BRIEF COMMENT

ON DOINGS AND THINGS OF A WEEK

European Socialists Learning to Know

The New York Times editorial page this week is full of the notion that the European Socialists are learning to know one another. This is a good sign, but it is not enough. The Socialists must also learn to know the working class. They must learn to know the industrial worker, the farm worker, the miner, the merchant, the laborer. They must learn to know the conditions under which he lives, the struggles he faces, the hopes he has, the fears he feels. They must learn to know the common problems that bind him together with his fellow workers.

The Socialists must also learn to know the working class of other countries. They must learn to know the Zionists, the Catholics, the Jews, the Hindus, the Moslems, the Sikhs, the Buddhists. They must learn to know the common problems that bind him together with his fellow religious groups.

In this way, the Socialists will be able to work more effectively in the field of international socialism.

The European Socialists are learning to know one another. Let us hope they will also learn to know the working class.

KAUTSKY ON COMPOSERS

GERMAN SOCIALIST INFORMS SOCIAL DEMOCRATS OF REACTIVITY OF PRINCIPLES OF THE A.P.O.L.

I.

The name of Auguste Blanqui, "the dark genius of the Socialists," is often associated with the thought of one of the most significant figures in 19th-century French socialism. Blanqui's ideas were central to the development of socialist thought in France, and his influence can be seen throughout the history of the socialist movement.

II.

Blanqui was a prolific writer, and his work is characterized by a strong emphasis on the importance of revolutionary action. He believed that the working class must take direct control of the state in order to achieve社会主义.

III.

Blanqui's ideas were based on a deep understanding of the dynamics of social change. He saw history as a series of struggles between the forces of progress and reaction, and he believed that the working class was the only force that could bring about a真正的变革.

IV.

Blanqui's influence can be seen in the work of many later socialist thinkers, including Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels. His ideas continue to be studied and debated by socialists around the world today.
NECESSITIES GOING HIGHER

"The business part of the labor side in a crisis.

Capitalist production in a crisis is a crisis. In a crisis, the price of goods is generally higher, because the demand for goods is lower. In a crisis, the price of labor is generally lower, because the supply of labor is lower.

BROTHEL PRODUCTION

The laborer-in-class is a representative of the working class. The laborer-in-class is a representative of the working class. The laborer-in-class is a representative of the working class.

WEEKLY PEOPLE

To the editor:

I agree with you that the paper is doing a good job of covering the current events, but I think it could be even more effective if it included more coverage of the working class. I believe that the working class is the most neglected group in society, and they need more coverage in the paper.

Sincerely,

NEW YORKER VOLKSTUMING

New Yorker Volkstum is a movement that advocates for the rights of the working class. They believe that the working class is the most neglected group in society and that they need more coverage in the media. They believe that the New Yorker is not doing enough to cover the working class.
