JUDGE WRIGHT'S REVOLUTIONARY ACT—BACKWARD

Judge Wright's revolutionary act—backward. The Illinois Socialist Party at its convention last week decided to cut off all ties with the United States socialist party, and to go its own way, and this week Judge Wright's revolutionary act was brought to the test. The Illinois Socialist party at its convention last week decided to cut off all ties with the United States socialist party, and to go its own way, and this week Judge Wright's revolutionary act was brought to the test.

The vote of the L.P., the S.P., and the U.S.S. was taken in the following manner: The U.S.S. voted for the resolution, the S.P. voted against it, and the L.P. abstained.

The vote of the S.P. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,004 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the U.S.S. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,000 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the L.P. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,000 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the Illinois Socialists was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,004 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the U.S.S. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,000 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the L.P. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,000 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the Illinois Socialists was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,004 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the U.S.S. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,000 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the L.P. was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,000 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

The vote of the Illinois Socialists was taken in the following manner: The resolution was carried by 1,004 votes for, 1,000 against, and 22 abstentions.

JEWISH SOCIALISTS

HOLD CONVENTION AND FORM SOCIALIST LABOR FEDERATION.

Twenty-seven delegates representing twenty-two Jewish Socialist Clubs from the United States and Canada met at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, Dec. 12, 1907, to form the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation.

The convention took a number of important measures, among which was the adoption of a resolution calling for the formation of an international Jewish Socialist labor federation. The resolution was unanimously adopted by the convention, and it was agreed that the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation should be formed on the principles of the Second International. The convention adjourned on Dec. 12, 1907, and the organizing committee was appointed to meet at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, on Jan. 10, 1908, to form the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation.

The Jewish Socialist Labor Federation was formed on Jan. 10, 1908, at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, and its organizing committee was appointed to meet at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, on Jan. 10, 1908, to form the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation.

The Jewish Socialist Labor Federation was formed on Jan. 10, 1908, at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, and its organizing committee was appointed to meet at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, on Jan. 10, 1908, to form the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation.

The Jewish Socialist Labor Federation was formed on Jan. 10, 1908, at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, and its organizing committee was appointed to meet at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, on Jan. 10, 1908, to form the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation.

The Jewish Socialist Labor Federation was formed on Jan. 10, 1908, at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, and its organizing committee was appointed to meet at the Hotel New Yorker, New York, on Jan. 10, 1908, to form the Jewish Socialist Labor Federation.
WHEN THE PEOPLE... SATURDAY, JANUARY 2, 1937

By J. A. Round.

The capital workers might have expected a thrill of horror in the work of their own kind. They were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.

The capital workers might have expected a thrill of horror in the work of their own kind. They were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.

In the midst of the worst of the war, the workers of the world were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.

The capital workers might have expected a thrill of horror in the work of their own kind. They were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.

In the midst of the worst of the war, the workers of the world were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.

The capital workers might have expected a thrill of horror in the work of their own kind. They were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.

In the midst of the worst of the war, the workers of the world were not aware of this. Their only concern was for their own survival. They were not interested in the sufferings of others, they were not interested in the society in general, they were not interested in the world. They were interested in their own work, their own lives.
WOMAN'S EMANCIPATION

BY MILA TUPPER MAYWARD.

"A great deal has been learned of the woman of the past. We have come to know that her fate was too largely determined by the expectations of others, not by her own desires. And so we ask, why and for whom? The question we must face is that of the woman's future. The future of the individual must depend upon the understanding of the woman's past. The past may be fetched from the present, and if the latter is too long ago, the past may be fetched from the future. The future is the most important of the three. But the future is the most difficult."

The Cultural Family Alliance.

"A great deal has been learned by all means of progress. The woman of the past was not known because she knew her own existence. The woman of the future will be known because she knows her own existence."

The Social Change.

"The social change is the greatest of all changes. It is the first step in the social evolution of the human race."

The Relationship of the Individual.

"The relationship of the individual is the most important of all relationships. It is the relationship of the individual to the social change."

The Woman's World.

"The woman's world is the most important of all worlds. It is the world of the individual."

The Future of the Woman.

"The future of the woman is the most important of all futures. It is the future of the individual."

The Woman Under Socialism.

"The woman under socialism is the most important of all women. It is the woman of the individual."

The Woman's Future.

"The woman's future is the most important of all futures. It is the future of the individual."

The Woman's Emancipation.

"The woman's emancipation is the most important of all emancipations. It is the emancipation of the individual."

The Woman's Emancipation is the most important of all emancipations. It is the emancipation of the individual.
TO GET RID OF TRAMPS.

With a chorus that is characteristic of the State of New York, a new bill has been introduced into the legislature this session to do what the general public has been clamoring for years—get rid of the "tramp" who is often a thorn in the flesh of the good citizen.

This bill, which was introduced yesterday, provides for a fine of $100 for anyone who is found in a public place without a permit to be there. It also provides for the imprisonment of tramps for up to one year if they refuse to leave a public place upon the order of a police officer.

The bill is expected to pass with ease, as the public is well aware of the evils that tramps bring with them. It is hoped that this bill will be a step in the right direction in the war against tramps.

UNCLE SAM AND BROTHER JONATHAN--An apocalyptic romance.

By Franklin P. Delano Roosevelt.

There was never a more splendid time in the history of the United States than the present. Our leaders are full of vision, and our people are enthusiastic. The country is at peace, and there is no reason to fear anything.

But there are some who fear that this is only a temporary respite, and that sooner or later disaster will overtake us. These people are the ones who believe in "apocalyptic romance," and they are afraid that the United States is on the verge of destruction.

However, these people are mistaken. The United States is not on the verge of destruction, but is in a time of great opportunity. If we can only take advantage of these opportunities, we will be able to build a great nation.

SOCIOLGICAL FATALISM.

If the "International Sociological Review" is any guide, we can expect a great deal of "sociological fatalism" in the near future. The editor of this review has said that "sociological fatalism" is the "only solution of the social problem." He further says that "sociological fatalism" is "the only hope for the future of humanity.

It is true that the problem of humanity is a difficult one, and that there is no easy solution to it. But to say that "sociological fatalism" is the only solution is to say that we should give up all hope of making progress in the field of society.

This is not the case. There are many people who believe that we can make progress in the field of society, and that we should not give up hope. These people are not "sociological fatalists," but are working towards a better future for humanity.

BACON'S APOTHEGMS.

There was an epigram about bacon that showed a great deal of wisdom. The epigram was: "Bacon is to breakfast what the apple is to the elephant." This shows that bacon is a very important food, and that it is not to be taken lightly.

There was another epigram about bacon that said: "Bacon is to men what the honey is to bees." This shows that bacon is a very important food, and that it is not to be taken lightly.

There was another epigram about bacon that said: "Bacon is to men what the bread is to the fish." This shows that bacon is a very important food, and that it is not to be taken lightly.

If we take these epigrams seriously, we can see that bacon is a very important food, and that it is not to be taken lightly. We should be grateful that we have bacon, and that we can enjoy it.

UNCLE SAM--I am not a monster.

To the Editor:

I am writing to you as a friend of Uncle Sam. I have always been a friend of Uncle Sam, and I am sure that you are too.

I want to tell you that Uncle Sam is not a monster. He is not a monster, and he is not going to become a monster. He is a great man, and he is going to do great things.

Sincerely,

Your friend,

John Doe.

TO THE EDITOR.

I am writing to you as a friend of Uncle Sam. I have always been a friend of Uncle Sam, and I am sure that you are too.

I want to tell you that Uncle Sam is not a monster. He is not a monster, and he is not going to become a monster. He is a great man, and he is going to do great things.

Sincerely,

Your friend,

John Doe.
OFFICIAL
NATIONAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
First Annual National Convention, 28 City Hall Place. S. L. P. N. C.
(Monday, January 25, 1910, 4:30 P.M.)

SAMUEL M. WILLIAMS, Presiding Officer.

The meeting was called to order at 4:30 P.M., S. M. Williams, Presiding Officer, opening the meeting with prayer. The roll of officers was called, and the following officers were elected:

President, S. M. Williams; Vice-President, J. W. Martin; Secretary, Theodore B. Osgood; Treasurer, J. H. Ross.

The new officers were elected and took the places of their predecessors.

BUSINESS NOTES

The movements abroad.

The Belgian Socialists have carried a resolution to the House of Commons of Belgium, urging the government to withdraw from the Triple Alliance and to enter into negotiations with other powers in the interest of international peace. The resolution was supported by a large majority of the members of the House, and the government is expected to take action accordingly.

ITALY

A strike by workers in the coal mines of Italy has been called by the trade unions, and the government has declared a state of emergency. The coal miners are demanding a higher wage, and the government is expected to take action to prevent further strikes.

RUSSIA

The Russian government has declared a state of war with Persia, following the outbreak of conflict between the two countries. The Russian army is expected to march into Persia at any moment, and the situation is tense.

SOVIET UNION

A conference of representatives of the various socialist parties of the Soviet Union has been held in Moscow. The conference was called to discuss the situation in the country and to consider measures for the advancement of the cause of socialism.

BELGIUM

The Belgian government has declared a state of war with Germany, following the outbreak of conflict between the two countries. The Belgian army is expected to march into Germany at any moment, and the situation is tense.

BRITAIN

The British government has declared a state of war with Japan, following the outbreak of conflict between the two countries. The British army is expected to march into Japan at any moment, and the situation is tense.

THE MOVEMENT ABOARD

The social democratic movement is making remarkable progress in all parts of the world. The social democratic parties are growing stronger, and the number of social democratic workers is increasing rapidly. The social democratic movement is expected to continue to grow in strength, and to make a significant contribution to the advancement of the cause of socialism.