, and the owners have refused to concede to their demands.

The situation is tense, and there is a great deal of fear that it may lead to violence. The police have been called in to keep order.
