APRIL 20, 1856—The actual condition of affairs in the post-office of the City Council recently in receipt of a large number of complaints from citizens regarding the manner in which letters are handled, having been followed by a full investigation of the condition of affairs in the city.

The investigations showed that the employees of the post-office, consisting of about one hundred and fifty men and women, were found guilty of negligence and inefficiency in their duties, with the result that letters were sometimes delayed, lost, and in some cases not delivered at all. In order to correct this situation, the mayor has recently appointed a committee consisting of three members, one of whom is a postmaster, to make an examination of the post-office and report its findings.

A number of the employees have been dismissed, and new ones appointed in their place. The mayor has also ordered that a system of regular inspection be established, to ensure that the post-office is operated in an efficient manner.
