LABOR AND THE CHURCH

Correspondent of Paterson "Morning Call" (Seated with the Rev. Dr. Hamilton.)

Paterson, May 15.

To the Editor of The Call:
The writer is very sorry to learn that the newspaper offices were decidedly accursed last week, but having read in The Call an article written by a Mr. H. C. A. and a Mr. M. C. A. on the subject of the Miners' Strike, he will be glad if you will allow him to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject. The writer is not disposed to write in a very personal manner, but he will be glad to express his sentiments on the subject.
DEFEATS AND VICTORIES

By Olaus M. Johnson, Providence, R.I.

In his last discussion, I made the statement that the "Labor Movement" is the most important in the world, and the last result is the victory of the working class. In the last war, on the contrary, I found that many people were so opposed to the war that they did not see the real importance of it. The writer is now going to discuss the question of the "Labor Movement" and what it means to our society.

The "Labor Movement" is a social movement that seeks to change the economic and social conditions of the working class. It is based on the principle that the working class should have a say in the management of society and that they should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives. The "Labor Movement" is also about the struggle for political power, and the right to vote and participate in the democratic process.

The "Labor Movement" has a long history, and it has been a driving force in the formation of modern society. It has been instrumental in the development of trade unions and social welfare programs, and it has been a major player in the fight for civil rights and equality.

The "Labor Movement" is not without its critics. Some argue that it is a threat to the free market and that it seeks to undermine the principles of capitalism. Others argue that it is a threat to the nation's security and that it seeks to undermine the military and police forces.

In the end, the "Labor Movement" is about the struggle for justice and equality. It is about the struggle for a better world, and it is about the struggle for a world where all people are treated with dignity and respect.