SLATERSVILLE: A Great Historic Event, Faces Brought Out by the Strike Now Going on.

Slatersville, beautifully situated as it is, on the banks of the Robinson River, is one of the oldest and most continental manufacturing centers of the United States. Its history is as full of romance and incident as any other town of its size in the country, and its industrial life has always been marked by an unusual degree of prosperity and contentment. The town is famous for its beautiful scenery, its fine schools and colleges, and its excellent climate.

One of my greatest pleasures has been to visit Slatersville, and to see the happy, healthy, active, and industrious people who are its inhabitants. The town is well known for its cotton mills, and these mills have always been operated under the most humane and benevolent conditions.

Mr. Cushman, the president of the Slatersville Cotton Mill Company, has been a great benefactor to the town, and has done much to promote the welfare of its inhabitants. He has always been a progressive man, and has constantly striven to improve the condition of his workers. He has erected fine schools and colleges, and has provided ample facilities for the education of his employees.

The town is also famous for its beautiful parks and gardens, and these have always been maintained in a most excellent manner. The town is also noted for its fine churches, and these have always been supported by the people with the greatest zeal.

Slatersville is a town of great beauty, and it is one of the most delightful places in the country. It is a town of great spirit, and it is a town of great enterprise. It is a town of great beauty, and it is a town of great future.

The town is also famous for its fine hotels and inns, and these have always been maintained in a most excellent manner. The town is also noted for its fine restaurants, and these have always been supported by the people with the greatest zeal.

Slatersville is a town of great beauty, and it is a town of great spirit, and it is a town of great enterprise, and it is a town of great beauty, and it is a town of great future.
THE PEOPLE, SUNDAY, JUNE 18, 1899.

THE VOICE OF WASHINGTON'S SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY.

SEATTLE. June 8.—At a meeting of the Washington State Committee, held this day, the following proposal was adopted: "Resolved, That the State Committee of the Socialist Labor Party of Washington hereby endeavor to secure the nomination of our friends for seats in the United States House of Representatives, as provided by Section 6 of the Filibuster Bill, as interpreted by the Speaker of the House of Representatives." The resolution received the following endorsement: "The Socialist Labor Party of Washington fully endorses the resolution of the Seattle committee." The resolution was then referred to the committee on nominations for further action.

MARYLAND.

To the Maryland and District of Columbia Members of the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, and those who have contributed to the General Agitation Fund.

Dear Friends: We, the Maryland and District of Columbia Members of the Socialist Labor Party, and those who have contributed to the General Agitation Fund, are deeply concerned with the recent developments in Baltimore. The City Executive Committee, under the leadership of S. M. Cohen, has been actively involved in organizing and supporting local chapters of the party. These chapters have been instrumental in spreading socialist ideas and increasing the party's membership. The City Committee has also been working closely with the State Committee to coordinate efforts and ensure the continuity of the party's activities.

The recent elections in Baltimore have been particularly significant. The Socialist Labor Party candidates have shown a growing strength, and our supporters have played an important role in mobilizing votes. This has been possible thanks to the hard work of our members and the dedication of those who have contributed to the General Agitation Fund. The party's success in these elections is a testament to the growing popularity of socialist ideas in Baltimore.

To those who have contributed to the General Agitation Fund, we extend our sincere gratitude for your support. Your contributions have been crucial in enabling us to carry out our work effectively. We hope that this success will inspire others to join us in the struggle for a better future. Together, we can make a significant impact on society and help shape a more equitable world.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Secretary, City Executive Committee.

THE PEOPLE.

At the May 28 convention of the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, held at Baltimore, Md., resolutions were adopted concerning various matters of interest to the party. One of the resolutions addresses the question of labor relations. The resolution states: "Resolved, That the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, in its policy of demand, recognizes the necessity of a strong labor movement. This movement must be based on the principle of self-help, and must be directed by the working class. The party will support any action that advances the cause of the working class, and will work for the establishment of a classless society.

The resolution also addresses the issue of the boycott of certain products. It states: "Resolved, That the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, in its policy of demand, recognizes the necessity of a strong labor movement. This movement must be based on the principle of self-help, and must be directed by the working class. The party will support any action that advances the cause of the working class, and will work for the establishment of a classless society.

Two resolutions concerning the Socialist Labor Party were adopted at the convention. The first resolution states: "Resolved, That the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, in its policy of demand, recognizes the necessity of a strong labor movement. This movement must be based on the principle of self-help, and must be directed by the working class. The party will support any action that advances the cause of the working class, and will work for the establishment of a classless society.

The second resolution states: "Resolved, That the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, in its policy of demand, recognizes the necessity of a strong labor movement. This movement must be based on the principle of self-help, and must be directed by the working class. The party will support any action that advances the cause of the working class, and will work for the establishment of a classless society.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, and the convention adjourned.

The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is committed to the ideals of socialism and the principles of self-help. We strive to organize the working class and promote social and economic justice. We believe in the power of collective action and the need for a classless society. The party is dedicated to the cause of the working class and committed to working towards a better future for all.