TRAGIC PAGES—CHAPTER 7

PANA, Ill., April 13—This place has been turned into a scene of death, and eight directly from the fire. The present death count is 78. A number of others are wounded or are suffering from the effects of their burns. The town of 500 has been reduced to a mass of ruins.

The fire started in the stockyards, and the flames spread with amazing speed, consuming everything in their path. The town was completely engulfed in flames, and the sound of breaking glass and screams of the dying could be heard throughout the night.

The cause of the fire is being investigated, but it is believed to have been started by an accident. The town is now in ruins, and the residents are in great distress. The area is being surveyed by government officials, and aid is being sent to the victims.

The town of Pana has been destroyed, and the residents are in great need of assistance. The government is working to provide aid, and we encourage everyone to contribute to the relief efforts.

ADDRESS ISSUED

By R.T.L.A. Miners of the Western States

Resolute in our belief that there should be no further deaths among the miners, we meet the changed conditions of the mining camps. The pressure of capital, both in wages and employment, and the deplorable conditions of the miners, has resulted in a struggle for better working conditions. We are determined to resist any attempt to reduce the wages of the miners, and to organize for better conditions. The miners must unite and demand their rights. We call upon all miners to join us in this struggle for a better future.

MINERS' LOCAL R.T.L.A.

Please subscribe and support our cause. See what a difference it makes to us all.

Then sign up and work at the office.

VOL. IX.—NO. 4.

NEW YORK, APRIL 23, 1899.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

TO ACTION

Call by Kansas State Committee, S.T.P.

VISIONARIES, AVANTI

No Muddles—Handed Miners, Erie, Ohio, "Broadmoors"—Chinese Pioneers—Green-Lens from Noosphere to Non-Knowledge.

To All Sections of the Labor Party of Kansas. Members at Large, Committees of the Local Propaganda.

Counter-Your Committee is desirous of maintaining a State Organization, that will be the basis of the political party of the laboring man. The sectional spirit that prevents the political parties of capitalism, both the greater and smaller, and of the present "Law and Order" and "Democratic" parties, will appeal to every laboring man, no matter what economic and political color.

We wish to make a practical effort to organize party work in the following manner: each section to unite in a committee, and take such action as may be necessary to secure the work. We have had some success in the past, and we believe that with the right spirit and determination, we can secure the work. We call upon all laboring men to join us in this work.

PANA VOTES NOT TO PET A MINE, SAYS CROUSSE.

"Croasse, Ill.—The citizens of Pana, Ill., have voted not to pet a mine. The mine is a source of much trouble to the town, and the people have decided that it is better to leave it alone. The mine is located in the middle of the town, and it is feared that it may cause much destruction if not properly controlled.

The mine is owned by a group of mining companies, and the people have decided that they will not allow it to continue. The companies have been given a month's notice to cease operations, and if they do not do so, they will be forced to leave the town.

The people of Pana are determined to protect their town, and they will not allow the mine to continue. They believe that it is better to leave it alone and let it cause as little trouble as possible.
THE PEOPLE.
Published at 104 William Street, New York.

TAXES AGAIN.

Treated from the standpoint of the taxpayer, the recent decision of the House of Commons in London and of Figures and Facts.

It seems that the matter of taxation has been much in the public eye lately, and that there have been many discussions and debates in connection with it. The House of Commons, in London, has just taken up the matter of the income tax, and has announced that it will consider the question of the introduction of a new and more comprehensive system of taxation.

The House of Commons in London has been very active in recent weeks, and has dealt with a number of important questions, including the question of taxation. It is believed that the House of Commons will continue to be active in this matter, and that it will take up the question of the introduction of a new and more comprehensive system of taxation.

The matter of taxation is of great importance, and it is to be hoped that the House of Commons will take up the question with the seriousness and care that it deserves. The matter of taxation is of great importance, and it is to be hoped that the House of Commons will take up the question with the seriousness and care that it deserves.

* * *

NEW DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

[By Gen. M. Morris, Albany, N.Y.]

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political ties which have bound them together, and to assume among the powers of the earth the standing of a free and independent nation, they should appeal to the world for their recogntion.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.

That the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, ensure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to themselves and their posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

* * *

LLECTURES.

ARTHUR, WILLIAM, BROUGHTON, HENRY, SHERWOOD, T. B., FORD, H. W., WHITFIELD, J. W.

* * *

MAY DAY IN NEW YORK.

[The following is a report of the demonstration on May Day in New York.]

* * *

THE PEOPLE.
"SOCIAL REFORM" AND REVOLUTION. SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

PLATFORM.

The Socialist Labor Party is a progressive party, advocating the organization of the working class according to the principles of the Socialists, and the establishment of a free and independent system of government. It also advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.

RESOLUTIONS.

The Party believes in the immediate improvement of the condition of the laboring classes, and in the establishment of a system of social and political reform. It advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.

The Party advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.

The Party advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.

The Party advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.

The Party advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.

The Party advocates the extension of the franchise to all citizens, and the abolition of private property. The party is composed of workers of all trades and professions, and is organized on a democratic basis.