LUTHERAN CHURCH'S FUND DRIVE.

The Lutheran Church of America's National Synod, in connection with the National Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, is extending its campaign for a "Year of the Poor." Financial needs have been decreased, but not eliminated.

The campaign will continue until August 31, 1930, and is divided into four parts: (1) Collection of funds, (2) Distribution of funds, (3) Publicity, and (4) Administration.

The campaign is conducted by the Lutheran Church in America, with offices at 165 East 67th Street, New York City.

The Synodical Board of Missions of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod is responsible for the operation and administration of the funds collected.

The Synodical Board of Missions is composed of:

President: Rev. Henry F. Muehlmann
Secretary: Rev. George H. Kuehl
Treasurer: Rev. Albert S. Johnson

The Synodical Board of Missions is assisted by the following:

Rev. Frederick E. Johnson
Rev. Charles A. H. Johnson
Rev. Henry M. Kuehl
Rev. Albert S. Johnson
Rev. John F. Eilers
Rev. William H. Courter

TheSynodical Board of Missions has been active in the following fields:

(1) Education
(2) Social Work
(3) Missionary Work
(4) Relief Work

The Synodical Board of Missions is also responsible for the operation and administration of the Lutheran Church in America's "Year of the Poor."
The Pocket Bible of CHRISTIAN THE PRINTER, BY EUGENE SUE
Translated from the Original French by DANIEL DE LEON

The poverty and ignorance of its victims are the chief reasons that tuberculosis is such a fear disease. It is only an exaggeration of the truth which is expressed by the well-known epigram, ‘Tuberculosis is the new black death’. It has been the cause of death by the sweep of the disease. Thousands of lives have been consigned to the grave in its various forms and stages, and yet, with all its horror, it is only the beginning of the story of its victims. It is a disease that has no cure, that can spread from one person to another, and that can no longer be ignored.

In the United States alone, more than 30,000 people die each year from tuberculosis. This is a shocking statistic, and it is one that should not be ignored. The disease is a real threat to the health of the nation, and it is one that must be addressed.

We must all work together to ensure that this disease is not allowed to continue to spread. We must support research into the causes of tuberculosis, and we must work to ensure that those who are infected are properly treated. We must also work to ensure that the public is aware of the risks of tuberculosis, and that they are encouraged to take steps to protect themselves.

The word ‘flag’ is written on a flag. It is said ‘flag’ is derived from the Latin ‘flamma’. This is a circular or square flag with a red background and a white border. The white border contains the inscription ‘DANIEL DE LEON’. The inscription is written in black letters on a white background.

The red flag is a symbol of the resistance movement. It is a symbol of the fight against oppression and the struggle for freedom. The red flag represents the hopes and dreams of the people who have been struggling for their rights for so long. It is a symbol of hope and freedom.

The red flag is a symbol of our struggle. It is a symbol of our commitment to the fight against oppression and the struggle for freedom. We must all stand together and support each other in our struggle for justice and freedom.

TUBERCULOSIS AND SOCIALISM

The term ‘tuberculosis’ is derived from the Latin word ‘tuber’ meaning ‘a growth’ or ‘a swelling’. It is a disease that affects the lungs and can spread to other parts of the body. It is caused by a bacterium called Mycobacterium tuberculosis. The bacterium is transmitted from person to person through the air, and it can cause serious illness if not treated.

The disease is most common in people who live in crowded conditions, such as in slums or prisons. It is also more common in people who have weakened immune systems, such as those who are HIV-positive or malnourished. The disease can also be spread through contaminated food or water.

The symptoms of tuberculosis include coughing, chest pain, fever, and weight loss. In severe cases, the disease can cause other problems, such as kidney failure.

The disease is preventable and treatable, but it requires proper diagnosis and treatment. It is important to seek medical attention if you have any symptoms of tuberculosis. This will help to prevent the spread of the disease and reduce the risk of complications.

To prevent the spread of tuberculosis, it is important to maintain good hygiene and cleanliness. This includes washing hands regularly, covering your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze, and not sharing personal items, such as cups or utensils.

The treatment for tuberculosis is usually a combination of antibiotics. The treatment can take several months or even years, depending on the severity of the illness.

In conclusion, tuberculosis is a serious disease that affects many people around the world. It is important to take steps to prevent the spread of the disease and to ensure that everyone has access to proper diagnosis and treatment. We must all work together to support those affected by this disease and to ensure that we are able to overcome this challenge.
