ADAMS, MASS.

STATE SOCIALISM.

Democratic Socialism the Aim of the Social Labor Movement.

The economic activity of the modern labor movement is a sentiment that leads up in the direction of Cooperative Communism.

It does not, however, follow, that the mere agitation of an economic condition or of an ideology in a step towards the achievement of the aim of the workingman; but this is only a means of arriving at the goal of a material means of existence.

This is the theory that this could be done, and it is the basis of the Social Labor Movement.

It does not mean less, but it is a step towards the achievement of the goal of a material means of existence, not in the least degree, but in the possibility of an ideal.
PLANE TEXT