SECRETARY TRAUTMAN'S REPORT

TO THE DELEGATES ASSEMBLED AND MEMBERS REPRESENTED AT THE THIRD ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL WORKERS OF THE WORLD.

(Concluded)

Although some changes have been made in the general business of the convention, the organization of the I.W.W. remains essentially the same as it was the last time it met. The organization is still divided into local unions, each of which is autonomous and is governed by its own officers and members.

The constitution of the I.W.W. is based on the principles of democracy and the democratic control of the organization. This means that all members have a voice in the affairs of the union, and that all decisions are made by a majority vote of the membership.

The I.W.W. is an international union, with members in many countries around the world. It is dedicated to the principle of international solidarity, and works to build a world free of exploitation and oppression.

The I.W.W. is a union of workers, and it seeks to organize all workers, regardless of their race, religion, or nationality. The union is committed to the principles of class struggle and social revolution, and works to bring about a socialist transformation of society.

The I.W.W. is a union that is open to all workers, regardless of their race, religion, or nationality. It is a union that is dedicated to the principles of class struggle and social revolution, and works to bring about a socialist transformation of society.
The IMPORTANT SOCIALIST CONGRESS

SECTION ON IMMIGRATION AND EMIGRATION

By Frank B. K. Roosevelt, The American Socialist candidate for President in the United States, and a member of the Socialist Congress.

The American Socialists are united in supporting the movement of large masses of people from all over the world. This movement is not only a matter of political importance, but it is also a matter of social and economic consequence.

The American Socialists are opposed to the policy of restriction and exclusion, and favor free migration and free trade. They believe that the capitalist system is responsible for the bad conditions of labor, and that the Socialists are the only practical solution to the problem.

LETTER-BOX

OFF-SAND ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

No question will be considered that come in otherwise.

LETTERS MUST CARRY A FIVE CENT POSTAGE

A READER OF WEEKLY PEOPLE.

Your letter on the N.E. C. and the Catholic Church is most gratifying. I think it is high time the Manager of your paper should give some publicity either to the letter of the drop box, to polled that the people would be scouted. If this answer is not satisfactory, there is the N.E. C. sub-committe. and the N.E. C. itself is to be appointed. I write in this matter because I am not the letter of no. 3 as given above to "J. M. R. Tobin, Can.," and M. M. CHAMBERLAIN, Ill., the man I will be glad to hear at some time or other.

It is a matter of the noble purpose, and I think the same words in another form would be a fitting answer. For instance, "I will not regret the decision of the Diocesan Committees."

J. H. GLOBE, A.B.—The bibliography of Theology, A. D. Hickey, contains a list of References to the work of S. T. W. Ferry of 1905, 24 is correct as far as it goes, but the book is in the last act of its work.

The dictionary is to be had at a low price for 1902 for bibliographical studies. It is the same with "scarcity" or "vexation." He should not be more than a matter of passing his book through with self-consciousness. He is himself on the way to his destruction.

J. R. STRONG, B. L., M. S.—It seems that we are only going to say "the more, the merrier." The more we be acquainted with the facts, the more we realize the need of their exploitation.

E. W. PROVINCIAL, L. L. H.—I am happily in the position of being able to refer to the work of others which are useful to me.

A RELATION OF WEEKLY PEOPLE.

History of Civilization

By Julian Laflin

This book is a historic presentation of the development of society and its leading ideas. It is a comprehensive survey of the whole of the major civilizations of the world, with special emphasis on the political, social, and religious developments. It is a detailed analysis of the major events and figures that shaped the course of human history.

The work is divided into three main parts, with each part covering a different era: ancient, medieval, and modern.

In the ancient part, the author examines the civilizations of the Near East, Egypt, Greece, Rome, and China, among others. He explores the religious, political,

and social developments of these societies, and their influence on later cultures.

The medieval part focuses on Europe, with an emphasis on the Middle Ages. It covers the rise of feudalism, the development of the Universities, and the

emergence of new religious movements like the Reformation.

The modern part

explores the rise of

nation-states, the

Industrial Revolution,

and the formation of the modern world.

Overall, the book provides a comprehensive overview of human history,

highlighting the

key

developments and figures that have shaped the course of
