THE COMMUNE.

America Has Reason To join in the Observance of the Great Event Which Started the World.

ITS SIGNIFICANCE

The Battles and Assumed Working Class, Degas of the Working Class, 1899-1003.

Though apparently last met in -main Street March to the 129th Regiment and Mill St. in day life, the event that started the world. The approach of the anniversary of the French Commune, the 14th of March, 1871, has called the attention of labor the world over to the issue of the Commune and its significance.

The Commune, which lasted from March 18 to May 28, 1871, was a political revolution in France that lasted from March 18 to May 28, 1871. It was the first violent attempt of the working class to seize power in France, and it marked a turning point in the history of the labor movement.

SOCIALIST VOTE IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1888, 1892, 1896, and 1890.

John P. Altgeld.

The language of the picture seems to indicate that the photograph was taken in a foreign country. In Adler photophone, there is an image of a man with a mustache, wearing a suit and tie. The man is standing in front of a building, possibly a train station or a public building. The photograph seems to be taken in a city with tall buildings in the background. The man is looking directly at the camera, with a serious expression on his face. The lighting in the photograph is natural, with sunlight shining on the man's face. The man is wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, and a tie. His hair is short and neatly combed. The background is out of focus, but it appears to be a busy street with people walking by. There is a sign in the background that is not clearly visible. The overall atmosphere of the photograph is serious and formal.
CORRESPONDENCE.

To the S. T. L. A.

First: What should be the attitude of the S. T. L. A. towards plain and simple social organizations? I am the present editor of the S. T. L. A., and I do not think the policy of the S. T. L. A. is to work with plain and simple social organizations. If we keep quiet and allow the politicians to go on with their schemes, we will soon be in the condition of the S. T. L. A. Is there anything that we can do to help the S. T. L. A. to work with plain and simple social organizations? I have heard that the S. T. L. A. is going to work with plain and simple social organizations. Is there anything that we can do to help the S. T. L. A. to work with plain and simple social organizations?
