RHEUMATISM

CURED BY HOT AIR BATHS

NOTES BY THE OFFICE BOY.

BY W. L. OURN.

ME and the old man have been noticing the difference between the average physician and the store keeper. It was only a poor working man that was ill, whew, but he was good and sick.

From two to four times a day has the doctor called and each time he has studied, worried and worked to save the life of a stranger, not because there is a fee in it, but rather that he, the doctor, would rather do a good, a kind, a noble deed, than to see a human being suffer. The storekeeper, he is out for PROFIT, and would as soon that the poor "mule" starved to death as not. In any event he had to be made secure.

As I have often said, money is NOT the INCENTIVE FOR GOOD AND NOBLE DEEDS.

AS P. Henry said some years ago, "We must all hang together or hang separately." So with the workers of the world they must work and VOTE together in a compact body for their own emancipation or they will always get it where the bottle gets the cork.

Your masters unite and vote for their interest, and the only difference today between the democratic and republican parties is as to the division of the spoils. Both agree that YOU MUST BE ROBBED of the PRODUCT OF YOUR LABOR. Both agree as to the great benefit (to them) of the private ownership of all the jobs via of their ownership of the machinery of production and distribution.

The socialists demand the public ownership of the machinery of production and distribution, and there you are. Take your choice, but remember you are choosing for posterity and choose wisely.

SOME people are funny and don't know it. To illustrate: In New York the laboring people have a kick against Senator McCarren, chairman of the state executive committee of the democratic party, and the aforesaid laboring parties have notified the powers that be, that if "Mc" resigns they will refuse to support the ticket. Now, honest Injun, what difference does it make whether "Mac" resigns or not, if he remains in the party? If he is against labor as chairman, will he not be the same as committeeman? If he can support the ticket that looks after his interest that is antagonistic to labor's, how can labor support the same ticket? In other words, as McCarren can be an enemy of organized labor and a democrat, how can the friends of organized labor support a democrat for office? Lion and lamb arrangement, and as usual the lamb will soon be inside the lion.

AND the Arkansas Retail Hardware Dealers have scored a point when the railroads graciously granted their prayer that the agents should not distribute the catalogues of the mail order houses. Lord, what a point. Mail order men will now fire the catalogues out by mail and with them a letter stating "that the retail man made a kick" for they were cutting down his profit. The mail order houses are a more economical method of distribution than the retail store, so the retail store will have to go.

There is no more reason for the four or five hardware stores in this burg than there is for four or five post-offices, court houses or telephone exchanges. One retail house in every line could supply the natives at less cost and to greater advantage. But remember that I would have the PEOPLE TO OWN THIS ONE STORE OF DISTRIBUTION.

No monopoly in mine, but I have to submit to many on account of YOUR voting for them. The good Lord knows, I KICK enough.

I AM as tickled as if I burned my shirt.

The war department is furnishing the soldiers with new guns. They will shoot about twenty-five times a minute. You see the old parties are a unit that labor should be cut down, and the best and quickest guns will be needed. Shoot your ballot for the old parties and they will see that their soldiers shoot you with

PIONEER AGITATORS.

Oh, how many there were, whose names are forgotten, who suffered untold agonies to lay the foundation of the labor movement, of whose real mission they had but the vaguest conception!

These pioneers of progress paved the way for us, and deserve far more at our hands than we have in our power to do for them. We may at best rescue their nameless memory from the darkness of oblivion, and this we undertake to do with the liveliest sense of obligation for the service they rendered, and the sacrifices they made in the early and trying stages of the struggle to improve the condition and advance the welfare of their fellow-toilers.

The writer has met and known some of these untitled agitators of the earlier day, whose hearts were set on organizing their class, or at least, their branch of it, and who had the courage to undertake the task and accept all the bitter consequences it imposed.

The union men of today have little or no conception of what the pioneer unionists had to contend with when they first started forth on their mission of organization. The organizer of the present time has to face difficulties enough, it is true, but as a rule the road has at least been broken for his approaching footsteps; the union has already been organized and a committee meets him at the station and escorts him to the hotel.

Far different was it with the pioneer who left home without "scrip in his purse," whose chief stock consisted in his ability to "screw his courage to the sticking point" and whom privation and hardship only consecrated more completely to his self-appointed martyrdom.

Starting out, more than likely, after having been discharged for organizing a local union of his craft, or for serving on a committee, or interceding for a fellow, or "talking back" to the boss, or any other of the numerous acts which mark the conduct of the manly worker, distinguishing him from his weak and fawning brother, and bringing upon him the reprobation of his master—starting out to organize his fellow-workers, that they might fare better than fell to his lot, he faced the world without a friend to bid him welcome or cheer him onward. Having no money for railroad fare he must beat his way, but such a slight inconvenience does not deter him an instant. Reaching his destination he brushes up as well as his scanty toilet will allow and then proceeds with due caution to look up "the boys," careful to elude the vigilance of the boss, who has no earthly use for a worthless agitator.

We shall not attempt to follow our pioneer through all his tortuous windings, nor have we space to more than hint at the story of his cruel persecution and pathetic end.

Our pioneer, leaving home, in many an instance, never saw wife and child again. Repulsed by the very men he was hurrying to serve, penniless, deserted, neglected and alone, he became "the poor wanderer of a stormy day," and his career a nameless outcast. Whatever his frailties and faults they were virtues all, for they marked the generous heart, the sympathetic soul who loves his brother and accepts for himself the bitter portion of suffering and shame that he may serve his fellow-man.

The labor agitator of the early day held no office, had no title, drew no salary, saw no footlights, heard no applause, never saw his name in print, and fills an unknown grave.

The labor movement in his monument, and though his name is not inscribed upon it, his soul is in it and with it marches on forever.

Eugene T. Debs

the nice new guns that YOU PAY for. Well it's all O. K. for it's what you vote for. Hip, hip, hurrah for the old parties of skin, shoot and grab.

Socialism would give you the full product of your labor and treat you as human beings, so don't vote for socialism. Debs has always been the friend of union men, so scab on him, but remember strenuous Teddy who gave union labor the cold deal in the printing office, or the silent Parker who gave you the hot end in all his decisions, and vote for your enemies.

I WAS talking to a preacher the other day. (I apologize.) Well he said a lot, but one thing we think that the average laboring man was a dandy Christian. "Love your enemies." Well, if the working guys don't do this I don't want a cent. You elect your enemies to every job in the United States and when they give it to you in the neck, you turn in and re-elect their friends. Some day you will get sense.

THE Arkansas state election is a thing of the past, and as predicted by me, J. Davis is IT for another two years.

In 1900 the socialist polled twenty-seven votes in the state and in the recent election they polled 500 votes or a gain of 450 per cent. or 20 times its former vote.

How is that for high? A new party, appealing to the workers only, without a slush barrel, and in spite of all kinds of opposition, making a gain of 450 per cent. in four years. Look out for us.

THE packers are whipped. Labor again has demonstrated that a full pocket book can last longer than an empty stomach, especially when you consider the stomachs of the wives and children. The operators with the courts to assist them, even going so far as to dictate to the city of Chicago itself, thus proving that the federal judges are greater than two millions of people, have whipped the whole push. This should teach labor the great lesson that they never can accomplish any good without going into politics. Do you think that a judge elected by the workers would have dared to defy the whole city? Nit, but this one is appointed by the president for life on the recommendation of the capitalists.

Think it over boys, and see if you won't agree with me, that it's foolish to vote for a thing and then strike against it. Vote against it and the strikes will take care of themselves. Vote for socialism and that means vote for DEBS and HANFORD.

Special to railroad boys: "We're pleased to announce that Geo. Gould is on his way home with his new $5000 bull dog."

You 30 cents workers may never see the valuable dog, and I know that you are not treated near so good, but it should be a matter of pride to know that you have paid for him. Now, remember that George favors Parker, and Parker favors Gould. Both would rather do a favor for the dog than the fool working mules. Five thousand dollars for a dog, and more men laid off to hunt another job. Whoopee. THE OFFICE BOY.

IN TWO PENNSYLVANIA TOWNS.

York Pa.—On a 65-acre farm which he recently bought near Dover, this county, P. C. Weist, a York capitalist, will build a model village which will be inhabited exclusively by ten of York's wealthiest families, including that of the projector. Each beautiful home will be surrounded by seven acres of ground, cared for by landscape gardeners employed in common by the villagers. The model village will have all the most modern and costly improvements and facilities.—Press Dispatch.

Williamsport, Pa.—Nearly twenty-six tramps at work on the city stone pile organized a union yesterday and struck, declaring they were not properly fed. When the chief of police put them on a bread and water diet and in solitary confinement the "walking delegates" unanimously decided to call the strike off. Now they are cracking stones again.—Press Dispatch.

GLEANINGS.

Down goes another labor law. The statute requiring journeymen horseshoers to be registered has been decided by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of New York to be unconstitutional in the case of Samuel Beattie, convicted of a misdemeanor in having practiced horseshoeing without having filed a certificate that he had been duly examined and qualified, as required under article 12 of labor law.

The attempt of the Denver Citizens' Alliance to boycott the News and Times because they persisted in telling the truth about Colorado affairs has proven a fizzle. They ought to import Parry to take charge of the campaign of boycotting and also Peabody's re-election.

Unionists of Pennsylvania are wrathful. The new capitol at Harrisburg is being built under unfair conditions and the Republican administration is being blamed. A movement is on foot to boycott the Republican ticket and the politicians are jumping around in a panicky manner.

Chief Hanrahan, of the Brotherhood of Firemen, eulogized Roosevelt at the Buffalo convention this week for "coming down to the level of the men with grimy faces." Hanrahan probably wants to follow ex-chief Frank Sargent into a government job.

The "Rev." Boetcher, of Shelbyville, Ind., one of Parry's talking delegates, threatens a new infliction. He says he is going to start a paper next month and smash the unions.

The Democratic party is prating of a return to "Jeffersonian simplicity." Shades of the great Thomas J. himself! You should see the home of Henry G. Davis, the party's vice presidential candidate. It is a palace fit for an emperor. It surpasses in splendor every dwelling place in West Virginia save the home of the Republican United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, who, by the way, is a son-in-law of Mr. Davis. While Henry G. Davis lives in a style that is truly royal, the poor miners who delve in the bowels of the earth and bring forth the wealth that pays for all the Davis splendor, are themselves housed like cattle. No dog or horse owned by Mr. Davis would be allowed to dwell for a day in the miserable shacks where the miners of his coal camp live. The rich man's dog and horse must have the comfort and convenience of life, but the poor human slaves who produce the rich man's wealth must be satisfied with a place to crawl into and sleep. Yet millions of workingmen by their vote next November will declare that the continuance of this pitiful economic contrast is right and proper.—M. M. Wilkins in New York Worker.

While the iron and steel workers have accepted reductions in wages and are engaged in struggles in a number of places to prevent still further cuts, and to defend their right to organize, the news is flashed over the wires that the United States Steel Corporation will pay its regular dividend on preferred stock, and that "the earnings of the corporation in the quarter ending September 30 will approximate $18,000,000." Of course, when this gigantic octopus is able to pound down wages and ensure profits of $72,000,000 or more a year there must be "prosperity." This is a fine condition for the trust barons. But as long as the iron and steel workers vote the Republican ticket they have no kick coming. They are getting what they voted for. Whoop'er up some more for "protection, prosperity and patriotism." It is great fun—for Rockefeller, Morgan & Co.—Cleveland Citizen.

The labor plank in the Democratic platform is not really a plank, it is only a splinter; there is hardly enough of it to make a toothpick with.—Eugene V. Debs.

LOCAL LABOR NOTES.

Hugh A. Martin, the merchant tailor, has established a branch store in Jasonville, with H. E. Bennet as manager.

Henry C. Higginbotham, twenty-five years old, a bridgeworkman in the employ of Fred Meredith of Terre Haute, was instantly killed Monday afternoon by a fall from a scaffold at the Clear Creek bridge, seven miles west of this city on the national road. Higginbotham has been working for Meredith for about four years, going west during the spring and returning to Terre Haute early in the fall. His present home is unknown, but it is thought to be near Hot Springs, Ark. His birthplace was in Kentucky.

Lawrence Driggs, a brakeman on the Vandalia railroad was brought to Terre Haute Tuesday, suffering from serious injuries, received as a result of falling beneath the train. He was taken to St. Anthony's hospital in the city ambulance. His home is in Indianapolis and the accident occurred between the capital city and Terre Haute.

Mr. Ed Evinger, editor of The Toiler at Terre Haute, Ind., is the proud papa of twin babies—both girls. Mrs. Evinger and the babies are doing well, and the doctor says Ed is out of danger and will recover.—Ohio Valley Worker.

Jacob Leucht, Ed McCabe and Wm. Hemzelman have been representing the Terre Haute locals in the convention of the International Brewery Workers at Indianapolis the past two weeks. The convention last week voted $500 to the campaign fund of the Socialist Party.

A. E. Saltzman, business agent and secretary of Carpenters' Union No. 295 and president of the Building Trades Council, has been in attendance at the biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America at Milwaukee.

Seven saloons were placed on the unfair list at the regular meeting of the Bartenders' union Wednesday night. This action was taken because the saloons employed non-union bartenders, and unless the proprietors of the places in question meet the demands of the union, action will immediately be taken to put them out of business. Five applications for membership were received and three applicants were initiated. A committee consisting of Joseph Frisz, Russell Frisby, James Wallis, Charles Taylor and Thomas P. Connolly was appointed to arrange for a grand ball to be given some time in October in celebration of the second anniversary of the establishment of the Bartenders' union in Terre Haute.

P. O. Newton, employed as a porter in the Hulman & Company wholesale establishment, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon by falling from the third floor of the building to the bottom of the elevator shaft, a distance of nearly thirty-five feet. In falling, Newton struck his head on a piece of iron at the bottom of the shaft, crushing his skull. He lived about three minutes after the accident.

The strike of the union car repairers at the car works, on since March 11, was declared off Thursday by National Secretary Gaston, of Chicago, of the car workers. The men struck against the piece work system and they have lost. They return to work on the scale offered by the company.

The True Blues baseball club of the Highland Iron and Steel company would like to meet the Walkovers on the Southern Indiana diamond at Fourteenth and Hulman streets Sunday morning.

A SOCIALIST CAMPAIGN SONG.

Composed and Published at Terre Haute, Ind., The Home of Eugene V. Debs.

"The Dawning Day" is the title of a Socialist campaign song. The words of which were written by Frank Sence and the music by Thos. G. Fudge a prominent music teacher of this city the words are replete with a true class conscious ring. The music is imbued with the same spirit, having a rousing chorus harmonized for male voices. A quartette from this city sang the piece at Debs' meeting Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1, 1904 on which occasion 200 copies were sold. The title page, embellished with portraits of Debs and Hanford, is well worth the price to any Socialist whether musician or not. "Music hath charms to soothe a savage" and has its place in the Socialist movement. The Socialists of America should encourage our comrades in this venture, this being to the best of our knowledge the first Socialist song ever published in sheet music form. Considering the quality of paper used and the excellency of the printer's work the price of the piece is remarkably low, 10c per copy, or 3 for 25c. Order of the composer, Thos. G. Fudge, Terre Haute, Ind.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Although the McClures may have turned down Debs' side of the A. R. U. strike, after giving Grover Cleveland the opportunity to distort and garble facts, it is perhaps just as well. The Appeal to Reason is running its presses night and day to turn out two million copies of Debs' reply to Grover, and the Newspaper Enterprise Association has sent the meat of the article to its sixty dailies, which have a circulation of a million and a half more, while the labor press will also print liberal portions of it, so that the suppressed story will really have ten times wider circulation than it could have had through McClure's. It is just about time that some of the plutocratic magazine people were given to understand that they are not yet absolute monarchs, and Debs is the boy who can beat them to a finish.

The strike in the packing houses again evinces the fact that the strike-breakers and the employers are above the law in this country, says Free Society. The strikers are clubbed and arrested if they attempt to talk with the scabs, while the latter shoot and kill with impunity. Organizer Fitzpatrick informed Mayor Harrison of Chicago that eight non-union men had recently been killed by the bursting of an ammonia pipe in Armour's factory, and the dead bodies had been secretly buried. "How could the bodies be buried without the knowledge of the coroner?" the mayor asked. "The owners of the packing houses are not influenced by law in such cases," Fitzpatrick replied. "We will prove that these men were killed and buried without the knowledge of the coroner."

His candidacy for vice president does not seem to change the attitude of Henry Gasaway Davis and his hired man in regard to organized labor. Thomas Haggerty, a member of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers, and B. M. Flaherty and John Noon, organizers of the Mine Workers, are now in jail at Parkersburg. They were committed by Judge Jackson, one of Davis' hirelings, for alleged conspiracy, and remained there in default of bond—Haggerty for $1,500 and Flaherty and Noon for $1,000. The trouble originated at the town of Newburg, in the Tunnelton coal mining region, between the cities of Tunnelton and Gratton. The Pennsylvania Consolidated Coal company, owning mines near Newburg, obtained an injunction from Judge Jackson, restraining organizers of the United Mine Workers from coming upon its land, as the employers of the company were then on strike against a reduction in wages.

A constable, on his way to serve a warrant on a charge entirely apart from the mining controversy, attempted to cross a bridge on a public highway near the coal company's lands. He was shot at by two guards that had been placed at the bridge by the coal company. To restrain the justice of the peace under whom he acted and the constable himself from arresting the men who had done the shooting, the coal company obtained a supplemental injunction from Judge Jackson.

From this second injunction the complication arose that brought on the contempt cases. Arrests of the coal company's employees were made on a mandatory order from the Circuit Court, for which Judge Jackson has twice cited men to appear before him for contempt, and the representatives of the Mine Workers were involved in the case for alleged complicity in a conspiracy against the coal company. Besides the mine workers now in jail, two justices of the peace, two constables, an attorney and a local mine worker were also arrested by Judge Jackson, but were released on their own recognizance.

Comment on the following press dispatch is hardly necessary: Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Judge Parker reached home at 9:15 o'clock. He was so busy in New York that he had no time for dinner and the West Shore officials had a special buffet car attached to the train for the use of the judge and his party. Former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Charles F. Hamlin of Boston, accompanied the candidate from New York to Esopus and is a guest for the night at Rosemount. He is an old friend of Judge Parker and made one of the seconding speeches at the St. Louis convention.

Your Heart.

When Your Heart Fails to Pump Your Blood, Trouble Results.

Have you heart trouble? You have, if you find it hard to breathe after walking up stairs, exercising, etc. If you have pain in your left side, in chest, back or shoulder. If you suffer from cold extremities, pale face, blue lips, dry cough, swollen ankles. If you have fainting spells, breast pang, palpitation, redness of the face, discomfort in sleeping on one side. The only scientific treatment for this whole train of troubles is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the prescription of a famous specialist, whose great success in treating obstinate nervous heart disease has made his name pre-eminent in the medical and scientific world. The medicine will cure you. We know it. We want you to prove it. If first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will give you back your money.

"I have for several years suffered at times with heart trouble. I got so bad I could not sleep half the night, and had to sit up on the side of the bed lots of times to get breath. Three of my brothers have died of heart trouble, and I thought I was going the same way, but about two and a half years ago I got a pamphlet about Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and thought I would try a few bottles. After using them I recovered, and have had better health since then than before for several years. I can heartily recommend them for heart trouble."—REV. eral years he has been located at Busma, Ark. In the letter he says: "Look at this for political work. Three years ago when I came here not a Socialist paper was coming into the county. On the 5th inst., at state election, Penrose, Socialist candidate for governor, received 145 votes; Hogan, for senator, 308; while the three legislative candidates received respectively 108, 173 and 188. Four years ago the state gave Debs 27 votes. I think there will be 1500 this year."

Chief of Police O'Connell, of Victor, Col., refused to be bulldozed into resigning his office, and the city attorney informed the city council that he could not be ousted from his office to please the Citizens' Alliance without legal charges and a proper civil trial. He made a gallant struggle against tremendous odds, but the continued abuses, indignities and persecutions of the Mine Owners' Association preyed on his mind until, it is thought, he committed suicide. He was found dead where he had fallen or was thrown from a fourth story window of the Markham Hotel in Denver. Unbiased men admit that paid agents of the mine owners may have actually caused his death in a foul manner, but in the absence of proof the suicide theory is preferred. Thousands visited the undertaking establishment where his remains were kept pending burial. Many an eye was wet with tears, and many a sob was heard in sorrow for the unfortunate man, whose courage to do right had incurred the relentless vengeance of a Mine Owners' Association and a Citizens' Alliance. Mrs. O'Connell, the wife of the dead man, and her three children, went to the rooms of Coroner Horan in Denver, where her husband lay still in death, and her grief beggared description. As her heart-rending moans fell upon the ears of assembled friends, strong men wept like children.

Why We Have Smallpox.

Terre Haute has never been in a worse sanitary condition than it now is. There are alleys all over the city that are so filthy the stench arising from them is so great one has to hold one's breath in passing through them. This alone accounts for the disease coming all over the city, being confined to no particular section. Another cause is the failure of the doctors to know smallpox when it does come.

The first case was a Vandalia brakeman who brought smallpox from East St. Louis, where there are many cases, and for over one week one of our best doctors called the case typhoid fever. From this case have come at least one dozen others, nearly half the block having red flags out and one death in the block. There were many callers, and this is why that case was so disastrous.

Another case up my way was said to be malarial fever and again many called, but it is as yet too early to say what the result in this case will be.

Nothing but a thorough cleaning up, coupled with the complete isolation of all cases, will stop smallpox, and all sanitarians know this. Let our health board do its duty and quit complaining about the people neglecting their pet "fad," vaccination, and they will find we are all ready and willing to stand our share of all necessary and proper expenses toward this much-to-be desired end.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN ON THE WORLD'S FAIR

What Distinguished Statesmen and Others Say of the Educational and Inspiring Exposition at St. Louis.

The public utterances of distinguished men who have visited the world's fair have but one note, and that of emphatic praise. Here are some of their comments:

Hon. John Hay, secretary of state: "I have never seen nor heard of anything so fine."

Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury: "Any father of a bright boy can afford to send him to the Fair simply to study any one of at least a thousand exhibits."

Hon. Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio: "A visit of ten days by a man of ordinary aptness and appreciative capacity to the Fair is almost equal to a postgraduate course in a university."

Hon. Benjamin E. Odell, governor of New York: "St. Louis has been badly misrepresented by accounts which say that her weather is unbearable. The Fair is wonderful."

Hon. George C. Pardee, governor of California: "The governor of the Golden State, who has spent all his life within her borders, finds that he knew only a little about his state until he came to the Fair and saw all her varied products assembled together."

Hon. Albert B. Cummins, governor of Iowa: "The Louisiana Purchase Exposition is on the grandest scale of any exposition the world has ever seen."

Hon. Richard Yates, governor of Illinois: "The more I see of the Exposition the more I enjoy it."

Hon. Fenimore Chatterton, governor of Wyoming: "I wish the Fair the greatest success. It certainly deserves it."

Hon. Franklin Murphy, governor of New Jersey: "It is well worth coming from New Jersey to see even a small part of this Fair."

Hon. A. B. White, governor of West Virginia: "I cannot speak too strongly of the greatness of this Fair."

Hon. William J. Bryan: "The Exposition is an unparalleled wonder."

Hon. John Sharp Williams, member of congress from Mississippi: "The most wonderful thing of its kind."

Hon. Hoke Smith of Georgia, formerly secretary of interior under President Cleveland: "I am highly pleased with the Exposition and believe it to be one of the triumphs of modern civilization."

Hon. Perry Belmont of New York: "In magnitude and beauty the Fair is wonderful. It is worth coming a long distance to see."

Hon. Daniel J. Campau, chairman of the Michigan delegation to the Democratic national convention at St. Louis: "It is positively sinful for parents to fail to bring their children to see the Fair."

M. Paul Dupuy, editor of Le Petit Parisien of Paris, France: "I admire the Exposition for its immensity, its spirit of the sublime, its general beauty and its completeness."

Prince George of Bavaria: "I have never seen anything prettier than the St. Louis World's Fair buildings when outlined at night with their millions of electric lights."

Hon. John F. Dryden of New Jersey: "The people have no idea of the greatness of the Exposition. Every American should see it."

T. P. Shants, president of the Clover Leaf route of Chicago: "The Fair is a big success and will continue to become a greater success as it progresses."

WAGE EARNERS AT THE FAIR

Prominent Men Planning to Help Workers See the Great Exposition.

Wage earners of America are to see the World's Fair by tens of thousands under the auspices of the National Civic Federation. A new bureau of the Federation has just been established at St. Louis upon the World's Fair grounds. Back of the movement are Grover Cleveland, David R. Francis, Andrew Carnegie, Cornelius N. Bliss and others. Plans are making to have a vast number of the wage earners of the United States see the World's Fair, the most glorious spectacle of the age and the most influential factor in the education of the American citizen.

The bureau is in charge of Miss Gertrude Beeks, secretary of the Federation's welfare department, of which Mr. H. H. Vreeland, head of the street railway system of New York city, is chairman. The bureau headquarters is in the east end of the Palace of Transportation, on the ground floor. The Exposition management is in hearty accord with this movement on the part of the Federation to induce the large manufacturers and other employers of labor to provide ways and means for the wage earners of America to visit the Exposition. President Francis is displaying personal interest in the undertaking by affording the Federation every facility for the consummation of its efforts, and in this connection he has directed Theodore Hardee, assistant to the secretary, to co-operate with Miss Beeks and Ralph M. Easley, chairman of the Federation's executive council, in every possible way.

The Exposition management has also equipped this bureau with clerical assistance and a full supply of World's Fair literature. The bureau will be used as headquarters for all wage earners coming to the Exposition under its auspices. The aim of the Federation is to make it feasible for the largest possible proportion of wage earners to visit St. Louis and see the World's Fair. It will see that they are met at the depot by responsible persons and conducted to suitable lodgings, where they will be treated fairly.

There will also be furnished, free of charge, appropriate itineraries indicating the points of interest to be seen within a limit of one week, which is about the average time each party will spend here. It will also indicate the objects of special interest to various craftsmen in their particular lines, so that they may devote as much time as possible to the objects of peculiar interest to them. These and many other efforts will be made to help all wage earners to enjoy the benefits of this great Exposition comfortably and at an expense within their means.

This is the Union Label of The United Hatters of North America

When you are buying a FUR HAT—either soft or stiff—see to it that the GENUINE UNION LABEL is sewed in. If a retailer has loose labels in his possession and offers to put one in a hat for you, don't patronize him. He has no right to have loose labels. Loose labels in retail stores are counterfeits. Do not listen to any explanation as to why the hat has no label. The genuine union label is perforated on the four edges, exactly the same as a postage stamp. Counterfeits are sometimes perforated on three of the edges, and sometimes only on two. Keep a sharp lookout for the counterfeits. Unprincipled manufacturers use them in order to get rid of their scab-made hats. The John B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia is a non-union concern. JOHN A. MOFFIT, Pres., Orange, N. J. MAILY'S REPORT

Weekly Socialist Bulletin of National Secretary.

Comrade J. Rosenbloom of Detroit, Mich., sets an example which many other comrades could follow. He took up a collection for the National Campaign Fund in the shop where he works and secured $11.04. He says he did it because he knows the campaign requires lots of money.

The sale of campaign literature is increasing daily at the National Headquarters, having a brisk demand. There appears to be great satisfaction with the supplies being issued. A catalogue will be sent to anyone upon application to the National Secretary.

DEBS AND HANFORD'S TOURS.

Eugene V. Debs' meetings at Baltimore, Md., Wheeling, W. Va., Dayton, O., St. Louis and Memphis during the week ending Sept. 12 were all of the most successful character. Comrade Toole, of Baltimore, reported:

"Comrade Debs spoke to about 1,200 people. He received an ovation when he entered the hall and again when he was introduced to the audience, which would have been larger if the papers had given advance notices. As it was, not a paper mentioned the fact that Debs was going to talk. They gave us space though in reporting the meeting, estimating the number present from 338 to 2,500."

The Wheeling Register said: "Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate for president of the United States, addressed a large audience at Arion Hall on Thursday evening. There was quite a sprinkling of ladies, besides a number of members of the republican and democratic parties present. 'Mr. Debs' address from a Socialist standpoint was all that could be desired, and he presented his arguments in a forceful and eloquent manner that brought forth frequent applause."

Comrade E. L. Rodgers, of Dayton, wrote: "Our Debs' meeting was all that could be desired. The theater was packed, many people being unable to gain admittance. At least 200 men were waiting at the theater for fear they would not get seats. Everything went off smoothly and Comrade Debs 'delivered the goods,' as we knew he would."

The St. Louis meeting was a magnificent demonstration which aroused renewed interest in the movement there. Comrade G. A. Hohn reported: "Our candidate for president, Comrade Eugene V. Debs, spoke at our Riverside Park demonstration and picnic last Sunday. It was a most successful affair. The daily press estimates the number of people present at 11,000. Comrade Debs spoke for half past five to half past seven o'clock. For over two hours at least 5,000 people thronged around the speaker's stand and listened most attentively to our champion's splendid arguments. Considering the fact that Comrade Greenlich of Switzerland had preceded him with an hour's speech, it was certainly a remarkable gathering that listened for three full hours to Socialist addresses. But even more remarkable is the fact that we sold about $75 worth of Socialist literature in the park, besides getting new subscribers to our papers. Comrade Debs himself was well pleased with the result, for his arguments were most sincerely appreciated by the large audience, who applauded him most heartily and cheerfully. This was the most successful gathering ever recorded in our local Socialist movement. The prospects are excellent. Our comrades will do their duty during the next few weeks and a good vote may be expected."

Comrade Cornelius Simon reported the Memphis meeting as follows: "Eugene V. Debs addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Lyceum theater last night, the house being filled, despite several unusual attractions in the city the same evening. The speaking was a great success. It was the best managed affair and the most successful one the Socialists have had in this city and more than fulfilled the expectations of the Memphis comrades."

At each place fairly good press notices were given, and in some sufficient of the address was published to give a good outline of the Socialist position.

BEN HANFORD BEING MISREPRESENTED.
There seems to be a systematic effort on foot to discredit the National Socialist ticket by impugning the union record of Ben Hanford, the vice presidential candidate. A few days ago news came from Omaha to the effect that a report was being circulated that Hanford scabbed "once upon a time." In a report of Hanford's meeting at Canton, Ill., on August 29, the leader of that city stated that Hanford "at one time was suspended from the ranks of the Typographical Union and sought relief in the courts and forced the courts to reinstate him." Then the Worcester, Mass., Telegram, in a report of Hanford's meeting there on Sept. 9th, said the story had reached Worcester that Hanford had worked in a non-union shop at the time he was helping to conduct the typographical union fight against the New York Sun. The facts are that Hanford never scabbed in his life, never had any trouble with his union, and the foregoing reports are absolutely false. Hanford joined the Chicago Typographical Union No. 16 twenty-five years ago, and from that time he has never been without his card. If anyone charges him with having "rat" or "scabbed" the comrades should denounce any such charge as maliciously false, demand of the person the charge, and time and place of the commission of the act, and then communicate with the secretary of the Typographical Union in that place, and the statement will be stamped as unqualifiedly false in every particular.

Hanford's meetings at New Bedford, Worcester, Fitchburg, Adams Mass., and Pawtucket, R. I., and Springfield have all been successful. At Pawtucket a heavy rain interfered somewhat, but the meeting was a success nevertheless. The Providence Journal said that "Hanford spoke for an hour and a half and kept the full interest of his audience to the last."

Comrade Stewart of Fitchburg reported: "The Hanford meeting was a grand success. No speaker that we have had here gave as much satisfaction as he did. In the shop where I work his speech was the chief topic all day long. Many have asked me when we shall have him again."

MINES AND MINERS.

In a letter received from National President Mitchell regarding the stable boss question he holds that stable bosses are eligible to become members of the union, but that it is not necessary that they become members. He also holds that only stable bosses employed at the mines are eligible. This does not include those working on farms or hauling or shelling coal, or who perform other work in no way connected directly or indirectly with the production of coal, unless an agreement is made between the operators and miners including such men. He suggests that the joint committees of this district meet and agree on a policy to be followed in this question.

District President John Boyle of the mine workers was in Jasonville Tuesday to investigate some trouble reported at one of the mines there.

Vice President Walters was at Cate's station Monday. Some difficulty is being experienced there over the discharge of a miner.

President Boyle was in Fontanet Tuesday.

Mine Inspector Epperson was in Terre Haute a short time Tuesday. He recently inspected some new mines in Sullivan county and found them in excellent condition.

Allen Miller, 24 years old, was seriously crushed by a fall of slate in the Atherton mine Tuesday afternoon. Miller was running a machine when the roof gave way and caught him under a mass of slate. His left side was injured and his hips crushed.

George Smith, a driver in the Deep Vein coal mine near West Terre Haute, was seriously injured Wednesday by two cars loaded with coal passing over his foot.

William Fairbanks, employed in the Liggett mine, was injured by being caught beneath falling slate. He was crushed about the head and back.

Vice-president Walters of the United Mine Workers, was in Rockville Wednesday where he went to investigate conditions at the Nyesville mine, where a strike has been in progress for some time. For a short while it looked as though an agreement would be reached. The operator at this mine is not prepared to screen his coal and consequently there has been no agreement on a mine run basis. About twenty men are out of employment.

President Boyle was in Sullivan county Thursday settling a dispute there.

Wilshire Reduces Price.
Wilshire has reduced the price of his yearly subscription cards to 25 cents. Cards will be sent to anyone on credit and payment need not be made until sold. This offer is a fine one, and is an especially good chance to get a finely illustrated dollar Socialist magazine at a nominal price and our readers should not fail to jump at it. Better order today before you forget. The offer holds good until next election day.

DEBS' TOUR.

Big Crowds Greet Socialist Presidential Candidate.

A large number of railroad employes attended the address of Eugene V. Debs last night at Old Concordia. Among the railroad men here there are a number of Socialists, and as the address was advertised for working men, and was more especially for their benefit, a large number turned out. Debs is making an aggressive campaign, and while the result in Arkansas will have no result upon the general election, he has a large following in Little Rock.—Arkansas Democrat, Little Rock, Sept. 17.

According to Mr. Debs, Mr. Roosevelt, the incumbent of the presidential chair, who has been nominated to succeed himself, is the bitter opponent of the laboring class, even though he was made a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers two years ago.

The republican party is an organization in the interest of trusts; the B. of L. E. is an organization in the interests of labor, capital and labor here being clearly antagonistic.

This being true, the question presents itself as to which Mr. Roosevelt will support in the coming election.

Would he, if he could cast a vote for himself, vote for Mr. Roosevelt, the foremost member of this great labor organization, or would he cast his vote for Mr. Roosevelt, the representative of the great combine of trusts known as the republican party?

The case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is shown of its consuming interest when compared with the case of Roosevelt vs. Roosevelt.—Arkansas Democrat.

The Lyceum Theater was well filled last night with those who assembled in response to the announcement that Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate for President of the United States, would lecture there. The lecture was an able one.

Mr. Debs is a man of vast strength of personal magnetism. Intensely earnest, a man of the people, earling little for the effect of rhetorical graces, although possessed of these in no mean degree, he first attracts attention then compels admiration on his own account, even when the listener quite disagrees with his peculiar political and economic views.

Eugene V. Debs upon the lecture platform is a man of intense action. His long, angular form bends and sways, his long right arm crooks and lifts, his bony fingers shake and point as he strives with voice and gesture to drive his argument home to the intelligence of his audience and clinch it there. He makes an individual appeal. There is no broad shooting at a platoon, there are no scattering volleys. It is a rapid succession of sharp-shooting, in which every word counts and every sentence nails an argument. And always he speaks to you, and you forget that there are others who are listening.

He was introduced by Fred Stanley of the Labor Journal in a brief but vigorous speech.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal, Sept. 13.

Eugene V. Debs, Socialist nominee for president, arrived in Little Rock at 1:40 p. m. yesterday and went at once to Gleason's Hotel, where he registered from Terre Haute, Ind. The Socialist leader left notice that he was not to be disturbed before 7 p. m., as he was fatigued by travel and desired to rest before filling his engagement to speak at night. He came to Arkansas to make three speeches, one here, one at Pine Bluff and one at Fort Smith. Several of the Socialist leaders in the state came to Little Rock to meet their standard bearer. In the election in Arkansas last week the Socialist nominee for governor, Wm. Penrose, received 1,500 votes. The Socialists will probably have an electoral ticket in the field for the November election. They have a state organization, with Dr. Wells Le Fevre of Pine Bluff chairman and E. W. Perrin of Little Rock, secretary.—Arkansas Gazette.

LOCAL SOCIALIST NOTES.

The regular business meeting of Local Vigo County will be held at headquarters next Sunday afternoon.

Certificates of nomination for the congressional, joint representative, county and township tickets have been filed this week.

The usual Saturday night meeting will be held at Third and Main streets.

Edward Ellis Carr, of Danville, Ill., national organizer, will speak at Fontanet Saturday evening and at Third and Main Sunday evening at 7:30.

The banner meeting of the season was held at Third and Main last Sunday afternoon, with State Organizer Strickland as the speaker. More than 300 people listened to the speaker for nearly two hours, and stood in groups discussing the speech for an hour after the close of the meeting. A large amount of literature was disposed of.

THE FERRONIERE.

An Ornament That Probably Dates Back to Remote Antiquity.

A ferroniere was a band or chain round the head, holding a jewel in the center of the forehead. The last instance of its being in fashionable use was furnished by America early in the nineteenth century. Mrs. Earle, the historian of transatlantic costume, vouches for this curious survival. This ornament is known to have been popular in Europe in the sixteenth century, and in the east it could probably be traced back to remote antiquity. Biblical students know that the Jews, following a custom of the ancient Egyptians, often adopted this method of wearing their phylacteries, or frontlets, between their eyes.

The modern application of the name is, according to Mrs. Earle, obscure, but there does not appear to be much doubt about the matter. One of the pictures of Leonardo da Vinci goes by the name of "La Belle Ferroniere." It would seem to be a portrait of Lucrezia Crivelli, a favorite of Ludovico Sforza, and, as the lady is depicted wearing one of these ornaments, it is clear that the name owes its revival to this picture.—London Standard.

An Odd Swimming Contest.

Sir John Pakington, a courtier of Queen Elizabeth, was a reckless layer of wagers. He once bet £3,000 that he would swim the Thames from the bridge at Westminster to the bridge at Greenwich faster than three relays of young noblemen. Sir John won this bet. The relays of noblemen, though they swam hard, were badly beaten. The queen was present at the race, and to the losers she gave, by way of a consolation prize, a butt of sack.

Terre Haute Business Men Friendly to Union Labor

John Jakle.

Able and efficient in his business methods, courteous and painstaking to the fullest degree with all his customers, and fair and square in his dealings with both labor and the public, is our friend John Jakle. This enterprising business man conducts the pleasant resort at 416 Ohio street. He is in a position at all times to render his customers a splendid service, which is both prompt and efficient. The members of organized labor have no stronger friend than this honorable and trustworthy business man, and our people should leave no stone unturned to further his business in every reasonable manner. We give the name of John Jakle most honorable mention in this, our Annual Review, because we know him to hold a fair and considerate attitude toward labor and the cause of labor.

H. P. Lenhart.

A merchant who is well and favorably known to the union men of our city is Mr. H. P. Lenhart, the Furniture, Carpet and Stove dealer, located at 23 25 South Fourth street. Mr. Lenhart has always exhibited a most friendly feeling toward the cause of labor. Because of his hearty co-operation and good will he is entitled to the liberal encouragement and good support of organized labor. Mr. Lenhart who is the successor to Mr. G. Underwood, is a man of ability and integrity, and he enjoys an enviable reputation and standing in this city.

We take pleasure in placing the name of Mr. Lenhart among the prominent ones of Terre Haute which are always to be depended upon as substantial friends of organized labor. Patronize this gentleman and you will not be disappointed in his choice line of furniture and carpets of all kinds.

Julius Voges.

Our people should encourage home industries by patronizing their output. There is no concern in our city doing a more creditable business and serving its customers in a more efficient manner than the Idaho Blacksmith Shop, owned and operated by our friend Julius Voges. At this establishment Mr. Voges gives his personal attention to horseshoeing and blacksmithing, also carriage and buggy painting, besides, dealing in buggies, road wagons, farm implements, etc.

Mr. Voges has exhibited a most friendly interest in the cause of labor and has won a host of friends and constant customers on account of his sterling integrity and ability. His output cannot be excelled in the entire state, and we do not hesitate to direct our members to his splendid establishment, 666-668 Hulman street.

Charles J. Petri.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of the hosts of union men to the pleasant resort of our friend Charles J. Petri, located at Thirteenth and Lafayette avenue, Petes old place. This popular resort is one of the best saloons in our city, and the grade of wines, liquors and cigars carried cannot be excelled in this entire section. Organized labor is in the habit of always demanding the best, and we feel safe in directing all of our members and other readers to this splendid establishment, where we know that nothing but the highest grade of goods are carried.

The proprietor is a man who stands high among our members and the public generally, and to his earnest and straightforward manner of dealing at all times, with both employes and customers, is largely due the popularity and increasing success of his business. This splendid establishment certainly deserves a full share of increased patronage.

How Are You Going to Vote?

We elect a president next November. Are you going to vote with the Democrats, the party of the little capitalists, and try to put things back where they used to be? Or are you going to vote with the Republicans, the party of the big capitalists, and help keep things as they are? Or will you vote with the Socialist Party, the party of the workers, and help change things so that those who do the work will own what they produce? But possibly you do not know about the Socialist Party. Then send four cents in stamps, and receive by return mail three books, Easy Lessons in Socialism, The Socialist Party, and What to Read on Socialism. Address

CHARLES H. KERR & COMPANY
56 FIFTH AVENUE, CHICAGO, ILL.

Hiney's Place.

Our hearty good will is extended to our friend, H. J. Wedele, proprietor of the above place. The establishment is located at 10 South Fourth street, and our members and citizens should do everything in their power to make his business a continued and growing success.

Our friend Wedele is conducting a business man's resort, patronized by the best class, who want the best. The establishment is a recognized union headquarters, where the best of everything is sold. H. J. Wedele is the personification of a whole-souled, genial host and every person entering his establishment is assured of the most cordial greeting.

Weidele is a good friend of our union members and they all know him. We take pleasure in giving him this honorary mention.

Terre Haute Stone Works Co.

Concerns which add materially to the general completeness and welfare of our city, and which are known to hold a fair attitude towards labor are certainly entitled to our endorsement and should receive every encouragement and patronage from our people throughout the year. We point to the Terre Haute Stone Works Company, as an enterprise which we know to be strictly fair in its dealings and worthy of our highest endorsement, and should be given an increased share of business in their line.

We found them in all actions most fair and courteous towards labor, and we wish this concern the success due to their earnest efforts and conscientious business methods.

This concern has a most modern and well equipped plant at 107 North Tenth and one half street.

Frank A. Wey.

Prominent among the granite and monument dealers in this section is the well-known and highly respected business man, Mr. Frank A. Wey, whose splendid plant is located at 1027 South Third street. He has done a large percentage of the business in his important line since his inception in the business, and it is a notable fact that all work done at this establishment has met with hearty approval of all concerned. A public-spirited business man of this character, and one who has taken a deep interest in all affairs affecting the laboring people, should be given the full unlimited patronage of all our members and other people. Give this concern the success it merits, and promote its business in every reasonable and honorable manner.

Mr. Wey stands high among the union men in this section and his name is placed foremost on our list.

Crescent Grocery Company.

We are pleased to place in this edition the name of the above firm, well-known and popular grocery which is under the management of H. M. Ramaze, located at 616 Locust street. By reason of the friendly attitude of this firm we are pleased to give it honorary mention in this Review.

West Terre Haute Friendly List.

M. T. All.

We do not hesitate to give the name of M. T. All most prominent mention in this Review, which will be read by thousands of people in our city and throughout this entire section. This public spirited business house ranks among the first in its line and we have heard many high words of commendation as to the quality and superior class of goods handled by Mr. All, the well-known West Terre Haute grocer, and his very creditable establishment is located on Main street.

Mr. All, the proprietor of this splendid establishment, has gained a large and increasing patronage through honest business methods and straightforward manner of treating customers. We feel safe in predicting that his business will continue to increase as long as he keeps the methods up to the present high standard and treats labor in the same courteous manner.

John Snack.

It is one of the broad underlying principles of organized labor to foster and encourage to the fullest extent those concerns which have exhibited a kindly feeling toward the cause of labor and have aided directly in the advancement of our city.

Among the leading saloons of West Terre Haute there is none held in higher favor by our members than the popular place of our friend John Snack. This establishment is noted for its care and painstaking attention to the care of the union man. This place is run on the right principles and is frequented by our best people, who want the best sold over the counter.

Such establishments are fully deserving of every co-operation of organized labor, and we trust to see the business continue to grow and become an even more splendid and assured success.

T. R. Weeks.

An enterprise which is held in popular favor by our members and business through this section, and one which has rendered the retail trade of this section a valuable and unequalled service, is the grocery business of T. R. Weeks, located

Thatcher A. Parker.

Organized labor recognizes the industry of the above gentleman, as an enterprise which is of positive benefit to the city and the masses of the laboring people, not only because of the material benefit it brings to business generally and consequently to labor, which constitutes so large a percentage of the population, but also because of the fair and considerate manner in which the proprietor has always treated the question of labor. This plant is located at 208 North Fifth street.

A concern which is ably managed as this one, and which has taken such a public spirited interest in the affairs of labor should be given every support possible and we unhesitatingly recommend Mr. Thatcher A. Parker to a full share of the co-operation of our members.

Nothing is so beneficial to both capital and labor as a movement to bring each interest to a more complete unity. The interest of such establishments as the above is in the line of progress. Mr. Parker is a man who has viewed the great question of labor with the utmost fairness and consideration and we are pleased to give him honorary mention in this Annual Review.

Charles N. Murphy.

Among the prominent saloonists of Terre Haute is Charles N. Murphy, located at 412 Wabash avenue.

We are pleased to note that this gentleman is held in high esteem, not only by his patrons, to whom is accorded the most fair and courteous treatment, but also by organized labor in the city.

Union men will make no mistake in extending their co-operation to this deserving gentleman, and may continued success ever attend Mr. Murphy is our earnest wish. We place his name in our Annual Review with great pleasure, heartily recommending him as a business man who conducts a clean place, that it is a pleasure to enter.

The establishment of Mr. Murphy is a particularly pleasant place. No man ever entered it without feeling peculiarly at home. Mr. Murphy has a host of friends, and with members of organized labor is particularly well liked. He only sells the best of everything.

James A. Nisbet.

We take pleasure in our Annual Review in calling the attention of the thousands of workmen of this district to the name of James A. Nisbet, the well known undertaker and embalmer who is worthy of the support and encouragement of all intelligent workmen. The record of this gentleman shows clearly that in all his dealings with labor he has actuated by principles of fairness and justice. A gentleman who pursues a policy of this kind is almost sure to succeed.

When a gentleman, such as the above, pursues a policy of strict fairness and consideration in its relation with labor, that concern should receive the hearty support and encouragement of our friends and the public.

In time of necessity it is well that our members patronize Mr. Nisbet's establishment. Many have been well treated by him and his services have invariably been the most satisfactory.

P. Krackenberger.

A place worthy of special mention is the establishment of the above gentleman, located on Main street, West Terre Haute. Mr. Krackenberger is one of the leading merchants of West Terre Haute, and is constantly in a position to render the public an unexcelled service. At all times our people should co-operate in furthering the business of this meritorious and deserving saloonist, and in so doing they will be fostering a true and tried friend.

No establishment in our midst has been more courteous and reasonable in his attitude toward labor, and we do not hesitate to place the name of the above gentleman among the foremost concerns of West Terre Haute which are in deep sympathy with the cause of labor.

Cassaday's Pharmacy.

One of the retail drug stores of West Terre Haute which has shown a most friendly spirit towards organized labor is that of Cassaday's Pharmacy, located on Main street. The management of this Pharmacy has ever shown a most liberal and reasonable attitude towards the cause. They constantly give their earnest and painstaking efforts to the business and they are known to be expert Pharmacists. At this drug store will be found a superior stock of everything included in the drug business, and our people will make no mistake in patronizing this Pharmacy on all occasions. Great care is given to the filling of prescriptions and this is the leading drug store in West Terre Haute. A very desirable line of toilet articles of all kinds are carried.

The International Correspondence School, of Scranton, Pa.

A short time ago a committee appointed for that purpose, to go over the list of institutions and enterprises that are known to be friendly toward the cause of labor, took up a question of very great importance to our members. This year our annual review committee has taken up the question of more than great importance to our members, for the reason that it concerns the future of many of our younger wage-earners, and the present increase in the opportunity of many who are identified with the industrial growth of this district.

It has been recognized that education has been the means of large increases in the remuneration received by wage earners for the efforts of their toil. The annual review committee have therefore seen fit to go over the various means of obtaining such knowledge as is practical to the most of our members, and the result of this investigation has been such that the committee has placed the International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pa., on our friendly list for the support and patronage of the hosts of laboring men in the Terre Haute district.

It has been found that they have been most cordial and painstaking in their relations to members of organized labor, of which thousands are numbered on their lists of students. The annual review committee therefore, takes pleasure in not only endorsing the method, policy and principles of the International Correspondence School, but cheerfully gives them honorary mention in our annual review.

A local office has been maintained here for five years, during which time hundreds of men have been qualified, by their assistance for most remunerative positions where a technical education is required are held by their students, or by those who have availed themselves of the assistance of their textbooks. Their reference libraries are the most reliable books for the use of men in industrial positions.

These schools teach only subjects qualified to help our men earn a better living. But in this field they have one hundred and seventy-five different practical courses. Some of the most important groups include Electricity, Coal Mining, Steam Engineering, the Building Trades, Commercial Courses, Advertising, Drafting, and Modern Languages. In any course the intention is to make a specialist of the student in that line, and do it in the least possible time. To this end everything is set out except what pertains directly to the subject in hand. All the studying is done at home in one's leisure without the loss of any time from his regular work.

The local office is at No. 5 Erwin Block. Any one desiring information regarding any course should call at this address, or write any of the representatives named below.

The representatives having their office in Terre Haute, are F. E. Wilson, Assistant Superintendent, R. M. Guller, Local Representative for Terre Haute and vicinity, B. D. Miller, Local Representative for surrounding territory.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

ALSO OLD BURGUNDY WINE. And ★★ Climax Brandy.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE NINE YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED WINE is the pure juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in Speer's vineyards, and left hanging until they shrivel and partly raisin before gathering. It is invaluable. Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other wine in the world, being produced under Mr. Speer's personal supervision, at his own vineyards, the past forty years. Its purity and genuineness are guaranteed by the principal Hospitals and Boards of Health who have examined it. It is particularly beneficial to the aged, debilitated and the weaker sex. In every respect it is A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

[See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Pasad, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.]
Speer's (Socialite) Claret
Is held in high estimation for its richness as a Dry Table Wine, especially suited for dinner use.

Speer's P. J. Sherry
Is a wine of Superior Character and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made.

Speer's ★★ Climax Brandy
IS A PURE distillation of the grape, and stands unrivaled in this country for medicinal purposes, and equal in every respect to the high price Old Cognac Brandy of France, from which it cannot be distinguished.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AND GROCERS WHO KEEP FIRST CLASS WINE.

Joseph W. Rentz.

A movement among our wage earners to recognize such interests as display the union card applies particularly to our establishments where the union man can be satisfied. In our city the hosts of union men have many staunch friends among our union bars. The above saloon is an excellent example in this line of business and the recognition of the inner card in this establishment is a sure indication that only the best in the market is handled.

When feeling the need of a social glass, it is pleasant to go to the popular and pleasant resort of Joseph W. Rentz of 2448 Locust street with the assurance that one will be welcomed with a hearty hand-clasp and made to feel at home. This saloon is run on strict union principles and only handles the highest grades of wines, liquors and cigars. Joseph W. Rentz the proprietor, is a man who has made a host of friends for himself during his business career, and his attitude on the labor question is well known and he is a genial host who has made a deserved success in his chosen line. He is a man of business ability, whole-souled and broad-minded, with the best interests of the community at heart and is ever in the van when any movement is on foot looking to the advancement of labor in the Terre Haute district.

Crawford Coal Company.

The industrial situation of Terre Haute, presents many phases of importance. The commercial supremacy of our city owes its prominence essentially to such enterprises as the Crawford Coal Co., located at 435 North Fourteenth street.

This company does an extensive business and adds materially to the progress and prosperity of our city, and their product is a credit to the trade and bears a most excellent reputation, not only in the commercial circles of our city, but also among the workmen.

We have no hesitancy in stating that the attitude of this concern toward labor and its cause has always been most friendly and considerate, and reasonable in all their actions both to labor and the public. This concern stands foremost in their line of business, and the output has been received with great popular favor and is worthy of the support and co-operation of all working men and fair minded citizens.

Peyton House.

In calling the roll of Terre Haute's important business interests one should not overlook the popular hotel of T. T. Peyton, the Peyton House, formerly known as the St. Charles.

This is one of the particularly well established hotels in our city, and is one which has earned the respect and confidence of the entire public.

Mr. Peyton is too well known to need lengthy comment. His business methods have ever been above reproach, which fact is evidenced by the steady and healthy growth of his business. His attitude toward the cause of labor and the working people has been uniformly friendly. He conducts the Peyton House in a manner that has always retained for him a well deserved reputation as an experienced hotel man. This hotel is one that can be positively stated as friendly, and we take pleasure in placing the name of the Peyton House before our members as worthy of their support.

God's Children A Modern Allegory

THIS new book by JAMES ALLMAN will delight every socialist reader and will far the non-socialist reader into doing some thinking for himself. It is by all odds the cleverest socialist novel ever published in America. Read it and laugh over it, then lend it and see the converts it will make. There is no socialist label on it (only a union label), and you can get a man to read it who would turn up his nose at anything marked socialist. Extra cloth binding, handsomely printed in large type.

P. H. Monninger & Son.

When we meet a concern like the above we are only too glad to give them the favorable mention that is theirs by right of long friendship with the cause of organized labor, and we feel that we are doing ourselves credit in the credit we give them. The above gentlemen are the "Wine Growers" of Terre Haute, distinctly producers of good things to drink.

P. H. Monninger & Son have established an enviable reputation among the wine growers of the world as experienced men in the business and as men who have one of the finest wine making plants in the United States. Since the discovery of spring, giving a mineral value of great medicinal value, they have been devoting a great deal of their attention to the bottling of the water and also to the putting on the market of several other beverages of various nature which they have never before sold in bottles.

For the bottling of these beverages, they have purchased entirely new apparatuses, and have built a new plant for the works. The methods are the most modern in every detail, and strict cleanliness is observed in the bottling department. The works is always open to the inspection of visitors, who are welcome at all times. A few of their productions follow:

Dry Wines—Cabinet Traminer, Riesling, Burgundy, Claret.
Sweet Wines—Mainwein, Port, Sherry Malaga, Anti Ferment Grape Juice.
Champagnes—Golden Cabinet, Exquisite, Red Bordeaux.

Theo. Stahl.

Our people should lose no efforts in furthering the business of this enterprising and progressive business man. He is an extensive dealer in Queensware, Glassware, Housefurnishings, Cutlery, etc. and enjoys a large patronage, and counts a large number of his regular customers among the union people of our city.

Mr. Stahl is a wide-awake business man and ever alert to the wants of the public in this most important line. Union men and their families will make no mistake in patronizing Mr. Stahl, as he has always shown a friendly attitude toward labor, and always ready to help the labor cause.

He is located at 26 South Fourth street and is known to be a man who has never withheld his support to advancing our cause.
