This is a great advantage in the case of children and in the case of sick persons.

It is well to keep in mind that the quality of the milk is as important as the quantity. The milk should be fresh and pure, and it should be handled carefully.

In conclusion, let me say that this is a great improvement in the way of getting milk. It is a system which has been tried and found to be successful. It is a system which will be of great benefit to the world.
