to widen the circle of those entitled to share in the spoils of the Brooklyn railroad traffic. Through new corporations which were formed with largely inflated capital stock, the attempt was to be made to so increase the "earnings" as to secure not only larger income for the old companies than they had previously realized. but also to squeeze out some additional income for the new corporations. The largest of the new corporations was, the Long Island Traction Company, formed with a capital of 30 million dollars. This company undertook the management of the lines of the Brooklyn Heights system and of several other companies, the total capitalization of which had previously been less than 14 million dollars. The Atlautic Avenue system was turned over to the Brooklyn Traction Company with an increase of capitalization from five to nine millions of dollars. In order to make the new arinagement successful, the same roads that had yielded an income on 19 millions had now to yield an income on 39 mil-

Capitalist " Economies."

The capitalists who undertook this feat did not expect to be entirely successful. They did not expect to secure dividends to all the holders or buyers of their in flated stock. They did, however, expect to put the roads on a more profitable basis than they had ever been. And they proceeded to accomplish that much by what is called "economies." They reduced expenses, particularly cutting down that most important item of the expense account-the pay roll. The trolley workers were squeezed and driven until in the latter half of 1894 the expense of carrying a single passenger had been brought down to 3 cents-from 3 9-10 cents in 1892.

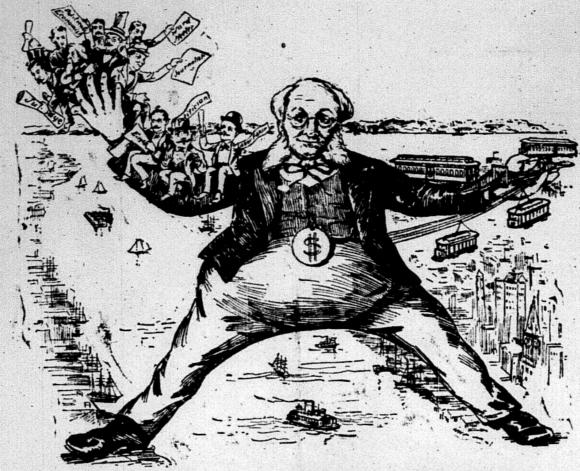

But the Brooklyn trolley magnates were by no means satisfied with this acc complishment. They intended that their "economies" should be carried much further. They undoubtedly foresaw to sible in later years, when the average expense per passenger was reduced first to 2.6 cents and more recently to 2.3 cents.

The trolley magnates certainly acted as if they had really made up their minds about the necessity of subjecting their labor force to more thorough "econ omies." They did not make the slight est effort to allay the discontent that whi growing more and more intense among their employees. They rather goaded on that discontent by taking the position that they were paying too much as it was. Said Lewis, the President of the Long Island Traction Company, before the Assembly Committee that was investigating the strike: "We are paying our men higher wages than the market rate." When the trolleymen, exasperated by overwork and underpay, were toldthat they were being treated too well, what else could be ex-pected but an outbreak? The men were positively driven into a strike. And in the light of subsequent events it can hardly be doubted that the strike was quite wel come to certain interests most powerful in Brooklyn trolley affairs.

Company Played Out as a Means of Gam bling.

The Long Island Traction Company had to be reorganized; as a means of stock gambling it had become played out and as a basis for the extensive consol and as a basis for the extensive consor-idation plans which were in the air it proved unsatisfactory. The discredi-table features of a reorganization proceed-ing could no better be lovered up, its at-tendant sacrifices no better minimised than in the general rumpus of a big

THE NEXT STEP OF THE BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT?

The DAILY PEOPLE has gone to the bottom of the troller situation since 1892, and now turns the calcium light of publicity on the crooked dealing of the Rapid Transit magnates, with their political, judicial and journalistic assistauts. The next step of these capitalists will be to consolidate the lines controlled by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit with the street car lines of New York and the Manhattan Elevated, thus forming a gigantic trust controlling every wheel in Greater New York-and then look out for a general cut in wages.

so made its appearance at this june- ploys to be forgotten. tion in the form of Tom L. Johnson, a palms of the powers that be in Willoughby street, secured franchises every valuable street he needin South Brooklyn, save Union street; and then, posing as labor's tion took place.

How much the event may have been desired when it took place, can be surmised from a glance at the changed condition of things that was thereby brought about. The business year following the made up, as we have illustrated above. strike (June 30, 1895-June 30, 1896) was most remarkable for the enormous reduction of expenses in the operation of the railroads principally involved in the strike. The roads operated by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company (the successor to the Long Island Traction Com-1894, the year before the strike, so that capitalist interests. their net earnings ran up to $2,000,000. being $440,000 in excess of 1894. And what was equally important the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was able through the new capitalist interests that organization process, to initiate those steps that were finally to lead to the consolidation under its auspices of all the surface and elevated railroads of Brook-

From all these circumstances it is quite apparent that the Brooklyn trolley strike of 1805, which brought nothing but misery and demoralization to the trolley workers, resulted very advantageously to the trolley capitalists and that it took place at a time when it could best be turned to the capitalists' advantage.

The time was most opportune for the capitalists for another reason made clear by the events of the strike.

January is ten months removed from election day, that is, from the only time when the workingmen-having neglected to look after their interests on previous election days- can make their political power felt.

Election Wiles of the Traction Magnates.

Towards election time the capitalists seek to conceal the fact that any government elected through the old parties belongs to them, the capitalists, and is put in power for the purpose of sustain-ing them, the capitalists, in the exploita-tion and oppression of labor. If that fact was brought home to the workers shortly before election day, the workers might rally around their own party, the Socialist Labor Party, and take out of the hands of the capitalist class some of the positical power it now enjoys. No one knows better than a trolley capitalist how seriously his interests would se crippled by the transfer of the public powers to the working class. He is, therefore, most anxious to settle labor croubles at a time of the year sufficiently far from January 25. Mayor Schieren threatens to send the militia to Green Paint. Troop A disperses the mob.

January 26. Judge Gaynor grants alternative writ of mandamus to compel companies to run cars (by giving the companies 20 days time to answer, the judge practically nullified the writ, and thus did as much for the companies as they could wish). February -4. Judge Moore instructs Grand Jury as to their duty on mob capitalists).

February 7. Mayor Schieren vetoes aldermanic resolutions against companies (which had been adopted for effect only).

February 12. Scidiers held blameless for the shooting of Thomas Kearney. February 14. Attorney General Hancock declines to proceed against Brooklyn Heights Railroad for annulment of March 27. President Norton and Superintendent Quinn acquitted of charge of working their men overtime.

While these things were taking place. it was quite apparent to the trollermen and to a great many of their fellow workgive to the people is nothing but a tool of the capitalist class, rendy for any service which that class may need for the purpose of holding down the working class. But between the season when this fact was so brutally demonstrated and the next election day enough time intervened to allow the demonstration to be forgotten. In the fall of 1895 most of the workingmen of Brooklyn again divided their votes between the two old parties; they either supported the party of Mayor Schieren and Governor Morton, the recent allies of the trolley companies, or the party of ex-Governor Flower, who had become the new chief of trolley capitalism.

Capitalists Use Political Weapons To Fight the Working Class.

In realizing that a time remote from Election Day is the best time for the capitalists to have a strike to deal with. we are at the same time made aware that the system of organization adopted by the trolley men was the best systemfor the capitalists. The events of the their battles against labor largely with political weapons. The trolley however, had not at all prepared selves for a political fight. They had been misled into the belief that their efforts for better conditions had nothing to do with politics; that it was even harmful to introduce politics into their novement, because that would make it wide differences of opinion in regard to union action, that is, a complete tie-up, could succeed. They did unite all on band of silk, stronger than brass or steel," is perhaps an excuse for its propensity for getting twisted; also for its flexibility where truth is concerned. At all events the pages of this magazine are full of the soft, silky illusions of those misleaders who would lull the workers into a longer sleep, blinding their eyes to the hard facets, as true and as firm as brass and steel, the facts of their exploitation and degradation.

As is well known, the American Federation of Labor stands for "restriction of immigration," "no politics in unions" (that is to say, no working class politics), "nristocracy of labor," and respects most religiously the "rights of employers." sometimes even more the wrongs of the employees.

The June number of this organ of the of L. bears proof on every page of the assertion of the honest, fighting Socialist Labor Party that the leaders, the organizers, and the officers of the federated unions are FAKIRS in the full sense of the term, that they "contrive falsely" to deceive the workers, that they propogate fakes that are "spurious, worthless, wornout property."

. The article on the "Origin and Progress of the A. F. of L." states very plainly their feeling for the employers in these words:

How Much Do the Capitalists Pay For This !

"The Federation recognizes that employers and employees, those who conceive and direct, equally with those who execute, are indespensable agents in But modern industrial enterprises. while it asserts that this division of function is enevitable, is also contends that the employer is simply the custodian of a certain portion of the social funds, and, as such, is morally bound to administer the capital in his keeping with all due consideration for the welfare of those workers who co-operate with him in the re-production and increase of that wealth." the A. F. of I., and it all means what? self superior to any other." The pride of -a large-sized bluff. As capital is administered to-day, not one employer has "consideration for the welfare of the workers," neither do the workers "cooperate with him in the reproduction of his wealth." They slave for him. They yield up to capital their flesh, bone, blood and muscle, for less than a living wage, and it is a deliberate fraud on the working class to formulate such lies and force them on labor organizations.

But not satisfied with these false statements, this writer, Hugh McGregor, "Labor Skate," which translated into English, means "Leech" and "Sucker." further says that the members of this 'vast Federation have been inspired with confidence in the ability and devotion of their officers," for the following reasons:

The Federation Allies Itself With the Capitalist Class.

"It should be remembered that it was he Council of the Federation, acting in conjunction with the chiefs of the Rail-way Brootherhoods, which refused, in the face of immense pressure, to participate in the great strike on the railroads centering in Chicago in 1804, and thus averted a bloody and disastrous conflict with the military forces of the United States. It was this same Council that in refusing to affiliate the Central Federation of New York with its 59 locals and some 18,000 members because it included a branch of the Socialist Labor Party, struck the key-note of resistance against the dangerous delusion

The motto of this publication: "A enterprises now conducted by private persons. And it was this same Council whose policy was vindicated in open convention, and the program of the common ownership of all the means of production and distribution was declared alien to the trade-union movement." Evolution of the Compers Abemiration

What a history, and what a policy!, Let us see what this history and this policy has accomplished for the workers. McGregor in a gurbled account of the inception of the A. F. of L. and its revolt from the Knights of Labor, claims that the belief "that social questions can be settled by political means" and the fact that the organization "placed itself at variance with the autononimist (self-governing) traditions of the open trade unions" caused the downfall of the Knights of Labor. When the trails of the matter is that as long as the Knights of Labor and strong political power, and was run on a strict chart-conscious policy, outlined and enforced by Uriah Stephens, its founder, its growth and strength was remarkable, but in those days there existed the same parasites of the capitalist parties as we are fighting to-day, and gradually they wormed themselves into the Knights of Labor with their battle-cry, "no polities in union," they brought in the era of hireling-politics, with men like Powderly, who represented one of the great capitalist parties. And this undermining of the great organization, perfected as it was by Stephens, went on until in 1879 Powderly succeeded the great old leader, and the disintegration of the Knights of Labor dated from that moment, imperceptible at first, but lutrigues multiplied and developed, until the movement assumed the features it wears to-day, and the solidarity of the workers as dreamed of and planned by Stephens gave place to the abomination we sow have in our midst-the A. F. of I.

Stephens alwars declared the nece sity of the workers of all trades joining hands, of abnegation and solidarity. "No worker," he insists, "should consider himthe skilled worker over the unabilled he pronounces a great stumbling-block in the way of the organization of the masses and the deliverance of all "Tear the deceitful mask off the face of the modern system and recognize the fact that the humblest day-lab over is as inportant to the existence and welfare of human society as the most skilled and intelligent artisan in any field of industry." How far have these "pure and simple" unions departed from these teachings of Uriah Stevens. So much for the origin of this movement. But what has been accomplished by their conservatism and non-political theories? McGregor sums up result as follows: two resolutions adopted at one of their conventions were enacted into laws, "One of these was a law requiring the establishment of a National Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the other was a law forstatistics, and the order was a law for-bidding the importation of contract laborers"—and the agitation for an eight-bour day sums up all that is tangible, except that in the year 1808 they received thirty-six thousand, three hundred and fifty-seven dollars, and spent over therty thousand of it. How much of it went to the oversules and much of it went to the organizers and to Gompers & Co. is not stated.

Pure and Simple Resolutions.

The influence of the National Counthe Trade Conventious, it is manifested in all the articles and reports that follow this of McGregor's. The National Tex-tile Union at their Convention in Au-gusta, Ga., summed up all their efforts in resolutions like this:

Superintendent Who Intended to Ro Miners Made a Prisoner.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 2 .- D. R. Garrett, of Spokane, a well known mine superintendent is held in duress by a number of miners employed in a mine of which Garrett has been in charge for some time. He is anfined in a cabin on what is known as Casey's Ranch, near Atlanta. and if the hand of the law is not taid on the miners they will restrain him of his liberty until he pays them their due as wages. Appeal has been made to the authorities, and steps are being taken to send a sheriff's posse to the scene to secure Garrett's release. The story was brought to Boise by Governor Steunenberg, who has been to the Atlantic district on private business. He passed by armed men there. Later on a man got into the stage who told him the sto The Governor at once interested himse and the release of Garrett will be speedy unless the miners shall obtain info tion as to the movements of the authorities and take the superintendent further back into the mountains.

Garrett is a member of a Spokane firm who some time ago purchased a mine not far from Atlanta paying cash for it. A force of men was put to work to develop the property. The pay days came regularly, but some time ago one was missed. It was promised money would be sent at once from Spokane and the men continued to work. The funds did not arrive and the men became rest-ive. Finally about a week ago, Garrett announced that it was his intention to go to Spokane and secure the money. He made his preparations and was about to retire early one evening in order to take the stage the next morning when a committee of his employees waited on him and informed him he would not be allowed to leave without paying off.

Garrett declared himself with vehe-mence and thereteshbdaaucrngnwxiaci mence and threatened violence, when the men quickly surrounded, bound him and carried him to Casey's cabin.

They divided themselves into squads for guard purposes, and since that time Garrett has been a prisoner. The Gover-nor was informed the men dictated a letter that was sent to the firm in Spokane was forthcoming within two weeks, Gar would be hanged. The miners that section and in other places in the State have been chested out of large sums of money within the past five years by unscrupulous operators, and former frauds no doubt had a great deal to do with the action of the men in the Garrett case.

However, the authorities will not allow Garrett to be restrained if the law can reach the case. If the miners go back the mountains with their man it will indicate that they intend to fight it out to the bitter end, and a serious rupture may be looked for. Some of the miners are from the Coeur D'Alenes, where they were caged like wild beasts last year by Democratic Governor Steun-enberg, who was acting in the interests of the Standard Oil Trust.

The conferences between the American Tin Plate Company and the Amai-gamated Association of Iron Workers for the next year ended to-day. No agreements had been reached. The con-ference will be resumed after the committee of the Tin Plate Company will have returned from Cleveland, where that committee is to reach an agreement with the Federated Union.

President Reid, of the company, when asked how long it may be before an agreement is reached, replied that six or eight weeks may drag by. He also said that probably the wage scale remain the same or go lower. Higher it will not go.

PITTSBURG, Aug 3.-The banking of blast furnaces and the suspension of general rolling mills continues here. The fight between the large concerns in prices is making everyone cautious. The Amer ican Steel Company has banked one of its group of blast furnaces, and con-templates on either banking or blowing out the entire plant. The cuts in the cost of finished material are so heavy that some of the sellers do not believe the reports. The trade here is so dull that hundreds of workingmen are thrown out of employment, with no relief in sight in the near future.

Men Continue to Be Discharged in Shoals-The Central Labor Union of Dem. and Rep. Labor Skates Feel the Steel of Bona Fide Unionism and Declare Boycott Against the Daily People

HARTFORD, Conn., July 31.-The so much talked about "prosperity" has at last come sure and certain; for the fact is that the men in the Colts' Arms Manufactory are compelled to work overtime in order to supply the demand. Arms just now are in great demand by Christians and heathens, and these humane and most patriotic manufacturers don't discriminate at all, provided only, that these Christians or heathens, friends or foes, can foot the bills.

Quite in accordance with the foregoing, ways and means should also be provided to furnish the necessary cannon fodder. Our captains of inductry, doing nothing by halves, prove to be ready for the task. In the last few weeks thousands of men have been discharged in the several factories, principal among them being the Columbia and Electric Company, which discharged within the last three weeks some 1,100 men. A batch of 150 men was discharged last Friday, so that practically only the foremen of the different departments are retained. No reason for such an enormous discharge was stated, nor was would be employed again.

Considering all the circumstances, it appears to be a manoeuvre of Wall street freeze out the small stockholders in order to facilitate matters. But, what ever scheme may be at the bottom of it. the discharged men are not a whit better off for that, and in order to do some hing meanwhile, they may enlist as can non fedder in the army, or enjoy their surplus evenings at the seashore, or in the breezy or woody mountains.

In regard to these circumstances pre vailing in our city, it is not at all sur-prising that the DAILY PEOPLE should have scored a victory for its undaunted efforts in behalf of the workculiar character, and therefore the more

The Hartford Central Labor Union has deemed it advisable to declare a boy-cott on the DAHLY PEOPLE, for the alleged reason that it bears a label "not recognized by organized labor," i. e., not recognized by the Republican and Democratic heelers who run the organization. It is a victory, inasmuch as it shows that the DAILY PEOPLE has hit bull's

The alleged reason of the Central Labor Union is merely a subterfuge. But, on the other hand, the victory dwindles down to sheer nothing, considering the imbecility of the body that has fathered said boycott, as the following will show.

To be sure, our Central Labor Union is a congregation of pure and simplersa sort of race-track for labor fakirs and ward heelers to advance themselves. Politics, therefore, is strictly prohibited in said body. But this by no means prohibits the election and action of socalled legislative committee, to be sent to the lobbies of legislatures to beg for so-called labor laws. The word "logic" is not known or understood by the labor fakirs, or else they would be aware that it is the worst kind of politics to go -begging to an assembly of men who interests are directely opposed to the laboring man, and, being placed in power to dictate, would be more than silly to enact anything to the detriment of their But this lobbying is well paid for by the dupe-sand therefore "no politics in the union."

A case in point is our State Board of Mediation and Arbitration. The State Federation of Labor, especially the then chairman of the legislative committee, George A. Parsons, is very proud of this production production.

The board is composed of three members, the above Parsons "represents" labor, the two others represent the Democratic and Republican parties respectively.

Now look at the merit of this so much Now look at the ment of this so much praised "laber" law. In the month of May the plumbers went on strike for the eight-hour workday and better pay. But for a number of weeks the strike dragged on without any results. Finally they remembered this so much praised labor law and at once applied to the board. After due consideration the board decided: The condition of affairs as existing at is not sufficiently serious to war rant the intervention of the board." Needless to say the strike was lost. But the salary of Mr. Parsons was not lost.

Meanwhile the fakirs in the C, L. U.
were at work. With the assistance of politicians and saloonkeepers they ar-ranged a picnic at Charter Oak Park to be held July 4. Of course a parade had to be held to demonstrafe the "inflooence" of the fakir and political wire-puller for future emolument. The city and other authorities were invited to review the

Now this means adding insult to injury, for the very men and authorities that reviewed the parade were instrumental in the defeat of the plumbers! Only a few unions refused to partake in the parade, notably the carpenters and painters, but the rest trotted on as good natured wage-slaves, seemingly incapable to feel the insult:

Imagine a body that arranges such Imagine a body that arranges such affairs desiring to declare a boycot on the DAILY PEOPLE, because it bears a label that forbids and condemns any sort of treason on the working class! There can be nothing more logical. For once the C. L. U. has been logical. Labor crooks must condemn the interests of the Workers ALLIANCE.

BUSINESS REPORTS

Last Week Shows Arrival of "Period of Over-Production."

That the beginning of the panic is now here can be seen by a glance at the reports issued by R. G. Dun & Co. and Bradstreets, the failures for last week being 228 as against 182 for the same week last year

Bradstreet's resume points out that trade conditions still favor the buyer; general fall demand; though fair in view of midsmumer conditions, is still below expectations and below a year ago; bank clearings are at the lowest for two years past, and failures are slightly more numerous, though no marked tendencies are perceptible.

Textile demand is still uncertain, the future of prices not being clearly out-Spring-weight woollens have opened five to seven per cent above last year, but are lower relatively than heavy weights sold at. Manufacturers are somewhat freer buyers of wool, though low prices have been necessary to clinch business. In cotton goods some irregularity is noted. Wide sheetings have been marked down in price this week, and, while the Fall River committee prices of print cloths are insisted upon, a shading in these goods is reported at other eastern centres. Signs of more inquiry for cottons are noted at New York. and in the southwest dry. goods and clothing are reported in better inquiry.

The iron and steel industry furnishes the most notable example of reduced prices in trying to induce a heavy business, and, while the outlook is still a confused one the volume of trade in finished material, notably bars and plates, is very large. This has undoubt edly been at the expense of values. Attempts towards an agreement of producers have naturally failed, but low prices are themselves proving a corrective example being the report that four-fifths of the furnaces of the Shenango and Mahoning valleys are to be shut down.

Shipments of boots and shoes from Boston were 72,348 cases, against 68,-308 last week, but a year ago were 108,045. The present increased movement is more in specialties, and trade in lines remains dull, many shops working about one-third capacity. Leather is weaker, some lines declining a cent, but there is more activity.

R. G. Dun & Co. reviews the situa-tion as follows: "It is often hard to read encouraging symptoms of general business in declining prices of commodities but just now it is reasonable to look Some raw materials, and some material products one stage removed from the raw, are selling at lower prices than at any time since last year's advance set in; but there is confi dence among buyer-swing is nearly e-adopting a caust the downward .hile sellers are ticy, which until recently characa. the attitude of buyers. The bus being done is not of the kind that at once shows in bank clearings, which for New York are 25.1 per cent, and for thirteen other leading cities 4.1 per cent below last year for the week, and strikes have led to further shutting down of factories, while others are threatened unless efforts at wage settlement succeed. Yet business has now what it seems a substantial where there has long been lacking, and many wage disputes should soon adjust automatically.

All of which, in plain English, means that business is bad with a big adjective, and is to be worse.

Wool Seriers Are Finding Out That Skill is Not Necessary. Next!

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 31.-Quite a breeze was caused in labor circles in this city during the last week by the announcement that a notice had been posted at Broadhead's worsted mills, saving that the firm was about to make a large reduction in the price paid for sorting wool. But the sequel proved that while the price for sorting had been reduced, it did not amount to a reduction in wages but to a reduction in the force of workmen. Wool is sorted at a certain rate per pound, and heretofore skilled workmen have been employed to do it. It takes two or three years to become an expert wool sorter, and it requires a keen eye, and delicate touch to tell quickly the different grades of wool as they come from the fleece. It has now been discovered that such close sorting as has been done in the past is not at all necessary, and that the carding machines can be depended upon to do much of the work that has been done by hand. This, discovery was made at the Goodwin yarn mills at Falconer sevcral months ago. The firm reduced the rate, and a strike promptly followed. The firm put in green hands, and the workmen predicted dire disasters. But the troubles did not arrive. In a few weeks the new men had acquired suffi-cient skill to answer all requirements under the n-w system, and are at present making more money than their pro-decessors did, for while they do not redecessors did, for while they do not re-ceive as much per pound for sorting, they can handle enough more word in a day to make up the difference 'a price with something to spare. At the same time the additional amount sorted by each man enables the cumployers to dis-pense with about one-half the force herepense with about one-half the force heretofore deemed necessary, and thus the pay roll is materially reduced.

The wool sorters recognize the true status of affairs, and there will be no strike at the Becadhead miles. It is the sold story of the machine agains, land labor, and as usual, the machine is on ten.

PLAYING THEM.

St. Louis Strikers as Speculation Material.

A Proposed Plan for a New Street R. R. Company-The Strikers to Furnish Ammunition, and the Exploiters Take the Game-The Fakir's Part in the Deal-Men Blindly Falling in Line.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3 .- The street-car strikers here are wholly in the hands of crooks. It must be borne in mind that there is money in this strike for the leaders, and therefore they use all means

One method of reviving their drooping spirits is to interest the strikers in building a railway system for the whole city to compete with the one they are striking against.

The Central Trades and Labor Union has held meetings to consider this plan. The Executive Committee of the Stree Railway Employee's Union also held meetings to consider the plan of building new-lines. It is claimed that $3,000,000 will be needed. Just how the penniless strikers can 1 id a $3,000,000 stree-car is not mentioned.

At the last meeting it was not proposed that the strikers should build the road at all, but the plan was to assist some one to invest the money. This could be done advantageously by killing the other road.

Not a word was said as to the treatment the street car men would receive under the proposed company. The street car men are to own no interest in this line, thus having no voice as to the condition under which they shall work.

When these prometers of a new private ownership are approached on ownership, they say that provision will be made for the city to buy the new line, but that, of course, as it would be of great value, large price would have to be paid.

There is in this city an organization known as the Franchise Repeal Asso ciation. It is composed mostly of small business men. Though they are in their economic relation nearer the big capitalists than the street car strikers, they are much more advanced on the street car trouble. They passed the following

"RESOLVED, that we reafirm our declaration against the granting of any further franchise for public utilities to individuals or private corporations, regardless of whatever disguise may be used to cover the real intentions of the promoters of others who may now or hereafter apply to the Municipal Assem bly for said franchise. We look on the matter as a scheme by which capitalists are trying to take advantage of an oppo tunity to further their personal ends through the street car men

The Secretary of the Municipal Owner-ship League, W. C. Guels, said: "I know such a movement is or. The franchise has been prepared. If the right sort of franchise is asked for I can see no objection to granting it. No more monopoly franchises can be granted in St. Louis, and I believe the League would fight any attempt in that direction Under proper conditions the granting of a franchise to this proposed company would be a good thing."
From this middle class standpoint

under municipal ownership, the city would run cars for the greatest profit. This profit to be used in reducing taxes. The strikers of St. Louis have no property to pay taxes on. To get the greatest profit out of street cars means the west wages possible.

In the meantime the strikers are running busses in competition with the street car company. This bus line is run on strange plan. Its secretary explained this plan as follows:

"We buy the horses and wagons and then sell them to the individual strikers. The reason for this is, that if we were to own and operate them, we would be responsible for accidents; we could be sued. By selling them to the individual he will then be responsible. We sell them on the installment plan. By ting the individual own them it gives him. sense of proprietorship."

Photograph of the Delegates to the Convention.

The Tenth National Convention of the Socialist Labor Party was held at New York city, June 2—S, 1900.

The absolute harmony that prevailed, the class-conscious resolutions that were adopted, the endorsement of the S. T. & L. A. by a unanimous vote—these actions and many others of an equally advanced character make the convention historic.

The delegates were a robust lot of fakinhating kangaroo-killers standing on the firing line of the Social Revolution, and, responsive to many requests, it was decided to pnotograph the convention.

The photograph is interesting. In the foreground appears the beautiful red flag presented to the Socialist Labor Party of the United States by the Party Ouvrier Francais, the lettering on the flag being plainly visible. Directly behind the flag stands Joseph F. Maliloney, the candidate of the S. L. P. for the Presidency. On one side of Malloney stands the editor of the People, and on the other side National Secretary Kuhn, holding on his arm the maliet wrested from the hands of the kangaroos on July 10th, and since then held as an historic trophy of the Socialist Almanac, while to the right and the left are grouped the other delegates to the number of 83.

"HOUSE OF HORRORS."

The Name Earned by the State Prison of Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 5 .- The State Prison at Lancaster is now found to be a house of perrors equalling, if not exceeding, in its terrors the prisons of Siberia and the Elmira Reformatory. Some of the cases of brutality which have come to light put the Bryanite officials in an unenviable light. Their talk of humanity and resistance to oppression is seen to be the veriest hypoc risy, as the management of the pen by them is as bad as, if not worse than, i was under Republican sway, and that's saying a lot.

The following is one of a number of well authenticated cases, which have been noted:

The saddest death of all occurred on the 15th of this month. It was sad because the most brutal feature of it could have been avoided. A well to do brother of the dead man came on here from Pittsburg, and did everything in his power to get the Governor to let his brother ont to die, but all to no avail. The doctor (?) and deputy had told the Governor that the prisoner had brought the sickness on himself by eating soop in order to feign consamption, and that as soon as he knew that he could not get out that way, he would recover. . He died two days after his brother left for home.

The Populist coroner held an inquest in the case, but no post-mortem. His report whitewashed Dr. Edwards.

HOSPITAL IS A CLUB ROOM.

In order to give an outsider an under standing of some of the peculiar conditions existing at the penitentiary, it is necessary to digress a little. Shortly after Edwards took charge as physician, he began to run the hospital as a hotel, presumably on a strictly cash basis. Men have gone to him for treatment, and were asked if they had any "coin."

The hospital has been converted into a club room for the boarders, and is a kind of political school where Dr. Edwards and the amateur politician (the deputy) are coached in the mysteries of politics.

Under these circumstances it is not hard to imagine how difficult it is for a poor, helpless, friendless, coinless convict to get treatment at the club house. and that is what Gallagher, the man who died on the 18th had the hardihood to do. He had suffered from cafarrh of the stomach for the past three years. He asked the doctor (perhaps a little insolently) what he was there for? The some cough medicine and was refused. He asked the doctr (perhaps a little inslently) what he was there for? The doctor reported him for insolence, and he was thrown in a damp dungeon and left for forty-eight hours. He began to fail fast after this, and it was soon seen by all, except the deputy, doctor and a convict called the Doctor's "Dog Robber," that the poor fellow had consumption, and could not last long. Then the poor fellow's real trouble began-the Dog Robber referred to above, thought that Gallagher was going to get his job. and he invented the soap story to injure him in the warden's eyes, and, of course, the doctor, deputy, and the boarders were only too anxious to get any excuse to get him out of the hospital as his presence prevented the boarders having a good time, and interfered with the doctor and his political studies.

The Governor wass appealed to in behalf of Galllagher, but refused to do anything for him while his (the Governor's) brother was here because if he had been released he would have exposed the rotten prison system and all he witnessed in the hospital. His brother must have heard of Doc Edwards and his inquiries for "coin." At any rate he placed $200 with a lawyer in Lincoln on condition that he secure his release. The commutation was granted two days later, and just in time to earn the $200.

REFINED CRUELTY. 201

For three months this man was subjected to a course of refined cruelty that would make the Chinese green with envy A few days before his death he tried to get to the warden's office. A guard named Murdock was sprinkling the lawn with the fire hose at the time, and when Gallagher tried to pass him he turned the hose on him.

The evening before he died he was sitting down in the yard, and when he was told to go to the hospital it was pitiable to see him look at the stairs-he knew he could not climb them, and when he tried he fell backward to the sidewalk. While lying there the dupty, Thomas Welsh, and the Dog Robber, the man supposed to care for him, passed him by and larghed at him. One of the bearders finally came down and carried him up-

Mechanism of Stock Gambling.

While the actual profits resulting from the operation of the roads controlled by the Rapid Transit Co. have been considerable every year, rising from $2,003-000 for the first year (1895-'96), to $2,-740,000 for the year 1898 there has never been a cent of dividends distributed among its stockholders. In spite of this fact the stock of the company advanced from its modest initial price of 18 dollars for a 100 dollar share to the extraordinary figure of 137 dollars per share, which was reached towards the end of March, 1800, when the acquisition of the Nassau lines and of the Elevated systems was announced as having been perfected. This was an unnatural boom for capital stock that never yielded any income and the value of which consisted wholly in the prospect of future dividends. The boom could not last. The men who had worked it up knew it must suffer somewhat of a collapse, as soon as others would understand, as the "insiders" did, that the great consolidation movement did not mean immediate dividends. The situation was peculiarly favorable for a speculation of the men in control of their own stock. And such an operation apparently did take place. While the Rapid Transit boomers seemed to be buying, they were really selling their stock as fast as they could without breaking the price. And after selling for over $130 the shares that had not been worth half as much a few months before, they reversed their operation, so that they might buy back at low prices what they sold at boom figures.

That this is so we can readily see by noting that when Roswell P. Flower died just at this time he did not have one share of this stock.

And thus were the lambs shorn. Of course, the men identified with the management could not openly assist in breaking down their own stock. They had to engage other people to make the attack in the guise of antagonists. This disguised campaign began about May 7, when the papers announced that James R. Keene had started in to "pound" down the Flower stock, particularly Brooklyn Rapid Transit shares.

Capitalists Organize a Strike.

It is evident that such a stock corporation would be materially aided by a strike, and it is clear why a broker who was trying to get hold of Rapid Transit stock to sell it at low prices, why he should interest himself in bringing the strike about. It has been reported that James R. Keene contributed $1,000 to the labor leaders who were organizing the strike last year.

In his campaign, which seemed to be directed against the leading troller interests, but was really carried on in their behalf, Keene had the important cooperation of Albert L. Johnson. Albert L. Johnson made the last Brooklyn trolley strike.

Johnson caused the following tale to be spread around among those trolleymen who had until recently been his emand Keene were about to get possession of a controlling portion of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit stock, that they were acting on behalf of the Belmont and Vanwanted consolidation, Willoughby derbilt interests as against Rossiter and the Flower interests, and that they were sure to secure all the stock they wanted if the strike would last but 48 hours. Johnson wanted his old employees to understand that those who would "act as union men" and strike, would be taken care of after he was in control of the road again, while the scabs would be "dumped," as one of Johnson's agents expressed it. . Many of the men on the old Nassau lines allowed themselves to be misled or bullied by Johnson's strike talk, although it was palpably fakish. What nonsense, to think of the Vanderbilts going to so much trouble for the purpose of overthrowing Rossiter! The Vanderbilts put Rossiter in his present place. He is the brother of the treasurer of the New York Central, and was the assistant superintendent of the western division of that road at the time he was called to the presidency of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. He was called there as the representative of the Vanderbilt interests, just as T. S. Williams, Flower's former private secretary, was made secretary and treasurer of the company to represent the Plower interests.

Johnson Makes a Statement.

Johnson's statement was absolutely fraudulent in making the claim that by acquiring the majority of the Rapid Berri, in the "Standard Union;" William the lines was next in order. And Transit stock he or his backers could T. Bryant, in the Brooklyn "Times," paper and facilitate work at the office.

the company. The fact is that all the Rapid Transit stock is subject to a voting trust established in 1895, by which Flower, Brady and Olcott were given the right to vote the whole stock for five years. No sale of stock can, therefore, affect the control of the company until 1900.

But the trolleymen on the Nassau lines were taken in by Johnson's "bluff," and they organized and struck under the same old incompetent and corrupt K. of L. leadership. That was the leadership which Johnson wanted, and that was the leadership Rossiter wanted, into whose hands Johnson was playing.

A few weeks before the recent strike took place, a conference of the trolleymen was held in South Brooklyn, which was attended by representatives of the Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance, and also by Daniel McAvoy, one of the K. of L. organizers. The Socialists on that occasion warned strenuously against a strike of the trolleymen at that time and on the old trade union or K. of L. lines. They showed that a strike as proposed by the K. of L. would be even more of a failure than in 1805, because firstly, the company would more easily find scabs; secondly, because the trolley magnates controlled even more thoroughly all the government powers, and would use them more recklessly against the trolleymen; thirdly, because the time of the year, being four months removed from Election Day, was favorable to such abuse of political power; and fourthly, because the trolleymen were not properly educated and organized for such a contest. The Socialists recommended, instead of an immediate strike, that the trolleymen organize and educate themselves on the lines of the Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance, and being thus prepared to fight the political tactics of the troller magnates with Socialist Labor politics, choose the campaign time as the best time for going into the struggle.

McAvoy offered the well-known, stale objections to this policy. He opposed particularly the introduction of politics into the organization.

Socialist Tactics.

The Socialists then showed that no labor organization could steer clear of politics; where Socialist politics were excluded the organization was sure to be used in the interest of capitalist politics, office-seeking and political trading by the leaders were inevitable. The S. T. & L. A. had eliminated that sort of thing by disqualifying for office any one affiliated with any of the capitalist parties. Unless this was done, the organization would be always subject to capitalist influences and any honest activity become impossible. The conduct of D. A. 75 with regard to the ten-hour law was pointed out as an example. A committee of the D. A. called on the District Attorney, and then allowed the false impression to be spread through the press that the railroads had been compelled to obey the law, and a great victory had been won. The trouble was that that committee contained such men as Patrick Collins, an office-seeker, and James Pines, an enrolled member of the Democratic party, both of whom were thinking more of their political careers than of the interests of the trolleymen.

The advice of the Socialists was not at all to the taste of the K. of L. leaders. McAvoy, Pines, Parsons (a notorious trader in labor votes for the Republican party) preferred to do the capitalists' bidding. They took $1,000 from Capitalist Keene and $500 from Capitalist Johnson, and brought on the strike just as Keene and Johnson and Rossiter wanted it.

firmed in every respect the warning of the Socialists. Many hundreds of trolley workers are paving dearly for not heeding it, for not beeding the lessons of experience. Let them now take care and by a sound organization guard against being led again into the capitalists' shambles. The Rapid Transit official whom the "Eagle" quotes said: "It was worth the money." If the trolleymen profit from the latest lesson, they may too say: "It was worth the cost."

Traction History Reviewed.

Let us now briefly review this story of crime, and mass the facts set forth. so that the workingmen employed in the Rapid Transit may draw correct conclusions. They are:

First-That for years the gang now in control of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit have been coining enormous sums of money at the expense of their employees. Second-That Democratic and Repub lican, Willoughby Street and Tammany. have all conspired to that end. Third-That every strike along pure and simple lines has ended in defeat for the strikers because they having no pollties in the union allowed the labor fakir to cajole them into voting for the capitalists, thus placing themselves in front of the guns and policemen's clubs, instead of behind them.

Pourth-That every capitalist newspaper in Brooklyn is controlled by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit magnates, viz. Seth Keeney, in the "Eagle;" William T.

Fifth-That the judiciary including Gaynor, Van Wyck, Bartlett and the Supreme Court judges who have just de cided against the Bridge employees in their suit for the prevailing rate of wages, are owned body and soul by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit magnates Sixth-That the next step in the evo lution of the Traction magnates will be the consolidation of the Manhattan "L." the Metropolitan Street Railroad Com pany and the Brooklyn Rapid . Transit into one gigantic street and elevated railroad trust, with its accompanying "economies" of fleeced labor that will be shot and bayoneted when it protests.

Parting Word to the Employees of the Rapid Transit.

Understanding those things the employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit should connect themselves with the Socilaist Trade and Labor Alliance-the new trade unionism that will wrench the political power from the Brooklyn Rapid Transit-and thus render these brigands helpless. The trolley, Bridge and "L" employees must remember the former fiascos called strikes in which, fighting without the political arm they were whipped. They must organize into a union that will not alone protect them under the capitalist system but will abolish it.

They must organize not alone to ecure an increase of wages but to establish the Co-operative Comnonwealth, through the capture of the public powers at the ballot-box, under the banner of the Party of our class, the fighting Socialist Labor Party. They must form an organization to prevent the manipulation of the working class by the anctimonious papers of Brooklyn that devote most of their Monday's issue to the sermons delivered on Sunday and then proceed to besmirch the ermine of the Judiciary, debauch the Legislature and corrupt the minds of the working class so as to easily sell them to the capitalist class.

Organize, educate and agitate in this way and then proceed to confiscate the confiscators.

CAPITALIST JUSTICE.

Judge in North Adams Denies Right of Defence to Arrested Striker.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., July 30.-John Trainor, who came here from Lynn to work in N. L. Millard's shoe shop, in place of the striking cutters, and was discharged some time ago because it was claimed that he was in league with the strikers, and who has since been here working in their interests, was before the court vesterday charged with intimidation and threatening. W. H. Whitney, who is employed now in the cutting rom, was the man whom it was claimed he intimidated. Lawyer Wood of Pittsfield appeared for the prosecution, and Lawyer Magennis of this city for the defense.

The trial lasted till after 3 o'clock this afternoon, many witnesses from the shop appearing. Mr. Whitney and N. L. Millard were the chief witnesses, the others being Foreman Swazy, Aubrey Marshall, E. C. Forbush, Francis E. Webster, Joseph E. Rice, Mr. Babsey and

The evidence was intended to show that Trainor had approached Whitney and told him that he was afraid the strikers could not be restrained after to-day, and that there was going to be trougle, which Whitney would do well to avoid by leav ing. The other witnesses testified to alleged attempts by Trainor to influence them or others, which did not bear directly on the case before the court.

Lawyer Wood made a point of what he claimed was the promise of preconcerted trouble this week, trying to show that the strikers had planned to take matters into their own hands at this

Mr. Millard on the stand said that he had brought about eighty men here, of whom about half had been sent away by the strikers or gone away, and that he had now about thirty working in the cutting room.

The arguments in the case were mad this afternoon, and were lengthy on both sides. Justice Woodhead who was on the bench found Trainor guilty on the charge of intimidation, and fined him

The charge of threatening was not

The statement was made by one of the witnesses that Trainor had told him that he (Trainor) was receiving $15 for his services in the interest of the strikers.

The defense in the case was not allowed to introduce testimony, an effort to examine Mr. Whitney as a witness for the defense being stopped by the court on the ground that his evidence had already being given. This is a deliperate violation of the rights of a defendent violation of the rights of a defendant.

Socialist Speakers Prodding the Capitalist Parties.

Paying Special Attention to the Bryanite Humbug-Local Democrat Uses a Strike of Telephone Girls to Show His Mentality-Making It Hot f. Middleton, a Local Labor Fakir - Section Seattle to Have Ten Speakers at Work During the Campaign.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 3.-The So cialist Labor Party never took a manlier step than when it gave up doing the maggot act of boring from within the old style pure and simple unions; and the Socialist Labor Party to-day utters no truer note than when it maintains that these so-called "unions" have done more than any one agency to hinder the progress of the Labor Movement.

At a recent public meeting held by the Socialist Labor Party of Seattle, a man in the audience asked Comrade Anthony this question: "Why do you attack the Demo-Popo-Bryan Party so bitterly? Why do you not attack both parties alike?"

Party was consistently the party of the large capitalists. As such it promotes and enforces the material interests of its members, and while it pretends to be the friend of the workingman, that pre tence is but a gauzy film that doesn't hide at all its purpose, viz., to degrade and enslave the working class for the benefit of the capitalists. But we find more of our fellows deluded by the cunning and trickery of the Silverites and Popocrats, who play entirely for the sympathy and support of the working class. well knowing that they themselves, as small "peesness' men and diminutive skinners of labor, can do nothing without the help of the kindly and generous workingman. Aye, and too kind has he been in the past to these Democratic. Populist and Republican scoundrels, who have rewarded him with spiked clubs a la Roosevelt, Bull Pens from McKin ley and Steunenberg, lead diet, and all down the list of the brutalities practiced upon our class. And so," said Anthony, "we fight both and all other capitalist political parties, impartially, telling ou audiences at the same time that the Democrat, Populist and Social Democrat Parties represent only the despairing and futile attempts of the enfeebled mid dle class to get its skinning knife into the hide of the workers once more."

The Scattle telephone girls, employees of the Pacific Coast Telephone Trust are having trouble with "Brother Capi tal." Three of the girls agitated amongst the rest for a union (pure and simple, at that), and were discharged. Thereupon the rest-quit their switchboards and paralvzed the telephone system of the city Meanwhile the merchants started to kick. During the confusion a Socialist Labor Party man was niet by Prof. Cur tis, one of the perfumed respectables of the Debs-Kangaroo S. D. P., who had as usual with these gentry, a petition The comrade was requested, in the pro fessor's most suave manner, to sign it. Upon examination it turned out to be an agreement something like this: "We. he undersigned, subscribers to the telenhone exchange, demand that if the strike (?) is not settled at once, that our telephones be removed." You see, said this ten years' "student" of Socialism. we will make this a test to see if the merchants will show any sympathy for the girls!!! He was rubbed un against the hard facts of the class struggle, and then admitted that if the business men refused to sign it it would show the working class who were their enemies!!! The petition has not been heard from

Here is another example of what the tolerant "cheese-mite" Socialists have to support, and an instance of the blackhearted treason to the working class that the labor fakir is capable of. Mr. Middleton, chief labor fakir of Seattle, holds a political job from the Demo-Pop fusion party, as clerk in the county offices. "Yes, but," says your "tolerant" chump, "he shouldn't let his job infinence him in his duty to the working class." Well, let us see. Mr. Middleton helped to organize, and had himself made an honorary member of, the Retail Clerks' Association, here: Shortly afterwards, the clerks were found going around town advocating "Democratic politics," and pushing Mr. Bryan as the workingman's friend. This move is directly traceable to Middleton; and the Socialist Labor Party at its street and hall meetings. inside and outside of the capitalistic unions (mostly outside) is making it so bot for Mr. Middleton and his fellow fakirs that they will soon have to seek new fields and dupes; only to be followed, Nemesis-like, wherever they go, by the Socialist Labor Party, which has swern war to the knife against all such traitors to the working class.

Workingmen! Strike, and strike hard at the ballot box on November 9, against the labor fakir, and his master, the capitalist class.Do not be deceived by the bogus "Socialism" of the Social Democratic labor fakirs, the clap-trap antiimperialism of the Populist Democratic labor fakirs, nor the blatant, brazen lice. statistics and falser patriotism of the-Republican labor fakirs, but vote the ticket of the Socialist Labor Party, which has, in senson and out of season, shown its determination to cleanse the Labor. Movement of the slime and the fifth that are hanging to it, and is the only party that will lead the working class

Section Seattle, S. L. P., celebrated the anniversary of July 10-Kangaroo daywith a social gathering. A stuffed Kangaroo was secured for the occasion from a naturalist and the young people enjoyed themselves immensely in throwing rubber balls at the animal. Speeches were made by John Mennette and M. J. Kennedy, and our orchestra furnished the music. The affair was a success.

Thus the convention travailed and labored and brought forth, a mouse, How harmless to capital are these labor laws we already have, how easily set aside by judges and non-enforced by officers of the capitalist government!

One thing more this convention evolve a resolution requesting the A. F. of L. to endeavor to have an amendment to the Chinese Exclusion Act passed, making it exclude Japanese as well as Chinese. One who reads of these performances feels like saying with old Solon-"True you are singly each a crafty soul, but altogether make one empty fool."

Aud They Use Victor Hugo's Picture As a Frontispiece! With all the fallacies contained in this magazine, the editors have presumed to adorn it with a good picture of Victor Hugo as a frontispiece. Hugo with his revolutionary spirit would scorn the whole rabble of those who treat the pressing questions, relating to capital and labor, in such treacherous fashion. The man who said: "The French Revowrath will be absolved by the future; its result is the world made better. From its most terrible blows there comes forth a caress for the human race. Yes, the brutalities of progress are called revolu tions. When they are over this fact is recognized,-that the human race bas been treated barshly, but that it has progressed." The man who uttered these words would look with horror upon a man like Gompers who, swelled like a toad with self-importance, dares to stand before the men who slave and sweat and toil and say: "With our motte, 'Organize, organize,' we will reform the industrial conditions, we will harmonize those who 'conceive and direct,' with those who execute the schemes of capital' And with his hands recking with the blood money of the workers he will be tossed aside as a worthless cur, in the onward march of that army of working men, whose tread can even now be heard-the fighting army of the Social ist Labor Party, knowing the power of the enemy they war against, and fully conscious of the effectiveness of the weapons with which they fight - the BALLOTS of freemen. And to Gompers and others who would perpetuate wage-slavery in their federations we would say, No oblivion is black enough to hide a man who is a traitor to his BLLA REEVE COHEN.

Growth of Socialist Labor Party During Past Year.

First American Section Organized in 1896 -Minneapolis and Duluth Followed-Winena Is About to Be Organized-Ca-1985 of "Brains Algernen Lee-Campaign Work Is Opening up-Large Vote in Minnesota This Year-The "Daily People."

ST. PAUL MINN, Aug. 3.-It cannot but be extremely gratifying to all who understand the aim and object of the Socialist Labor Party, and those of its members in this State who remained true to the Party's principles to look back over the past years. While the history of the S. L. P. has not been one of phenonenal growth in Minnesota it has been one of steady gain. In spite of the numerous obstacles and difficulties with which the workingmen have to contend with, they are here marching steadily forward with but a single, purpose: The abolition of wage slavery and the establishing of the Socialist Commonwealth. It is not many years since Socialists were as scarce in Minnesota as oysters in a stew at a church festival. The first American Section of the Socialist Labor Party was organized in St. Paul in February, 1896. A few months after that the German and Scandinavian Sections same in. An American Section had been organized in Minneapolis some time before, and has been gaining strength ever since, until now it is without doubt one of the liveliest in the States. Since then a Section has been organized in Duluth and there promising fields at several points in the State. Before lung a new Section will be organized in Whona, where the Party has a number of class conscious and enthusiastic members. The first Secretary of the State Comnittee was Mr. Lee, a young Kangaroo who since has reached maturity and last year jumped to his kind in New York. It is said that the Socialists here aided in giving abundant momentum to the leap. Ask Mr. Lee. During his term of office he conducted affairs to suit Mr. Lee and the result was that when the present Secretary, Comrade Davidson, was elected be found matters in a deplorable condition. There was no way of getting in touch with the members-at-large, as the former Secretary either did not have any list of such members or did not feel an irresistible desire to turn such list over. When finally the members-at-large were located it appeared that their experience with the editor of "The Tocsin" had made them suspicious and they had lost confidence in "the best brains of the Party." Since these brainy individuals have been fired we have gained strength steadily and all stand solld for the party.

When the new State Committee took hold of affairs there was no money in the treasury and a number of warrants were outstanding, unpaid. However, things are looking brigater and we are in good fighting trim for the coming election.

During the trouble of July last, year, Section St. Paul never wavered. There were, of course, "broad minds" and "brainy" men here also, but they soon found the climate unhealthy, and with the proper assistance from the socialists made their little jump. Yes, the atmosspolis they had some trouble. This has been reported elsewhere in THE PEOPLE and it is unnecessary to take up space to go into details. I will only say that when the section in that city was flially cleared of all incumbrances in the form of shyster lawyers, would-be doctors and other things equally "brainy" and "broad," the socialists proceeded to do business; and they are still there, loyal to the cause and full of enthusiasm and determination to carry on Watch for results of the coming election this fall. We expect great things and are working for them. The DAILY PEOPLE is what we have been in great need of, and now when we have it, we shall make good use of it. By spreading such a paper among the workingmen a such a paper among the wo REPORTER.

Figured out on a basis of the accounts given in the New York papers, Bresei spent his whole life in marrying, and in getting "accomplices." One would thinkthe first named employment would be sufficient to keep him fairly busy, but he has managed to make himself the most married and the most "accompliced" man in existence. The "World" and the man in existence. The "World" and the "Journal" sent out their "bright young men" to find a few plot incubators, and they found them by the score. Practically every Italian in the city would exhibit, for a proper compensation, one or even two plots "hatching." For the last few days there was much money in allowing the eagle-eyed reprentatives of the saffron-hued sheets to feast their gaze upon one able bodied anarchist hatching a plot. Mest of them, unfortunately, set on addled aggs, honce the manavory appearance of the above mentioned papers. Published by the Socialist Labor Party, at 2,4 and 6 New Reade St., New York. P.O. ### THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

The average voter loves a many-syllabled, rotund phrase—especially as a campaign cry. If you have a three-syllable word your chances are good; with a four-syllable word your chances are better. Bryan passes the hot weather in his Nebraska home, and announces that "paramount issue is imperialism." We have never had that before, and as it sounds all right it cannot but make

A campaign issue is not like a diseas that calls 'for a certain, definite . treatment. It serves one purpose, and one purpose only, that of attracting the votes of the working class. The paramount issue is to run the working class vote boto the ground. That vote is the only disturbing element in capitalist politics. A thing never becomes an issue, para mount or otherwise, until the thing upon which it is founded is past history. The course of action is settled, and if the Democrats were the instigators, the Republicans find their issue in opposition. If the Republicans determined the course the Democrats make opposition their line of argument.

This does not prevent either from sharing the results. It does not prevent them from jointly seeking to accomplish their object of nullifying the working class vote, and of vitiating the working class strength.

There is no great question with an employer except controlling the men whom he employs. So in the political field, where the employing class is most threatened, there is no issue but to get rid of the votes of the proletariat.

That is the true "paramount issue" with the Democrats and the Republicans.

LABOR REPRESENTATIVES WHO DO NOT REPRESENT.

Mr. Keir Hardie contributes an article to the "Forum" for August on Labor and Politics in Great Britian. which bears all the ear-marks of the "me too" brand of labor fakir. He speaks of twelve "labor members" in the House to class them with the labor representatires in Belgium, France and Germany. Further on he bubbles over at the prospect of electing forty or fifty such with the Radicals and Home Rulers to fight for Socialism.

In the United States we have been afflicted with "me-too" Socialists of the Kier Hardie type, neither have we escaped the infliction of the "labor member" of the pure and simple English style. But the labor movement here knows him for what he is-a placeman of CEDITAL comparing a jelly fish to a man. Elected as they are, by the ignorant, class unconscious pure and simplers, their nomination secured by catering to the labor fakir leaders and freaks of the Kier Hardie and Blatchford type, they reflect in their actions in the House of Commons the ignorance and freakishness to which they owe their election.

The outside world never hears of them. They sit mute and respectful in their seats in Parliament while the working class of England is being robbed and degraded, or protest in that whinning currish way peculiar to the pure and simpler in all lands. The very reasons they advance for the weak protests they utter and the tone in which they utter them are meant as a justif ation for the outrage they pretend to profest against. To call them "labor members" is an insult to the working class. They differ from the other capitalist members only in being downright cowardly; they have no more relation to the Socialist move ment than the fat bourgeois members elected by the brewing interests.

The Socialist Labor Party members everywhere stand and fight for the best interests of their class. Their voices are heard by the world, and command that respectful attention and fear only accorded to honest fighters. Elected by the intelligence of the proletariat, and not by the favoritism of the fleecers, they truly voice the aspirations of the working class.

It is high time the English working class aroused itself and kicked out its "labor representatives" who do not rep-

FROM FREAK TO FAKIR.

It has been well said that in the log ical course of evolution the freak develops into a fakir. Instances to prove this could be adduced by scores in the United States alone, to say nothing of England, which is even more of a breeding ground for the genus freak and the ingenuous fakir. But the latest and mos noted illustration of this truth is fur nished by the champion freak, the kingpin of all scatter-brains: Willie Two of Germany.

'Like other but less noted freaks, this imperial wild-ass has had his defenders. The same excuses were advanced, for him as for the others-and a few additional ones. We were told that he was young, but coming our way: that he meant well: that he was taking a step at a time; that he would shake the free and unlimited coinage of soldiers at the rate of sixteen soldiers to one barrel of sauerkraut after election and join the movement. Besides urged the excuse-makers, diseases of the blood and brain run in his family.

But the latest move of this royal crool will convince even the most maudlin of his defenders. He is trying to become the P. M. Arthur of Germany! Disdaining the lesser laurels of a Gompers, a Ratchford or a Samuel Prince, he boldly grabs at the crown of shame encircling the brow of the chief fakir of America: he tries to snatch at one fell swoop that wreath of infamy which Arthur acquired by long years of treachery. And the deep damnation of the whole affair: that which shows the moral obliquity of conscience on the part of this aspirant for the crown of labor fakirdom, is, that he deliberately plagiarizes our own P. M. Arthur's words and methods. Here is the tale:

· A strike of German workmen; a gang of men who took their places. The Freak, who is also emperor, visits the works, scolds the strikers, praises the men who took their places, and puts

A full-fledged, arrogant fakir, praising reachery and abusing heroism, this erstwhile freak is a classic example of the evolution of frenk to fakir.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE.

The Daughters of the American Revolution must look to their laurels. Up in Canada a similar society has been formed for the purpose of marking the graves of Canadian soldiers. The graves of the Revolutionary soldiers were marked when the daughters had time to stop fighting for social precedence and office. Where their sisters have the advantage is in the fact that they are to collect the photographs of dead soldiers.

The plan as outlined is an extremely good one. The authorities in Africa are of Commons, and then adroitly seeks to co-operate with the Daughters of the Empire. The soldiers' graves are to be sailed, and a stone is to be placed there on. The plan will probably work itself out in the usual way. While the war "labor members," and of their coalition is still in the minds of the Daughters all is plain sailing. The dead soldiers become heroes, and the living ones. broken in health and spirits, become according to news reports, tramps and outcasts.

It is not the sign of a healthy social condition when societies which seek to live upon the reputation of the dead. exist and flourish. It will be noted that no honor is claimed by the society because some of the men returned alive.

A very few men may be induced to secrifice their lives and health in the hope of France, Belgium and Germany is like chat the Canadian society will place a stone on their graves and obtain a copy of their photograph. The majority will, however, be more impressed by the record of war as it is illustrated by the human wrecks which float in from the field of battle. We have not as yet arrived at a point where society is formed for a purany other than the advantage of the individuals that compose it. The American Revolution sets the hearts of its daughters aflame with patriotic ferver, but the glow only serves to bring personal desires and ambitions to a white heat. So with the Canadian society. There may be human aspirations enough in it, but they will all be lost when the society really gets down to

BRYANISM SPELLS BRESCI-ISM.

From North Carolina comes a story of wholesale assassination and suppression of votes that should make glad the hearts of the Bourbon Democrats all over the Union. Organized thousands of "Red Shirts," armed with Winchester rifles meet every white speaker and either drive him from the State with blows and threats, or give him a royal reception. depending on whether he favors disfranchisement of the negro or not.

These "Red Shirts" are Bryanites and they are practicing the methhods of Bresci; they are killing negroes who attempt to register; they are bulldozing white men who disagree with them; they are committing these crimes so as to insure the successful perpetration of another crime: robbing the negro workingman of the franchise.

None the less brutally, but more skillfully hidden behind a legal fiction, the Bryanites practiced Bresci's taciles in Idaho. The double purpose to be accomplished there was to smash the labor unions and thus help the Standard Oil Co., and to disfranch'se the miners who were breaking away from the old parties, and thus help the Bryanite politicians, Steunenberg, Sinclar, et al. To accomplish these ends a reign of terror was inaugurated; property was blown up with dynamite; the miners were shot, clubbed and imprisoned in the Bull Pen. Then they were driven by threats and the blacklist from the State.

What Bresci did by retail the Bryan Democracy does by wholesale. Its month filled with words of love for the workingmen, it savagely butchers them South and West. From North Carolina to Idaho, wherever it has the power, it imitates Bresci. It does not shoot down the workingmen in Pennsylvania simply because its Republican twin is there for that purpose.

With "Red Shirts" in North Carolina and Bull Pens in Idaho; anarchy rampant; murder and riot the order of the day, the Democratic party stands revealed in its true colors: to the working class, white and black, Bryanism spells Brescism.

THE NORTH CAROLINA OUT-RAGE.

The Democrats and Republicans feel safe in North Carolina now that the disfranchise amendment has passed. Strange to say, their fellows throughout the country also breathe more easily. The majority given is a large one, and those who were most directly concerned in the result took no interest whatever in the con-

The state troops, armed deputies, and the regular police were under arms all day, and any protest, or even a close contest, meant that force would be used. The negroes are perfeetly peaceful, and the light infantry is ready to take the field at a moment's

There are 75,000 voters accounted for by this amendment, and it is a noticeable tendency to restrict the number of men who are eligible to go to the polls and have a voice in the affairs of government. The deep sense of security on the part of those instrumental in this outrage proceeds from two sources. The act was carried through after a mock contest, and no costly trouble occured. The North Carolina Democracy has the backing of the North Carolina Republicans, and of the Republicans and Democrats throughout the country. There is a sense of security because the initial step in wholesale disfrauchisement has been taken. and there has been no discordant element. There is a sense of peace and calm, but even in North Carolina, with its thousands of ignorant voters, it is the calm which procedes the coming social storm.

ASIATIC SIGHTS CROPPING UP IN NEW YORK.

The Indian fakit makes a living by exposing his scres and his mutilations. The sidewalks of this city have begun to show that we also take notice of these distortions, and that they are used as a source of revenue. A gentleman who sells "Down with the Trust" buttons on Broadway allows his palsied and hideous left hand to fall over his wares so as to call attention to them. A beggar, farther down the street, has his trousers rolled up so as to expose his artificial legs, Almost directly opposite a man pitifully raises the stumps of his arms and appeals for aid. It is had enough to be afflicted with the loss of any member of the body, but it is a great deal worse to be thrown onto the street. What kind of a civilization is this when the maimed and the injured in the race are subjected to still further torture?

The missionaries, at last accounts, were all safe. Mr. Conger was also safe, and confident that Peking could hold out. let the preparations for war still go on. The amount of provisions, lumber, am munition, arms and other supplies already in the field is almost as great as tha ed during the whole time of the Spanish war. It seems that the friends of peace and order, and the staunch supporters of the government are deter nined to make money out of canned bee while there yet remains a single mule in the country.

A crowd of about 1,500 that paid adnission to the Syracuse Ball Park last Saturday, demanded their money back when the Syracuse team refused to play and, upon being refused, they-destroyed the fences, the grand stand and every bing in sight. How many of these riot ers recognize the fundamental justic that there is in the labor demand for the total overthrow of a social system that robs it, not of a petty sum, given for needed for life and intellectual develop-

The Princess Cantacuzene admits the soft impeachment that she is a mother, It is about eight months ago that some of the papers threw fits because she was at that time another mother. In fact, despite the double marriage in the Greek Church and in a good old American church, the ceremony did not furnish immunity. The little girl came two months after marriage. All this leads us to believe of this other birth to the child already many months old. But then American children are precocious though we did not know really how rapidly they could age under certain circumstances.

Mr. Leigh Bierce, who is to all intents and purposes a "wise guy," feels as does a tom cat when a brawny swain has with malice propense, placed a spade on said feline's back, and driven it home with one pat of his hob-nailed, number ten boots. We refuse to have anything further to do with him until he gets a eputation. The "Telegraph" is different proposition. As the spokesman of Tammany it will be necessary not only to place the spade on its back but also to dig its grave.

The New York "Sun," indignating at the American Cotton Company, better known as the Cotton Bale Trust, is not the least of the humors of the campaign Roosevelt, the San Juan poltroon, posing as an Ethan Allen dare-devil, is not a ircumstance alongside the paper that upholding every trust in sight as ideal gantic concerns," merely pecause the American Cotton Company happens to be owned by a Bryan National Commit-CINE.

A! life is ever changeful; ever changeful. We remember a time when the editor of the "Citizen" was hurling oratorical defiance at the president of the American Federation of Labor, agreeing to provide the hall, and pay all expenses, giving the president the option of supplying the audience. And sow they are to paternally clasp hands and battle together in a common cause, for they are comrades on the "trus question." Oh! such is the irony of fate Oh! such is the irony of fate.

McCullagh, superintendent of elections, is to have a force of eight hundred s this coming election in order to prevent illegal voting. It is safe to assume that he knows just what to pre-vent and what to allow. In the districts that are not certain to give a majority for Tammany the inspection will rigorous. Even there the rigor will be as an employee, not of the city, but of a exercised as an employee, not of the city but of a political party. Where the Tammany vote is a known quantity, and is of sufficient weight to overthrow the oppos-ing vote, there will be no necessity for rigor. There would be no talk of strict inspection were it not that Tammany feels itself threatened. There would be no the fact that capitalism, intrenched in nothing in order to retain its position.

Altgeld is regularly trotted out before each campaign in the hope that he will give utterance to some epigram that may be used as a watchword. He is the meg aphone speaker of the Democracy, and the radical leaning which he was supposed to lean gave him a footing among the working class. This year he doe Roosevelt up in a bundle of words that mean nothing. He applies every scur-rulous epithet in the English language to him. They are all deserved, it is true, but in making his points Altgeld fouls the already unclean nest of the Demo cratic party. He brings up tax-dodging, franchise law, expansion, militarism. In all these matters the Democrats have shared the ignominy, and put in an early claim for the spoils. Altgeld wore himself out some years ago, and the attempt to resurect him as a campaign side show will hardly work.

Out in Mansfield, Ohio, the are per-secuting the elders of Zion Church. The mob painted two of the elders green. We have not yet heard that the Boxers did any painting where the missionaries were concerned, but even the Boxers could learn a few things here in America.
Stones were thrown, windows were broken, and many people were injured.
All this is in line with the propagation of the holy scriptures, and if Zionists, or any other denomination, will persist in trying to convert the savages of Mans-field, or Boston, or New York; they deserve to get all that is coming to them.

CASUAL OBSERVATIONS.

By Armand Hammer, Baltimore, Md.

I have often heard the expression "This would be a strange world if all people were of one mind." You have heard it, too, no doubt. It is the barricade of the fakir and the political con-fidence man when cornered. He uses it with the sangfroid of thorough conviction, laughs softly, pats you patron-izingly on the shoulder, and-runs away. . . .

The expression has several forms, all apparently distinct and separate, but with a natural affinity, nevertheless; in fact, a limb of one tree-the fakirs' weeping willow. Another of its limbs is, "We have no quarrel with the Sorialists. We admire their enthusiasm. Just at this season in the cycle of time the labor press-God forgive meteems with such declarations. They are always preliminary to an election; and are broad enough to be termed strategic positions. At the proper time they can be used to strike a blow or to ward one off. It depends entirely on the 'wind." Rather is the "wind" directed against that class, and the preliminary declarations-such as "fealty to ourselves," 'recognizing our rights," "the demands of justice require," "no longer bound to any partisan political alliance," etc.,—are simply feelers to the capitalist to steet the current in the proper course, previ-ous to "wheeling into line." The jackass mantle which covers this mangy wolf is called "independent political action," and the "wind" carries with it the stench of the political bawdy house, perfumed with the obnerious oder of the political pro-

An expression which was once the stock in trade of the optimistic idiot who really believed that he would one day be the president of country."--"The workman of to-day may be the millionaire to-morrow,"-is seldom heard now. It had its origin, no doubt, in the throbbing top-piece of an aspiring journalist at the helm of a country weekly. The country weekly is rapidly sep-arating itself from its helm, and the journalist of to-day is becoming the tramp of to-morrow; but the country weekly has not a monopoly of the tramp journalist, a new species of the box-car tourist which is gaining in numbers at an alarming rate-for The great metropolis adds more than its quota to the intellectual Ragged Rogers tribe. Probably now the intense humor of the comic-paper Weary Willie will appeal to their mirth-provoking senses in its fullest measure, as they realize that the most ludicrous situation in life is seeing plenty to eat-and going hungry.

'I have observed lately that Samuel Gompers is "coming our way." The Cleveland "Citizen" announces that Samuel is "with the Socialists on the trust question." I have also observed that the "great progressive" Central Labor Union of Cleveland is moving for ward backward, while the "Citizen" is frantically endeavoring to prove that the mitted to a Socialist programme. deed, this is a great victory for the "unaffilited Socialists." Imagine the benefit to be derived, and the marvels to be achieved, through the missionary efforts in behalf of Socialism of Gompers, O'Connell, Duncan and others, whose aggregate knowledge of the Labor Movement could be conveniently crowded on a postal card.

However, I observe that Mr. Gompers will deliver the Labor Day address at The Socialists of the "united" variety have progressed to such an extent that they have convinced "the swarthy champion of labor" he is a fullfledged united Socialist on the trust ques tion, with a provisional executive com-mittee headed by Moritz Heelkowicsz. with its seat located wherever Moritz sits down. I wonder if this new sensa-tion of being a united Socialist on the part of the president of the American Federation of Labor will abolish that peculiar desire to stand before a mirror an hour at a time arranging his hair to give it that flowing, bunched-in, brains days of weeping oratory. ### Uncle Sam and Brother Jonathan.

UNCLE SAM-You seem to be in great hurry; where are you going?

BROTHER JONATHAN-I am going to my union. I am a little behind. I want to square up and withdraw. U. S .- Withdraw?

B. J.-Yes. . What's the use in being in a union? Every sensible man should get out and save his money.

U. S .- Are you going daft?

B. J.-No. I'm grown wise. I have noticed that the strike and the boycott are played out. They were good enough when the bosses were cockroach bosses But just as soon as the bosses combine into larger concerns we might as well try to spit at the moon as to beat them with the boycot or the strike. They'll wallop us every time. And that's what's happening now. I haven't money to throw away.

U S .- And for that reason you would have the unions disband?

B. J .- For that and for other reasons.

U. S .- Which other? B. J.-As the union can not win any more with its old and only weapons, it falls into the hands of fakirs who trade upon it and sel it out, and use it as a foot stool to step on, and advertise themselves to the politicians.

U. S .- Have you any other reasons? B. J.-No. are these not enough?

I'. S .- Decidedly not.

B. J.-What sense is there in paying dues to keep a fakir in a job? U. S .- In the first place, as far as the fakir question is concerned, the usefulness or uselessness of unionism cannot be settled by it. The fakir is not a fixture. He can be snuffed out. And if the worse were to come to the worse, if the fakir has entrenched himself in such a way, as the officers of the United Mine Workers have done, that they can use your own dues to beat you down and flourish in fakirism, then you can pull out the bulk of the intelligent men, leave the fakirs to starve high and dry, and start a good bona fide union. I admit that a thing controlled by-fakirs will do labor no good, and will even hurt the workers; and that, even if such a thing dignifies itself with the name of "union," it should be smashed. R. J .- And suppose you do, and build a bona fide, honest organization, what good will that do? The boycott and the strike are played out.

U. S .- Suppose they are; let's leave that part of the question aside for the present. Do you imagine that the organization of labor by trades has no other good purpose':

B. J.-None that I can see.

U. S .- You have heard of a man called Bismarck, haven't you? B. J.-Yes.

U. S.-Well, powerful though he was, and willing and anxious, to boot, to squelch the Socialist movement in Germany and hang every did he do that? B. J.-What, hang them?

U. S.-Yes. B. J .- No, he dian't.

U. S .- Why, being so powerful?

R. J.-Guess he didn't dare to.

U. S .- That's just it. Even the mos powerful and the most willing to de wrong feel to-day curbed by public opinion. Now, then, vicious though boss may be, and anxious to do wrong to one of his workmen, he will fee curbed in his desire if he knows that his men are organized, that they will all resent his action, strike and thereby make public his act. Is that clear? B. J.-Yes.

U. S.-Thus organization can do some good as a shield, provided, of course, it is in the hands of honest and intelligent leaders, not fakirs.

B. J.-Well, would that alone be worth the dues we pay and the time we spend on the union?

Ii S .- I think so. But that is not all. The union answers other good purposes. Are you sure that the working class won't have to fight physically for their rights? Are you quite sure that the capitalists, ousted at the ballot box by the-workers, will not do what the slaveholders of the South did-throw to the wind their pretences of being law-abiding and take up arms to thwart the fiat of the suffrage?

B. J.-Well, no; I'm not quite sure they won't. U. S .- The union of the workers, al-distinction for many years of producing ore shoes than any other city in the world. This great output, which calls for the labor of many thousand persons. was effected by fewer hands comparatively, than in any other town. The real ratio is hard to find, but it is safe to say that fifteen per cent more work is done by the Haverbill operative then is done by any other. Despite this fact, Haverhill is only another of the med factory towns.

The past year (from November last. to fix the date) there has been an almost complete suspension of business. Agitation, unionism, impossible demands have all been used as an explanation. But the explanation did not change the state of affairs. Haverhill continues to decline, and the Board of Trade is at its wit's end. New industries must be inreigled into the city; the workers must set fri hien capital away; cheap lal or must be made plentiful. As a matter of fact there is no cheaper labor in the country than some of the labor in the Haverbill shoe factories. Yet the shoe industry cannot thrive there.

The explanation is very simple to one who studies modern industry. Haverhill has declined because it is no longer a modern shoe city, and, while it has gigantic factories compared with the factories of even ten years ago, it is by no means in the race with the new. improved factories of the West. Really modern methods do not prevail, and, or no union, Board of Trade or no Board of Trade, Haverhill will continue to decline unless its whole system is brought up to date.

A business has an organic life, and while the constituent parts may change bruptly and seemingly causelessly, there is a steady uniform development. This is true of the shoe trade, and I yan and Haverhill, in their way once the leading shee cities of the world, have fallen by the wayside because they did not keep pace with the development of the indus try. Where I ynn once had the whole market, she now holds only a mere fragment. Where Haverhill was once mas-ter of all, she now must enter as a minor

It is like the leather industry in some Fifteen years ago Massachusetts tanning and currying trade in its own bands. Then decay set in. md, while more leather is made to-day than ever before, Massachusetts has only a small portion of it. The trade ed to be unsteady, and the Knights of Labor were supposed to have been been a simple matter to move as a place the cause. Then the trade migrated, and end of dying, as it was supposed to do gigantic establishments sprang up in the West, and new and improved methads prevailed. The modern cur-rying shop is great in size, efficient in production, conducted is great in size, production, conducted mical scale, therough in its organization, and capable of producing more and better leather than was p duced under old hand conditions. Above all, it is trustified; and while at present the great magnates are playing fast and se with the stock, they do so simply because they recognize its value, and seek to oust the small holders. When that is done we shall have the leather trust in all its glory. There is another thing in this connection that shows the improvement that has taken place. Skill is not necessary, intelligence is not necesand blind obedience. With them alone, the worker is an improved part of an improved machine, and therefore a worthy adjunct to modern capitalist methds of production. When the leather industry moved away.

It was the opinion of the uninformed workers that it had passed from the earth forever. They did not see that new fields were being broken in, and that a new set of workers had taken the places of the former workers. The same opin-ion holds good to-day, and in Haverbill, where the cry is deep and bitter among the business men and workers, attempts are being made to retrieve the lost prestige, and once more march in the van of capitalist production.
This shifting, or slumping of productien to the West was not caused by an nce of men there, but was caused by a fullness. There also a change had n place, and prepared the country for a still greater change. The constant aream of pioneers had opened up the country and prepared it for the agricul-The small farms gave a meens of living to almost countless numbers but here a change was destined to take place. The bonanza farm tore the small farmer from the land, and east him on to the world; with no means of making a living. Only a tithe of the former independ at farmers could find employment as wage workers on the farm, so they migrated to the large cities. Here, too, the struggle for work was relentless, and an immense gray of anemployed was the result. THIS IS THE VIRGIN FIELD OF LABOR POWER THAT

The city of Haverhill has had the | bulk or singly. The children live at the asylum and each morning go to the vari-ous factories. Most of the money they earn goes to the institution for board lust is one of the reasons why charitable societies pay so well. But this use of the children has its direct influence upon the shoe industry as a whole. Wages go down to the level of what the children in the homes can subsist on The trade is an inhuman one. It is vici ous in every way, but it is typical of capitalism.

This state of affairs is responsible for the decline in Massachusetts. It cannot by boards of trade. It cannot be cured by appeals to labor be cured by appeals to labor not to abuse its little brother capital. The whole state must ome down below what is now standard of living in other parts of the country. It must, even to a greater extent than prevails to-day, place upon th altar of capitalism its children and its women. Even by doing that, all is not

A factory in the West is a gigantic affair. For example, Wolff Bros. of Columbus, Ohio, can place a million-dollar order for one grade of leather. That would keep a New England manufac-turer going for years. All the changes which have been taking place cannot be duplicated in a day. They are in line with the evolution of industry, and the growth of capitalism. The New England workers will not be swept off the earth. They will be prepared for a lower form of living, and will be driven below the point which they have now wage workers of the West. There is the vast mine of labor power in China. and that is the objective point of the capitalist. As a new proletariat was formed by the development of the lonanza farm, so a still newer one is in process of formation by our cannon in China and the Philippines. It is not the factory of the western cities alone that Haverhill has to deal with Western cities in turn must deal with the far East. It is no child's play that this reason it is necessary that the progress of all industries be closely followed and its various stages be understood. The Haverhill papers and the Haverhill workers sit in sorrow, weeping when they should act. Two things only can be done. Come down not only to the level of the men who took the trade in the first place, but down, down to the people who will take the trade in its next stage of development. The Asiatio faces the American workingman to-day. and the odds are in favor of the Asiatic. On the other hand he can take up the task of his class, and having ousted the class that now makes all industries a hell, take possession of them in the name

Every move society makes is towards the co-operative commonwealth. The way may be covered with the dead and dying but we must move or trample ourselves in the present state. We cannot turn, we cannot go back. The Socialist Labor Party leads the march, and behind it is the whole of society willingly or unwillingly pressing forward.

MALLONEY IN

The Socialist Labor Party Candidate for President Addresses a Big Crowd.

A Mass Meeting of Working Men in Fall River Such as Has Never Been Held There in Point of Numbers and in Point of the Deep Impression Made by

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 31.-Wednesday was a red letter day to the Socialist Labor Party of the Spindle City, being made so by a visit from the Party's candidate for President, Joseph F. Malloney, of Lynn. Malleney arrived in this city in the afternoon, and was met at the depot by James Sweeney, a prominent Socialist. He took a car, like an ordinary personage, and arrived at the centre of the city a few moments later. There he was nict by a committee of Socialists consisting of William Starkey, J. Rigby and Samuel Platt, who escorted him to the South Park, where he was billed to speak.

Despite the intensely hot weather fully 600 workingmen gathered to hear the representative of their class, and stayed to the last, rapt in attention at the floods of light thrown upon them.

At 4 o'clock Mr. Malloney mounted a vacant seat on the ground very close to the southeast corner. John Sweeney also mounted the seat, and in a very few words introduced the speak er as the Presidential candidate of the Socialist Labor Party. Without any verbiage, Mr. Malloney, on being introduced, started his address to the people, addressing them as "Fellow wage workers of Fall River." He said that he was present to extend the principles of the Party which he represented. And although this could not be done without treading on some one's corns, he did not propose to let that deter him from what he considered a plain duty. He stated that the eapitalist class has performed its functions until it has become a scourge to the land, and that it was the object and aim of the Socialist Labor Party to wipe it out. The Republicans met in Philadelphia and the Democrats in Kansas City, and each elected a man to represent them. They elected a man who would enter to the interests of the class of capitalists who would elect them. Now the Socialist Labor Party nominated a man from their own class, one who carned his living by the sweat of his brow, to represent them, and to demonstrate their principles. Recognized authorities on statistics have said that 10 years ago nine per cent. of the population owned 71 per cent. of the wealth. This is the Republican Party of to-day. Thirty-nine per cent, of the population owned 25 per cent, of the wealth. That is the Democratic Party of to-day. At the same time they told us that 52 per cent, of the population only owned four per cent. of it; and that class is represented by the man who is talking to you.

In this country as well as in Europe there are two classes of people. The wage slave and the ma, who lives on the back of the slave.

Every army has it heroes and robbers. and the fight we are now making is that the hero shall survive, that the honest shall prosper, and that the come into their own.

The question to-day is not one of imperialism or anti-imperialism, but it is one of whteher you are going to own your own labor or are the capitalists The capitalist is no fool; he realizes that laws ment be made to keep the masses to the proper level, that he may bleed them, that he may live in prosperi-ty while they live from hand to mouth in miserable tenements. You work in your mills ten or twelve hours a day, according to the law of the State in which you toil. The first two hours that you work you produce material and get it back in The other hours you work for the capitalist class. In the feudal ages the slave got three days for himself, and the master got three for himself. Now the slave gets two and the master gets eight. That is why the master wears broadcloth and the slave goes around with holes in his coat. That is why the master has fast l and fast women, while you have a fast in your stomach. [Applause.] That is why Dubuque of your own city passed a law whereby your pay can be trusteed even if you don't get more than $8 or $8 trusts. The Democrats say smash them, the Republican party says smash them, but the Socialist Labor Party says smash both of the other parties, and take pos-esssion of the trust and administer it for hose who work. The American flag workmen and they are asked to go forth to fight and open up countries from which to get cheap labor to take the

which to get cheap labor to take the place of the man who is fighting, and upon his return he is not in it at all.

In this country two years ago we could hear of nothing but the avenging of the Maine. That was avenged, and what is the resuult. You read a short time ago of the arrival of the Cuban teachers in Boston. What were they brought here for? I will tell you. They were taken and shown through the mills and factories and told what a fine business it was and all that, and when they go back they will teach the same things. Then when a textile school is started there, who will be employed? Why the little Cuban boys and girls and the men who will work for almost nothing a day will come in and the American workman has made the mills there possible will be shut out entirely.

will be shut out entirely.

I defy any man in this audience to rise and say that he enjoys the right to support himself. You know you have not. You have no country. Why did you leave England? Because you were ground down by the capitalist system. What caused the trouble in Ireland and the dissolution of the republic in South able to stand the yoke any longer your own statesmen, Henry Cabot Lodge better known as Henry Cabot Dodge who preached that the bars of inmigra tion should be put up and then wants 10,000,000 of the most ignorant people of Uncle Sam as wage laborer.

The boys fought and bled with the Filipinos and took their injection of em balmed beef three times a day with the result that their labor is cheapened and the purchasing power of their dollar is decreased. Do you mean to say that the American capitalist is going to build houses to support the No. He is going to send capital down there to build railroads, and set factories that now are in America, and they, will be run by the cheap ignorant labor of that country.

The capitalists in their greed have recognized that England was making a grab for China; Russia and Germany were doing the same, and they want to know what is to become of them and their share. Then they will call upon workingmen under pretext couple of ministers being kiled and a few gallons of rum spilt and the man straightway forgets his enipty stomach and starts out to make an o door to China, never realizing that it i an open door through which he will be forced out.

The open door to China means an un ultivated people and it means that the American capitalist is going to bleed the American people. They send their ma-chinery into China and they send men there to employ Chinese labor because it Look for a moment at th man who is being put in to compete with He is a Chinaman. You go to thina and you can hire a Chinamar cheaper than you can'n horse. You hitch a horse to a wagon and he goes wherever you went him to. It is the same way in China, a Chinaman will hitch him self to a cart and will go anywhere you

Following the machinery comes the cheap labor and then the factories here begin to close again. I defy any man in the Republican or Democratic parties t say that that will not happen. And it is going to happen. Wherever the capitalist can get the cheapest labor, there he is going to go, and the American workman is going to suffer.

And there is not a man in this city to day who will not condemn the acts the bloodthirsty brutes whose hands are covered with the gore of the working class, and if you go to the ballot box and vote for them you are a Judas Iscariot and a traitor to your class. you east your ballot for such a bloodsucking crew, you are a hypocrite. The man to elect is the man who is of your own class and is class-consciously the bitter enemy of your enemies. I appeal to the workingmen to recognize the fact that you have nothing to lose and every

Why is it that you can't live more than hree or four weeks when the mills are idle, and why is it that your daughters, cannot dress as you would like to see them dressed? Is it because you are idle? A thousand times "No." It is because the power from which you earn your living is invested in hands which are every day grinding you down closer to the stone. If you want to be free men, remember that at the election you have the chance and you can best judge for yourself whether you can vote for McKinley, Bryan or Malloney.

You may raise not a lawyer. I don't want to be, as a lawyer has always been known as one of the most despicable of men. Nor ye vas I a colonel in the Civil War. I am a wage-worker's child, and from childbood it has been impressed upon my mind that for every dollar I got I earned fight, and, although not a general, I have bene a soldier.

You criticise the Jews for crucifying Christ, but when you come to the ballo box if you cast your vote in favor of the capitalists you are sacrificing your selves. If anything is to be done, it must be done on election day. Stand shoulder to shoulder and fight hand and hand, and mark for the class which I represent and to which you belong, the Socialist Labor Party. [Applause.]

The impression made on the large au dience by this speech was profound The audience of workingmen had heard touched the chord every time. His words and his attitude were not those of the politician trying clap-trap.

Malloney left for New Bedford. He will next speak in Boston, and start on a Western tour.

THE RIGHT TO BE LAZY. By PAUL LAFARGUE, Translated Adapted by Dr. Harriet E. Lethrep.

In 1848 the cry in France was "The Right to Work." That cry has come down to us with more or less emphasis, and is to-day the cry of large numbers of the working class. The cry has, however, taken on a modification. Formerly working class spent is energies in a the working class spent is energies in an attempt to secure the right to work for the capitalists. To-day, however, that energy is being expended to obtain the right of the working class to work for

Lafargue takes up the cry of 1848, and uses it as the title of this book, the main purpose being to show the corrup ion and chicanery of the capitalist class, the certainty of the ultimate downfall of capitalism, and the certainty, as well, of the ultimate triumph of the working

CROSS-ROAD STORES.

Pictorial Incidents Showing Their Passing Away.

The Population of Manhattan, Accustomed to Department Stores, and Moving Into the Small Stores-Ludierous Devices to Check the Tendency.

TREMONT, N. Y., Aug. 1 .- A more vivid picture of present conditions and of the passing of the cross-roads store was never presented than that witnessed on 177th street on Saturday.

The reader should know that this sec-

Now, frequent. then, this neighborhood is receiving a large influx of population, people who are familiar with department stores. So of the stores in this section are of the antiquated kind of forty years Mony of them still continue to sell hay and straw, molasses, socp, and candles which, with some canned goods, consti-tute their stock. The result of this has been that business does not increase with the population, and not a few have been obliged to share their store with the laundryman or the barber.

While strolling along I unexpectedly met my old friend McGinnes, carrying heavy load of household provender, be sides being hampered with a light jag, it being Saturday.

"Oh, be the powers!" says he, "I have struck luck to-night."

The fact was, a new store had opened to do business on a cash basis, and it proved a howling success, for the reason as McGinnes put it, "I've saved twenty cents on the dollar, no wonder the ould lad was so obliging, when he told me I need only pay him once a week, whin he was malking twinty per cent off me. But look at him now," said McGinnes, But look at him now," said McGinnes, pointing to a round store-keeper who stood mopping his brow while he looked for customers on the sidewalk; just as I approached I could hear him muttering:

"Mein Gott! dere goes Maginnis!" "Warm evening," I ventured, "Yes, it vos damn hot. Youse want mything dis evening?" suppressed a smile and answered

"You know McGinnes, he vos one of dem crazy Irishmen dot works mit de weed-pullers. It ves me, vot got him his job. Und now he goes mit the fools, und buys at cheap Johns."

"Faith, en' it's no wonder, Jake,' said matronly woman, who was passing with a well-filled basket upon h "if it wasn't for the likes of ye McGinnes wouldn't be a weed-puller; sure, it was after ye closed the mortgage on his little house and turned his children into the street, ye got him the job, and now ye want to hould a mortgage on his job. nless he deals with you, sure I have twinty fine eggs for a quarter in my asket, and ye only give fifteen "Mit chickens in them, too, Mrs.

"The divil a chicken for they were all fresh layed this morning. "Hannes." cried Jake to a boy who stood by the door, "bring me von of dem fresh eggs from the basket, under the counter. Now, Mrs. Noonan, I vill gif you two of mine fresh eggs for one mit the chicken.

Mrs. Noonan displayed her purchase which Jake examined. Holding an egg to his ear, he shook it; it broke. "Oh, mein Gott, it's rotten," cried Jake. "Hannis, get some water mit a broom, I would gif you fifty rotten eggs for a quarter if I had 'em." During this collogny not a few people and stopped to listen. Their laughter on Jake's discovery was mortifying to Mrs. Noonan, who immediately returned to the new store, and proclaimed in unpurchased were rotten. "Indeed?" remarked a salesman, taking the eggs and placing them on top of a flour barrel. He procured a butter ate and broke an egg into it.

"Sure, that's fresh." exclaimed Mrs. Noonan, while a storeful of customers laughed. After all the eggs were broken and all had proved to be fresh, Mrs. Noonan was resupplied at the cost of the ridicule she had to endure, but the way those eggs sold recalled the eve of Jake's litle trick became plain to every body. But poor Hannes is out of a job for telling the truth about the fresh eggs

Thus the light begins to dawn upon the weed-pullers as they read the DAILY PEOPLE, the only advocate t'e, have, despite the claims of the Re Letter Journals which never tell them how their employment is made a condition of

New 10,000 Edition of "The Class Struggle" Now Ready for Shipment.

Orders are now being filled for the new ten thousand edition of "The Class Struggle." "The Class Struggle." is one of the four Kautaky pamphlets translated and adapted from the German by Daniel De Leon. It has been revised by the translator, and is now published in the same form as "The Bull Pen." Subheadings descriptive of the text have been added, and the new edition is typical of the Party's aggressive action and clarifying tactics of the past year.

THE 'LONGSHOREMAN.

The life of a longshoreman consists of | Ward Line, Tammany, which had be hard work, want, uncertainty, and misery. The physical requirements, in themselves, show what is expected of the man working on the docks. He must be strong; he must be calloused; he must have the endurance of a mule; he must be willing to wait; he must rethe Annexed District Simply Wipe Out spend at all hours. While there is a fixed time at which steamers are supposed to arrive, wind and weather count for much, and this uncertainty helps make the life a dreary, disagreeable one. Perhaps, after hours of waiting on the docks, there will be no arrival, and the man will be forced to return home. He is paid by the hour, and no job means no money, while the interest on the tion of the city is a veritable garden of investements of his employer runs right attractiveness because of its undulating along, rain or shine, Sunday and work-The days of no job are growing more frequent, and; as a consequence. also made famous by the Botanical the days of no money also become more

Who would think of marrying on the means that such a precarious employmeat will insure? Who can give himself the pleasures necessary to a civilized man? How can the uncertain, small sum made in the course of a week contribute more than enough to give the coarsest, vilest kinds of food, such food as the animal would scorn? Who can blame the longshoreman for being a brute? It is forced upon him, and the force is being stronger and stronger.

men here in New York have many causes for complaint both against the companies and the bosses. When you watch the men as they move up and down the gang plank you will notice that there is a seembeg confusion, a rushing and a scurrying, but yet the droves of men untangle knot, and when the time comes to leave the dock, all the freight will be stored, all the bagage will be on board, and out seeming chaos comes the most admirable order. It is rough work, but be sides taking strength, it takes skill. One would think that in such heavy dangerous work, all possible safeguards would be provided. Yet it is a fact that most of the gang planks have no rails on the seld, and the utmost care must be taken to prevent the heavy leads from running off, and to prevent the men from being thrown aboard, to an almost tain death. The Morgan and the Old Deminion Lines are especially remiss in this matter, but the men dare not protes They know that the new arrivals, the strong and active Irish, German Sweeth duringrants are waiting for an opening to take the jobs at any price.

It is no uncommon thing for have their fingers, bands and feet crushed by the heavy boxes, and in addition to this the foreman subjects them to the most horrible abuse. He must be a driver, and no slave overseer ever used the ash more unsparingly.

The abuse does not end with mere incommon, and the gentleman known as for his physical prowess. While the ship being freighted he keeps the men the jump, and takes every ounce of move there is in the men out of them all this work they receive the sum of thirty cents an hour, and the hours work in a day are few and far between. The intense strain to which are subjected soon saps them, and simpossible to imagine a man who s old in years working at the business active. As far as strength and activity go they are among the most powerfulnen in existence—and yet they only receive thirty cepts an bour. Even all that is not given to them, and as they are paid by the half hour worked, it is possible to keep the men twenty, or twenty-five minutes overtime and not ony them for it. The hours per day are uncertain. work, and even when it does come there are so many men, and the work must be done so quickly that the pay always remains at the lowest possible point. It is at best not enough to live upon, and yet there is keen competition for the driving and the heavy work are not the worst part of the life. It is necessary to be on hand at all hours of the day and night. It is necessary to work in all kinds of weather. Hence it often happens that, after the heating work of a few hours, the men go ill protected into the chilling air and contract pneumonia, or lay the foun-dation for consumption. The nature of the work, running up and down the plank with heavy loads, also causes strain-

Sometimes the nature of a cargo makes it difficult to light the hold, or even light the gangway. In piling the argo, unless a man is very swift, it is not uncommon to fall from the pile and be injured. Not long ago, on the Morgan Lin; an active young fellow was at work when he fell between the piles, and was dashed to the floor below. He was dragged out in a sling, shattered and bleeding. They placed him on the dock, unnoticed and unattended, and he lay there until the ambulance came later. there until the ambulance came later. It was the company's fault, but when the man came from the hospital a broken cripple they gave him a job as a sweeper on condition that he would not bring suit. It also often happens that the men fall through the hatchway; and when they are unlighted no human being can avoid it, no matter how well he may know the ship.

given office because such organizations as the 'hagshoremen voted for its caudidates, took charge of matters, and sent a squad of police, which proceeded to club the men into subjection. After the club-bing occurred, this same union roted to endorse Tammany, and it stands by l'ammany to-day, ready as the police are to club and abuse the men if they dare to club and abuse the men if they dare to strike. The ready the evils that exist unless they are handled in the proper way. While so many men are ready to take a job, the low wages, har I work, dangers, and wholessle abuse will continue. A blow must sooner or dater be struck, but it will be of he walls.

unless the good right arm of the whole working class is behind it, and the blow is struck intelligently, to wit, with the arry and the Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance On the East River they reduced the price from thirty to twenty-five cents. The men are forced to be on hand at 7 o'clock, even though they are not required until nine or later. If time is morey, according to the old capitalist saw, why in the name of all the saints in the capitalist religion are these men not There is another point, and it shows the way in the gapitalist embrace capitants. The order to get a job it is sually necessary to have the backing of usually necessary to have the backing a saloon keeper. The saloon keeper, be be German or Irish, keeps his weather eye out for new his weather eye out for new nrivals and he pounces upon them like a hawk. If they promise trade enough, and he is sure that he can use them, he finds a place for them, and at once commences to share their miserable, hard earned money with them. saloon keeper is placed by the politician, and the longshoreman must become part of the goods owned and hard earned money with them. and the longshoreman must become part of the goods owned and controlled by the saloon keeper, if he wishes to retain his place of business. Thus we see the reason for his solicitude in getting a place for his beloved fellow countrymen. They are driven up and down the gang plank, like oxen, and they are driven to the polls by the same hand that controls their means of making a living. When the strike occurred a few years ago on the Mallory line the police afforded so, much protection that the company sent the sum of $700 to police head-quarters in acknowledgment of the effective of the sent cient work done. The strike was lost because the city officials were agains the men. The men can make and unmake city officials, but the grinding wystem to which they are bound makes them not only physical wrecks, but it also makes them moral and thellectual wrecks. Here we have the play; and interplay of capitalist companies, with capitalist government. If the strike had been won by the men there would have been no $700 reward from the company.

The real number of accidents is un known as at all times they are carefully hidden, because it might give the company n, because it might give the company a bad name. The men have no redress, because the courts are owned by the companies the same as are the police. 'Inis year the traffic promises to be unusually heavy, and under such circumstances the men ordinarily have a better chance to obtain a raise in wages. No attempt has been made in that direction, because they are bound hand and foot. They cannot strike tiow, and they cannot strike later. If they do, there will be a repetition of the Tammany outrages and Tammany, elected by the longsboremen themselves, will help club them into sub-mission. The only ray of hope for the men is that the Socialist Labor Party is in the field, and that the DAILY PEOPLE is hammering the Tammany, which has clubbed, and the Republicans, which would club, if they had office.

It is probable that before the conven tion adjourns, the operators will be re-quested to meet the representatives of the mine workers in a joint conference to be held in the fall.

Even if such a request is made, it isn't likely that it will be given much attention by the operators, who have herefore contemptuously refused to trust with representatives of the United Mine

Vorkers of America. Several months ago the operators were asked to meet the mine workers in joint conference in this city, but they ignored conference in this city, but they ignored the invitation. At that time the action of the operators greatly incensed the leaders of the Mine Workers' Union, and a big strike was talked of.

Should the operators again be requested to meet with the miners' representatives and they refuse, the biggest and severest strike ever seen in this valley is likely to be decided upon by the leaders, who are hungry for the "check-of" system of collecting dues; meanwhile the organization. LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 31.-The State Supreme Court has declared the Stratton primary law unconstitutional. We will, therefore, not have to circulate petitions, and from the present aspect of the case, no primary law is in effect. An attorney has been secured, and he will inform us how to act. It seems, though, as if primaries can be held in any old way.

The State Convention will be held, and regular nominations of the Socialist Labor Party made, after which it is expected that the Kangaroos will also hold convention, calling themselves the Socinlist Labor Party, make nominations, and then try to get the Debs-Democracy to endorse the nominees. This wil cause a contest before the courts which we expect to win, as it can be easily shown that they are masquerading as the Socialist Labor Party. 3.05

Photograph of the Delegates to the Convention.

The Tenth National Convention of the Socialist Labor Party was held at New York city, June 2—8, 1900.

The absolute harmony that prevailed, the class-conscious resolutions that were adopted, the endorsement of the S. T. & L. A. by a unanimous vote—these actions and many others of an equally advanced character make the convention historic.

The delegates were a robust lot of fakinhating kangaroo-killers standing on the firing line of the Social Revolution, and, responsive to many requests, it was decided to photograph the convention.

The photograph is interesting. In the foreground appears the beautiful red flag presented to the Socialist Labor Party of the United States by the Party Ouvrier Francia, the lettering on the flag being plainly visible. Directly behind the flag stands Joseph F. Malloney, the candidate of the S. L. P. for the Presidency. On one side of Malloney stands the editor of the People, and on the other side National Secretary Kunn, holding on his arm the maliet wrested from the bands of the kangaroos on July 10th, and since then held as an historic trophy of the Socialist Labor Party and used as a gavel at the convention. Directly in front of the flag sits Sanial, the author of the Bocialist Almanac, while to the right and the left are grouped the other delegates to the number of 53.

The size of the photograph 4: 14 by 17 inches.

PRICE,$1.10.

Owing to their large size these photo graphs can be shipped more safely in quantities. Sections are therefore requested to order as many as possible at one time. Four years ago the supply of photographs of the Ninth National Convention was exhausted a short time after the convention adjourned. The supply for the present con-vention may be run out pretty quickly. NEW YORK LABOR NEWS COMPANY.
