POOR SETH LOW!

"Ten Anti-Tammany Organizations" After Offices.

Not Difficult to "See His Finish"—All the Politicians Who Supported Him Are Hungry and He Can't Satisfy All.

It is not difficult to "see Mr. Low's finish." He has been elected Mayor of New York City, and now, within three weeks after Election Day, all of the ten are coming down on him for the spoils of office.

HOW MUCH SORRIER IS MR. LOW'S PLIGHT?

He is the creature of ten organizations and he cannot be the instrument of all. They had nothing in common before election except a devout desire to "turn the other" resents out.

THIS IS ONE OF THE REASONS WHY "REFORM" ADMINISTRATIONS ARE ALWAYS INCOMPETENT.

They are defined, not on a united party, with a definite principle to realize, but on a heterogeneous aggregation, united only in opposition.

New York C. F. U. Sends Socialist Resolution to A. F. of L.

Scranton Convention Will Be Called Upon to Endorse Independent Political Action and Collective Ownership—Daily Press Lies, as Usual.

In last Sunday's session of the New York Central Federated Union, Joseph William Dooley, delegate of the Franklin Association of Pressmen, moved to instruct the delegate of the C. F. U. to the Scranton convention of the American Federation of Labor to introduce and support the following resolution:

NEWS SUPPRESSED.

After a somewhat lively discussion, in which Delegates Warner and Donnelly opposed the resolution, while Delegates Dooley, Reich, Brown, and Braunschweig urged its adoption, the motion was carried with but four dissenting votes.

SOCIALISTS' DISSENT.

The Socialist, as representing the working class, thinks otherwise. He asks why it is that most of the children attend school for so short a time.

NOTICE.

Many letters received in the business office in regard to the Fair still remain unanswered.

The Kentucky Federation of Labor, which invited ex-Congressman Breckinridge to speak before it, has now passed a resolution denouncing him because he spoke against the basic principles of trade unionism.

"WHOM THE GODS WOULD DESTROY."

Editor Assistant Flunkey General Madden of the Post Office Department, with the approval, apparently, of the Administration, has persisted in his refusal to admit "Wilshire's Magazine" (formerly "The Challenge") to the mails at newspaper rates.

In Philadelphia, just as in Philadelphia, it was found at the recent city election, that the names of hundreds of dead men were still on the lists and were voted by the party in power.

MISREPRESENTATION BY THE "TIMES."

The New York "Times" last Monday published a letter from W. R. Irge Dalton, M. D., pointing out evils in connection with the manufacture of antitoxine and vaccine virus.

In both of these cases, as in that of the miners "Infidel Organ" of Madisonville, Ky., the ruling of the authorities is an absolutely arbitrary, senseless, and lawless one.

A child labor bill now before the Georgia legislature provides that no child under the age of twelve years shall be employed unless a widowed or invalid mother depends upon it for support.

shall be employed unless a widowed or invalid mother depends upon it for support. Our fine capitalist social system works the father to death and leaves the mother destitute, but the people who profit by these conditions, are considerate enough to guarantee the child its "sacred right to work."

AN EVENTFUL WEEK.

The news of the past week has been full of significance to the thinking workingman. It all points toward Socialism as the only escape from the evils of which the working class now complains.

On the one hand, there has been taken what is probably the greatest step in the organization of capital since the Steel Trust was formed. The Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Burlington railways pass into the hands of a single company, controlled by three men—Morgan, Hill, and Harriman. The capitalization of this company, $400,000,000, no doubt fairly represents the amount of property which the combination controls.

Another piece of news vividly illustrates the power of organized capital. It is reported that the Pressed Steel Car Company will soon be merged in the United States Steel Corporation or Steel Trust. When the Trust was formed, less than a year ago, the Pressed Steel people refused to go into it at the terms offered.

The news that the American Air Brake Company has purchased a plant in Russia and will start operations there in January, again shows the internationality of capitalism, which cares nothing for flags or for patriotic sentiment.

On the other hand, while the capitalist class thus strengthens its position, we see coal miners in Kentucky literally fighting for living wages and troops ordered out by the Governor to shoot them into submission.

The Kentucky Federation of Labor, which invited ex-Congressman Breckinridge to speak before it, has now passed a resolution denouncing him because he spoke against the basic principles of trade unionism.

On the other hand, while the capitalist class thus strengthens its position, we see coal miners in Kentucky literally fighting for living wages and troops ordered out by the Governor to shoot them into submission.

In the face of all these things, can anyone deny the Socialist contention that the working class and the capitalist class are at war, and that the only hope for the workers lies in a united effort to overthrow capitalism?

It is, of course, far from pleasing, that a half of those who voted the Socialist ticket in 1900 should have been drawn away from us this year, that practically all of the San Francisco workingmen who cast their first Socialist votes last fall should have been carried off their feet by the hope of immediate success for a ticket which, whatever it does represent, does not represent uncompromising Socialism.

Yet there is no reason for discouragement in the event, and our comrades in San Francisco evidently realize this. There is a lesson in it, and it is worth while for us to learn that lesson in order to be guided by it in our future conduct.

When we have an end of this "muddling and muddling," if we are to have Socialism for heaven's sake let us know the fact and have its foundations laid so broad that there will be a chance of the system attracting the best thought and ability of the country in preference to all other spheres of knowledge, but do not suffer longer than can be helped a continuance of the present bastard methods by which wire-pulling politicians get legislative authority to play havoc with so important a matter as the public health.

Dr. Dalton is known to us to be a sympathizer with Socialism.

their victories have always been short-lived. The officials so elected have been unable to fulfil the pledges, explicit or tacit, upon which the working people had voted for them.

The poverty and overwork of the working class and the unsanitary conditions of the privately owned tenements in which they live furnish a fertile field for the development of disease and epidemic.

The technique is simple enough and easily applied, but its faithful observance demands an asepetic conscience, a few of those who engage in this business for profit possess, or long to possess.

Yes, Socialism would be "dangerous," very dangerous—to those who poison the people for profit and to the whole capitalist class which profits by conditions which produce misery and disease for the rest of humanity.

If the "Times" is not careful it will lose its reputation for even that measure of relative honesty which can be exhibited by a newspaper whose policy is dictated by Mr. Morgan.

Our friend the "Gazette," the Republican organ of Haverhill, Mass., reports that the Republicans are planning a gerrymander to defeat Comrade Carey, since they find that they cannot beat him in the district as it now exists.

The situation in San Francisco, where an alleged "labor candidate" running upon a non-Socialist ticket, has been elected to the majority and where the Socialist vote has accordingly been very heavily reduced from that of last year, is worthy of careful consideration.

It is, of course, far from pleasing, that a half of those who voted the Socialist ticket in 1900 should have been drawn away from us this year, that practically all of the San Francisco workingmen who cast their first Socialist votes last fall should have been carried off their feet by the hope of immediate success for a ticket which, whatever it does represent, does not represent uncompromising Socialism.

THE AMERICAN NEGRO'S PROBLEM.

Another View of the Race Question, Considered in the Light of Economic Conditions.

BY CAROLINE H. PEMBERTON.

(This is the second of a series of three or more papers which Miss Pemberton is contributing to The Worker. As a member of a family that distinguished itself on the Confederate side in the Civil War, and as having closely observed conditions in the South in recent years, the author is especially fitted to discuss the negro question without being open to the charge of Northern prejudice.)

The capitalist who exploited negro labor under the form of chattel slavery did so without apology or hypocritical professions of belief in the brotherhood of man as applied to the negro. They were untrammelled by any of the traditions that existed to confuse the exploiters of labor in the North, and they cheerfully met all arguments based on the alleged human rights of the negro, by simply denying that the negro was a man.

The exploiter of labor in the North, however, found himself entangled from the first in a network of inconsistencies and contradictions, out of which his ingenious right hand has ever since been busily arranging lockets, injunctions, starvation wages, blacklisting, and military suppression of his employees...

It was true that every one of the seceding states was readmitted into the Union on the requirement of universal suffrage and equal education for both blacks and whites. But these requirements had not the sanctity of holy tradition in the eyes of the Southern capitalists. They were regarded as an unjust burden on white taxpayers.

While the Socialists of the East Side of New York have established and successfully maintained their clubhouses, the comrades of the West Side have not a single building or headquarters from the Battery to Harlem, where they could congregate for social and educational purposes.

It is easy to see that the kind of wage slavery introduced in the South to supplant chattel slavery was not likely to be modeled exactly after the pattern provided by "hypocritical Yankees." The Southern planter was quite capable of getting up a system of his own, based on the underlying principles of labor exploitation far more clearly than they were at that time understood in the North.

Cotton was the basis of settlement in all business transactions—and the planter set to work again—or rather, set his black men to work again—to raise his cotton to pay off all his war debts. It was a simple process to call his field hands "tenants," and hold him on an iron-clad lease rather than by the uncaring tenure of a...

SINGLE TAX. Single Tax, having looked around for a husband among the politicians, having very earnestly courted the Democratic party, and being willing to court any other old party that wanted her, seems now doomed to spend the balance of her days in single barnyards.

ELECTRICITY. Electricity has accomplished one thing for us. It has made an electric-buzzing name for our public executioner who, instead of being a low hanged man, as he once was, whose hand nobody would shake, is now merely a gentleman expert, a specialist who touches buttons and who claims to have no control over what happens in consequence.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE TRUSTS.

To demolish, or to attempt to demolish, the trusts is anarchy. Just so, as if Jefferson or Hamilton and their contemporaries would have advocated the destruction of the state or government because it was instituted by the British.

LOCAL NEW YORK.

LOCAL KINGS COUNTY.

Below is a list of the subdivisions of Local Kings County. Fred Schaffer is the organizer of the Local and he may be at 170th street and Ralph avenue, where also is the County Committee meeting.

POISONING PROFIT.

Prof. W. H. J. Sieburg read a paper before the New York Society of Medical Jurisprudence last week upon the adulteration of drugs and the sale of injurious proprietary medicines.

DETERIORATION OF FOOD.

There can be no doubt that during the last decade food has undergone a steady degradation, and this cannot be without a demoralizing influence upon the human race.

THE SOCIALIST PARTY.

The party which this paper represents is known nationally as the Socialist Party, and such is its designation in most of the states.

EDUCATION.

What makes Edison go on working day and night just as if poverty was at his heels? He has millions of money and is not at all fond of ostentation.
