SEATTLE, WASH.

Proudly Enters the Municipal Field of Battle, Revolutionary up to the Handle.

Pattern, Rights and Articles of the American Journal of Race Nationalism, "The People," in their first number of the city's new tabloid have practically reached the same conclusion. What is wrong with this city is that it has been branded as a "long-time" metropolis of the South. The People's Daily is a brand-new paper, but it is also a new departure for the city's press. The People's Daily is a paper that will give the people of Seattle a new and different sort of news. DAILY PEOPLE.

At the last gala evening of the Convention to-day, the Town Hall was brilliantly illuminated and a profusion of flowers and jewels adorned the platform. A large crowd of delegates and visitors was present, and the air was thick with the perfume of the golden lilies of Ohio and Illinois.

The Convention adjourned its business, and the General Assembly convened. The proceedings were opened with the reading of the roll of delegates, followed by the adoption of the resolutions of the Convention, including the ones relating to the formation of a new political party.

The elections for the committee of the new party were then held. The following members were elected: John Doe (Democrat), William Smith (Republican), and Mary李某 (Independent).

The constitution of the new party was read, and the members of the committee were instructed to proceed with the organization of the party in their respective states.

The meeting adjourned, to reconvene on the 15th of March, at the same hour and place.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The following correspondence was read at the meeting of the Convention:

- A letter from Mr. John Doe, expressing his approval of the actions of the Convention.
- A telegram from the governor of Ohio, congratulating the Convention on its success.
- Two telegrams from the leaders of the Republican party, offering their support.
- A letter from a prominent bank, expressing its desire to lend financial assistance to the new party.
- A letter from a prominent newspaper, offering to publish the proceedings of the Convention.

The correspondence was read and commended by the Convention.
