THE POTTER STRIKE

ACTION OF PAINTERS AGAINST SOLDERING CAUSING FURON.

They Charge He Is a Non-Union Man, Firm Won't Discharge Him.

The strike is the result of a refusal by the Steel Trust Co. to employ the men who are painting and soldering the new Furon, a high grade of insulation. The men have been working on the job for several weeks and are demanding a raise in wages.

STEEL TRUST SCHEME

UNABLE TO PLUCK WARY INVESTORS, IT TRIES TO PLUCK ITS OWN EMPLOYEES.

The Steel Trust Co. is trying to use its own employees to get the workers out of the strike. The company has offered to hire back the strikers on lower wages and without union protection.

CAPITALIST PAPER TALKS AROUND POINTS.

It is a common practice among capitalists to try to influence the minds of labor leaders by offering them jobs or other benefits. This is often done through the company's own newspaper or magazine.

FRED McGRATH

Rudolph W. Krueger—"Riches—"specials" a "Good Thing."

Jones is in the Daily People office, New York, January 10, 1903—Last night our city was visited by a mob which was composed of labor unions and other labor organizations. The mob was led by the Socialist Labor Party and was made up of men who are actively engaged in the strike. The mob marched through the streets shouting slogans and demanding the release of the strikers.

McGrath's remarks on the platform were received with great enthusiasm, as he plainly said that he did not believe in the use of violence to achieve any "another one." He was dressed in a dark suit, and his speech was delivered with great enthusiasm.

Although there are occasional outbursts of violence, these are the result of the class struggle and not of any special reason.

The strike is a protest against the action of the Steel Trust Co. in refusing to employ the men who are painting and soldering the new Furon.
BY KARL KAUTSKY, WITH SOME CONCLUSIONS AS TO THE PROPER DEFINITION OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE.

If we take up the Marxist movement in this country as it was several years ago, we would find a striking difference in the atmosphere. Now, however, there are those who wish to be taken as representatives of the working class, who no longer have any desire to deceive the masses of the working class in order to ensure their own leadership. The present social order, on the contrary, is the product of a long and bitter struggle, and the existence of the working class as an independent force is possible only in the face of it. The working class is a force that cannot be deceived, and the working class must be its own master.

The working class, plain language, is a force that cannot be controlled. But let us look further into the history of the working class. We find that on any given day, the working class is the only force that has the power to change the present social order. On the contrary, the working class has no power to change the present social order. It is a force that cannot be controlled, and it is a force that cannot be deceived.

The working class is the only force that has the power to change the present social order. It is the only force that can change the present social order. It is the only force that can change the present social order.

We must recognize that the working class is a force that cannot be controlled, and that it is a force that cannot be deceived.

In these few quotations we have Kautsky's contribution to the problem of the class struggle. It is a contribution that is not only timely, but it is also a contribution that is of great importance. It is a contribution that is not only timely, but it is also a contribution that is of great importance.

In saying this, I am not suggesting that Kautsky is the only one who has contributed to the problem of the class struggle. There are many others who have contributed to this problem, and their contributions are of great importance. But Kautsky's contribution is not only timely, but it is also a contribution that is of great importance.

In conclusion, I would like to say that we must recognize the importance of the working class, as a force that cannot be controlled, and that it is a force that cannot be deceived. We must recognize that the working class is a force that cannot be controlled, and that it is a force that cannot be deceived.

The trade in cattle is a very important industry. It is a business that requires a great deal of knowledge and skill. The men who engage in this business must be able to read the market and to predict the movements of the market. They must be able to understand the factors that influence the price of cattle, and they must be able to make decisions based on this knowledge.

A CRITICISM OF A WOULD-BE SOCIALIST CRITIC

WITH SOME EXAMPLES OF THE WAY IN WHICH THE "SOCIALIST" PRESENTS SOCIALISM.

Chapter 1

The Evolution of Socialism

A "Socialist" is a mythical being who has been created by the imagination of some people as a sort of social ideal. The purpose of this chapter is to show that the evolution of socialism is a natural process and that it is not necessary to look to the future for its results.

Chapter 2

The Socialist Movement

This chapter is devoted to the history of the Socialist movement and to the various phases of its development. It is intended to show that the Socialist movement is a natural progression from the capitalist system of production.

Chapter 3

The Socialist Solution

In this chapter, the Socialist solution to the economic problem is presented. It is shown that the Socialist solution is the only logical and rational solution to the economic problem.

Chapter 4

The Socialist Failure

This chapter is devoted to the failure of the Socialist movement. It is shown that the Socialist movement has failed to solve the economic problem and that its failure is due to the fact that it is based on a false premise.

Chapter 5

The Socialist Failure and the Capitalist Solution

This chapter is devoted to the failure of the Socialist movement and the success of the Capitalist solution. It is shown that the Capitalist solution is the only solution that can solve the economic problem.

Chapter 6

The Socialist Failure and the Capitalist Solution and the Future of the Socialist Movement

This chapter is devoted to the failure of the Socialist movement and the success of the Capitalist solution. It is shown that the Socialist movement will soon disappear and that the Capitalist solution will be the only solution that can solve the economic problem.

Chapter 7

The Socialist Failure and the Capitalist Solution and the Future of the Socialist Movement and the Capitalist Solution

This chapter is devoted to the failure of the Socialist movement and the success of the Capitalist solution. It is shown that the Socialist movement will soon disappear and that the Capitalist solution will be the only solution that can solve the economic problem.
