The EMPEROR HAS NO CLOTHES ON!

Everyone remembers that keen story about Hans Christian Andersen's, in which he told the Emperor that his new clothes were made of the finest material. When things got a bit tight, Hans Christian Andersen came along and reported that the Emperor had no clothes on. After a while, Hans Christian Andersen went into a frenzy and began to yell at the Emperor to suffer himself. Everyone who heard Hans Christian Andersen's story was very impressed, but not one of them knew what was happening to the Emperor. Finally, Hans Christian Andersen realized that the Emperor had no clothes on.
