WORKMEN AROUSED

The Great Ratification Meeting of the Socialist Labor Party Fills Cooper Union to Overflowing.

MAGNIFICENT AND ENTHUSIASTIC DEMONSTRATION.

The vast audience expresses its approval of the scientific principles and fighting tactics of the only class-conscious working class party of the United States.

The ratification meeting of Cooper Union was a magnificent affair. The enthusiasm of the demonstration was truly inspiring. The meeting was held in the Great Hall of Cooper Union, where a large platform had been erected. The audience consisted of thousands of laborers who had assembled to hear the speakers, who were selected from among the most prominent leaders of the working class. The platform was decorated with banners and flags bearing the names of the Socialist Labor Party. The atmosphere was electric with excitement as the speakers took the podium to address the assembled crowd.

One of the most impressive speakers was a man named John Smith, who delivered a powerful speech in favor of the Socialist Labor Party. He spoke passionately about the need for a revolutionary labor movement and the importance of organizing the working class. The audience was completely engrossed by his speech and gave him a standing ovation. Other speakers followed, each adding their own unique perspective on the issues facing the working class.

The meeting concluded with closing remarks by the President of the Socialist Labor Party, who thanked the audience for their attendance and encouraged them to continue their struggle for a better future. The meeting was truly a demonstration of the power of the working class and their commitment to building a better world.

OFF-HAND ANSWER TO CORRESPONDENTS.

The correspondent who asks if it is safe to sell your capital now that the war is over is misunderstanding the facts. It is perfectly safe to sell your capital if you are satisfied that the war is over and that peace is secure. The present is a good time to sell, and the intelligent investor will take advantage of it.
