A New Way to Raise Capital in Dislocated Areas.

As Completely Capitalist as any Banker Concern.

Washington, D.C., May 24, 1897.

There is a most interesting story to be told in the life of our times. It is a story of how a man who was once a capitalist has now become a socialist. The man is Henry Ford, the famous automobile manufacturer. Henry Ford was born in 1863 in a small village near Detroit, Michigan. His father was a farmer, and young Henry worked on the farm as a boy. As he grew older, he became interested in the arts of mechanics and engineering. In 1888, he moved to Detroit to work on the construction of trains and other machinery. In 1896, he founded his own company, the Detroit Wagon Works, to build horse-drawn carriages. By 1903, he had produced the first successful automobile. The Model T, as it was called, was simple and reliable, and it quickly became popular. In 1913, he introduced the assembly line system of production, which revolutionized the automotive industry. Ford became a very wealthy man, and he used his fortune to support causes he believed in, such as the labor movement and social welfare. He was a pacifist, and he opposed World War I. In 1915, he founded the Model T Factory College, which trained workers in the skills they needed to perform their jobs. In 1919, he founded the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. Henry Ford died in 1947, but his legacy lives on in the lives of millions of people who have benefited from his inventions and his philanthropy.
W. PATRIOTISM, RELIGION AND THE "POLITICAL STRUGGLE"

At some point in the future we shall meet the "Russia Must be Liberezed" movement by showing that the magnanimous speech delivered by Comrade Mrs. S. Gordon at the meeting of the Senate Chamber of Deputies, and at which the "Russia Must be Liberated" movement received its formal and public declaration, is a lie. We shall show that the movement is a cloaked attempt to deflect attention from the main issues and to obscure the truth. We shall demonstrate that the movement is a tool of the imperialists and reactionaries, who seek to divert the attention of the people from their own interests and to confuse the minds of the workers.

The movement has been condemned by the international socialist movement and by the working class of the world. It is an attempt to undermine the revolutionary struggle and to weaken the ranks of the proletariat. We shall prove that the movement is a capitulation to the imperialists and to the reactionaries, and that it is a threat to the future of the international socialist movement.

In conclusion, we shall call on the workers of the world to unite in defense of the international socialist movement and to reject the "Russia Must be Liberated" movement.
