THE WAR.

By Benjamin Hamlin, New York Socialist Labor Party Candidate for Governor.

The term "war" is used here in the sense of peace, for it is a war for peace and a war against war. It is a war against all forms of political power, all forms of social and economic injustice, all forms of oppression, all forms of exploitation. It is a war against the greed of the capitalist class, which has created the conditions of war.

The capitalist class, which possesses the means of production, is the cause of all wars. It is the capitalist class that organizes armies, navies, and other forms of military power, and uses them to suppress the working class and to maintain its control over the masses.

The capitalist class is the class that has created the conditions of war, and it is the capitalist class that must be overthrown.

The war is for peace, and the peace is for the working class. The working class must unite and organize to overcome the capitalist class and its armies, and to establish a new society based on the principles of freedom, equality, and justice.

For the people, for the working class, for a world without war.

THE CAPITOLIUM.

T. H. O'NEILL, Chairman.

The Capitolium is a great hall, in which the people of the city of New York meet to discuss and decide on matters of public importance. It is the center of democratic activity in the city, and is the place where the working class can come together to discuss its grievances and to organize for action.

The Capitolium is a symbol of the power of the working class, and its existence is a guarantee of the democratic rights of the people.

The Capitolium is a place where the working class can come together to discuss its grievances and to organize for action. It is a symbol of the power of the working class, and its existence is a guarantee of the democratic rights of the people.

THE DEFENSE OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT.

The labor movement is the struggle of the working class for the right to work, for the right to organize, and for the right to strike. It is the struggle of the working class for freedom, equality, and justice.

The labor movement is the struggle of the working class for the right to work, for the right to organize, and for the right to strike. It is the struggle of the working class for freedom, equality, and justice.

The working class must unite and organize to overthrow the capitalist class and to establish a new society based on the principles of freedom, equality, and justice.

The Capitolium is a symbol of the power of the working class, and its existence is a guarantee of the democratic rights of the people.
FORCED FROM COVER.

A Word on the Shareholders' Strike and Credit Union, together with a few Unusual Figures.

Mr. Horace Eliot, head of the Bell and Howitt Company, is said to have thrown his entire business on the market for 600,000 shares, at $100 per share.

The time has come for a settlement of the Northwest Strike for three reasons: first, it is the mission of the Labor Union, secondly, it is the duty of the Capitalist, and thirdly, it is the right of the workers. The labor troubles are a national problem, and the strikers must be treated as such.

Mr. Eliot is a man of unusual ability and experience. He has been a leader in the labor movement for many years, and his influence is widely felt throughout the country.

The strike, which has been going on for several weeks, began as a dispute between the workers and the management over the question of wages and working conditions. The workers demand an increase in wages and better working conditions, while the management主张 low wages and long hours.

The situation is becoming increasingly critical, and it is feared that the strike may spread to other cities. The workers are determined to fight for their rights, while the management is equally determined to hold them back.

In conclusion, we believe that the strike is just, and we urge all workers to stand firm in the face of adversity. The struggle is for the future of labor, and we are confident that justice will prevail.
SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

PLATFORM.

The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is a revolutionary, non-sectarian, democratic party that seeks to organize the working class into a strong, united force to carry out the socialist revolution. The party is committed to the principles of liberty, equality, and solidarity and to the establishment of a classless, cooperative society in which all men and women will enjoy full economic, social, and political freedom.

The party believes in the need for a new, democratic society in which the means of production are owned and controlled by the working class. This is the only way to ensure the well-being and progress of all people. The party supports the establishment of a cooperative society, where all people will have equal access to the means of production and the fruits of their labor. The party also supports the abolition of all forms of exploitation and oppression, including capitalism and imperialism, and the establishment of a society in which all people will have the freedom to determine their own destiny.

The party is committed to the principles of democracy and equality. It supports the right of all people to participate in the decisions that affect their lives, and it seeks to ensure that all people will have the opportunity to share in the benefits of a cooperative society. The party is also committed to the protection of the environment and the conservation of natural resources, and it supports the right of all people to enjoy a healthy and sustainable planet.

The party is committed to the principles of solidarity and internationalism. It supports the right of all people to live in independence and freedom, and it seeks to ensure that all people will have the opportunity to share in the benefits of a cooperative society. The party is also committed to the principles of peace and non-violence, and it supports the right of all people to live in peace without fear of violence or war.