TRAGIC PAGES.

CHAPTER 5.

Now is the story of the 30th Annual Convention of the United Mine Workers, an event now in progress in Chicago, Illinois, which has been attended by a throng of thousands. The convention was called to order last Tuesday evening by President John Haynes, and has been conducted in a most orderly manner. The convention was formed in 1890, and has since become one of the most powerful labor organizations in the country. It has a membership of over 200,000, and its officers are elected by the members themselves. The convention is held in various parts of the country, and is a meeting of the miners from all parts of the United States.

CAPITALIST CONCENTRATION.

IN AGRICULTURE.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.

The first letter in the series of articles by Professor C. H. Cooley on the subject of capitalist concentration in agriculture is published in this issue. The articles will be continued in future issues.

The author of the articles is well known for his work on the subject of agricultural economics, and his articles will be welcomed by all who are interested in the subject.

The articles will be continued in future issues.
POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC.

Advertisers study to catch the pliable voters. They know what appeals to them, and they apply anything that they can think of. But the public is not to be taken that way. It is not to be taken, and it is not taken.

Frances W. Peabody takes a new interest and tries to impress the most elusive, the most finicky, the most adroit, the most fickle voter. She is to be taken.

Trapped by the light shed by these new interests, the advertisers, the politicians, and the newspapers have fallen on the most popular of all the political parties, and they are making the most of it. The result has been a movement of voters. The men of the Middle Atlantic States, the men of the East, have been moving towards the Republican party. This movement has been going on for some time, and it is expected to continue.

The movement is not due to any one cause, but to a combination of causes. The public is tired of the old political parties, and it is looking for something new. The Republican party is presenting a new and different program, and it is appealing to the public.

The Republican party is not the only one that is trying to win the public. The Democratic party is also trying, but it is not making as much headway. The public is not as interested in the Democratic party as it is in the Republican party.

The Republican party is making a great deal of headway in the East. The public is going to the polls, and it is voting for the Republican candidates. The public is tired of the old political parties, and it is looking for something new. The Republican party is presenting a new and different program, and it is appealing to the public.

The Republican party is not the only one that is trying to win the public. The Democratic party is also trying, but it is not making as much headway. The public is not as interested in the Democratic party as it is in the Republican party.

The Republican party is making a great deal of headway in the East. The public is going to the polls, and it is voting for the Republican candidates. The public is tired of the old political parties, and it is looking for something new. The Republican party is presenting a new and different program, and it is appealing to the public.

The Republican party is not the only one that is trying to win the public. The Democratic party is also trying, but it is not making as much headway. The public is not as interested in the Democratic party as it is in the Republican party.

The Republican party is making a great deal of headway in the East. The public is going to the polls, and it is voting for the Republican candidates. The public is tired of the old political parties, and it is looking for something new. The Republican party is presenting a new and different program, and it is appealing to the public.