WASHINGTON, D.C., March 9—Washington has gone much the same way as Philadelphia, with the closing of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the intercepting of its mail bags. This week, however, the shipping companies have been more forward in their efforts to recover the mail bags. They have been joined by the strike of the postal workers, who have been on strike for several days. The strike has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 10—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

NEW YORK, March 11—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 12—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

NEW YORK, March 13—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 14—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

NEW YORK, March 15—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 16—The strike of the postal workers has spread to several other cities, including New York and Boston. The strike has been called by the strike committee of the American Postal Workers Union, which represents the workers in the postal service.
"ANCIENT HISTORY"

CR HENDING THE VEIL FROM A NEW ENGLAND DREAD.

D. P. Totten to the Working-Class Gentry (United Irishmen) - "I have learned that the people of this town are intensely divided on the question of the proposed railroad. Some of the old-timers speak of it as a necessary evil, while the young men are in favor of it. I do not know what course to take.

TROY, N.Y., June 10 - On Thursday, the members of the Troy Workingmen's Union met to discuss the proposed railroad. The meeting was addressed by Mr. John Brown, who spoke of the benefits that the railroad would bring to the town. He also expressed the hope that the people of Troy would support the railroad.

The meeting was well attended and lasted for several hours. The members of the union expressed their support for the railroad and agreed to work towards its construction.

Letters to the Editor:

"The Need for Unity" - "The people of this town are divided on the question of the proposed railroad. I hope that we can all unite and support the railroad.

Mr. John Brown's speech was very well received. He spoke of the benefits that the railroad would bring to the town and I believe that this will help to bring the people of Troy together.

I hope that we can all work towards the construction of the railroad."
THE "DARNED STONE" THEORY.

The decision of the Court of Appeals of the State, rendered on the 5th instant, that Delaware was not entitled to the allowance of $2,000,000 to be paid by New York to that State under the "Darned Stone" theory, is a decision which is in harmony with the spirit of this great commercial and industrial State, and which is in accordance with the principles of the law of this country. The decision is in line with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the "Darned Stone" theory, and is a decision which will be hailed with delight by the people of Delaware. The decision is in line with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the "Darned Stone" theory, and is a decision which will be hailed with delight by the people of Delaware. The decision is in line with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the "Darned Stone" theory, and is a decision which will be hailed with delight by the people of Delaware. The decision is in line with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the "Darned Stone" theory, and is a decision which will be hailed with delight by the people of Delaware.