COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 30 .- The Obio S. L. P. Convention, held in this city on Sunday, May 28, was a grand success and a conceded improvement over all other annual meetings of Ohio Socialists. The Convention was called to order by State Secretary P. C. Christiansen, of Cleveland. Robert Bandlow, of the same place, was elected Chairman; Oscar Frier, of Columbus, Secretary, and Israel Hauser, of the later place. Assistant Secretary. the later place. Assistant Secretary.

There was no attempt at speech-making, which constitutes the bulk of business at conventions of the parties whose incentive is spoils and plundering wage workers. The convention business before it. The convention for the first time was favored with lady delegates, which is generally recognized as a registration of the growth and impression of any movement, and it is perhaps proper to mention these pioneers in the State convention, which were Miss Watkins, daughter of the late William Watkins; Mrs. Latz, of Dayton, and Mrs. Emma Ballhaus, of Cincinnati.

There were 11 delegates, many of the smaller places were not represented.

About 200 people of the city were in attendance, which is quite a bold showing for this timid and cowardly city in which there is but little conscious. of anything that is fundamental with man's relations as a social being.

THE TICKET. The candidates placed in nomination

> For Governor: ROBERT BANDLOW, of Cleveland.

For Lieutenant Governor: ELLIS BARTHOLMEW, of Lima.

For Auditor: HARRY LAVIN, of Canton. or Atterney-General: JOHN COOPER, of Hollster.

For Treasurer: OSCAR FREER, of Columbus.

For Judge of Supreme Court: S. BORTON. of Valley.

For Member of Public Works: C. M. NEWTON, of Warren.

The following platform and resolutions were adopted: The Socialist Labor Party of Ohio, in convention assembled, hereby re-endorses the platform and principles of the National Socialist Labor Party. We congratulate the working people of this State upon the undisputed fact that recent events have tended to for-ever shelve the inconsequential questions of tariff and free silver, with which the political bosses have suc-ressfully divided the vote of the laboring people during the past generation by hypocritically pretending to safe-guard their interests; and we hall with satisfaction the development of new issues, born of the necessity of the times, that are awakening the people to a full sense of the immense industrial progress that has been made during the last dechde without corresponding political progress.

The paramount questions before the people to-day are those of the centralisation of capital into trusts, and revolutionary layor-saving machinery inlutionary lavor-saving machinery in-separately linked together by the reve-lations of science. We call attention to the prediction of the greatest social economist of the age, Karl Marx, whose conception of history has stood every test, that complete monopoly would be the logical sequence of the capitalistic competitive system. Just as small capitalism half a century ago struggled to secure a monopoly in its rillage, and later to control the markets of its country and State, so larger capitalism at present—having absorbed the wealth produced by generations of laborers, including the machinery of production and distribution—is at present themselves are supported by the control of production and distribution—is at present themselves are supported to the control of production and distribution—is at present themselves are supported to the control of production and distribution—is at present themselves are supported to the control of production and distribution—is at present themselves are supported to the control of the control ent, through consolidation of vast enerprises, mines, workshops, factories department stores and rialroads, se-curing an absolute monopoly nationally and internationally. The gigantic trasts, of which there are now no less than four hundred in existence, have Pronounced the doom of the middle class and that class is steadily being forced into the ranks of the wage working class, there to compete for employment, and the combines secured against competition by reason of pos-essing unlimited capital and superior machinery, dictate the wages that shall be received by labor and the prices that shall be paid by the workers as con-

The Socialist Labor Party is fully aware that the old party politicians, in order that they may again catch the votes of those who have been stripped of their small capital as well as those who still possess the hallucination that they can become rich and powerfal, have started the cry, "Down with the Trusts!" This Party is also aware that since 1800 there has been a national anti-trust law in existence in this country, as well as similar laws in at country, as well as similar laws in at least a dozen of the States, and that accessive Republican and Democratic administrations have refused to enforce them. The present cry of the politicians is, therefore, hypocritical and demagogical, and meant merely to secure office and gain time. The miserable poltroons, who virtually declare. "after me the flood." care little what becomes of the liberties of the people in their craze for the spoils of victory. The Socialist Labor Party hereby throws down the gauntlet to the corrupt wire-pullers and machine bosses of the old parties and challenges them to show an intelligent people how and to show an intelligent people how and by what methods they propose to dis-solve trusts. We contend that capitalistic combinations are a natural growth of the competitive capitalistic system under the rule of the Repubsystem under the rule of the Repub-lican and Democratic parties, and to declare that they can be or must be disrupted is equivalent to declaring that the sun moves backward, that progress is retrogression. Having graduated as ward-heelers and crafted caucus manipulators, with the spoils of office uppermost in their minds, the politicians are totally ignorant of econ-omic development and social science, omic development and social science, and now they place themselves in the unenviable light of pretending to attempt to destroy the corner stone of capitalistic independence, viz., "the freedom of contract," the right to combine capital, skill or ability. Against such a palpable swindle and dishonest exhibition of knavery we warn the voters of Ohio. voters of Ohio.

The second great issue is that of municipal ownership, and the Socialist Labor Party plainly and unequivocably opposes the surreptitious scheme of in-terested capitalists and their politicians in unloading their stolen franchises upon municipalities for millions of dollars to fill their pockets with plun-der upon the one side and to strengthen corrupt political machines on the other. Municipal ownership under the capi-talistic régime is merely a convenient method of changing masters, of subof changing masters, of substituting boss rule for corporative rule, of capturing the support of the bankrupt middle class by falsely promising that it will result in lower rates of taxation, of hopelessly enslaving the workers to dictatorial capitalists in cities. It is plain unadultrarted State workers to dictatorial capitalists in office. It is plain, unadulterated State Socialism of the brand endorsed by Kaiser Wilhelm and the Czar of Rus-sia. The bribe-giving franchise-grab-bers are to be awarded millions of dollars for something that they do not own, and it is just as reasonable to handsomely reward a burglar or highnandsomely rewird a burgar or nigh-wayman for returning stolen property. Under such a system of alleged re-form not even the most infinitissimal part of the labor question can be solved, but it will rather become more solved, but it will rather become more aggravated.

The Socialist Labor Party is not in the humbugging business, and, therefore, it does not attempt the impossible by promising to disrupt the trusts or purchasing municipal franchises that the people already own. The theory of organizing and combining industry is correct. It is scientific in that useless middlemen and all forms of waste is abblished, and the maximum of benefit is obtained at the mum of benefit is obtained at the minimum of effort. The trust in the business and commercial world holds a relative position to automatic ma-chinery in producing wealth in indus-trial pursuits. The trusts are not wrong in themselves, but the present PRIVATE OWNERSHIP is wrong.

And, therefore, the Socialist Labor Party declares that it is the duty of all thoughtful and sensible workingmen to repudiate the clap-trap and humbug of the old parties of broken promises and organize into a class-consider companies contains companies tabor party. conscious, compact labor party, march to the ballot box and take control of the governing powers of municipality, State and Nation, which is the first and most important step in the inauguramost important seep in the institution of a just and reasonable condition; and the next is, after having secured political control, to take possession of the tools of production and distribution (the land, trusts, machinery, franchinery, f chises, etc.) and operate them in the interest of the whole people, instead of, as at present, the whole people operating them in the interest of the

Resolved, furthermore, that we call upon the disinherited and exploited wage workers of Ohio to sever all con-nection with the old parties, join the party of their class that can alone emancipate them and prepare to over-throw at the polls the galling system of wage slavery and substitute there-for the Co-operative Commonwealth in which every worker will be guaranteed the free exercise and full benefit of his faculties multiplied by all the factors of modern civilization.

THE SITUATION IN NEW ENGLAND

Organizer B. F. Keinard's Bird's-Eye View and Valuable

A few words on the movement in Connecticut and Rhode Island may not be amiss to the comrades elsewhere, who will be encouraged to hear of the great progress made here and be confirmed in rigid adherence to the straight tactics of the S. L. P., which are proving every day more and more successful as they are here put into practice These two States are, taken as a whole, the best advanced in clearness of ideas, absence of freaks and in ag-gressiveness of any States I have seen. gressiveness of any States I have seen.

As to freaks, I can remember seeing only a poor, lone, "Tepside," and, Lord, wasn't it "woozy!" It looked and acted like one of those funny, fuzzy, startled things that one sometimes chased in oft a prairie in front of a big fire. I think I also saw somewhere a demoralized Single Taxer, showing ip in the increasing blaze of Socialism like a sleepy cock-reach crawling blinded by the sun out of an aban-doned snake-hole.

CONNECTICUT.

Some of our comrades will remember how eagerly the working class of Connecticut listened to Socialism in 1806, when they seemed to eat it. Well, that appetite gets more voracious ev-ery day. Everywhere there seems to be a waking up, which has been still further stimulated by the glorious vic-tory in New Britain and the big vote in New Haven.

The comrades elsewhere can get a

The comrades elsewhere can get a pointer or two from New Britain. In this place they have knocked the intestines out of the Democratic party and brought blood out of the Reps also, the S. L. P. delegation in the city legislature being equal to the Democratic (which includes hold-overs), and a Rep Ward barely escaping going under. The least part of their success a Rep Ward barely escaping going un-der. The least part of their success was due to speakers. It was due to their good organization, good attend-ance at business meetings and general "hustling." They got their literature into the hands of every workingman, they made a house to house canvass and pulled the voters out and so laid the matter on the conscience of a workthe matter on the conscience of a work-ingman that he had to vote the ticket to feel like a decent man. Another thing: they get all the funds coming to them. They do not rely merely on their own members for contributions. They go to every one who at all sympathizes and more than one dollar was contributed, and not unwillingly either, by people who are not members of the Party. "Go there, and do likewise."

I saw our five comrades installed in office and they drew the class line in a competent and dignified manner the very first night, in spite of the "jollys" and bilious blandishments of the united Dems and Reps. We had here once again illustrated the oneness of the two old parties. The night pre-ceding the meeting of the new Council-men and Aldermen, the Reps and Dems met in JOINT caucus and fixed up a JOINT slate of officers and coming a JOINT state of omeers and committees for the ensuing year. The next night we had the inspiring spectacle of Democrats (good Bryanites "workingmen's friends") lining up solidly with the Republicans in choosing a Republican labor skinner as President of the Cannell and in seconding and support. lican labor skinner as President of the Council, and in seconding and supporting absolutely without dissent every motion introduced by said labor skinner. Important offices, like City Attorney, Corporation Counsel, etc., of immense danger to the workers if controlled by capitalists but of immense service to workingmen if controlled by their own class were put by united. their own class, were put by united Dem and Rep votes into labor skinning hands. The test was again shown strikingly on the matter of the Street Committee, where the Socialist plank of 8 hours a day, $2 a day and more men employed (and therefore more taxes for property holders), frightened not only the Reps but also the "work-ingmen's friends," and as a consequence the Socialists were barred clear off said Committee and all their efforts to get on were immediately blocked by one absolutely unanimous Rep-Dem

In other words, there were only two parties present, the Republican, or capitalist, party, and the Socialist La-bor, or working class Party. What was formerly a concealed fact now took visible shape.

This thing alone is going to make much trouble for the "workingmen's friends," and there were a lot of horny-handed sons of toil sitting in the gallery that night and who will be there every meeting night watching THEIR business that help make that

As a result of our comrades' intelligent working class stand upon the unemployed plank, and the self-evident impossibility of tampering with them, the capitalists are making an attempt to have the New Britain charter so amended that street improvements are subject to the decision of the property holders themselves. The working class may not be able "to get anything through legislation," but your capital-ist, I observe, isn't taking any chances

The election of our comrades has had a very stimulating effect upon the in-crease of membership. Comrade Ruther, of Holyoke, tells me of the same result of his election there. workers are ripe for Socialism every-where and need only to have it made incarnate in competent S. L. P. officials to get their support.

In Hartford Comrade Patrick and I spoke to what I believe was the first outdoor meeting held there. 500 or 600 listened with great interest and half a dozen applications for membership were received.

In New London, where our Section is only a few months old and where we have practically never had any but private agitation before, 1,000 people attended the meeting and heard Social-tended the meeting and heard Socialism expounded.

The capitalist press throughout the whole State is getting alarmed about the New Britain and New Haven victories and we therefore see expressions like the following from the Waterbury "Herald": "To be sure, there are sufficient of Republicans and Democrats, who, while they fight among themselves, are one in steadfast allegiance to the old Stars and Stripes in the Common Council to restrain the impetuosity of the Socialists. But what of the time to come when But what of the time to come when there will not be? That time will come, if the Socialist movement grows in the next ten years as it has in the last four as surely as come death and taxes." And don't forget one point, my friend, STRAIGHT INTOLE-RANT S. L. P. tactics did it.

RHODE ISLAND.

"Little Rhody," "little, but mighty" for Socialism, is THE State. Here our energetic comrades have demonstrated the immense practical and immediate value of the S. T. & L. A. Many towns new contain textile Alliances, some places having a membership of as high as 800. The effect of Socialist leader-ship has been shown in the winning of concessions and in the orderly and dig-nified conduct of the strikers. Even where the strikers have gone back and may not get concessions, yet they do so in an organized and orderly body, with an enthusiastic determination to continue and perfect their Alliances. At one place, River Point, where dur-ing the strike, 250 some had joined the Alliance and had gone back to work without gaining anything, a meeting called four or five days after going back was attended by over 100 who showed a remarkable enthusiasm in deciding to continue and perfect their Allgance. The success of the Alliance is all the more remarkable when we consider that some of those people have never been on strike before and are composed of many different nationalities. At Natrick, for example, seven or eight different nationalities belong to the Alliance, making to some extent inter-preters necessary. In spite of all these and other difficulties, which the mill owners' gang were prompt to take ad-vantage of, the Alliance held the workers together and took them back in a dignified and organized body more than ever convinced and determined to

Of the first strike at Slattersville. where the weavers obtained concessions, such discipline and self-control were shown in the face of threats to evict the strikers from their tenements, the shutting off of credit at the company store, etc., that even intense capi-talist papers like the Providence "Jour-nal" were obliged to confess that never nat were obliged to colless that developed before had they seen so orderly a strike. Said a Woonsocket evening paper: "The strike was free from violence and bitterness. The weavers are to be complimented on their manly and dignified bearing during its prog-ress. Not only have they refrained from making a display of force, but they have refused to resort to any under-handedness to gain what they were fighting for. Their actions were all in the open and were above reproach.

As a further evidence of these men's self-control we have, after their deciding to go back with an increase of 6 and 10 per cent., their voting to stay out one day longer to give themselves a chance to listen to a Socialist agitaa cannot to a sociate agrac-tor. A week after that their Alliance, composed of 60 some members, bore fruit in a Section of 26 members. Let stuffed prophets, "dopes" and fossils take note.

The second Slatersville strike is now on; this one, even more so than the first, is indeed a cheering spectacle of class-conscious Labor standing up against the capitalist class.

Thus in many of these places Socialism is coming to be a household word. Many of these valleys will soon be en-tirely Socialist, one town already giving over 100 votes out of a total of 200 and something. The Alliance now contains far more textile workers than all the pure and simple organizations in Rhode Island combined and will soon have all the textile workers with-

That in many places the Alliance the only means to spread Socialism and that no Alliance, no Socialism, is de-nionstrated by our opposite experience in those places captured by the fakirs. In the town of Warren, R. I., where the fakirs forestalled us, and have poisoned the minds of the operatives against us, we get a very poor hearing, hold smaller meetings than before the strike and can show only 7 votes for the S. L. P. These are the same kind of workers as in Natick, etc., where we are organized so successfully. Such is the result of the Judas work of the pure and simple labor fakir. That the real union-wreckers are the pure and simplers appeared again during these strikes, when they came on the scene and did their best to prevent the Alliance from organizing in fields where we had preceded them and where no organization at all existed. However, they got short shrift, National Secretary Donohue, of the Textille Workers' Federation, being sent home by the special secretary. home by the audience like a whipped

The recent textile workers' strikes of Rhode Island have brought to light the facts that where pure and simplers would have gained nothing, the Alliana and the strike workers and the strike strikes are the strike workers. ance did gain advances; where pure and simplers would have had the un-successful workers go back as a de-moralized mob, the Aliance takes them back better organized and more enthusiastic than ever; and where fa-kirism leaves them at best the disheartening prospect of the same bitter interminable story, steadily growing worse, the Alliance gives them the hope and determination soon to render strikes forever unnecessary by destroying the system that breeds them and setting up in its stead the Co-operative Commonwealth.

Our whole Rhode Island movement is spreading so rapidly that the day is not far distant when the entire State (no bigger than some counties else-where), composed of an overwhelming working class population centered in a few cities and towns, will send its whole delegation to Congress, Representatives and Senators, with the Red Flag in their hands.

than a mere "strike." What the above cut can't reproduce and bring to light is brought out by the following leading editorial in the Woonsocket, R. I., "Evening Star":

SLATERSVILLE A SOCIALISTIC

BATTLE GROUND.

The Socialists of the country may make the affair in Slatersville a test case and try to win a victory for their organization by supporting the strikers of that village. Supt. Hold made a mistake by antagonizing the powerful organization of the Socialists. There are so many of them that their combined efforts may raise ructions. There are comparatively few strikers to support in Slatersville, and as one of the strikers expressed it. "A little help from all the Socialists in the country will keep us like summer boarders during hot weather."

We repeat the advice we gave Mr. Holt, that he compromise the matter with the strikers and unload from his shoulders the responsibility of righting the country.

********* In other words, the Slatersville strike is no blind uprising of the blind, blindly striking in the air. The day for that sort of thing is gone by in Rhode Island, thanks to the yeoman work of the Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance that has driven "Pure and Simpledom" into a corner, and the fakir into holes.

A marked headway is noted in the make-up of the Party membership as regards intelligence and ability. This is mainly due to the policy adopted by our Party organ. FRANK MACDONALD.

AN AMERICAN HEIRESS RIOTESS.

The cable dispatches last week brought thrilling news from Paris. A mob, not of the unwashed, but made up of titled Frenchmen, assaulted the President of the Republic at the Auteuil race course. The assault was intended as a demonstration against the decision of the Court of Cassation to annul the verdict against Dreyfus and give him a new trial, it being now established that "he was convicted on three documents, two of which were forgeries, and one of which did not relate to him." The "demonstration" was the last vulgar manifestation of a military-clerical conspiracy almost unparalleled in the history of the criminal classes in power; a conspiracy gone into preparatory to some popular massacre as the sole means to stem the rise of Socialism, and which the Socialists of France took a leading and noble part in uncovering, frastrating and bringing to naught.

The act of leading property-holding Frenchmen indulging in such a demonstration; indulging in a riot in which rotten eggs figured prominently is, indeed, worth while recording, and yet might not have been given space in these columns were it not for a certain circumstance that accompanied the riot.

Among the rioters figured our own Anna, the daughter of Jay Gould, now the Countess of Castellane, who, living in rioutous luxury in France on the marrow of American wage slaves, furnished by her conduct a fit counterpart to the conduct of her sister, Miss Helen Gould, in this city.

In this city, Miss Helen Gould is indulging in "judicious distributions," i. e., in "gifts" to the Police. Her sister, in France, is breaking law by joining rioters. Do these two acts conflict? No! They are obverse and reverse of the same medal.

The Goulds, as capitalists, are members of a brigand class, a class that robs the working class of the fruits of its labor; consequently, a class that needs violence and physical force to keep itself in possession of its stolen goods. To bribe Policemen with gifts in New York and to join militaryclerical rioters in France is, accordingly, the same thing: they are transla tions into American and into French of the same idea, the same purpose, the

CAPITALIST CHRISTIANITY-MODERN CHAIPHASES.

At this time when the ill-paid and sorely tried textile workers of/Slatersville, R. I., are battling virtually for the rights of man, a clergyman of that place is going the rounds of the men, and the women, too, doing his level best to dishearten the strikers; to induce them to submit to extortion and degradation; to aid the modern class of the Pharisee to grind the faces of the poor more completely. He, servant, as he pretends, of Him who whipped the traders out of His Father's Temple. now goes about whipping, in the interest of the identical traders, their victims into subjection!

Is this Christianity? Yes-capitalist

Christianity! At such times as these, when so numerous are the instances of blasphemers, tricked in the outer trappings of Religion and of Christianity in particular, who are performing the work of Satan; in times as these, when the pulpiteers of capitalism are seeking to stem the rush and tide of Justice and Peace on Earth, that Socialism heralds. and are doing their despicable work in the name of Christianity, the mind reverts to the words of Marx, uttered in 1845, when surely having just such specimens, as are now rising up, before his eyes, he made, upon the Christianity of such vultures, the following terse observations:

The social principles of Christianity have now had eighteen centuries to develop themselves in and need no further development at the hands of Prussian Reverends (or American dittos).

The social principles of Christianity leave the ecclesiastical settlement of all infamies to heaves, and approve thereby of the continuance of these infamies on earth.

The social principles of Christianity regard all the oppressor's rascalities against the oppressor between the properties of the properties of christianity of original sin or other sorts of sin, or as traits which the Lord dispenses to the redeemed ones in his infinite wisdom.

The social principles of Christianity preach the virtue of humility, servility and self-degradation, in short, all the qualities of the rabile, and the workers, who do not want to be treated as rabble, need their pride, their courage and their sense of independence even more than their bread.

The Christian principles were made for slaves and hypocrites, and the proletarians are revolutionists.

POLITICAL and ECONOMIC.

The "Journal" of the Metal Polishers etc., furnishes a pink of an illustration on "broadness" and on the season therefor. The illustration appears in an editorial note signed by the Editor. E. J. Lynch, who at the same time is the President of the Union.

Readers of THE PEOPLE will remember how, during last year's Gubernatorial campaign in this State, with an S. L. P. full tigket in the field and Hanford at the head of it, this precious Lynch had an article declaring that there was no party in the field that the workingmen could vote for. As a sample of "narrowness" that utterance could surely pass muster. Here we had a tribune of the working people possessed of such exclusive tastes, views and convictions that nothing could suit him. He, on that occasion, surely out-narrowed the narrow.

Now, however, he comes out in favor

a platform large enough for all reformers to stand on Socialists, single taxers, free silverites, anti-expansionists, etc. Then we will push those reforms and try and interest other labor unions to do likewise. If that platform is Socialism, you can then count us as such, for principles, not party, we demand and shall have.

Whence this turn of heart? Whence this sudden revulsion in favor of a "broadness" that out-broadens the broad? Whence these loving sheep's eves at Socialism, only last year condemned by him? Stand we before a miracle, a sort of Paul of Tarsus con-

Nay, nay, there is no miracle in the case, but a very matter of fact condition of things, to wit:

Lynch stands at the threshhold of a convention of his Union. Of course, he is willing to sacrifice himself by submitting to re-election. But unfortunately for him, his organization swarms with equally self-sacrificing individuals. He foresees a contest of would-be martyrs. That's No. 1.

Again, Lynch knows that his Union is honeycombed with New Trade Unionists or Socialists; these having been "boring from within" and getting ready to join the Alliance. That's Lynch knows also that this element. desirable as their votes be, is not numerous enough alone to elect him. even if they could be hoodwinked into his support, consequently he has a good word for single taxers too and or all other riff-raff.

That's all there is of the miracle. A labor fakir on the hunt for votes to keep him on the backs of the rank and file becomes the broadest thing on earth: he becomes broad enough to allow all "isms" to flock to his support.

The San Francisco, Cal., "Class Struggle" tells this excellent tale:

"They're all combined; isn't it h-ll?" said one grocer to another in our hearing the other day. "What's combined?" we inquired. "The cracker companies." was the answer. "Well. we are glad of it." we replied. "Glad; why?" "Because events like that will soon open the eyes of you little fellows to the inevitable of competition, and then you may become amenable to teachings leading to something better."

"L'Asino," Socialist illustrated humorous paper of Rome, Italy, has, under the title "Architectural Morality," this dialogue between two millionaire, beetle-browed cads:

No. 1—"Thus, you see, the basis of my marriage is simply mutual affection."
No. 2—"What about the round little million that the daughter of the contractor brought to you as her dowery!"
No. 1—"Tha's merely the 'pedestal."
No. 2—"And what about the peculiar relations that, rumor wills it, your wife has with Colonel Mandrilli".
No. 1—"Pshaw! That's simply the 'cornice'."

Of such "pedestals" and "cornices" is the architecture of the family relations among the capitalist "Pillars of Morality" here too.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Address Delivered by Thomas Jacob, in Jersey City, N. J.

The thoughtful man must hall the multiplicity of reforms which appear in increasing numbers, as an indica-tion of the passing away of the pernicions economic system that has op-pressed mankind so long. Not that such palliatives offer any solution of our present difficulties, but as harbin-gers of the dawn of economic liberty so earnestly looked for by every friend of humanity.

When the institution of chattel slave ry was doomed, and its destruction only a question of time, its upholders, reading the hand writing on the wall. hastened to suggest all kinds of reme dies and improvements short of its total abolition. If its legality was recognized they were quite willing to ac-cept any reforms its enemies might cept any reforms suggest providing their property right in the colored human being were still acknowledged.

For generations all kinds of reforms were offered, to avoid the real issue, and if at all plausible, hailed with loud acclamations by the slave-holding class. But, like Banqua's ghost, the cry of abolition would not down; it grew louder and louder and finally cul-minated in the total distruction of slavery.

History repeats itself and in our own tactics employed time we see the same tactics employed to bolster up the doomed capitalist

In the present movement for economic liberty the worker claims the tion, and he insists that capital is a tool of labor, its offspring and product, and so vitally essential to its economic exercise that it cannot be carried on without it, and therefore, demands that it be made public property. The capital-holding class, like their prototypes, the slave owners, are quite willing to give everything but what is asked. Free education, libraries, parks, public halls, picture galleries, charity organizations, churches, baths excursions and a thousand and one other things are lavishly showered upon the people. And the more conciliatory, loudly proclaiming their liberality and fine sense of justice, go so far as to encourage trade unions "public ownership" of railroads, muni-cipal franchises, co-operation, and pose generally as the champions of down-trodden labor. But when their sin-cerity is put to the test by asking them to vote for the abolition of private property in capital, they flee in undis ruised horror to the enemy's camp and become conspicuous, even among the most uncompromising foes of labor, by their bitter hostility and denunciation.

The same champions of the rights of the workingman, under great pressure, are even willing to concede bimetal-ism, income tax. free trade, single tax. or even municipal operation, if pushed to it, but to abolish property in capital, never! Such a step, they say, would lend to the destruction of society.

As the demand of the worker grows louder the number and variety of remedies introduced, to avoid meeting the real issue, constantly increase. Among the latest and most feebly pernicious productions of this kind is the work of James H. Hyslop, Professor of Logic and Ethics in Columbia University.

The Professor, according to t "Literary Digest" of May 20, seems the have taken his inspiration from the work of W. E. H. Lecky, who, some two years ago, attempted to prove that Democracy as a form of Government for modern society had demonstrated its failure and argued that the only alternative was a return to monarchy The Professor, while admitting the im perfections of Democratic Govern mena, does not propose to return to monarchy, but to "Revitalize Demo-cracy so as to enable it to meet all the necessities of society."

This he proposes to do by restricting the franchise, basing it on wealth as indicated by the amount of tax paid; extending the appointive and limiting the removal power of the executive; restricting the influence of Congress on appointments; establishing advisory commissions with power to shape and control legislation and by the establishment of a branch of Government, or court for securing universal official or court, for securing universal official responsibility, including both the executive and legislative functionaries, other than the electorate.

If this proposition differs from mor archy in anything, save the name, the difference seems to be simply in an increase in the number of those who shall be invested with despotic power. "Revitalized Democracy" as proposed by the professor would be the reverse of what its name implies. In-stead of being instinct with life and energy, responding to the demands of a free and untrammeled electorate, it would be but a miserable slave bound hand and foot, with hardly vitality enough to breathe, its uncertain tenure of life always threatened by the iron grasp of capital, clutched around its throat, ready at any moment to shut off its feeble existence.

If this hybrid is "Revitalized" De-mocracy, what is Plutocracy?, and how are we to regard the author, who while proclaiming loyalty to Democracy proposes to destroy the power of the people by restricting the franchise and subordinating their representa-tives to the will of a few persons endowed with despotic powers.

It may be that a logician can see the consistency of the Professor's course, but to the common mind, it suggests gross ignorance of the causes that lead to inefficiency and corruption in the administration of public affairs.

The Professor seems to perceive dimly that the evils of popular Governnent have some sort of connection with the condition of society, and thinks, by restricting the power of the people over it, the administration of public affairs will be improved.

This idea arises from a common impression that Governments can rise higher than their source, and be more moral than the governed. No matter how despotic a Government may be, it is but a reflex of dominant social conditions and when these are bad Government must necessarily reflect its evils.

The ignorance, irresponsibility and corruption that mark the administration of public affairs are but the effects of a cause that will be found at the very foundation of the present social system. An unjust discrimination, re-warding labor so unfairly, that the great mass barely receive the means of existence, while a few are over-whelmed with wealth and luxury, pro-duces antagonistic classes constantly at war, straining every nerve to despoil each other, the poor to become rich and the rich to increase their wealth, the whole resulting in a chaotic condition that tends to demoralize and degrade mankind instead of elevate and develop his higher characteristics.

A marked decadence in morals must necessarity attend such a state of af-fairs, but it is temporary, and only indientes the disintegrations of an old order of things incident to the evolu-tion of a higher condition of civiliza-

And these social evils, deeply rooted in a bad economic system, the Profes-sor proposes to eradicate by tinkering with politics and politicians. Ye gods he might as well try to prevent the shining of the sun by cutting off its shadow.

As long as ar unscientific economic system forces the individual to war with his fellow for the means of : ... a system so rigid and inflexible that one man cannot increase or retain his wealth without impoverishing another. so long will we have chaos and warfare and corruption and incompetence in the administration of public affairs and nothing short of the abolition of such a system will bring any improvement in either Government or morals

Adopt a broad economic system that protects every man in the possession and enjoyment of the wealth he produces and moral leprosy, with its attending corruption, will be a thing of the past. But this can never be until private property in the means of labor s abolished and all have an equal opportunity of using the most improved tools of production. Then, and not until then, will corruption and conflict cease and chaos be succeeded by order. honesty and peace, and Democracy be really revitalized.

Do you think that Prof. Hyslop and his fellow reformers will aid in secur-ing these ends? If you do, you are sadly mistaken, for his work plainly indicates that he cannot bear to con-template a state of society where the few no longer rule the many. He and all such reformers, no matter how honest their intentions, must be classed s enemies of human progress, and bit ter and incessant war must be waged against them by the friends and advocates of economic liberty.

FREE SPEECH SUPPRES SORS MISS IT AGAIN.

The parties of capitalism, "Law and Order" have again shown the cloven hoof in their attitude to the movement of the working class, by their uncon-stitutional attempt to suppress free speech. On May 29, in the City of Newburgh, N. Y., Comrade A. S. Brown was summarily pulled off a truck, from which he was addressing an audience on the subject of Social-ism, and placed before the bar of Justice (?) on the technical charge of

"obstructing the streets."
Comrade Brown, before the Police Captain refused either to apply for a claiming that as the representative of a regularly organized political party, it was not necessary, or to discontinue his speech, unless he was locked up. whole matter ended in a complete backdown by "His Honor.' Comrade Brown was discharged or the spot, and returned immediately to where he was hauled away from the law-breaking capitalist lackeys. large and enthusiastic audience, which had in the meantime gathered, was addressed for an hour and the truths of the class struggle PLAINLY STATED. We hope the Constitution breakers will take the lesson to heart and under-stand that the S. L. P., which stands for the rights and libertles of the ing class, will resent any interference that stands in the way of its mission.

Uncle Sam & Brother Jonathan

Brother Jonathan-There is a snag that the Socialists are bound to run up against; and when they do, up the spont they'll go.

Uncle Sam—Why, that's interesting.
We are of the opinion that we have clean sailing before us.

B. J.—Not much; and I'll show you.

If the Socialists get into power their aim will be to acquire possession of the present machinery of production. S .- For the people; yes.

B. J.-And they are not going to send policemen and troops to oust the present possessors without further ado: they will put their acts upon a legal basis, otherwise their example of violence would instigate the most violent passions from their own camp-follow-ers; that might be found difficult to eurb. I know that Socialists seek the most peaceful solution possible; they are not going to set the example or give a color for violence; eh?
U. S.-I don't know just what you are driving at, or have in mind by all that. But, to help you to a head, I'll say, Yes, we shall certainly put our acts upon a legal basis; what then?

-Then you will be caught tight. U. S.-How so?

B. J.—Because there isn't money enough in the country to buy out legally the present capitalists. Thus you will stand before the alternative of either taking forcible possession by confiscatory procedure, or to give up the plan of acquiring possession being unable to do so legally.

U. S.-Heavens! Are you there yet?
Why, man, this objection about "confiscation" has been flattened out flatter than a pancake-

B. J.-Then you mean to confiscate? U. S.-I shall leave that question aside for two reasons: First, because it has been amply answered before; but secondly, and above all, because the point you raise about "buying out" the capitalists is a peculiarly interest-ing one. I shall meet it with a broad-side-of-the-wedge answer: There will be no want of money to buy out your Messrs. Capitalists—

B. J. staggers back with a grunt of amazement.
U. S.—And by the most approved legal and lawful style, too.

B. J. (beside himself with wonderment)—How? How? Your Congress and Legislatures will have to appoint Committees to appraise that capital; the capital in the country is worth billions upon billions; where will you get that money from? Where— U. S.—Not so fast. We SHALL appoint Committees to appraise—B. J. (testily)—And there you will

U. S.-Let's see. The following has happend in Massachusetts only last month: A stock-holder in a Massachusetts manufacturing concern, that was pretty low down and paying no dividends, received notice of an assessment of $100 per share. Surprised, he asked the reason for this unexpected move. One in whom he had confidence told him: "Pay the assessment and keep still." This he did. Pretty soon he received a stock dividend of—how much do you imagine?—of $100 PER SHARE! Do you catch on, what that

B. J .- I can't say I do; I am not familiar with stock transactions. U. S.-Well it means this: The capital of the corporation had been doubled water; the assessment had the appearance of a bona fide doubling the capital; but by returning the whole of the assessment, under the fraudulent guise of "stock dividends," the original capital actually remained the same. Do you understand?

B. J.-Guess I do. now. S .- Now. then. this watered wealth goes into the billions that capi-tal is made to appear as being "worth"; it swells the total of the money that the capitalist class claims for its plants. Now, do you imagine that our "Committees on Appraisement" will allow such fraudulent values to be foisted on them.

B. J.—They shouldn't!

U. S.—Neither will they. To begin with, all this fraudulent "water" will be squeezed out by our "Committees on Appraisement." It is safe to say that there goes two-thirds of the bil-lions upon billions to be bought out. Stick a pin there.

B. J.-But that don't dispose of but part of the value of the plants. U. S .- Of a very good part. Now as There is not to the other parts. capitalist concern in the land that has not defrauded the Government of The amounts of these taxes, that the Government has been cheated out of, alone runs up to hundreds of thousands, aye, into the millions.

B. J.-Guess there is a good deal in that.

U. S .- Do you imagine that our "Committees on Appraisement" look into that item, ascertain it, cal-culate the interest due on it, and deduct the whole gross sum from the amount that remains after the water is squeezed out?

B. J.—Guess not. U. S.—That done, do you imagine that our "Committee on Appraisement" will neglect to look into all the viola-tions of law, of which not one of this tions of law, of which not one of this capitalist concerns is innocent?

B. J.—Would they?

U. S.—Bet your eye-balls they will.
Leave it to that Committee, a veritable Committee of Safety, with the Law in their hands, the very laws passed by that brigand class of Capitalist to hoodwink the workers with, that "Committee on Appraisement" will cause these violators of the Law—who, by their violations of the Law—who, by their violations of the Law—who, by their violations of the Law have often and again caused the loss of life

besides the loss of limbs-, to pay the full penalty of their misdemeanors and felonies both by fines and imprison mentsB. J.-But, at that rate, there will be hardly anything left to pay— U. S.—You now discover that your

"snag" is no snag ahead for Socialism?

B. J.—I begin to realize that.

U. S. (with a devout look)—And that whole thing can be done very lawfully? B. J.—Yes, indeed; without a jar.

U. S.—And you perceive also that there will be no danger of a money there will be no danger of a money famine to buy out the capitalists? B. J.—"Money famine"!? I should say, no. 'That "Committee on Appraisement" will positively make money easy. The price of the plants will have been paid off clean. U. S. (sympathetically)-No; not entirely. There may be a balance of a nickle in favor of the capitalists, and that amount will be religiously paid over to those of them who have not landed in jail. Do you see?

B. J.-I see.

HICKEY CLARIFYING KAN-SAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 28 .- Comrade Hickey finished a six days engagement here yesterday evening. It is safe to say that during that time the cause of Socialism in these parts took a long leap forward. Bad weather in-terferred on several occasions to cut attendance at meetings, but others made up for them. The Sunday afternoon meeting in Labor Hall was attended by over three hundred people. Comrade Hickey's subject was the New versus the Old Trades Unionism, and he held his audience for over two and he held his audience for over two and a half hours; afterwards there was another hour given to questions, during which several of the local fakir crowd gave an exhibition of themselves; so well had the audience understood our comrade's lecture that the queries of the fakirs were met with laughter all swered.

But most important of all. Comrade Hickey leaves a different Section in Kansas City to what he found on arrival. It is not to be wondered at that rival. It is not to be wondered at that in this city, which is the birth place of the "Appeal to Reason," we had many, who, despite their membership in the S. L. P., still considered the "Appeal" "a good paper," and its tactics "all right to reach those who don't understand our tactics," etc. In fact many of our most earnest workers many of our most earnest workers have in time past done their share in spreading the confusion taught by Wayland's sheet. The writer himself must plead guilty. There was also manifest in the Section a "spirit of toleration" à la "Appeal" for everything "coming our way." But it is all over now. In a meeting held yesterday evening for the special benefit of over now. In a meeting min yester day evening for the special benefit of the Section. Comrade Hickey went thoroughly into the history of these people who are "coming our way." which is something that not even those who have been holding out for straight tactics the past year, were acquainted with. At the close of Hickey's ad-dress, the following resolution was presented and adopted without a dissenting vote:

where the many and the management of the Socialist Labor Party, both by assertion and inference charging corruption of its national officers, without offering any proof whatever, and refusing to notice demands for such proofs; and whete Merkels to notice demands for such proofs; and whete Merkels to notice demands for such proofs; and whete Merkels. The "Appeal to Reason" supports the Social Democratic party, an institution organized expressly to trade on the awakening Socialist sentiment of the country and divert it to middle class purposes; and the leaders of which party have by both speech and writings proven themselves ignorant sentimentalists where they were not scheming rascals; in evidence of which purposes and such support the "Appeal to Reason" consistently leaves place in its policy for middle class propaganda, to wit is avoring "public ownership of all MONO-POLIES," "leaving "monopolies" undefined: devoting much space to municipal ownership which is now agitating the middle class; showing what low rates can be given to patrons of municipally owned water and light plants, etc., and what profits can be made by the cities owning same; linting at reduced taxation, etc., all of which is positively of no benefit to the working class, but can the contrary, a source of gravest danger, inasmuch as it tends to rivet more firmly on them the domination of a decadent class; devoting space to direct legislation, which prin-iple, "crouse of the ignorance of the masses concerning the economic question, would, if adopted now, but be a weapon for every demanogue who could gain public atteation providing present conditions were sufficiently denounced, which is within the ability of the most is, over the contract and WHEREAS, The "Appeal to Reason" openly applauds middle class radicals;

The Section has sent in a large ofder for Kautsky's pamphlets, for "Re-form or Revolution" and "What Means This Strike?", also for several copies of "Capital." Next week or within two weeks at most the Section will subscribe for four hundred copies weekly of the Party press, THE PEO-PLE, "The Tocsin," "The Class Strug-gle" and "Worker's Call." Comrade Hickey secured 28 subscriptions to THE PEOPLE.

On this same Monday evening a mixed local of the S. T. & L. A. was started with sixteen charter members. On the whole, Section Kansas City has enlisted for the war. Fakirs and fuszies should take notice.

PITTSBURG, Pa.-Perhaps no highcompliment could be paid to the inciples of the S. L. P. then the one principles of the S. L. P. then the one fact that there are so many cheap, counterfeit, bungling imitations. No man ever attempts to counterfeit a counterfeit. It is always the true genuine article that is counterfeited; and this will apply to Socialism as well as to money and many other things. The clear-cut, clear philosophy of the principles of the S. L. P. in the form: of the class struggle of to-day commands admiration for many reasons.

of the class striggle of to-day com-mands admiration for many reasons. Counterfelt Socialism and "Mee-too" Socialists exist as a matter of course, Many of these self-styled "Socialists" lany of these self-styled "Socialists" are "independent" simply because they are not Socialists at all. We hear them say that every man has his own opinions of what constitutes Socialism. Yet had they anything like a wellgrounded knowledge of sociology they could not remain ignorant of the fact that Socialism is not a matter of indi-ridual opinion at all. Modern Social-ism is the concensus of opinion. Som is the visible form of the most advanced thought of the finest minds of our time, gathered from every quarter of the earth. It remained for the g. L. P. to gather up these priceless ends of thought coming from every point of the compass, and weave them into connected and consecutive form in the shape of the S. L. P., its platform and principles;—decidedly a concensus

Many of these "Me-too" Socialists do not connect themselves with the S. L. P. because it costs a dollar or two oc-P. Decause it costs a doint or two occasionally, and because the Party is too narrow, or too "intolerant," or too much "bossism," or too much this, that or the other,—all of which only exists in their own imaginations. It is markedly characteristic of the super-ficial economist, the raw and unclarified, that he is always a fadist, a one idea man. Having casually noticed some one disease in the body politic, he straight-way jumps to the conclusion that a "Reform" of one item will cure the whole body of society. Hence your mere fadist, observing through an inverted telescope, sagely remarks that Socialism is "too narrow." But being a "Me-too" Socialist he straight-way becomes fired with a heroic ambition to "improve," to "broaden." to "Americanize." He is going to teach Socialism as it ought to be taught. Our years of a valuable experience, that has developed this concensus of opinion, cuts no figure whatever with And so we have "colonization" Socialists, and co-operative factory"

Socialist, is fast becoming equivalent to a claim of superiority, and so we have all kinds of "Me-toos," merely trading upon the principles and reputation of the S. L. P. They are merely fadists, hollow, shallow and superficial, and in most cases entirely hypocritical and deliberately misleadng for criminal purposes. The latest arrival of this kind of one idea fadists is the muncipal ownership fellow of the Mayor Jones-Pingree type of hybrid. Under the present capitalistic system (i. e., the capitalist ownership of the land and tools of production, that inevitably produces wage slavery), it is exceedingly doubtful if the public control of any or all public services would bring any substantial benefits to the working class. One thing might just as well be clearly understood without going any further; and that is

this fact: SOCIALISM AND CAPI-TALISM CANNOT EXIST SIDE BY

Coupling all this with the fact that the capitalist class holds the key to the economic situation in the shape of land and tools of production, they of land and tools of production, they will inevitably find ways and means to more than neutralize all the experted benefits. Every reduction in the living expenses of the workingman only opens the way for a reduction of wages under the present system. Trimming of a twig here and there only stimulates the root. We must socialize causes the tool of production) and effects (one of which is municipal misgogramment). me tool of production) and effects (one of which is municipal misgovernment) will disappear. International Socialism will as a matter of course mean and include the Socialism of the nation, the State, the city. The tool of production is the foundation, and the only one. Other foundation hath no socialism than this; and therefore is not Socialism. Their counterfeit Socialism. They are not clear, they are not clear, they are not class-conscious, they do not recognize on admit the class struggle, they are unsound in their economics, they dicker with capitalistic parties for a Juda's price.

One of the best illustrations of the sillyness of this capitalistic Socialism has been furnished by the Government purchase of the slack water system on the Monongahela River. Up until two years ago this slack water system was the property of a corporation, who charged stiff lockage rates and made a good thing out of it. After many years of agitation, the Government bought it out at an exorbitant price, and it is it out at an exorbitant price, and it is now "free." What has been the re-sults, and particularly to the working people?

First, the wages and other economic conditions of the 40,000 miners along its banks have not been affected a par-ticle by the "one step at a time social-izing" of the Monogahela system; it has never even been mentioned in wage or other disputes.

Second, it has had absolutely no effect whatever upon the price of coal: the "down river" workman gets his coal no cheaper; the selling price of la-bor and selling price of product has not been effected at all.

Third, to the employes of the lock-age system it is quite another matter.

Under the corporation, of course, they were capitalistic employes and were treated as such. When the system became Government property, of course, the employes becomes Government em-ployes; and when we call to mind the existence of a national eight-hour law applying to Government employés, this specimen of "one thing at at time Socialism" becomes interesting. The business of the first ten months of the "free" system exceeded any previous year, yet the number of employés re-mained the same as before; wages were not increased; and the hours of for the night turn,-just as under the corporation. The employes inform me that the traffic on the river is constantly increasing, yet only at lock No. 1 extra men are employed only occasionally. Again, the employes at No. 1 and the other lower locks where they have no nearly slaves constantly have are nearly always constantly busy sometimes not getting time to eat during the entire turn, get the same pay up at No. 9 where they hardly "lock" more than three or four times a

This specimen of "Socialism" has proven reactionary, apparently a step backward. No one has been benefited except a few capitalists. Not one workingman has been benefited, while many have been seriously injured. Verily the little finger of capitalistic Government is thicker than the loins of private capitalism.

The same social atmosphere will not sustain both Socialism and Capital-ism. H. A. GOFF.

That S. D. P. Mass. State Convention

To THE PEOPLE.—The "Volkszeitung" will doubtlessly be pleased to learn that it has secured an ally in its position on the tax question. So far the evidence produced in support of that position had the vefy great merit of having nothing whatever to do with the matter in hand. This of course is not sufficient to make their position sure but when the S. D. P. A. comes forward in its convention in Massachusetts and delivers litself of the same idea, then, and not till then, do we realize with what a wall of adamant the "Volkszeitung" has surrounded itself. The convention was discussing the subject of an income tax plank, and one Solon arose and opposed it. "All taxes were paid by the working class," he said, "and therefore it would not be wise for us who are Socialists to add to the burden." For that reason he stood opposed to taxes of all sorts, "the Co-operative Commonwealth would not be based on taxes and the poor people could then escape them." The rest of the delegates applauded and nodded their heads wisely; but Mr. Chase arose and said that while the brother had spoken well, we must remember that it was customary for Socialist parties to have income tax planks in their platform and so the S. D. P., being international, must have one also. Who will now dare say the "Volkszeitung" has not reason on its side? The convention as a whole was funny. There was a long and wordy discussion on the subject of buttons and an equally instructive debate on the subject of the greatness and the glory of Mr. Carey. Some disturber "in their midst" introduced, a resolution o demand from their N. E. C. a financial report now and then. This was voted down because it would not be well to allow the public to know what was going on! Mr. Konikow jarred the feelings of the brother and sister delegates by his exceedingly frequent and ill-timed resolving, but he was usually voted down, so no income of place it would be well for Mr. Konikow to resolve to live and learn. Everyone who has met Squire Pu That S. D. P. Mass. State Conventios

when I started out before the convention ended I was stopped by a genfleman with that purely "American movement" known as "So 'elp me Chimmeny, it vits." He introduced me to many unpronuncables, and at last let me into the secret of his own identity. He was a friend of mine, having on one occasion contradicted me. That might establish a close friendship, but it by no means made him a blood relation of mine. We discussed amicably for five seconds the opposition which the S. D. P. was receiving, or was supposed to receive, from Socialists, then my friend told me very loudly that I was a mud-slinger. He asserted that THE PEOPLE was a "tam llar." He avered that De Leon was a bigot and scoundrel. He declared that Vogt should be hung, and that there were some men who were just as good Socialists as he, who would yet hang him. He asseverated that truth, honestry, decency, courage, sincerly, maniliness, broadness, were all absent from the S. L. P. He swore that maliciousness, lying invective, a propensity to use the dagger between the short ribs, falsehood, defamition of good men, narrowness, vileness, backwardness in winning victories, repulsiveness, currish, insolent, maddening crueity were our predominating characteristics. Then to cap the ciliums he shouted that the S. L. P. members wasked around thinking themselves more noteworthy than the famous William-let-him-be-anathema, or, as he is better known. "Billie Be-Dammed." "Fy, fy." Comrade Corcoran ejacutated, "you wouldn't abuse us, would you."

When he violently announced that he would abuse us, it offered a few remarks calculated to sooth things, but they aroused the Debsites to anger. My friend shook his first and dodged behind his own crowd." Tud, for von fir cen, ser-mash dat mut, thrower's face.

Then like a child he shed weeps. Large billowy tears ran down his furrowed cheek, making the furrow as it ran, forced to devastate the soil in order to do so. The others chimed in with odd remarks, and one Haverhillite said with as much trony in his voice as his ang

All his life he has been an old woman idling in the sun, and the rays from good natured toilers have held body and meanness together in him. That support of men like Carey is one of the taxes the "Volkszeitung" has overhooked, or, if we take its position on the trades union question, it is one which it wishes to see retained.

The S. D. P. insulted the workers of Boston by allowing Gordon to speak ou the Common. In classifying human beings Fred G. R. must be set down as a dribble. He is one of the worst products of a system perfect in its ability to produce crooks. Very few men are more expert in yielding to temptation than he.

To THE PEOPLE.—I have just read your history of the rise and downfall of Ruskin. I put in some 4 months there during 1897, afterwards I went to Fairhope Colony on Mobile Bay, and afterward have come to this colony, where I have remained ever since. I have had anusual opportunities to study and investigate these fake "Socialistic Co-operation" concerns, and having sufficient means to make myself independent of them, have never joined any of them. Light from Milford, Ct.

Te. THE PEOPLE.—The resolution, published in the "Volkszeitung" of last May 30, alleged to be from Section Milford, was the product of arbitrary and deliberately dishbreat acts on the part of the Financial Secretary of Section Milford, who, before the announcement of a proposed special meeting, took it upon himself to accept new members said to be of outside Sections, and transferred them to our Section for the purpose of securing a majority. The said "Special Session" DID NOT TAKE PLACE. Among the doubtful members were three Poles, alleged to be of Section Ansonia; one of these, being asked whether he knew what the "meeting" had done, answered: "No"; being thereupon informed of what had happened, he said: "Had I known that, I would not have voted."

None of those present at the alleged special meeting can read English, nor does any of them keep a Party organ; aside from Poles, two read. That is the whole soapuner in which it was manufactured here by people who don't care to know anything of the "resolution," and the manuel which it was manufactured here by people who don't care to know anything of our Party tactics, or were used as voting cattle. I send this as a correction: Section Milford has had nothing to do with the thing.

Organizer of Section Milford, conn.

P. S.—I have sent an exact copy of this to the "New Yorker Volkszeitung."—G. L.

For the enlightenment of our readiFor the enlightenment of our readers the following explanation is necessary...On last May 30, the "New Yorker Volkszeitung" published at the head of a front-page column, in bourgeois leaded and with faming head-lines, a "resolution" denunciatory of the National Executive, the Party organs, Party totion of the second of the page 10 or Party tactics, etc., etc.,-all in the approved style of such productions—, and purporting to have been "extensively debated" in, and then "unanimously adopted" by Section Milford, Conn. The whole thing looked, to say the least, fishy. It bore not the signature of the Organizer, the authorized officer to make reports, but, instead, it bore three signatures of unauthorized persons. For this reason it was ignored in these columns. That explains the above correction from the Organizer. It should here be added that the "New Yorker Voikszeitung," which promptly and prominently published the fraudulent report from Milford, has SUP-PRESSED THE OFFICIAL CORDECTION SENT TO IT BY THE OR. to make reports, but, instead, it bore

RECTION SENT TO IT BY THE OR-GANIZER OF THE SECTION. The main purpose of the publication in these columns of the Organizer's statement, and of the explanations hereby attached thereunto, is to convey, via the English readers, this important information to those deluded German comrades whose source of information would otherwise be limited to the "Volkszeltung."-Ed. Cood Tidings from Spokane, Wash.

To THE PEOPLE Section Spokane is growing steadily and the membership is of the class-conscious sort that can't be muddled by "tax-reformers," "municipalizers," "can de colequists," or even the "broad," "American Socialism" of Carey, Debs and Wayland. The trades unions here are not very strongly Gemperized, and they listen attentively to speeches "explaining the causes of the importance of pure and simile trades unionism." The Organizer has addressed several of the unions here in their halls at their own invitation, and finds them on the road to class-consciousness. There is a strong movement on foot on the part of the capitalists to crush the inbor or ganizations and it is not unlikely that "harmony" à la Wardner will prevail in Spokane this summer. The cupitalist in this neck of the woods seems bound to illustrate what we use teaching; that the Government is meetly the weapon of the capitalist class. After they have illustrated this well, the proletariat will follow our advice and quit destroying its own property; vote itself into the law-unsking and law-enforcing places; aboiled hage slavery and class rule, and try the novel experiment of worrying along sans slave, sans owner.

Long live the Socialist Republic!

Some More about Bro. (?) Daly of the C.F.U. & Metal Polishers etc. To THE PEOPLE.—This is a continuation of my narrative of facts concerning one Bro. (2) T. M. Daly's sale purpose of doing better work for his suffering fellow crafts-men.

For some time after the election of Daly as Business Agent, the members in general were kicking at paying extra towards the support of an idler.
To give something in return for the $15 a to the got be promised to get members

To give something in return for the $15 a week he got, he promised to get members into the organization, but it appeared that that was not very easily done though very easy to promise.

There is a Joint Committee of New York, This Joint Committee consists of a delegate from each local which is willing to pay the pro rata share of the salary and other expenses of the Business Agent. The Committee meets every week, hears reports of the different branches of the trade, and instructs and supervises the Business Agent accordingly. So as to make the hurden accordingly. So as to make the hurden easier, this Joint Committee wanted him to get the Newark and Jersey City locals to join the Joint Committee wanted him to get the Newark and Jersey City locals to join the Joint Committee, that would reduce the pro rata share of the salary of the Business Agent levied upon the members.

But Bro. (?) Daly refused to do it. That would be too much work for him, and he was the victor.

At the next meeting of the Joint Commit.

Business Agent levied upon the members.
But Bro. (?) Daly refused to do it. That would be too much work for him, and he was the victor.

At the next meeting of the Joint Committee, Daly was very jubilant and revealed the extraordinarily good (?) news, that he would, within a few days, organize a new Moulders' local which would be attached to the Joint Committee.

Ualy's attention was called to the fact that it was a most ruscally proceeding to organize an oposition union to an organization, because said organization kicked on paying the salary of an unnecessary donothing; and that a sweond charter cannot be granted according to the National Constitution, Art. XIII., Sec. 15. to wit:

"The President shall not issue more than one charter to each branch of the trade in any one city."

He answered in a long speech that the present local was no good and was not faithful to the National Union, and by organising a new local the trade would be bettered in general; as to the charter, that would be all right, he would fix that.

July was asked, "What about the prize of $10 given for forming a new local? To whom will telelong?"

This at a time when he was Business Agent and getting paid for doing just that work. "I am doing the work and not you; go ahead and do it yourselves if you can, and the money will belong to you." said he. After some arguing the Joint Committee dropped the matter and waited for developments.

Meanwhile the moulders wondered what was to become of them, so they joined the Joint Committee to prevent the foundation of an opposition union. About January last the contract—the only one in New York—letween the union and the J. L. Motts Irou Works had to be renewed.

Daly promised many important improved shop regulations, particularly that the firm shall not discharge any man without cause.

Acter many interviews and consultations among the "leaders." a special meeting was the matter, he excused himself on the pieca of lack of time to thoroughly consider the question.

There is another "labor leader" in this city whom the members of the Metal Polishers'. Buffers' Platers' and Brass Workers' International Union book upon with wonder, not unmixed with awe, and he is J. E. Fitzgerald, First Vice-Fresident of the International Union. He is a "Socialist-too," but not a "bigoted, narrow-minded one, like those of the S. L. P." He is a great friend of "Little Billie" Bryan, Henry George, Debs. Croker, and municipal ownership. Shouts about the "burden of taxation," etc., etc. He is broad-minded and a "Journal" expansionist.

Being asked why he, as First Vice-President, did not call Daly to task for manufacturing strikes at Michel & Vauch's, said he would do so as soon as possible, but has not—as yet. The truth is he dare not, as Daly makes it worth Fitzle's time to slick to him, Daly, by giving him jobs as committeeman occasionally, said jobs paying So a day and more.

Such neople as Daly and Fitzy preach to the working class "no politics in the union" "no class-consciousness", "make good (?) use of your ballot"; "organize and pay high dues, as it is only then can an organization be kept up"; "fight capital with capital," etc., etc.

dues, as it is only then can an organization be kept up"; "fight capital with capital, etc., etc.

To my fellow brass workers I would say; You feel the necessity for a true union of the trade; that the necessity exists; the fact is indisputable; if you want to better your condition, then organize on clear-cut class-conscious lines, under the banner of the Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance. If you are tired of being cheated by cock and buil stories of how much the pure and simple union will benefit you, if you are tired of being robbed by political heelers of large sums of money. If you are tired of health of as black hearted a crew as ever scuttled an organization, if you are tired of istenting to yahoos who know about as much of the trend of modern industry as a pix knows of astronomy, if you are tired of being displaced by the machine and when such happens being given flippant answers by ignoramuses whom you have elected to sieer your ship of organization through such peritous channels, then you must join hands with the great body of workingmen, who, organized under the banner of the S. T. & L. A., have sworn to achieve the cmancipation of the working class from the thraildom of capitalism and have as an earnest of that intention, thrown overboard into the sea of infamous oblivion the fakir crew who "steered" for the capitalist.

A COMRADE. PEKIN. ILL.—"Philosophical Anarchy." Is a crazy term. Anarchy excludes philosophy, and philosophy Anarchy. The title however has been assumed by people who claim to be "Anarch. Ists," whatever that may mean to them; but, since they are of an "easy going" disposition, and don't want to be taken for the "bomb-throwing" variety, they have dubbed themselves "Philosophical." A Socialist can not be an Anarchist—whether of the "pose-water" or the "dirty water" variety. If you come across a "Philosophic Anarchist," you need not be alarmed; they are quite inoffensive. But if you come across a "Socialist Thilosophic Anarchist," you had better be on your guard. These specimens are either crooks or crazy.

TO THE MANY WHOM THIS MAY CONCERS.—Your communications to this office out the Tax Question and in communication of the "Volkszeitung" are too numerous to publish. The communications which you sent to the "Volkszeitung" and were suppressed by it, and you now send us,—they alone would be numerous enough to fill a special edition of THE PEOPLE. As occasion serves, one or other may be published. But the matter may now be considered settled. In point of the scientific principle involved, and in point of statistics the "Volkszeitung" has been amply flattened out. What now remains to be settled is of a different nature.

H. W. R., NEWARK, N. J.—That statement about Bohm and the S. T. & L. A. is absolutely faise. It was one of the mendacities that Kurzenknabe set afford. The present retailer of it to you, evidently a friend of Kurzenknabe's, should have, one should think, his hands full in defending his friend, who was turned down by his own Union on the charge of embezzlement. Bohm has enough to answer for; but of that charge he is innocent. At any rate, it is not for Kurzenknabeltes to throw stones at Bohm.

Bohm.

L. W. J., CHICAGO, ILL.—No; we don't scare worth a cent. What of it were the "Volkszeitung" to "kick the traces and turn completely against the Party"? Let it. As an outspoken and known foe, it can do the Party no harm. It can, under its present management, harm the Party only because, being considered a Party paper, its bourgeols articles on taxation, its pure and simple trade union attitude, and its other sinfulnesses may mislead the unthinking into taking its utterances for "Socialism." and may cause the capitalist parties to use its utterances against the Party. All that ceases the moment the paper "kicks the traces." Keep a stiff upper lip.

Comrades—At the last session of the National Executive Committee, S. L. P., a number of coraplaints were received and read coming from subscribers to the Party organ. THE PEOPLE to the effect that they had received a so-called "Monthly Edition of the New Yorker Volkszeltung," containing matter injurious to the Party and for the dissemination of which the mailing list of THE PEOPLE had evidently been used because the wrappers, in which the aforesaid sheet had been sent, bore the address labels of THE PEOPLE with the term of subscription credited thereon. The compisionants conclude that there must be a traitor in our camp to make such a thing possible, and they deem it their duty to call attention to this under-handed work.

The National Executive Committee, upon hearing these complaints, and in view of the fact that the railing list of THE PEOPLE is the result of the tireless work of the Party membership all over the land and must not be diverted to purposes hostile and antagonistic to the principles and the tactles of the Party, instructed the undersigned to communicate with your Board demanding an explanation as to who is responsible for the act of treachery that has evidently been committed.

Awaiting your reply, I am Yours truly.

NATIONAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE and Office of NATIONAL SECRETARY,

184 William St. New York, May 24, 1809.

New York, May 24, 1899.

To the Board of Directors, Socialistic Cooperative Publishing Association, 184 Wiliam street, New York City.

Comrades:—It has been brought to the attention of the National Executive Committee, S. L. P., that, with the last issue of the German Party organ, "Vorwaerts," there has been issued an alleged supplement, wherein the principles and policy of the S. L. P. are assailed, said "supplement" appearing as an integral part of the Party organ, and being so designated in the title. In view of the fact, that neither the duly elected Editor of said organ, nor the National Executive Committee, has been consulted in this matter, the said "supplement" having been sanugglied in, this action, from whatever quarter it may emanate, appears, apart from its treasonable aspect, like a gross breach of the contract existing between the National Executive Committee on the one hand and the Publishing Association on the other. The National Executive Committee to communicate with your Board, with a view of ascertaining whether the act compiained of has been committed by order of your body.

Awaiting an early reply, I am Yours truly.

HENRY KUHN, Secretary. III.

National Executive Committee, S. L. P.

Dear Comrades:—We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letters dated the 15th inst. and the 24th inst., inquiring respectively what right we had to use the mailing list of THE PEOPLE, and whether or not the last Supplement to the "Vorwaerts" had been issued as such by authority of our

the last Supplement to the "Vorwaerts' had been issued as such by authority of our Board.

From the nature of both inquiries we conclude that the present members of the National Executive Committee are not quite familiar with the arrangements under which THE PEOPLE and the "Vorwaerts" are being published, and in the interest of a better understanding between our respective bodies, we think it proper to set forth those arrangements at length:

In the beginning of 1891 when the "Workmen's Advocate" the predecessor of THE PEOPLE, was on the verge of bankruptey, our Association (the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association, came to the rescue of the Party by entering with the latter into a written agreement, of which the following is a copy:

"AGREEMENT, made between the Socialist Labor Party and the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association.

It is hereby agreed:

I. The Socialist Labor Party agrees to discontinue the publication of the "Workmen's Advocate" with the issue dated March 28th, 1891, and to transfer the subscription list of the same to the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association.

2. The Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association agrees to publish on April 5th, 1891, the first issue of THE PEOPLE and to fill out the undischarged balance of sill the prepaid subscriptions of the "Workmen's Advocate"

3. The Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association agrees to reserve so much of the first column of the said fifth page shall be headed: "Workmen's Advocate," and the space used by the S. L. P. shall be under the sole and exclusive control of the said S. L. P. or its National Executive Committee.

4. The Chief-Editor of THE PEOPLE shall be elected jointly by the National Executive Committee.

4. The Chief-Editor of THE PEOPLE shall be elected jointly by the National Executive Committee of the S. L. P. and the Board of Trustees of the S. C. P. Ass'u, and a majority of each of said Boards shall be required to elect. In case the said Boards cannot agree on an Editor, a general vote of the members of the S. L. P. shall decide.

Dated, March, 1891."

A similar agreement was subsequently made for the publication of the "Vorwarets," with the difference that the latter since its publication was assumed by our Association never had an independent existence at all, but was simply the weekly edition of the "Volkszeitung," with the additional heading of the "Vorwarets" on it, and that the space given to the Party in that edition was limited to but five columns. Acting upon the letter and spirit of these agreements, our Association has founded THE PEOPLE and has ever since been publishing both organs.

Thus you see our Association has always been and now is a sole owner of both THE

PEOPLE and the "Vorwaerts" and everything connected with them including the mailing list as well as the right of issuing the said organs in any form it may desire, and with or without a supplement, as it may think best: The rights of the Party to those organs are limited to the choice of the Editors in conjunction with our Board, and to the unrestricted use and of a limited space of each of the said organs for Party may think best: The rights of the Fally those organs are limited to the choice of the Editors in conjunction with our Board, and to the unrestricted use and of a limited space of each of the said organs for Party purposes.

And this is not a bare legal claim, but a good moral right as well.

The arrangement set forth in the agreement above quoted, was by no means a business arrangement: Our Association could never expect any pecuniary benefit set apart as a fund for the publication of a DAILY PEOPLE, on the other hand, however, we assumed the entire burden of all deficits and lesses arising from the publication of those organs without receiving any contribution worth mentioning from the party. And those decicits were until recently quite heavy. From the date of the agreement until this date our Association has paid decicits of THE PEOPLE, with a zeal worthy of a better purpose commenced his campaign of petry and malicious shander against our Association and its members, and of hisparelle. Homanacered and entirely unprovoked attacks against its brother organ, the "New Yorker Volkszeitung," a campaign in which he was ably seconded by the Editor of the "Vorwaerts.

The sight now offered to the members of our Party was something that was never precedented and, it is to be hoped, will never be repeated in the alistory of our movement. A few theoretical questions of very subordinate importance to the work of the Party, and on which, by the way, the stand of the "Volkszeitung" was, in our opinion, fully in accord with the principles of scientific Socialism, were made the pretext for the vilest abuses against a Party organ that had served the interests of Socialism unflinchingly and tirelessly over twenty years. The Editor of THE PEOPLE PILE seemed to have forgotten all other missions of our Party organ and exhausted his entire famous vocabulary of abuses on tacks and to give our side of the case to planation, moderate in tone and style and tery pertinent in substance, and as a matter of mere courtesy, applied to your publishing the same. And this without giving us any opportunity to present our side of the case!

We are a self-respecting body of Socialists, sirs, and we could not afford to remain branded as enemies to the Party in the eyes of our comrades; our defense had to be published. Our contracts with the Party having been grossly violated by you through your refusal to allow us even a small part of the space reserved to us in our organs, we could resume the sole awnership of the same and continue their publication in a manner more subservient to the interests of the Iarry than at present; we could also order our explanation published in THE PEOPLE and "Vorwaerts" without consulting anybody, or we could publish our defense in a separate edition or as a supplement to either of the two organs, and thus reach the members of the Party and our own subscribers.

We chose the latter as the most peaceful means, desiring to avoid a breach with the present members of the National Executive Committee. We authorized and ordered the see of the mailing list of THE IPEOPLE and the issue of the supplement to the "Vorwaerts" and shall do so again and as often as occasion requires until your body comes to a better comprehension of the duties of the mast placed in its hands by the Party and ceases to deny us the right of self-defense as it did in flagrant violation of the most elementary principles of common decency, the principle of according to fine accused the right of defense, which is respected agen by the most reactionary with criminals of the most dangerous character.

with criminals of the most dangerous characters.

We shall refrain from answering such flattering epithets as "act of treachery." "undershain work" and slindar expressions with which your letters abound—they are only enabellishments of style; but we certainly protest against the designation of our publication as "matter injurious to the Party." That phrase, which seems to be borrowed from some of the Pope's encyclias is sorely out of place in a communication of the National Executive Committee of the S. L. P. Our issue consisted of our explanation and a series of articles on the question of taxation, our readers might agree or disagree with us, but we believe our Party is based on a sound scientific basis, and can stand the light of criticism, we believe in placing everything pertaining to Party matters before the forum of the membership, and from that point of view we do not regard even the scandalous attacks of THE PEOPLE injurious matter, all the less a dispassionate and decent criticism of Party affairs, such as was contained in our publication in question.

Your trill, BOARD OF DIRECTORS,

ery step a strict account of their ac-tions and an absolute compliance with its decisions. The very same method of dealing with legal impediments nat-urally suggested itself to the German Socialists of New York when, having Socialists of New Jork when, having resolved to publish a newspaper in the German language, they not only formed the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association for this primary and immediate purpose, but further extended its declared object to the publication of Socialist purpose and these lication of Socialist papers and litera-ture in other languages. As obviously appears from all the well known facts of that time, taken in close connection with the very words of the constitution of the Association, its members tion of the Association, its members were in their own view of themselves, as well as in the estimation of all the other Party members, the mere trustees (Vertrauensmänner) of the Party, especially appointed to create and develop a Party press, subject at all times to Party control, regardless of any property rights which the capi-talistic law of the State vested in them, and which, by the superior law of Socialist ethics, they were bound to

of Socialist ethics, they were bound to never enforce, claim, or even mention. It were, indeed, preposterous to conceive that the Party, jealous as it was of its independence, quick to resent the merest appearance of dictation, and suspicious of any scheme savoring of capitalistic methods, would have not only countenanced but induced and promoted in its midst the formation of private concern for the avowed object of placing in the hands of a com-paratively few of its members the entire possession and absolute control of its own mightiest weapon—the Party

II.—AS TO THE "WORKMEN'S AD-VOCATE."

Not only, then, was the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association built up by the Party as a special Par-ty agency for a special Party purpose, but care was taken to make no pre-mature demands upon it that might retard its growth and consequently retard its growth and consequently impair its future efficiency in the con-templated work of establishing at the proper time an English daily. The Sections "agitated" for the "Volkszei-tung"; the Socialist unions advertised in its columns; subscriptions were opened to cover its deficits, pay its opened to cover its denotes, pay its debts, or increase its means; entertain-ments were given for its benefit, num-bers of which yielded large sums of money, etc., etc. Yet the Party, which in the meantime was painfully gaining adherents among the English-speaking workingmen, and which imperatively needed an English organ, undertook to publish a small weekly with its own scanty resources, thereby assuming an inevitable burden, which it might have rightfully imposed upon the Associaheavy. In the end it was somewhat reduced by a subscription list which contained valuable elements of agitation for a more effective organ. But as the deficit was still too great for the Party to bear without crippling its Party to bear without cripping its other necessary and expanding modes of propaganda, the Party finally ac-cepted the proposition made by the Association itself to take hold of the "Workmen's Advocate," enlarge its size, and otherwise do what was me-chanically and administratively rechanically and administratively required to successfully develop the paper under its new name, THE PEO-ULE. Hence the agreement of March, 1891, quoted in the above letter from he Board of Directors to the N. E. C. Observe that success at a comparatively small cost was then no longer doubtful, although largely depending, of course, upon editorial ability. The Party had changed its tactics in 1889, Its vote was confined in 1888 to the city of New York, where it had reached in that year the small figure of about 2.000; whereas in 1890 it extended to 2,000; whereas in 1530 it extended to the whole State, reaching a total of 13,000, half of which was east in the cities of New York and Brooklyn. Moreover, other States, encouraged by this marked progress, were then pre-paring to enter the field, while the orparing to enter the near, which he of ganization of Sections in various parts of the country showed not only in-creased activity but a steady accession of English-speaking workingmen. In the light of these facts the slur intended by the Board of Directors in their reference to the "bankrupt" cof the "Workmen's Advocate of the "Workmen's Advocate" might be termed ludicruous were it not so sadly characteristic of "bourgeois" no-tions and "bourgeois" business. So long as the "Workmen's Advocate" was directly published by the S. L. P., it could no more than the S. L. P. be-come bankrupt. True, the wealth of the S. L. P. does not consist in accu-nulated capital: it consists in a treas-speaks for itself. It is clearly stipulated therein that the N. E. C. of the S. L. P. shall not occupy in any one issue of THE PEOPLE or "Vor-waerts" more than one page for its own official matter (such, for instance, as the present call); the evident object of this restrictive clause being to preof this restrictive clause being to preserve the "newspaper" character of the Party organs for the purpose of general circulation among people who are not Farty members. But it is not less clearly stipulated that the S. L. P., through its Chief Editors elected in the manner therein provided for with the utmost precision, shall have the entire editorial control of the two papers, since the Editors themselves are entirely subject to the control of the S. L. P. alone. The express condition I. P. alone. The express condition, that in case of a disagreement between the Board of Directors of the Association and the National Executive Committee concerning the selection of the Chief Editor of THE PEOPLE or "Yorwagerts" he shall be elected by a "Vorwaerts" he shall be elected by a general vote of the Party, settles this question beyond the possibility of dispute. It establishes on the one hand the supreme and undivided command of the Party over the contents of its organs from the first to the last line of their every issue; and on the other mines: the position of a mechanical and clerical agency of the Party for the publication of Party papers, without any editorial rights whatsoever. This position the Party had neglected to emphasize when the "Volkszeitung" was founded. It should then have likewise reserved to itself the election of the Chief Editor of that paper. But without entering into a lengthy consideration of this unfortunate omission sideration of this unfortunate omission and its consequences, let it be stated here that the Party was clearer-sighted in 1891 than in 1878. Its experience had already taught it that the Party as a whole was a safer guardian of its own principles and a more reliable manager of its own affairs than a limited body of Socialists, ever so "good," so "wise," and so "trustworthy": For the reason that the individuals originally composing such a body are not eternal, that their successors may not be so perfect, and that some even of the original best are liable to change for the worse; whereas the S. L. P. is and true body, ever young, ever self-purifying, ever growing in knowledge and strength. In 1801, the Party had already seen some of the members of the Association turn Anarchists, while some others had become middle class men and a greater number were unconsciously, perhaps, but very obvious-ly evolving into Pure and Simplers. It therefore, by written agreement, made as secure and complete as it could thus be made, its editorial control of its own organs.

Yet, as it now seems, all in vain. A paper chain cannot bind a body which the Socialist spirit has fled and the "bourgeois" spirit of property invaded. Hear the Board of Directors:
"One Association has always been and "Our Association has always been and "Our Association has always been and now is a sole owner of both THE PEO-PLE and "Vorwaerts" and everything connected with them, including the mailing list as well as the right of issuing the said organs in any form it may desire, and with or without a supplement, as it may think best." The only "right" which they concede to the S.L.P. outside of a limited space for S. L. P., outside of a limited space for the publication of its official matter, is the inalienable duty of lengthening the the inalicable duty of lengthening the mailing list and otherwise using all its collective strength to pour money into the coffers of the Association, to the end that this mighty property power may the more effectually oppose the tactics and principles of the S. L. P. in its own organs, as the said power in its supreme wisdom "may think best," And again: "We authorized and ordered the use of the mailing list of THE PEOPLE and the issue of the supplement to the 'Vorwaerts' and shall do so again and as often as occasion requires until your body comes to a bet-ter comprehension of the duties of the trust placed in its hands by the Party." When was greater insolence the ac-companiment of bolder assumption?

v.—CONCLUSION.

To sum up. The comrades throughout the country are now fully informed as to the circumstances which made it imperative upon THE PEOPLE to notice the growing hostility of the "Volkszeitung" to the Party principles and Party testies. When the Regard of Directors of the Association called upon the N. E. C. with a "reply" which they requested this Committee to publish in THE PEOPLE, their attention was called in detail and at length to the practice wisterness which it was directly published by the S. I. Pic. 1995 and the most diagonal to t
