Does TAXATION at all Afflict them, and HOW?

It was a waste of time to undertake a political campaign. In the current political climate, the government is actively suppressing political activity. Many workers are being targeted by the police, who are accused of using excessive force and engaging in racial profiling.

In the meantime, workers are struggling to make ends meet. Many are facing wage theft, poverty, and lack of access to basic necessities. The current economic system is designed to exploit workers, and workers are increasingly becoming aware of this.

Meanwhile, the government is preparing to increase taxes. Workers are being asked to pay more while their wages remain stagnant. Workers are demanding a living wage and an end to inequality.
