NEW YORK. JUNE 23, 1900.

STATE CONVENTION OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY.

The State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party was held in New York on June 8, 1900, and was attended by delegates from all parts of the State. The convention was called to order by the Chairman, who presented the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.

The convention also adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.

The convention also adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.

The convention also adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.

The convention also adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.

The convention also adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.

The convention also adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the Socialist Labor Party is the successor of the National Labor Union, and that its aim is the establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.

2. That the socialist program of the State Convention of the Socialist Labor Party is the following:

- The abolition of private property in land and capital.
- The establishment of a socialist republic, where the means of production shall be owned and controlled by the working class.
- The elimination of the wage system and the establishment of a socialist wage basis.
- The equal distribution of the products of labor among all the members of society.
- The establishment of a state-owned railway system.
- The establishment of a state-owned educational system.
- The establishment of a state-owned healthcare system.
Facts Worth Noticing.

Rallying in Pittsburgh.

"To Arms! On July 4th at Pitlgh" was the appeal of the Socialists of Pennsylvania to the workingmen of the city. The Socialists of Pittsburgh are endeavoring to organize a socialistic neighborhood and to draw the attention of the people to the need of a new political organization to meet the needs of the workingmen. They invited the workingmen of the city to come to the rally and to contribute to the establishment of a new political organization.

Facts Worth Noticing.

Zola's "Fruitfulness." Zola has published a work entitled "Fruitfulness." This work is a continuation of his "Rouge," and is a continuation of the story of the lives of the workingmen and their families. The story is told through the eyes of the characters and is a reflection of the social and economic conditions of the time. The story is a powerful工具 for understanding the lives of the workingmen and their families, and is a powerful tool for understanding the social and economic conditions of the time.

DECLINED WITH THANKS.

To: William D. Balch, Chairman.

We have received your letter of January 10th, and we are pleased to inform you that we have decided to decline the offer of the position of Chairman of the Board of the W. D. Balch Company. We appreciate the opportunity to have been considered for this position, and we wish you all the best in your work.

PHILADELPHIA.

J. D. E.

POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC.

The policy given by the Journal in its recent issue is an interesting one, and we feel that it is in line with the work of the W. D. Balch Company. We are pleased to see that the company is working to improve the economic conditions of the workingmen, and we believe that this policy will help to improve the economic conditions of the workingmen.

Auction Sale.

The auction sale of the property of the W. D. Balch Company is an interesting one, and we feel that it is in line with the work of the company. We are pleased to see that the company is working to improve the economic conditions of the workingmen, and we believe that this auction sale will help to improve the economic conditions of the workingmen.

PRICE, $100.

Going to their headquarters, the members of the company gathered around the table, and began to discuss the matters of the auction sale. They were pleased to see that the company was working to improve the economic conditions of the workingmen, and they believed that this auction sale would help to improve the economic conditions of the workingmen.

NEW YORK, AUGUST 28, 1900.

New 10,000 Edition of "The Coming Struggle" Now Ready for Shipment.

Orders are now being taken for the new 10,000 edition of "The Coming Struggle," which is a valuable work on the subject of social and economic conditions. The book is now ready for shipment, and orders are being taken for the new edition.

"The Coming Struggle" is a valuable work on the subject of social and economic conditions, and is now ready for shipment. Orders are being taken for the new edition of the book, and it is now ready for shipment.
REPORT

National Executive Committee
TO THE TENTH NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY.

[CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK]

The Press.

The S. L. P. Press.

The Weekly People, Saturday, June 29, 1900.

The Party Press.

The weekly People Press, that is one of the organs of the Party, has been suspended after a short existence, was in the hands of the party. The paper was published in New York, and was a little known paper in that city. The paper was published every Thursday, and was printed in an edition of 1,000 copies. The paper was published in the North, and was distributed in that city.

The S. L. P. Press.

The Weekly People Press, Saturday, June 29, 1900.

The Party Press.

The weekly People Press, that is one of the organs of the Party, has been suspended after a short existence, was in the hands of the party. The paper was published in New York, and was a little known paper in that city. The paper was published every Thursday, and was printed in an edition of 1,000 copies. The paper was published in the North, and was distributed in that city.

The S. L. P. Press.

The weekly People Press, Saturday, June 29, 1900.

The Party Press.

The weekly People Press, that is one of the organs of the Party, has been suspended after a short existence, was in the hands of the party. The paper was published in New York, and was a little known paper in that city. The paper was published every Thursday, and was printed in an edition of 1,000 copies. The paper was published in the North, and was distributed in that city.

The S. L. P. Press.

The weekly People Press, Saturday, June 29, 1900.

The Party Press.

The weekly People Press, that is one of the organs of the Party, has been suspended after a short existence, was in the hands of the party. The paper was published in New York, and was a little known paper in that city. The paper was published every Thursday, and was printed in an edition of 1,000 copies. The paper was published in the North, and was distributed in that city.

The S. L. P. Press.

The weekly People Press, Saturday, June 29, 1900.

The Party Press.

The weekly People Press, that is one of the organs of the Party, has been suspended after a short existence, was in the hands of the party. The paper was published in New York, and was a little known paper in that city. The paper was published every Thursday, and was printed in an edition of 1,000 copies. The paper was published in the North, and was distributed in that city.

The S. L. P. Press.

The weekly People Press, Saturday, June 29, 1900.

The Party Press.

The weekly People Press, that is one of the organs of the Party, has been suspended after a short existence, was in the hands of the party. The paper was published in New York, and was a little known paper in that city. The paper was published every Thursday, and was printed in an edition of 1,000 copies. The paper was published in the North, and was distributed in that city.