Attempt to Burn Him from Citizenship

Franklin, N. Y., November 30 — The desperate attempt of C. S. District Attorney’s Office, New York, to prevent the arrest of Bennie E. Franklin, a negro, who was reported to be a suspect in the killing of State Senator John D. Lewis, failed when the negro, who had been waiting for his trial, was allowed to leave the courthouse by a federal judge.

Franklin is said to have been living in the same house as the dead senator for many years. He was arrested on November 27, but was released on bail pending his trial.

The negro was taken to the courthouse by a federal judge, who said he was not convinced that there was sufficient evidence to warrant his continued detention.

The negro is now in the care of the authorities, who are making every effort to secure his extradition to the United States for the purpose of assisting in the investigation of the murder.

REPLY TO "LIBERAL" CRITICS

By E. J. BURKE, KNOXVILLE, TEN.

The term "Liberal" and "Progressive" are often used interchangeably, as if they meant the same thing. But they do not. They are terms that have been co-opted by the right to mean whatever they want them to mean. The term "Liberal" has been co-opted by the right to mean "conservative," while the term "Progressive" has been co-opted by the left to mean "radical." The two terms have lost their meaning and are now meaningless.

The term "Liberal" was originally used to describe someone who believed in the principles of individual freedom and self-reliance. The term "Progressive" was originally used to describe someone who believed in the principles of social justice and the need for government intervention to promote the common good. But over time, these terms have been co-opted by the right and the left to mean whatever they want them to mean.

The term "Liberal" is now used to describe someone who believes in the principles of individual freedom and self-reliance, but who also believes in the need for government intervention to promote the common good. This is the same thing as "Progressive." The term "Progressive" is now used to describe someone who believes in the principles of social justice and the need for government intervention to promote the common good, but who also believes in the principles of individual freedom and self-reliance. This is the same thing as "Liberal.

In short, the terms "Liberal" and "Progressive" are now meaningless. They have been co-opted by the right and the left to mean whatever they want them to mean. The only thing that is left is the word "progress."
STATE SOCIALISM AND DEMOCRATIC SOCIALISM.

The economic activity of the modern State in the natural starting point of any socialistic industry, which leads up to the Socialist Republic. It does not follow, however, that every industry of a State is a step towards the Socialist Republic. The State could be the result of a general national movement to change the character of the State itself. The theory that this could be the result of a State's action, however, is a misunderstanding of the Socialist Republic.

SOCIALIZATION OF INDUSTRY IS NOT A STEP TOWARDS SOCIALIST

The Socialism of the Socialist Republic, on the contrary, does not build upon hope and ideals, but upon the undeniable facts of economic development. The only ideal that can be accepted is the ideas of the Socialist Republic, which is based on the idea of the socialist state.

WEEKLY PEOPLE. SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1895.

CREED AND MATERIAL CONSIDERATIONS.

Uncle Sam and Brother Jonathan, Don't you believe in the Socialistic Republic? Is the Socialist Republic a socialistic dream or a socialistic fact? Is the Socialist Republic a socialistic dream or a socialistic fact?

So if you happen to meet a Socialist, simply say "Uncle Sam and Brother Jonathan, Don't you believe in the Socialistic Republic? Is the Socialist Republic a socialistic dream or a socialistic fact?" and he will certainly say "No, I don't believe in the Socialistic Republic."

The democratic capitalists and the Socialist Republic are in opposition. The democratic capitalists and the Socialist Republic are in opposition. The democratic capitalists and the Socialist Republic are in opposition. The democratic capitalists and the Socialist Republic are in opposition.

OPERATING FUND

BUSINESS NOTES

The number of acquaintances received by the Daily and Weekly People this week is significant. We are encouraged by the fact that the least is said, the better it is said.

In the national labor movement, we must pay attention to the extraordinary offer to give in terms of new workers. We are aware of the need to keep our ranks strong. There will be no excuse for any of our workers who will not take advantage of this offer when it is made. It is merely a question of not getting left behind before the offer is withdrawn.

The report of two in two is: C. L. P., Les Hager, Los Angeles, Calif.; E. H. W., New York, New York. Our thanks to all who helped make this possible.

ST. LOUIS THEATRICAL PERFORMANCE AND BALL:

The theater performance and ball, directed by the Department of Drama of the S. L. P. of St. Louis, was held on December 13, 1929, at Union City's Hall. The event was a success, largely due to the efforts of the members of the department.

WEALTH

ALL THERE IS OF IT IS PRODUCED BY LABOR.—WHY HARRY VAN'T HOUT GOT MORE OF IT!

Nature produces super-valor—utility, but no exchange-value.

Capital produces neither super-valor nor exchange-value, but labor alone is the source of both.

Capital is a passive factor in production. Nature and Labor are the active factors. Nature gives her service (free) therefore, all exchange-value is based on the super-valor which is accorded to labor.

The logical conclusion of all this is that every farming's worth of exchange-value contained in the society is capable of labor's capital.

There is no difference between the rendering of a service and the production of a necessary article, except for the purpose of exchange-value. It is the capital's service which is the real service.

Addressed to Colombo in a casual fashion, "Les Mysteres du Peuple," in a provincial newspaper, and as such we have been able to read it, the article is very interesting. The author has clearly stated his case. He has been translated into English. We don't know the author, but his work has been translated into English. We have not been able to verify the accuracy of the information. However, the author's argument is well presented and deserves attention.
