FERRER AND HIS WORK

By Louisa C. Thomas.

A series of important government publications, Spain, Macmillan, 1934), giving the traditions and history of the Inquisition, is a vast work by Professor Ferrer, with a foreword by Professor "De León, the symbol of all the grandeur of the Spanish people." The end result of the book is a shocking description of the Inquisition and its horrors.

The activities of Professor Ferrer had been the subject of a series of important articles in the Spanish press. For instance, in 1921, in the paper "La Vanguardia," the criticism of the book by Professor Ferrer was published in full. In the same year, in the paper "El Ensayo," an article by "M. Caro" was published, which attacked the book and the author. In 1933, a book was published by "La Voz de Madrid," which was a criticism of the book and its author.

The book was received with a great deal of enthusiasm and was widely hailed as a great contribution to the study of the Inquisition and its effect on the Spanish people. The book was translated into several languages and was published in a number of countries.

The book is divided into five parts:

AN OPEN LETTER

To the People of the World:

War is a thing of the past. The world is at peace, and the age of reason has dawned. The spirit of the times is that of hope and harmony. The nations of the world are working together to build a better future. The time has come for us to put an end to war and to begin a new era of peace and prosperity.

The Government has been working tirelessly to achieve peace. It has made many sacrifices and has put aside its own interests for the sake of the greater good. We have all been united in our efforts to bring about this new era of peace.

We urge all nations to join us in this noble cause. Let us work together to build a world where there is no more war, no more suffering, and no more division. Let us create a world where peace and prosperity reign supreme.

Sincerely,
