VIENNA TRIAL. the Centreville-Strike Miners Making Experience.

Who are "Peers"?

the Trial of Miners Engaged in the Recent (entreville Strike Has Commenced In Vienna, Ill .- Two Weeks Consumed in Selecting Eight Jurors-The Snap of the Capitalist False Pretence About Trial by one's "Peers" Given Away-First of a Series of Letters on the Instructive Object Lesson that the Trial Presents.

VIENNA, Ill., Dec. 16th, 1899. w. John Barney.

Dear Fellow Toiler:-In compliance th your request to keep you posted the proceedings of your craftsmen, ine miners, who are being tried for heir lives on a charge of murder, aleged to have been committed in a riottrike last June in Carterville, I have attled down here with no other object han furnishing you with complete mowledge. The time in doling out stice in a capitalist court, you know, very uncertain. Hence the number letters I will write you on this subt will also be uncertain.

I shall not only give you the unwar-ished facts, but I shall endeavor to tive these facts home to you in a plain mnner.

Numerous times have you told me ou were a Socialist and that you were sing to vote the Socialist Labor Party thet; and yet, just an often have you bleted to the principles of Socialism but I have uttered. Hence I anticipate ou may object to the term "capitalist urt." I am convinced that you have rown overboard the nursery tale that a the factory, shop and mine, the capi-ulist class and the working class are sort of Siamese Twins. But I am aclined to think you still labor under delusion that these two antagonistic asses own and run the Government der some kind of a nartnership arder some kind of a partnership ar-agement. The government consists the courts, legislative or law making, soutive and the army and militia. To le capitalist class the most important and effective of these are the army and allitia. Now, John, to expel your dewion from your mind, permit me to at you these questions: Did you ever new the working class to call out the imy or militia for THEIR protection? Is it not, rather, an every-day occur-mee for the capitalists to call out army and militia to protect them in fleecing the toilers? It seems this should settle it beyond a doubt that the capitalists or the government, including all the coarts. This is important to start with, in order that you may know what kind of courts are about trying your craftsn for their lives.

Just here, I fear, you will jump to dangerous conclusion. As these parts, in possession of the capitalists, at as a trap to catch and hold working class, I fear you will think the Socialists want to smash the courts. No, indeed: we would, through the bal-lot, take possession of the Government, the courts included, and reform them in such a manner as to fit the Socialist Workers' Republic. Until that is Workers' Republic. Until that is ne, the Socialists aim at placing the work, the socialists aim at placing the bands of the workingman, so that the workingman shall be tried in his own courts. In all my letters, whenever I use the term "court," you will under-thand me to mean the capitalist court, and not the workingman's court. I am well aware this diea will be hooted

This means that you can never expect justice from the property-owners, and whenever the capitalist Government wants to hang you it depends upon the capitalist class alone, and not upon your class at all whether you shall be hanged or not. It is an enforced ad-mission that the working class, as a whole, can only get justice, can only be emancinated through the efforts of their class alone.

HENRY KUHN, Nat'l Sec'y, S.L.P.

John, for twenty years the Socialists have continually been trying to hammer this idea into your head. Surely, the fact must now penetrate your brain that society, as at present constituted is divided on the basis of property into two antagonistic classes, the propertiless class and the property class. Sure ly, you will no longer believe that these classes have anything in common, or that they can unite at the ballot box on a solicary thing. We now see what is meant by "your peers." Even the lawyers for both prosecution and defence admit that your peers are only those who own no property. They also admit that there can be no such thing as "equal justice" if the jury and the rest of the court were composed of two classes of opposing economic interests; that the capitalist class do not expect justice from a conglomerated mass of skinned and skinners. Neither can the working class get justice from such a mass. Thus has the court also made it very plain to us what is meant by "equal justice." If you still have doubts as to whether this Government belongs to the capital-ists or to the working class or to both, or whether there is anything in common between the classes, this trial, as it proceeds, will no doubt furnish abundance of sledge-hammer blows in abundance of sledge-hammer blows in driving the truth into your thinking box. If you will not learn from the Socialists, you will be forced to learn from the class that skins you. Shall write you again next week. Yours for Labor, JOHN PROLETARIAN.

Agitation is work; agitation combined with pleasure is a combination devoutly to be wished. Such a combination can be had by all those who attend the masbe had by all those who attend the mas-querade ball to be given by the Work-ingmen's Publishing Association, at Grand Central Palace, on Saturday evening, December 30. The proceeds of the ball are to go to the benefit of the Jewish Daily "Abend-blatt," and the mechanical plant of the "Abendblatt" is to be turned over to the Party as soon as the DAILY PEOPLE is started. So you can boom the DAILY PEOPLE by particican boom the DAILY PEOPLE by partici-pating in the festivities at Grand Cen-tral Palace. That will be agitation combined with pleasure.

His next field was as puritanic candidate for Mayor of Greater New York, decrying political log-rolling, and where he gathered immortal laurels, out-logrolling Tammany by fusing his ticket with any and everything that came along.

His next field was the Hague Peace Conference, where he gathered laurels by making himself ridiculous, by repeating, like a parrot, principles of inter-national law that his coffe-cornering bourgeois mind had no understanding

Now his field is the Central Fakirated Union, where he will gather laurels by discoursing sweet economic music to the assembled Labor Fakirs.--No doubt, these laurels will be of the greenest.

Thomas F. Connolly, of the Pickers' and Carders' Union, in Massachusetts, deserves a good job from the political parties in Massachusetts. Speaking in the First Congregational Church of Lowell, two Sundays ago, on "W Working People Desire to Secure," "What said:

TORONTO, CANADA. S.L.P. Platform and Municipal The Text and Meaning of the Candidates for the Year 1900.

Scathing Arraignment of Capitalism and its Upholders, the Capitalist Class-Items of the Socialist Labor Party-The Intelligent Workingman Will Vote Clas-Consciously, Regardless of Church or Lodge Affiliations.

The Socialist Labor Party of Toronto, in entering upon its second municipal campaign, desires to call the attention of the electors of this city to the following:

We affirm that Labor, the creator of wealth, is entitled to all it creates. But while the means of production and distribution are owned by capitalists, labor will be fleeced. We therefore demand that all the means of production and distribution be made the common property of the people-that every man have the right to work, and that the men who work receive the full result of their work.

Capitalism, or the present competitive system of production for profit, tends to degrade mankind, to destroy the health and happiness of the workers, to corrupt legislators, and causes constant strife between employer and employé. Capitalism is responsible for a frightful list of preventible accidents and deaths. It is a cause of crime. It is the cause of enforced idleness. It bestowes "prosperity" on the few, poverty on the many.

Capitalism gives to our legislators and ald rmen a bribe with one hand, while with the other it has taken possession of mines, railways and other valuable concessions which should have been owned and operated by the people.

A system of production for use, or public ownership of the means of production and distribution, would remove poverty, lack of employment and the incentive to crime. Establish a system of co-operation in which all industry would be carried on in a manner most conducive to the general weifare, humanity would enter upon an era of moral, physical and intellectual prog-ress unequalled in the history of the race. This is the high aim of the Socialist Labor Party.

Intelligent use of the ballot is the only hope of the workers. Do not vote thoughtlessly. Do not vote for z man because he belongs to the same church or belongs to the same lodge as yourself. Vote for men who will labor for legislation to benefit the working class. Do not vote for the aldermen who were elected for 1899. Did they enact one law in the interest of the working class? They did not endeavor to remove the property qualification. Every man who has brains but lacks property, should bear that in mind. They repealed the Union Label By-Law. Every trade unionist should hit back by voting for S. L. P. candidates. They increased the salaries of officials, but threatened to reduce the wages of those who receive remember. Vote against the present aldermen. They treat the working class like Outlanders. They esteem property more than brains; privilege more than justice. Not one of them is in favor of giving to the worker the full product of his toil.

The wage-workers of Great Britain have elected over 350 Socialists to councils and school boards, and as a result an eight-hour day has been secured wages have been increased. Dwellings for workingmen are being erected on the Socialist plan; namely, permanent rental at cost of construction and maintenance. No raising of rents such as the working class of Toronto experienced lately. The Socialists are for-warding the Old Age Pension move-ment to provide honorably for those beyond middle age who find it impos-sible to find employment. The workers of Toronto need all the above benefits and will get them as soon as enough Socialists are elected to our City Council. Let every worker be loval to his class and vote only for the candidates of the Socialist Labor Party.

Treaty With the Jopo Sultan. Chattel Slavery Recognized-Polygamy as a "Religious" Institution and "Official" Dignity, Protected - Salaries Guaranteed to Officials Neither Elected by the People nor Appointed by American Executives. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 20 .- The reference, made some time ago in THE PEOPLE, to the disgraceful conduct of our capitalistic Government in the Philippine Islands, apropos of a treaty entered into by our military authorities there with a native polygamous and slave-holding chieftain, may now be proved with documentary evidence. Here is the treaty itself in full.

"Agreement between Brigadier-General John C. Bates, representing the United States, of the one part, and His Highness the Sultan of Jolo, the Dato Rajah Muda, the Dato Attik, the Dato Calbi and the Dato Jaoakanain, of the other part, it being understood that this agreement will be in full force only when approved by the Governor-General of the Philippine Islands and confirmed by the President of the United States, and will be subject to future modification by mutual consent of the parties in interest.

"Article 1.- The sovereignty of the United States over the whole archipelago of Jolo and its dependencies is declared and acknowledged.

"Article 2.- The United States flag shall be used in the archipelago of Jolo and its dependencies on land and sea.

"Article 3.- The rights and dignities of His Highness the Sultan and his datos shall be fully respected; the Moros shall not be interfered with on account of their religion; all their religious customs shall be respected, and no one shall be persecuted on account of his religion.

"Article 4 .- Wh le the United States may occupy and control such points in the archipelago of Jolo as public in-terests seem to demand, encroachment will not be made upon the lands immediately about the residence of His Highness the Sultan unless military necessities require such occupation in case of war with a foreign power, and where the property of individuals is taken, due compensation will be made in each case. Any person can pur-chase land in the archipelago of Jolo and hold the same by obtaining the consent of the Sultan and coming to a satisfactory agreement with the owner of the land, and such purchase shall immediately te registered in the prop-er office of the United States Government.

"Article 5 .-- All trade in domestic products of the archipelago of Jolo, when carried on by the Sultan and his people with any part of the Philippine Islands, and when conducted under the American flag, shall be free, unlimited and undutiable.

"Article 6 .- The Sultan of Jolo shall be allowed to communicate direct with the Governor-General of the Philippine Islands in making complaint against the commanding officer of Jolo or against any naval commander.

"Article 7.—The introduction of fire-arms and war material is forbidden except under special authority of the Governor-General of the Philippine "Article 8.—Piracy must be suppress-ed, and the Sultan and his datos agree to heartily co-operate with the United States authorities to that end and to make every possible effort to arrest and bring to justice all persons engaged in piracy patentized. We are told that the United States could not, without obloquy, shirk the work of civilizing these islands "that Providence had thrust into our hands." How is the Republican capitalist gov-ernment of the land doing that? The archipeiago of Jolo is part of the Philippine archipelago. Jolo "was thrust into our hands by Providence" as much as Luzon. In Luzon we treat the natives as "subjects"; how come we to treat the Jolos otherwise. to the extent treat the Jolos otherwise, to the extent of entering into treaties with them? In Luzon we are shooting civilization down the throats of the natives. Is it likely that the Sultan of Jolo or his Datos will preserve for our country, for its honesty of purpose, any respect, see-ing that American officials expressly recognize chattel-slavery and protect polygamy? What else flows from this damnable treaty but the conclusion that the "civilization" we bring is the most dastardly imaginable is the conclusion. dastardly imaginable, is the condensa-tion of hypocrisy? And what conclu-sion are the Filipinos in arms to draw from it but that they are dealing with a whitened sepulchre, with a people that is merely on the go for what it can grab, and that will cloak with the pres-tige of its name the very wrongs that in other places it boasts of having uproot-ed? Or what effect can the treaty have upon these Filipinos but that of steel-ing them to ever more energetic efforts to free themselves from the domination of such a people? Fortunately capitalist Governments are things essentially separate and apart from the people. But the Fili-pinos may not yet have found that; cer-tain it is that the working class of the land must share the responsibility for what the McKinleys and Clevelands have done, or their likes, Silver Mine

Baron Bryan, would have done. It is not for bread only that the working class of America has to strike at the ballot box: it must also strike for its

The Irish Socialist Republican Party condenses its purposes thus tersely:

"Establishment of an Irish Socialist Republic, based upon the public ownership by the Irish people, of the land and instruments of production, distribution and exchange. Agriculture to be administered as a public function, under boards of management elected by the agricultural population, and responsible to them and the nation at large. NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 23 .- Section New Bedford has found it necesshry to inaugurate a series of indignation meetings at the brazen election corruption that this town is subjected to, especially at municipal elections. At the last election the corruption surpassed everything of the sort ever known here. These are some of the remarks made by our speakers at these meetings. From the remarks the facts in the case may be amply gathered.

Comrade Dennis McGoff said: "This is the first party to call an indignation meeting because of the methods pursued at our annual municipal elections, or, as I might say, our annual munici-pal sales. People may say that we deal only in ancient history, but it is not our intention to let this thing become an-cient history, but to keep it before the eyes of the people to that extent that they will rebel at the system."

Comrade Simon Lynch gave this account of his experience when he went to vote on election day: "The stairs were crowded with drunken men who had been given their liquor by a prominent heeler. When I went into the precinct room I was compelled to take my place in the line and wait my turn, while a drunken man, who came in later, was given a place ahead of me. This man secured a ballot and finally managed to reach a polling booth, but when he at-tempted to mark his ballot it dropped to the floor and the man fell all over it. I protested to the warden that the man was in no condition to cast an intelligent vote, and the warden didn't know what to do, but he did say that over half the ballots cast in that precinct had been drunken ballots. The liquor with which the voters had been supplied was landed in a near-by shop by a rum-seller and was given to the voters who dispensed it, like flies around a molasses barrel. The Socialist Labor Party had been denied their constitutional rights of assembling and of free speech, and yet men were allowed to hang around the polling places in a drunken state without molestation. This thing must stop. Comrade James T. Hancock expressed these views: "It is plain to any man that every election sees the fishing ground among the working class, and it is the boast of the man, in particular, who has left the mill to engage in the liquor business, that he carries the of so many workingmen around in his vest pocket. How does he achieve this result? There are only two ways by which a vote is commanded, by gaining the respect of the voter or by purchase. Does this man secure the votes of the workingmen by the respect they bear him? No. They are looking for what he carries around in his vest pocket. This man is not the only one against whom honesty can rail. But does in-tegrity and honesty do this? No. Why? Because they fear the element of cor ruption is too strong. But the Social-ist Labor Party denounces these men, and every honest citizen, if he has any sense of justice, ought to say, Let us stop this, and I'll do all I can to stop it. "In New Bedford there is a class of people who seek out those who are buy-ing at the highest price. Take that element out of politics and what is left? The spirit of revenge, that spirit which will turn instantly around and vote just the opposite if the side which has been buying their votes refuses to do so. Next year there may be but one opponent against the S. L. P., but the of stuff in the election will go on just the same, because there will be a fear that those who have been bought. if they can't get anything, will turn around and vote for the S. L. P. candidate out of revenge." Hancock suggested, as one of the most powerful demonstrations is way elections are carried on in f the this way elections are carried on in this city that somebody should go around to the election booths with a camera and take snap-shots of the voters to illustrate the methods which are pur-sued to coax them. If there is no other way to enforce the law, he said, workingmen must band themselves together into a detective force to see that the laws are carried out. They must form a vigilance committee and trap the corruptionists. "It should be made clear," said Han-cock, "that the Socialist Labor Party means to down the corruptionists or be downed itself in the attempt. We have downed itself in the attempt. We have nothing but scorn and contempt for these men. They are the enemy of our class, and we propose to wage a bitter war upon them."

The hot the working man's court. I am we'l aware this idea will be hooted. Those who do not belong to your class will tell you "the courts give equal jus-tie to all," and that "every man is en-tilled to a jury of his peers." A peer means one who is your equal, equal optunities.

The long drag of two weeks in selectto jury in the miners' case is, alone, mough to give the whole snap away, as the capitalist's blarney of "equal justhe and "a jury of your peers." Hough a jury has not yet been selected, ad the trial not commenced, still some he object lessons have cropped out. Aught jurors have been sworn in, and at of them property-owners-small italists. Every one of the three huned persons who were examined for nors, were asked if they owned prop-TU, a factory, a store or a farm, or I they were wage workers. In other and, the lawyers for the capitalist at wanted only jurors who owned the instruments of production, and a lawyers for the defendants wanted o other jurors but the wage workers the owned none of these instrument.

But here comes the class-conscious man of labor and takes a good look into this social world; investigates its wheel work and at last comprehends the naare of the fight that is going on there. fight upon his shoulders; discovers also he secret of his own servitude and ors to its anchor the chain that holds in. No side issue for him; no shifting of burden; no participation in capital-" quarrels; no tinkering at their inmal machine; no hasty overturning it either. He now knows what he has to do, and in this social world which te must still carry he plainly sees the ole which he must first grasp to make if free,-From "Taxation," by des Sanial. (See adv. 2d page.)

We want eight hours for work, eight hours to sleep, and we wan eight hours to sleep, and we want $2 a day for our labor, and THAT IS THE GOAL WE ARE SEEKING.

ARE SEEKING. The Democratic and the Republican party of the Old Bay State, together with the capitalists back of them, should now suspend hostilities just long enough to agree upon some reward for this jewel. A finer specimen of a labor fakir they surely can't find anywhere. He who says the height of his ambition is $2 a day for the workers is surely a practical man, a sensible man, a good man,-just the sort of a man to throw in the way of the impractical, bad Socialists.

As one of the signs of the prosperity that has at last overtaken the workingmen, is the reduction of wages at the Jennings Lace Works, Brooklyn, on December 22. By the reduced scale lace weavers, who, being highly skilled, got exceptionally high wages, now get from $5 to $12 less than before.

This is not the only item of news that has escaped the "prosperity howlers.

The "Yiddish Volkszeitung." a publication that was started last summer in opposition to the Party and to the Party's Jewish organ, the "Abendblatt," died last Sunday. With its head or its feet (we don't exactly know what the orthodox style is) stretched towards Jerusalem, the paper that claimed to have the Jewish masses with it now lies buried; while the "Abendblatt," the "property of a clique," whom "the masses repudiated," continues to live altogether too healthy to suit the 'masses."

The "Yiddish Volkszeitung" is the first of a series.

The two attitudes are mutually repellant. They can be reconciled only on the ground that the gyrations of the weathercock are reconciled with one another. Sentiment has no root in reason.

The Post Office Department is producing one more beauty spot on the beautiful body of "naturalization" under capitalist rule. It appears now that, under the capitalist administration of our Post Office, the railroads receive an average of $35,049 annually for each of the 921 cars allotted to the mails, whereas the receipts of the railroads for passenger cars amount to only $10,528.

What capitalist would not favor "nationalization" on this style?

The tools that the working man will first grasp to free himself are the Public Powers. Most of them, on the day of final victory, on the day of complete emancipation, he will so transform as to make them unrecognizable. In the meantime, wherever he may gain a foothold and establish his authority, he will of course turn them, such as he finds them, to the advantage of his class and against its exploiters. From the load on his back, where they are a dead weight, they will pass into his right hand, serving him as a staff on his hard journey, and as a club in fighting his way through .-- From "Taxation," by Lucien Sanial. ORDER WITH PROGRESS, PROG-RESS WITH ORDER.

Finally, tho' not least, there should be mentioned, among the positions that the Socialist Labor Party conquered last election day for the Revolution in this country, that which maintains ORDER WITH PROGRESS, while promoting PRO-GRESS WITH ORDER.

For reasons that would here be a digression to go into, the people of America have been a favorite subject for superficial writers of superficial ethnography. As a result of that, the most contradictory qualities-good, bad and indifferent-have been ascribed to this people, each writer writing as the maggot happed to bite him. Accordingly the American people have been alternately described as the "freest" and the most "slavish"; the "most highly intelligent" and the "stupidest"; the most 'versatile" and the most "Anglo-Saxon" or "bovine"; as the "bravest" and the most "timidly calculating"; and so forth and so on. These qualities are so contradictory that the one would exclude the other. And yet the writers who have so expressed themselves have not romanced wholly. Their error lies in having mistaken incidental manifestations for essential qualities; in other words, they have failed to trace, whatever popular manifestation struck them at the time, to the root-quality from which all drew their origin, and which, once understood, not only qualifies all the periodical strikingly-visible manifestations, but fraternizes them, proves them to be supplementary.

As the most luxurious vegetation goes accompanied with the most poisonous reptiles; as the healthlest of climates are found to promote deadly diseases, peculiar to their own;-in short, as opposing qualities are obverse and reverse of the same, certain medal, so likewise are popular qualities, which, taken alone, seem not only contradictory, but excessive, yet utterances of one certain and central feature. What is this one, this certain, this central feature of the popular tendency to EMOTIONALISM. The first manifestation may be summed up in the word ORDER, the latter in the word PROGRESS.

No country-due to the exceptional size of the mass that composes it--is so in need of ORDER, lest it go to pleces; or of PROGRESS, lest it petrify.

Political parties are not the creation of the human brain; they are children strained from the loins of the nation from whom they spring. If even in the statutus of statics, political parties in America must unite order with prog-RESS SO as at all to operate, it is evident that a party in its dynamic state, a revolutionary party-the liveliest child of a nation, already sufficiently impulsed by the reason of its very being towards PROGRESS,-such a party must have ORDER as a cardinal principle in its mechanism.

Long did the emotional trait endanger the ranks of the Socialist Labor Party. Such was a natural ill of infancy. That period is now passed. "Dug from central gloom, heated hot with burning fears, dipt in baths of hissing tears, and battered with the shock of doom, to shape and use," the Socialist Labor Party emerged from the gloom, the fears, the hissing tears and the shock of the last year. culminating in the trials of the last campaign, in shape and use -unfalteringly aiming at PROGRESS, firmly planted upon ORDER.

THAT NEW ZEALAND PARADISE.

The New Zealand "Journal of the Department of Labour," issued last November 18th, from Wellington, N. Z., "under the direction of the Minister of Labour," is an interesting document all the way through.

Every mentally diseased Jew quickly claims for his race every man or woman who reaches some kind of distinction: It is a clear case of the weak grabbing for support outside of themselves. So with the "Reformers" regarding New Zealand. Every "Reformer," the world over, has claimed New Zealand for his particular hobby. At one time Australia seemed to threaten New Zealand's laurels. But the 'Longshoremen's strike, followed by others of similar magnitude, and all of them followed by capitalist outrages, employed in suppressing the "labor riots," speedily threw Australia out of the ring, leaving New Zealand in undisputed possession of the variegated "Reformers'" heart.

When closely pressed for some evidence in rebuttal of the obvious fact that the Single Tax was an exploded antiquity, the Single Taxer would cite New Zealand as the Single Tax paradise; when shown that the municipalization of railroads, etc., under a capitalist government, not only does not bring the working class one inch nearer to its emancipation, but actually aggravates capitalist domination, and when smoked out of his "Glasgow" illustration, the municipalization reformer leaps across continents and oceans, and points to New Zealand as the practical refutation of "narrow Socialist theory," and the practical demonstration of his own special brand of "Reform"; when told that "Co-operation is a bit of sentimentalism, useless and harmful, unless it is integral, when told that "Co-operation" within the framework of Capitalist Society, so far from being Socialist or even Socialistic, proceeds from premises that embody a tacit denial of Socialist economics, and must accordingly fall, being wrongly grounded, the Co-operationist, together with the Colonizationist and kindred Reformers, rises above the surrounding facts, and plumps down upon New Zealand as the proof of the pudding; when confuted by the towering figures and facts, furnished by England and this country, demonstrating the criminal folly of the "Pure and Simple" organization of Labor, the office-holding, head-and-front of some "Pure and Simple" offending slips through one's fingers, and suddenly plants himself as if on impregnable ground-in New Zealand; and so forth and so on. New Zealand seems, by a common accord among "Reformers," to be a sort of "last ditch" behind which to flee for asylum, where distance, lending enchantment to the view, may also lend safety to explodees. The "Journal of the Department of Labour" seems to be gotten up with an eye to helping along the asylum. That is one of the interesting features of the document. The other feature of it is the efforts put forth by the "Hon. Minister of Labour" to prevent the New Zealand "Paradise" from being overtaken by the fate that overtook its Australian neighbor. These two interesting features dove-tail into each other. and produce a throughout interesting document, which may be summed up in this sentence: "With ample land (natural opportunities) to be had for the asking and to be taken for the grabbing: with a variety of industries 'nationalized'; with 'cooperations' doting the territory; with 'pure and simpledom' reigning supreme; -in other words, with the conditions that should afford luxurious life to the Single Taxer's prosperity, steady progress toward Socialism, temporary relief of labor, and power to 'organized' workingmen, above all with a population so sparse as to mitigate anywhere the evil effects of Capitalist Rule, the document

(THROUGH SLACKNESS OF . TRADE) WhO have needed and have obtained public relief, to have reached in the place the respectable figure 143. Moreover, the capitalist rulers of New Zealand, finding the Army of Unemployed, that at their disposal, still too small to furnish the capitalist class with the requisite club for the reduction of wages, the New Zealand capitalist class, through that 'Hon. Minister of Labour,' try to run down all other countries, whither immigrants are pouring, and thus give the New Zealand Paradiseholders improved opportunities."

"Labor departments" in Government -whether they be filled with "Hon. Ministers of Labour" or with "Dishonorable Labor-Fakir Commissioners of Labor"-are all of a kind.

WHAT ARE THE BRITISH CAN-NON SAYING IN SOUTH AFRICA?

Stripped of all surplusage and more or less confusing elements, the struggle in South Africa simmers down to a very instructive lesson in capitalist sociology, taught by no mean authority, England, a leading capitalist nation, THE leading capitalist nation, as some claim.

Among the outrages charged by England against the Boers is that they will not allow the Uitlanders (British workingmen mainly, engaged in the mines, which British capitalists want to own), to exercise the right of suffrage. The Boers aver that these Uitlanders care nothing for the country; that they come there merely to make all they can, and then return home; that they think of nothing so much as of the day when they will leave the Transvaal; and that, consequently, such are not the elements that a nation can care to clothe with the suffrage, and give a voice in the affairs of the land. England demurred. Protracted negotiations followed at Bloemfontein. The negotiations broke off at the following point: The Boer negotiator demanded that the applicant for citizenship should renounce allegiance to the British Government; the British negotiator flatly refused. Thereupon war ensued.

Now, how is it in England in the matter of suffrage?

As a matter of fact, the British working class is disfranchised. Apart from the plural vote enjoyed by the propertyholders; apart from the existing property qualifications that cut into the ranks of the workers;-apart from all that, the registration system and other "Law and Order" provisions in England, have the virtual effect of disfranchising the proletarians of England.

With a disfranchised proletariat at home, a proletariat that the British ruling class would do nothing to enfranchise, what is it that the British cannon are saying in South Africa, as they belch forth their powder and ball "in defence of the rights of suffrage of Englishmen" in the Transvaal? Are they simply announcing to the world the hypocrisy of "our British cousins?" No; they are teaching something infinitely more important.

The ruling class of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State is well typified by "Oom Paul." It is pre-eminently a landlord class, a class of large landed property, differing from the British oldstyle landlord class in this mainly that its income is derived from mining property, and not from rent-rolls. The landlord class proper has ever been fought by the capitalist class, with the proletarlat as the club or food for cannon. When physical force was needed, the proletariat did the fighting; when physical force was not needed,-why, then, the proletariat did the voting for the capitalist class. That the capitalist is as quick to deprive the workingmen of the ballot, just as soon as that weapon is no longer needed against the feudal lords, does not affect the case. The same as soldiers are disarmed, war being over, so are the proletarians disarmed of the weapon of peaceful warfare, the ballot, just as soon as that is over; and for the same reasons; men in arms might use their arms in peace; the ballot might be used by the workers. What the British cannon in South Africa are saying is simply this: "The British capitalist class made a miscalculation. It imagined that the Transvaal landlords had been overcome by the weapons of war, wielded by the British proletariat, under the command of the British capitalist class. It, accordingly, imagined that physical force warfare being over, the period of peaceful warfare, with the ballot as the weapon in proletariat hands, had arrived. Finding itself too previous, it takes a step back, and resumes physical force operations." Whether, in this instance also, British capitalism will prevail, will overcome the landlord, and, forming its proletariat into voting battalions, will later on continue the battle with the ballot in the Transvaal, is difficult to foretell. History does not always repeat itself. New conditions very materially affect the result of old forces. On the one hand, the 'Transvaal feudalists have themselves become quite capitalistic; on the other hand, the British proletariat may get tired of the Queen's "sympathy" with their wounds, and do a turn for themselves.

POLITICAL and ECONOMIC.

THE PEOPLE, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1899.

Political corruption in New Bedford. Mass., took such an upward swing at the recent election there, and the fraudulent claim of prosperity is so transparent, that the whole situation is well satirized in the New Bedford "Standard," by a correspondent who signs himself "A Ten Dollar Voter." Says he:

In view of the fact that wages in general are being advanced, the treatment we voters received in our recent municipal elections at the hands of our bosses, in having the price of our votes reduced from five to three dollars is outrageous, and measures ought to be taken to resent this outrage by the voters of New Bedford. Therefore, I propose to the voters of New Bedford that we organize and unite in de-manding that not only shall our former rates be restored, but an advance on those rates shall be made. I hope my fellow citizens will not allow this matter to drop until carried to a successful issue.

The Philadelphia, Pa., "Tageblatt" (Socialist for Revenue Only), is of opinion that there is too much terrorism in the Socialist Labor Party to suit it.

The mouth of the "Tageblatt" is an excellent setting to the "Terrorism" that it objects to.

The "Tageblatt" believes (it is profitable to believe) that the municipalization à la Glasgow is the right thing to preach. The S. L. P., having not peanuts to sell, repudiates the swindle.

The "Tageblatt," needing the support of the middle class for advertisements and sales, declares it is tyranous to preach straight Socialism. The S. L. P., not being a business venture ,plump and plain says: "The devil take 'business'!"

The "Tageblatt," finding it profitable to propitiate the "beer interest," countenances "speak-easies" as centers of Party activity. The S. L. P., being an honorable organization, refuses to lower its standard for the sake of revenue, and rather goes down clean than float an ulcer on the surface of the water.

Yes; the tyranny of the S. L. P. must be unbearable to the "Tageblatt,"-the Philadelphia "New Yorker Volkszeitung."

Criticising Senator Hoar for some philanthropic utterances, the New York Times, through whose columns still breathe the stupidity and hard-heartedness of the late Roswell P. Flower, says:

George F. Hoar is a far wiser man than Jones of Toledo, but he mixes in his political philotophy the same Socialistic mush. He wants to give everybody everything, make everybody happy, abolish sin and suffering, and put the world under the sway of the golden rule.

It suits the spirit of the Governor, who signed the ten-hour law for railroad workers, and promptly furnished the Buffalo railroad magnates with all the militia of the State to help them enforce the violation of the law, infinitely better to preach a doctrine whereby nobody (but the fleecers) "shall have anything"; where nobody (but the fleecers) "shall be made happy"; where sin shall flourish, free to all, and suffering for the toilers only; and where the Golden Rule shall be in express words derided.

Strange how a paper will preserve the lineaments of its owner even after his death!

Says the "Citizen and Country":

Man is the most ferocious of all animals. A hyena will kill its kind in anger or in a battle over food: but man is the only creature under heaven that goes forth with a full stom-ach to kill thousands of his fellow creatures with whom he has no quarrel and whom he has never seen. has never seen. From which the only inference is that ferocity is more of a human than a beast feature; which is absurd. But it is not simply the absurdity of the zoology or the greater absurdity of the

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?

Does it Make Any Difference to the Working Class Whether Taxes Are High or Low?

The adage that the consumer pays the taxes has been used by the politicians of the Democratic-Republican party to confuse and mislead the working class. Their "reasoning" has taken the form of the following syllogism:

The consumer pays the taxes. The working class make up the bulk of the consumers. Therefore the working class pay the bulk of the taxes.

As usual, the "pure and simple" labor leaders get their cue from the capitalist politicians; it is, therefore, no surprise to see New York Typographical Union ("Big Six") trying to get middle class support for the strike on the "Sun" by classifying the strikers as "tax payers." The Socialist Labor Party flings a challenge to the whole collection of capitalists and capitalists' parasites-the pure and simplers included-by asserting that the working class pay no taxes. "Prove it!" cry the misleaders. "Certainly," reply the Socialists. And in pursuance of the Socialist's habit of proving everything he says, the National Executive Committee of the Socialist Labor Party has recently pub-lished a pamphlet entitled "Taxation." The author of the pamphlet is Lucien Sanial. To the careful observer he has conclusively proven that the working-man who bothers his head as to whether taxes should be high or low is about as muddled as would be the workingman who should seriously consider the question of whether President McKinley should eat canvas-back duck once week or six times a week. Mr. Sanial discusses the question from the point of view of the class-conscious workers, and sizes up the rascality of capitalist politicians with the following terse words ticians with the following terse words: On the eve of election day the classes that ride upon the back of the workingman send out to him their respective political lackeys, who, bowing low, call him the great, the just, the sovereign people and their only master; then proceed to roundly denounce each other for all the wrongs of which he may have to complain. If taxation be "the issue," they will endeavor to show him that the total bur-den which he must anyhow carry can be lightened by merely changing the relative posi-tions of its parts; the only question being as to which of the idle classes shall ride free and easy on the top of all.

Starting out with the classical proposition of Engels that taxes are a matter of very slight interest to the working class, the author marshals fact after fact to prove the absolute impregnability of this position of the Socialist La-bor Party. The question is discussed under the following heads:

All Wealth is Produced by the Working Class. How the Capitalist "Government" Gets the Wealth

How the Capitalist "Government" Gets the Wealth.
The Power of Taxation.
The Theory of "Equai" Taxation.
The Evolution of Taxation.
The American System of Taxation.

Prices and Taxation:
Retail Prices of Necessaries Not Affect-darket.
Amount of Taxes on Commodities Con-sumed by the Working Class is too Insignificant to Deserve Noice.
How the Cohorts of the Socialist Republic
Will Wield the Power of Taxation.
The chapters on "Wagges and Taxa-The chapters on "Wages and Taxation" and "Prices and Taxation" are especially replete with facts for the working class, and with these facts in his possession the class-conscious workingman can easily put to flight the bam-boozling spellbinders of the capitalist political parties.

Whatever other and important ingredients organization needs, in order to be lasting and successful, organization is based upon the pre-requisite of numbers. According to the numbers of the organized, so are their aggregate manifestations. "Representative government," for instance, is an inevitablecertain and first fruit and requirement of numbers that are too large to meet in "Committee of the Whole," and thus exercise "direct government"; the larger the numbers acting together, in other words, the more extensive the organization, the more pronounced also are the fruits and requirements thereof. Now, the largest civic-political organization known to civilization is the United States of America. The MASS-OBGANIZATION that the country consists of produces on the one hand a spirit of national uniformity that is striking, despite all seeming evidences to the contrary, a uniformity without which the country could not . ove; while, on the other hand, it produces, as natural obverse to the reverse of uniformity, a popular light-heartedness that runs into emotionalism. The tendency of the political issues, ever tending to divide between only two large political parties, despite the hugeness of the American constituency, may be cited as an illustration of the popular tendency to UNIFORMITY, on the one side; while, on the other, the recent death of the revivalist Moody is a reminder of a series of men, seen in no country but this, cutting a swath unknown in any other, that may serve to illustrate the Man is not the most ferocious of all animals. What man is is a being gifted with foresight. Want is an immediate suffering; the lowest as well as the most highly developed animal feels that; to satisfy the prompting of want is the moving spring of all animals. But "Fear of Want" is an equally pressing ill; that ill most animals do not feel; they seem not to be endowed with the foresight requisite therefor: not foreseeing want, where none presses upon them most animals care not for the food that they have no immediate use for. Man, endowed pre-eminently with foresight, is pre-eminently subject to the corture of the "Fear of Want," and that torture has a sharper talon than want itself: to the physical, the mental force is added. priy Experience of Militant German tism Coinciding with America's.

Fifty years ago the economic and po pity years ago the economic and po-nical conditions of Germany were still urgely feudal. The factory system, which in England had completely superneed the old method of production in receiption in the great industries of England, and had acquired a considerable developiso acquired a considerable develop-ment in France, was in its infancy on German soil. As late as 1876, in the bingdom of Prussia, which was indus-rially the most advanced of the States really the most advanced of the States new comprising the German Empire, new comprising the German Empire, the stablishments employing each fifty hands or more occupied in the aggreands or more occupied in the aggre-net less than 250,000 persons; where-st there were 1,470,000 artisans work-ing on their own account, and 450,000 small master mechanics employing 385,-so workmen and apprentices. But there was already an undercurrent of thought which could not be repressed, originating in the superficial agitation of the middle class justif for political reforms, and deflected in a soci'l economic direction when it reached the wage-working strata. Des-pite prohibitive laws and arbitrary measures, a number of labor societies had been formed, the actual object of which was the discussion of social queswas the discussion of social ques which was the discussion of social ques-tions and economic evils. Their chief spirits were in sympathy with the "League of the Just," which, in 1847, under the lead of Carl Marx and Engels, resolutely planted itself upon the high platform of their "Communist Mani-festo" and assumed the name of "Comwist League."

-unist League." When the revolution of 1848 broke out the middle class of Germany, in obedience to the same perverse instinct that moved its French prototype, set to the work of confiscating it. A numher of guilds (societies of master me-chanics), professing the greatest inter-est in the welfare of "their hands," held a congress at Francfort. Their first act was to refuse admittance to the delegates of the wage-workers' organiza ns, who thereupon met in separate avention and drafted a program of convention and drafted a program of demands, in opposition to the masters' program, for the consideration of the resolutionary parliament then sitting at Francfort. This parliament, how-ever, was dissolved before it could en-ed any laws, and in February, 1849, the Prussian Diet adopted a new Code of Trade, in which the prohibitive provis-ters concerning, labor combinations tens concerning labor combinations were omitted, but not repealed. This rode remained in force until 1868, when the parliament of the newly-formed North German Confederation proceeded in the elaboration of another, which, as finally adopted, became binding upon il the States of the than existing Conas finally adopted, became binding upon all the States of the then existing Con-federation, and, lastly, upon all the Sates of the German Empire when, three years later, the King of Prussia conned the imperial robe.

By this national law the right of or zation and strike was granted, and all State laws denying it were declared null and void. Nevertheless the gennull and void. Nevertheless the gen-eral right in question continued im-paired to a large extent by certain State enactments, which in some way or an-other, interfering "only" with the rights of meeting and association, were held by the courts to be still in force, and meaning the extreme right by the were applied with extreme rigor by the authorities of the various States.

Since 1848 the factory system had upidly developed. In Prussia the number of persons employed in factories increased from 557,000 in 1846, to 678.-00 in 1858, and 760,000 in 1861. In the handicraft trades a change occurred during the same period, still more sugsettive by the evidence it gave of a leadency to concentration. The num-ber of master mechanics decreased from 53,000 in 1852 to 545,000 in 1861, while the number of wage-workers in their employ increased from 447,000 to 507,-600. Since 1861 the economic changes in Germany have been even greater than the political. In 1895, of the 18,-000,000 people earning a livelihood at some occupation, 8,150,000 were engaged In agriculture, 1,700,000 in commerce including hotels, etc.), 600,000 in trans-portation, and 8,300,000 in mining, manufacturing and mechanical pur-suits. Of course, no man -no wolf-professing or suspected of entertaining Socialist opinions would be admitted into the sheep fold. Surely those of our German comrades now in this country, who remember this insiduous attempt of capitalistic events to siddrack and marging the agents to sidetrack and paralyze the labor movement of their native land. will remember also the contempt with which it was looked upon by them and their fellow Socialists. They will also recognize that the faithful picture of Hirsch-Dunckerschen eine which is here given might be taken for a photograph of the "pure and sim-ple" unions of America, in which they have been compelled for so long a time to cut so sorry a figure. And, acting logically now, as they did then, they will by all means hasten the day of sound, honest, uncompromising eco-nomic organization in this country under its only possible banner, the ban-ner of the Socialist Trade and Labor Alliance.

Despite the direct influence exerted by the "bosses" upon their employees in favor of the Hirsch-Duncker abortion, the latter numbered only 18,000 mem-bers in 1872; whereas, in the face of the extraordinary persecution by the em-ployers and the authorities, the mem-bership of Socialist unions (Lassallian and Marxist) was about 70,000. In 1878, when the "laws of exception" were passed, a number of Socialist unions that did not act with sufficient prompti-tude or secrecy, were forcibly dissolved by the police and their funds were confiscated. The other quickly disbanded. (See Socialist Almanac.—Socialism in Germany.) One of the latter, a miners' organization, numbered at that time

But, precisely because the economic organization of labor was a Socialist structure from foundation to flagstaff, cemented in all its parts with prole-tarian solidarity, it was indestructible. After a few months only of prostration, when the comrades had sufficiently re-covered from the first shock to take their reckoning and devise a plan of action, the trade-union movement not only resumed its march, but proved a powerful means of strengthening the party in its unequal struggle with the tremendous enginery of despotism at the command of Bismarck. Under one form or another the unions were reorganized, or rather survived with a life energy increased by the heat of the conflict. In some important trades they even contrived to federate through a system of trustees (Vertrauensmänner-System). Some, who had made such changes in their by-laws as might enable them to openly exist, and who cor-rectly relied for the preservation of their Socialistic efficiency upon the principle that the spirit, not the form, was of fundamental importance, ap-pealed to the courts when the authorities undertook to dissolve them, fought the enemy for years with weapon of chicanery, and finally won their cases. It goes without saying that every such legal tournament was turned from beginning to end into an occasion for the very agitation and propaganda which the Government was striving to suppress. With the fall of Bismarck the tion laws came to an end; but although the worst fetters by which trade unionbeen hampered were at last removed, enough impediments remained to greatly interfere with the work of organization. Nevertheless, rapid prog-ress was made, especially since 1893. when the Socialists, by casting 1,786,000 votes and electing 44 deputies, gave their prosecutors a warning that the days of despotism in any form were numbered. The membership of the unions increased from 229,810 in 1893 to 252,044 in 1894; 269,956 in 1895; 335,088 in 1896, and 419,162 in 1897. In the latter year, of the 574 strikes in which they were engaged they completely won 272, were partly successful pletely won 272, were partly successful in 146 and lost only 156. And once more bear in mind that all this was accomplished on the lines of battle exactly followed by the Socialist Trade and Labor Alliance. No Social-ist in Germany ever thought of "propi-tiating" the Hirsch-Duncker fakirs, or feeding them with dues. The notion that the propaganda could best be car-ried on by opposing Socialist unions and contributing in any way, direct or and contributing in any way, direct or and contributing in any way, direct of indirect, to the perpetuation of the Hirsch-Duncker scheme, never entered a German Socialist's brain—in Ger-many.—LUCIEN SANIAL, in "Socialist Almanac.'

THE DAILY PEOPLE.

Drum-Rap of the National Executive Committee, S. L. P.

COMRADES:—At the request of the "Daily People" conference, we call upon you for substantial aid and energetic co-operation in procuring the necessary means for the issue of a Socialist daily newspaper in New York City on or about July 1st, 1900.

At a recent meeting of the said Con-ference the Comrades present (number-ing about 200) gave practical evidence of their earnestness by subscribing on the spot, for the object in view, sums aggregating $7,500. They also devised a comprehensive plan, through which the further amount to be raised and the cost of carrying on the enterprise will be reduced to a minimum. In the first place, various offices of the Party and its organs, now inconveniently located at different places, will be centralized in one building, thereby saving a considerable portion of the to-tal rent which is paid at present for in-ferior accommodations. Among such offices may be mentioned those of the National Executive Committee, the Cen-tral Committee of Section Greater New York, THE PEOPLE, the "Abendblatt." the Labor News Co., the S. T. & L. A., and several other organizations.

Again, the plant of the "Abendblatt " including a Hoe perfecting press, capa-ble of printing 20,000 copies per hour, a gas engine, stereotyping and other ma-chinery, can be used by the English daily; so that a comparatively small sum will be required to complete its outfit, chiefly by the purchase of typesetting machines, which are payable by installments. Moreover, the consolida-tion, as far as practicable, of such departments as printing, folding, mailing, expressing, etc., will permit of econo mies and afford facilities, equally bene ficial to the Party press and to all other agencies of Party propaganda, namely the Labor News Co., and every active

Lastly, from the Socialist vote of nearly 50,000 cast in New York and the neighboring States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts, that can promnily be resched by a doily toking promptly be reached by a daily, taking also into consideration the growing in-terest manifested in the progress and principles of Socialism by a vast num-ber of people who do not yet vote our ticket; it is moderately estimated that from the very beginning a circulation of 25,000 can be attained. Observe that the weekly PEOPLE, intended for more distant States, could then be largely made up of selected articles in the daily, thus considerably reducing its cost, while increasing its efficiency. It were superfluous to urge upon you the absolute necessity and immense value, to the whole American move-ment, of a Socialist daily newspaper during the next Presidential campaign. No steps that the Party might now take, no expenditure that the Party might now afford, could so effectually advance its cause and promote its object. Let, therefore, every militant Socialist come to the front and make this matter his own; let him give it his immediate at-tention and persistent care; let him subscribe to the full amount of his means and get others to do likewise. Let the watchword be everywhere: "Onward with the DAILY PEOPLE!" owned by the Socialist Labor Party. It has been estimated that the sum of $15,000 will be required to make the start, and we must set ourselves the task of raising this amount as a minimum, adding to it as many more dollars possible

Party Sections are called upon to at once take up this matter at their meet-ings, go over the ground carefully, determine upon the amount they can raise by whatever means as may be at their disposal, and report to the undersigned. Individual members and all friends of the cause who are interested in the es-tablishment of a daily Socialist paper in the metropolis of this continent and are willing to contribute as well as start collections for this fund, are requested to report without delay, stating the sums they expect to contribute and col-

Don't take this ill. The Mcaning of Ruther's Defeat in Holyake. To THE PEOPLE.—The Socialist Labor Party is making history. To properly under-stand that history it is necessary to chronicle the important minor details of important facts. My defeat in Holyake, this year, is a fact; but the fact is liable to be misunderstood, un-less one knows the minor details which lead up to it. If one should judge that the S. L. has been dealt a blow (as some of the cap-italist papers are trying to make it appear), such judgment would be false. My defeat was but an incident of political warfare; it was caused by petly local reasons, wholly for-eign to Socialism or the S. L. P. To under-stand this it is necessary to mention that it elect me last year; these petty reascnas being absent this year my election was not possible owing to the fact that Socialist thought and knowledge is not yet sufficiently developed to secure the election of a Socialist toy of the merits of Socialism alone. Last year, shortly before election, it was was a defaulter of the city's money to the tune of tiz 600. This discovery was all the more approved that our tax collector, who had been with pride looked upon as a model city official, was a defaulter of the city's money to the tune of tiz 600. This discovery was all the more approved that our tax collector, who had been done right under the noses of Republican and prometate of minoi, the voters were ready to vice for any one who offered to chance of be-prione tite of mormal conditions, Ward. Three is hostile to Socialism and the S. L. P., for the reason that it was re-divided three years ago for the express purpose of preventing the election of a Socialist in the former strong hould.

son that it was re-divided three ye the express purpose of prevent ction of a Socialist in the former strong-election of a common of two precincts, Ward 3 is now composed of two precincts, A and B. B has 300 voters, and is a workmen's quarters. A has 575 voters, and is the quar-ters of some very rich men, many middle-class men, and lots of that element in society who, and lots of that element in society who. ters of some very rich men, many middle-class men, and lots of that element in society who, by reasons of having a somewhat better pay or Job, own a home of their own-with a mortgage on it-and they strain every nerve to keep the mortgage from crushing out their ex-sistence as real estate owners. These people are terribly nervous about the tax question and city expenditures. It is they who be-grudge the city laborers a fair pay for fear the taxes go up. It is they who are responsi-ble for overcrowded schoolhouses and neg-lected streets, because they refuse to sup-port any one who talks increase of appropria-tions. It is they who are the an alguman they have helped to elect, seeing he suggested so many improvements in city af-fairs that would cost money, and that would mean a higher tax rate, being too short-sighted to oost the ultimate benefit to themselves. They preferred to elect a man of their own class, whose chief political virtue is to keep his mouth shut and vote with the majority. When we consider that we have but 105 rotes against the 153 last year? As to the decrease in Precinct B, from 231 of last year to 158 this year, it must be borne in mind that the middle-class element of that precinct also named one of their own class, a real estate dealer, to oppose the election of a Socialist, and he polled 78 votes;-sufficient to beat me. The third and most important reason leed-

a Socialist, and he poine is voice, summers, to beat me. The third and most important reason lead-ing to the Party's defeat, is the fact that I took such a determined and uncompromising stand in the Holyoke city Government that the class struggle of our movement became so clear as to frighten away all the unthinking and middle-class element instead of attracting it. This can not be considered in the light of a drawback, but rather as a necessary opera-tion to clear the road for future and more effective work.

tion to clear the total total total action of a clear and uncompromising movement against the hydra-headed movement of concentrated capitalism. The future is ours, and it will be ours, by merit and right, not by sentiment or coaxing. M. RUTHER.

will never harmonize with the activity needed by the clear, straight tactics of the S. L. P. 1 know a good many well-meaning comrades continually say that these societies are "aci-tating for Socialism." I think the plain facts and the history of our movement in this coun-try prove the contrary. We have at present a strong singing society ("Social Mannerchor") which claims to have been at one time a Sec-tion of the Party. Yet, to-day, it is grown altogether reactionary, and it is doubtful if we ever get a vote from its ranks. In spite of this fact, another Singing Sec-tion has been organized out of our midst, for the purpose of "competing" with the other one in proparating (?) Socialism. Some of our members usually point to the fact that several of our best members are also active in the "Singing Section." I maintain that they are good Party members, not BE-CAUSE they belong to the Singing Section, but IN SPITE of it. I think that In NO PLACE ought the Party name be used for the purpose before said, as societies of that na-ture are bound to be non-political, calling for individual desirability or capability, and not for political opinion.

individual desirability or capability, and not for political opinion. In conclusion I desire to state that quite recently we had two freaks in our midst, John Most and "High Dues" Tobin. Neither of them proved a drawing card, however, for both left benighted Louisville to its fate after a lengthy exhortation for more "BLUD" and "higher dues" respectively. Thus can the wicked S. L. P. again continue its agitation for less "freaks" and more clear-headed, un-compromising men. ALEERT SCHMUTZ.

Working the Workers in Vancouver

To THE PEOPLE. - Apropos of the article in THE PEOPLE of December 10, "The Millenni-um Entering the Country via the Golden Gate," I can throw some light on the methods of the "Great Eugene V. Debs" in eking out a precarious existence and blowing of his mouth under the title of "Scientific Social-ism." What the "science" is I shall im-mediately show.

include under the title of science's is I shall immediately show. I happened to be one of the delegates from the General Laborces' Union, L. A. 250, S. T. & L. A., to the Fure and Simple Trades and Labor Council of this city on the night on which arrangements were made for Debs to speak in this city. It was at the expense of the Trade and Labor Council that he came. Right here permit me to digress a moment to expose the general make-up of this Trades and Labor Council that he came. Right here permit me to digress a moment of stone-heads, labor fakirs and subsidized press representatives, with a few sprinklings of "me too" and "coming our way "Socialist, of whom one Watson is the principal luminary. He declares himself a Socialist, at the same time he holds a Government position (from ran labor candidates (fakirs and reformers so-called, every one of them) for Mayor, Aldermen, etc.

The no-torious Mr. Blackburn, President of the Seattle Trades and Labor Council, was sent to ar-range for terms with the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council. Area a lot of brotherly love gush, given by Blackburn, the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council agreed to give Eugene V. Debs 3150 for one night's lecture, 355 for traveling exponses, and 325 for postage and hotel expenses. The Council was to have all the money that was made over. Home went the luminaries of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, dreaming of profits galore, and on that they slept. Well, Debs came; he allowed no questions or discussion; he appealed to the middle class; he informed us that 'Vanderbilt could not digest an oyster,'' amid great expressions of sorrow from the class-conscious workingmen present; he gave us a soul-stirring poem on the discovery of America by Columbus; he in-formed us he had books for sale on Middle-class Municipalization; and then he disap-peared. Now for the profits that had been so viridly class Municipalization; and then he disap-peared. Now for the profits that had been so vividly dreamed of by certain luminaries. On audit-ing receipts and expenses, the Trades and Labor Council discovered that they were $50 to the bad! Tableau! Contrast this with Comrade Hicker's ex-penses. He spoke to 1.500 workingmen in the argest hall in the city. His expenses from Soattle to Vancouver and return were $5.50, including hotel expenses. The cracks you give the crooks whom the Party threw out are too good to throw the article away after them.

A. W., DENVER, COLO.-You might com-municate upon that subject with and make suggestions to the manager of the Labor News Co., Julian Pierce, 147 E. 23d st., this city.

N. E. C N. E. CHICAGO, ILL, -He is a case in point. The Party has regularly been taken in by trade unionist Socialitis of his stamp. Such Socialists, God ave the mark, being essentially windjammers, who had to be held down, in-steal of promoting Socialist thought in their unions or penders. Socialist thought in their windyammers, who had to be held down, in-steal of promoting Socialism at least sym-pathetic, confirmed the notion that Socialists are moon-calves, visionary, imaginative, and UNPRACTICAL, especially subjects-using a common expression-to be played for suckars. The days of his likes are gone forever.

The days of his likes are gone forever. T. T. Y., WASHINGTON, D. C.—Had the New York Court decided that the "Volks-reitung's" tax-payers' brigade was entitled to the Party's name and emblem, the Party's name would have polled in this city from 1000 to 1.500 votes; not one more. But in that case the Party would have had its own ticket out. It got the signatures and was ready for any emergency. It is possible that in that case the Party's vote might have been over 13.000. This loss would have been due to the confusion in some minds. In such a large constituency as this all voters can not be quickly reached. The gentlemen of the "Volkszeitung" knew this; and that's why they did not try to set up their ticket anyhow; they preferred to hide behind a dodge.

J. H. S., SAN DIEGO, CAL.-Shall send you sample copies of "El Socialista" published in Madrid, Spain, "El Porvenir Social" published in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and the "Van-guardia" published in Buenos Aires, Argen-tina. They are Socialist papers in Spanish.

M. K. A., CHICAGO, ILL--The case of scabbing upon Alliance men here in New York, upon orders of the present President of the International Typographical Union, was fully set forth in a document issued by the G. E. B. of the S. T. & L. A. in '57 and was published at the time in these columns.

E. O. C., DENVER, COLO.-We don't know a single thing done by T. I. Kidd, of the A. F. of L., to recommend him to the working-men, unless his conduct (exposed in these columns with facts taken from his own pa-per) at the time of the strike in Oakkosh, Wis, when he patted on the back a capitalisi who had caused strikers to be actually clubbed to death, be a recommendation.

A. F., PITTSBURG, KANS.—The official election returns are not yet in from all the States where the Party had a ticket this year. That's the cause of the delay in announcing this year's strength of the Party. The list always came out late.

P. T. A., WORCESTER, MASS.--It is not Bryan but McKinley who was called the "Syn-dicated Candidate." Of course, the title fits Bryan just as well; only, as it happens, it was not given to him.

F. T. B., ZANESVILLE, O.-If what you mean to ask is, whether the Party officers would not lead an easier life if they were untrue to the Party's work? The answer would certainly have to be. "Yes." It is so much easier, you know, to pocket your salary, let trouble side, and then add swindle upon swindle by pretending you are doing the right thing. And yet it is doubful whether, in the end, the volume of "trouble" that such officers must go through, to say nothing of the mortification that is bound to follow upon breaches of trust. If you could get a photograph of the Party's officers and of the gentlemen whom the Party precently threw into the ditch for neglect of duty, you could learn a wast lesson. The former have hopy looks: the latter look as if they had been caught stealing sheep, and otherwise look "weary."

On the Kentucky Election.

On the Kentucky Election. To THE PEOPLE.-The S. L. P.'s vote is 615 for the head of the ticket. I think it is not saying too much that the S. L. P. has done finely for the first State campaign. In almost every county straight S. L. P. votes were cast, but the surprises of the election were furnished by Louisville, Jefferson Coun-ty, and Lawrence County. The former for its small number of votes as against the previous year, and the latter for its largo number of straight votes. 102 in number. Regarding Louisville, we can only say that a more corrupt election was never before held here, although we have had them bad enough. All the Socialist and Independent tickets were refused election inspectors, regardless of the plain wording of the law. which allows a representative of each and every official party at the polis.

plain wording of the law, which allows a representative of each and every official party at the polls. The Democrats, hended by their two election commissioners, Heonit and Caruth, carried hings high-handedly, so that even their capi-ralist brother, the Republican Governor Brad-ley, had to call out the troops on election day. Intimidation and frand were the order of the day. In many places the Socialist represent-tives were forchly elected. It was the object of the local Section to prosecute the offenders, but upon investigation it was found that the cost would be too much for the present, and that the same money can be better used next year to prevent a recurrence of the fraud. On the other hand, we must also admit that the local agitation was carried on poorly dur-ing the whole campaign. It behooves Section Louisville to look to its laurels or else it will be outstripped by the younger Section's and Tsuback of too much "Singing Section" and "Sick and Death Benefit Fund" agitation. Some comrades seem never to learn the lesson it by nearly every German Section in the country, namely, that "Jinership" (Ver-einsmeierei) for amusement or death benefits.

OFF WITH DERELICTS!

First Shot Fired into the "Volkszeitung", More to Follow.

[Below is the application of Section New York, to the Attorney-General to annul the existence of the Volkszeitung corporation. When nearly six months ago, the "Volkswhen heavy six months ago, the "volks-zeitung" Corporation concorted a plan to cap-ture the Party, the act was certainly dastard-ly; more dastardly still was the calumnious course it pursued immediately upon the falling course it pursued immediately upon the failing of its plan; yet more dastardly was its elec-tion policy against the Party; and it has since been reaching still deeper depths of dastard-liness, in flagrant violation of its charter and constitutional duties. The thing has become a dangerous dereliet that must be sunk;--and derelict that must be sunk; sunk it will be. If this shot does not fetch it, there are others in store that will.

To Honorable John C. Davis,

Attorney-General of the State of New York.

The petition of Eber Forbes respectfully shows: 1. That he is the Treasurer of Sec-tion New York of the Socialist Labor

100 New York of the booline interparty. 2. That Section New York is an un-incorporated association, consisting of more than seven members. That it has no president, and petitioner makes this application on behalf of Section New York by direction of its General Com-mittee mittee. 3. That said Association was formed under and pursuant to the customs and usages of the Socialist Labor Party, and continued as an unincorporated asand continued as an unincorporated as-sociation under and pursuant to said customs and usages, and also in pur-suance of the written Constitution of the Socialist Labor Party of the United suance of the write the voltage of the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, adopted at its National Conven-tion in the year 1896, a copy of which Constitution is hereto annexed and made part of this petition. 4. That in the year 1878, as deponent is informed and believes, Section New York, together with Section Brooklyn of the Socialist Labor Party, jointly, under the title of "The New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association," owned a newspaper and plant known as the "New Yorker Volkszeitung." and in the year 1897 said two Sections in the year 1897 said two Sections aforesaid consolidated under the name of Section New York. 5. That Section Brooklyn, ever since 5. That Section Brooklyn, ever since its formation and before consolidation with Section New York, was an unin-corporated association of more than seven members, formed under and pur-suant to the customs and usages of the Socialist Labor Party, and continued up to said consolidation as an unin-corporated association, under and pur-suant to said customs and usages and suant to said customs and usages and also in pursuance of the written Con-stitution of the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, adopted at its National Convention in the year 1896. 6. That on or about the 23d day of August, in the year 1879, as petitioner is informed and believes, said Sections New York and Brooklyn, which owned the aforesaid newspaper, plant and good-will jointly, under the name of the aforesaid New Yorker Volkszeitung the atoresaid New Torker Volkszerlang Publishing Association, desiring to carry on said business as a co-operative corporation, under and pursuant to Chapter 971 of the Laws of 1867 and Chapter 85 of the Laws of 1878, caused a Committee of its members to be appointed to formulate plans for the car-rying out of said purpose, and directed said Committee to form a Corporation for said purpose, accordingly. 7. That in pursuance of said desire, certain members, constituting a Com-mittee of said Section New York and said Section Brooklyn, jointly composing The New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association, did, on or about the 23d day of August, in the year 1879, to and in accordance with the provis-ions of Chapter 971 of the Laws of 1867, and Chapter 85 of the Laws of 1878, a copy of the Certificate of which is here-to annexed and made part of this petition. 8. That on or about said date, said 8. Brooklyn, 8. That on or about said date, said Sections New York and Brooklyn, jointly, forming the New Yorker Volks-zeitungs Publishing Association, as petitioner is informed and believes, transferred all its right, title and in-terest in and to the newspaper and plant owned by it at that time, in con-sideration of 2,000 shares of stock of said corporation, to the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association and operative Publishing Association, and ever since then, said Sections New York and Brooklyn, jointly, forming the New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing As-sociation, have been the owners of said 2,000 shares of stock which were the whole capital stock of said Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association, and that Section New York is the sole owner of all the property rights which both Sections jointly possessed as 'he New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association at the time of their consolidation. 9. That in addition to said plant and 9. That in addition to said plant the 9. That in addition to said plant and good will of said newspaper which the aforesaid Sections New York and Brooklyn, jointly, as the New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association, as petitioner is informed and believes, transferred to the Socialistic Co-opera-tive Publishing Association it also midd tive Publishing Association, it also paid in the sum of $1,000.00 in cash, in order that the said corporation should comply with the Statute in such case made and provided. That annexed hereto is a copy of 10. the affidavit certifying to the payment of $1,000.00 pursuant to the Statute in of $1,000.00 pursuant to the Statute in such case made and provided, which is on file in the Clerk's office of the County of New York, which petitioner makes part of this petition. 11. That as soon as the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association entered upon the conduct of its business for which it was incorporated, it had a Board of Directors, consisting of seven members, a President and Treas-urer, who were also ex-oficio members of said Board of Directors, and that they and their successors issued bonds or script to various individuals, a copy of which is hereto annexed and made part of this petition. 12. That for many years last past, the Board of Directors and officers of the aforesaid corporation have offended against all of the provisions of the Act under which it was created and acts applicable thereto, in that they per-mitted said bondholders to manage and conduct the affairs of said corporation. 13. That they have not permitted and do not permit the stockholders thereof to manage the affairs of said corpora-tion in electing its officers and perform-ing such duties as stockholders have a right to perform. That the affairs of said corpora-14.

tion were and are carried on by bond holders who claim to be members and who do not carry on the business of publishing and printing newspapers on the co-operative plan as designed and contemplated by Chapter 971 of the Laws of 1867 and Chapter 85 of the Laws of 1878, under which it was in-corporated, but carried on the business of publishing and printing newspapers not by uniting the labor, capital and pa-tronage of those who conduct said Association at the present time and claim to be members thereof, but by conduct-ing a general business for their benefit and advantage, by borrowing money, employing outside labor, employing outside capital and obtaining outside patronage, and who in divers ways and means usurped all the functions of the original organizers and diverted the affairs and business of the corporation from the co-operative plan of uniting the labor, capital and patronage c the members thereof, to a general business for the mutual benefit and welfare of its bondholders and creditors, who asits bondholders and creditors, who as sume to be the lawful members of said Association, contrary to the Charter, Articles of Association, Constitution and By-Laws thereof, and in violation of Chapter 971 of the Laws of 1867 and acts amendatory thereof. 15. That in violation of Section 7 of Chapter 971 of the Laws of 1867, the men who are now managing the affairs of said corporation, claiming to be members thereof, have accumulated debts far in excess of one-half in amount of the capital stock, which is amount of the capital stock, which has $10,000, said debts now due and owing by the said Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association being about $22,000, as petitioner is informed and verily believes.

That by reason of said fact. Sec-16. tion New York, which is the owner of said capital stock of said Association may be claimed to be liable for all the debts of the said Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association, pursuant to Section 8 of Chapter 971 of the Laws of 1867.

17. That the reason why Section New York has not sooner instituted these proceeding to obtain a dissolution of said corporation and to protect its in-terest are as follows:

First .- That Section New York, being a sub-division of the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, and desiring to have a medium through which the principles and policies of said Party could be promulgated, was compelled to use the newspapers published by said

Association as its organs. Second.—That said bondholders had prior to December, 1898, conducted their publications as organs of the Socialist Labor Party and in substantial com-pliance with the Preamble of the Constitution of the Socilaistic Co-operative Publishing Association. That said Preamble reads as follows:

"PREAMBLE.

"Under the firm name 'Socialistic Cooperative Publishing Association' Association has been formed in City of New York, in pursuance of the Charter issued, which has for its object, through the publication of newspapers, periodicals, etc., to further the spread-ing of the ideas of Socialism in ac-cordance with the declaration of princordance with the declaration of prin-ciples and the tactics of the Socialist Labor Party and to strive for the emancipation of Labor from exploita-tion by Capital. For this purpose, the Association will conduct the affairs of the 'New Yorker Volkszeitung' and other publications owned by it, guided by the following By-Laws."

18. That on or about the 14th day of December, 1898, said Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association began publishing in its papers matters dia-metrically opposed to the tactics of the Socialist Labor Party, which said cor-poration was formed to have news-papers advocate and that the papers advocate and that the papers so published by the said corporation ceased to be the official organs of the Socialist Labor Party and have in every manner contravened the tactics and policies of the Socialist Labor Party in violation of the Declaration in the said Preamble of the Constitu-tion. That the said corporation, in its newspapers so published by it, advised all voters at the last election to abstain from voting for the regular candidates of the Socialist Labor Party. 19. That ever since said corporation has violated its Constitution in failing to co-operate with the Socialist Labor Party and acted contrary to the tactics of the Socialist Labor Party, it has lost the support of the members and voters of the Socialist Labor Party, causing its publications to lose a large number of subscribers, and has contracted additional debts and obligations in or-der to make up the deficit arising from the loss of its subscribers to its news-papers. That pursuant to its quarterly reports, it had a deficit of $422.63 for the quarter ending December 31, 1898, and for the quarter ending the first day of April, 1899, its report shows a deficit of $2,154.62, and its quarterly report ending for the quarter ending July 1, 1899, a deficit of $2,501.59, and its quarterly report for the quarter ending Sep-tember 30, 1899, shows a deficit of $2,140.71. That according to its quarterly re-port for the quarter ending December 31, 1898, it derived through its daily, Sunday and weekly circulation an av-erage of $939.77 per week. erage of $939.77 per week. That its quarterly report for the quarter ending April 1, 1899, shows that it has received for the total circulation of the "Volkszeitung" editions but the sum of $902.44 per week. That its quarterly report for the quarter ending July 1, 1899, shows that it only received for its total circulation of the daily. Sunday and weekly "Volkszeitung" the average sum of $892.96 per week, and according to its report ending September 30th, 1899, it has received for its total circulation the average of only $859.96 per week. That the quarterly report from July 2d to September 30, 1899, shows that said corporation lost the sum of $1,-134.12 in publishing another paper, other than the "New Yorker Volks-ratings", which paper was entitled zeitung," which paper was entitled "The People," and was published by the Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association in opposition and contrary to the direction of the Socialist Labor to the direction of the Socialist Labor Party and in violation of the factics of the Socialist Labor Party. 20. That as petitioner is informed and verily believes, the assets of said cor-poration are not worth 60 per cent. of the liabilities, and that said corporation is insolvent, and has continued to be insolvent for the past year.

21. That ever since the organization of said Socialistic Co-operative Publish-ing Association, the capital stock of said Association subscribed to and paid for at the inception and formation as aforesaid, by Section New York, has remained and is now the property of said Section New York.

That said Section New York is 22. 22. That said Section New York is and always has been, since the afore-said consolidation, the sole and only stockholder of said corporation. 23. That as petitioner is informed and believes, no meeting of said stockholders of said corporation has ever been held; that no election of officers of said Corporation by stockholders has ever been held; that no annual or other meeting of the stockholders of said Corporation has ever been held, and that no officers or managers of the business of said corporation have ever been appointed in any manner by vote or otherwise by Section New York, the sole owner of said stock of said corporation as aforesaid, but that certain persons who have advanced small sums to said Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association, and have received in exchange therefor the paper evidences of debts, called bonds, above alluded to, have assumed as such bondholders to manage the affairs of said corporation ever since its inception, and to elect the officers thereof.

24. Said Section New York has never heretofore asserted its rights as stock holder, but that by reason of the facts above set forth relating to the aban-donment of the principles of the Socialist Labor Party by the newspapers published by said Socialistic Co-opera-tive Publishing Association, the said Section New York now insists that the said Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association shall be dissolved.

Wherefore, petitioner prays that the Attorney-General of the State of New York ask leave of a competent Court having jurisdiction thereof, to bring an action against The Socialistic Co-operative Publishing Association to pro-cure a judgment vacating its charter and annuling the existence of said Corporation.

STATE OF NEW YORK, : County of New York. Henry H. Muenker, of No. 215 Division avenue, Brooklyn, E. D., County of Kings, and State of New York; Ferdin-and Filly, of 329 West 38th street, City of New York; and Berthold Kaufmann, of 341 West 36th street, in said city, each for himself deposeth and saith that he is one of the corporators who signed the within declaration and charter. That the subscribers to said declaration and charter are now members of a voluntary unincorporated association, established since February, 1878, and doing business in the City of New York, under the name New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association. That the business of the said Association is of the same nature as that mentioned in said declaration and charter, and that the corporation proposed to be formed is to continue the same business now carried on by said New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association. The business capital now actually em-ployed in the transaction of the business of said Association amounts to over ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and all the subscribers to said declaration and charter have an interest therein as members thereof. The deponent Henry H. Muenker is the treasurer of said Association, and he, together with said other deponents, having been appointed by the subscribers of said declaration and charter to receive the subscriptions and payments towards the capital stock of said proposed corporation, did accordingly take and receive such subscrip-tions and payments as follows: The said New Yorker Volkszeitung Publishing Association, at a regular meeting of its members convened for

A Call.

To the Sections of the Soc. Labor Party.

Comrades In accordance with Art. IV, Section 1. of the Party constitution, you are here-by called upon to make nominations for the place where the national convention of the Socialist Labor Party for 1900 is to be held. The nominations made must be reported to the undersigned on or before January 31, 1900, and will then be submitted to the referendum vote of the members.

Organizers of Sections will please see to it that this call is read at the next regular meeting of their respective Sec-tions and that the nominations made are promptly reported at headquarters. The Section being the unit of organization, each Section can nominate but one city. There is no need of reporting the vote cast, the simple report that the Section places in nomination a certain city being sufficient.

German Socialism and Ferd. Lassalle.

By W. H. Dawson. Cloth, $1.

By W. H. Dawson. Cloth, $1. Mr. Dawson gives a clear and complete ac-count of the theories of Rodbertus, Marx and Lassalle, paying especial attention to the di-ference between the Socialism of a Nationalist like Lassalle and that of an internationalist like Marx. The volume is a history of Social-ism in Germany. It contains a detailed ac-count of the passage and operation of the "laws of exception." by which Bismarck sought to kill the Socialist Movement. The third edition has just left the press, and con-tains the election statistics for 1898. CONTENTS.-Historical Basis of the Ger-man Socialist Movement: Early Socialistic and Communistic Theories: Karl Rodbertus and the Wages Principle: Kasi Marx and Surplus Value: Ferdinand Lassalle: Organization of the Working Class: The Productive Associa-tion: Failure of Lassalle's Acitation; Las-saile's Death: Characteristics of Lassalle-man and the Agitator; Lassalle's Socialism; Development of the Socialist Movement. Present Aspect of the Socialist Movement. Present Aspect of the Socialist Movement.

Prince Ismarck and State Socialism. By W. H. DAWSON, Cloth. $1.

This volume is the complement of the pre-ceding and gives an interesting account of the genesis and failure of the "remedial" legis-lation by which Bismarck attempted to scuttle Socialism. The Socialists in the Reichntag fought Bismarckism with zeal, and Mr. Diaw-son gives Interesting excerpts from the par-liamentary debates on Bismarck's reforms.

Ferd. Lassalle as a Social Reformer.

By E. BERNSTEIN. Cloth, $1.

by L. DEENSTEIN. Cloth, $1. Bernatein's recent attempt to emasculate the Socialist Movement in Germany by depriving it of its revolutionary spirit will lend new in-terest to his book on Lassalle. The author takes a different view of Lassalle than does hawson, and the two books taken together will give all there is worth knowing about Lassallism. The book appeared orginally in German, and was translated by Eleanor Marx Aveling.

The French Revolution.

By E. BELFORT BAX. Cloth, $1.

By L. DELFORT DAT. CHORN, 41 Bax has here given a concise and accurate account of the French Revolution from the point of view of the proletariat and the mod-ern Socialist Movement. He clearly shows that the French Revolution was the necessary prelude to the Industrial Revolution that will usher in the Socialist Republic.
