Our Thanksgiving Day Message to the Workers.

LET US BE THANKFUL—
that altho during the past year, there has been instituted by the capitalist ruling class of this boasted land of freedom a reign of terror against the workers paralleled only in Czarist Russia;

and altho, in this desperate attempt of criminal capitalism to bolster up its falling ramsharts, we have witnessed the death of free speech, free press and assembly for the workers and the rape of every Constitutional right heretofore believed an inalienable right of all free men and women;

and altho this annulment of Constitutional liberties has been brought about thru the connivance of armed mobs and the political tools of the capitalist class, in conjunction with the public press and other agencies of capitalism including the public school and the church;

and altho the workers' meetings have been broken up and prohibited their halls raided, their property destroyed, their newspapers and printing plants wrecked, their editors jailed, their spokesmen mobbed;

and altho threats, intimidation, injunctions, police clubs, riot guns, in fact, the whole political and armed power of the State is now massed against the workers in its attempt to throttle the revolt of the workers against inhuman exploitation—

LET US BE THANKFUL—
that in spite of all the criminal lawlessness of capitalism and its henchmen, the love of liberty still lives in the hearts of the world's workers; there are yet fearless men and women, who hearing the call of their oppressed class, step out from the ranks of the toilers, take their place in the steps of their fallen comrades, and with high purpose and courageous resolve take up the battle for emancipation, bare the breast to the assassin's bullet, offer the neck to the mob's rope, enter the prison tombs.

In the breast of the proletarian love of Liberty has found its abiding place. From the ranks of the workers arise the emancipators of the race.

PATRIOTIC HOUSEBREAKERS WRECK CINCINNATI SOCIALIST HEADQUARTERS.

By Lotta Yurve

A sign of the times was set up on Cincinnati, Ohio, yesterday: "We demand the demolition of the socialist headquarters in Cincinnati.""'

Following a meeting of the Republican Committee of the United States, the headquarters of the socialist party in Cincinnati, Ohio, was severely damaged. The building was set on fire, and the socialist leaders were arrested.

As a sign of the times, a group of police officers entered the building, where they found a large stock of socialist literature. They removed all of it and burned it.

A group of socialist leaders gathered outside the building, where they denounced the attack as an act of terrorism. They declared that they would continue to fight for their ideals, despite the violence.

The attack on the socialist headquarters is a clear indication of the increasing anti-socialist sentiment in the United States. The socialist movement is facing a difficult time, and the attacks are only going to make it harder for them to carry on their work.

We demand the immediate release of the socialist leaders and the destruction of all anti-socialist sentiment in the United States.

CRANE MARTENS OFFERS PLAN TO SEND RUSSIANS BACK AT EXPENSE OF SOVIET.

The representative of the Russian Soviet Republic, C. A. L. Esse, in a letter to the leaders of the American labor movement, has formally offered to provide means of transportation from the United States to Russia for those Russian citizens who desire to emigrate. The United States or anyone present in the United States is undesirable to the Russian government.

Promising against the "wretched" conditions in Russia, the representative has written that the Russian government is willing to pay the expenses for the transportation of those who wish to return to Russia. The United States government has received thousands of applications for transportation from those who wish to return to Russia.

The representative has also stated that the United States government has been unable to treat the matter satisfactorily because it lacks the necessary funds. The United States government has declined to provide any assistance.

Calling attention to the reports of the Russian government, the representative has written that the Russian government has made every effort to prevent the transportation of those who wish to return to Russia. The United States government has been unable to treat the matter satisfactorily because it lacks the necessary funds.

It is the United States government's position that the transportation of those who wish to return to Russia should be handled by the Russian government.

In conclusion, the representative has written that the Russian government is willing to pay the expenses for the transportation of those who wish to return to Russia. The United States government has received thousands of applications for transportation from those who wish to return to Russia.

We demand that the United States government immediately begin to provide means of transportation for those who wish to return to Russia.
THE COMMUNITY CHEST

Community is becoming a difficult task, or is it that we merely neglect to see it when we fail to do it which is done by nature, additional to our education. "Community Chests" should sound much more than "Community." The word "community" does not sound right just now any more. While to be charitable is used to be considered one of the virtues, which not "properly" people could not and should not amount, it is felt like failed into bad habits. It is said that charity begins at home, and the giver. Needy is it largely approached as means of transcending for charity, for charity, essentially, with the element of giving is present. They exist. They offer just plain ways every day and more and more people should be educated to take charge for themselves without the delays of being designated charity.

Col. Raymond Robins and Arthur Ramson

$1.35 A COPY

This book is the first authentic biography of Lenin, and the first full account of his life, work, and influence. The authors have studied the original sources, and have interviewed many of Lenin's contemporaries, to present a comprehensive picture of the man and his ideas.

The three chapters tell their story from first-hand information, and are written with an intimate knowledge of the subject. The authors have been able to draw on their own experiences, as well as those of others, to give a vivid and realistic picture of Lenin's life and work.

The book is highly recommended for all who are interested in the history of the Russian Revolution, and the development of Bolshevism. It is a valuable contribution to our understanding of one of the most important figures of the 20th century.
OLD SYSTEM HAS DIED IN EUROPE, SAYS WANHOLE.

When he left The Call to take his seat in the House of Commons with his new colleagues, Lord George Curzon was more lonely than any Prime Minister of the old school.

He is a member of a great and powerful aristocracy which is in the process of disappearing from the political stage.

"I have no one to talk to," said Lord Curzon, "no one with whom I can exchange ideas or with whom I can discuss the problems of the day."

The Old System, he said, is dead, and only the Shadow of the Past remains.

"The Old System," he continued, "is dead. It has been replaced by a new system, a system of democracy."

"But how can we be sure that the new system will work?" asked a reporter.

"I am sure," said Lord Curzon, "that it will work. The Old System was based on tradition and custom, and the new system is based on the principles of liberty and equality."

"But what about the Old System's influence on the people?" asked another reporter.

"The influence of the Old System on the people is negligible," said Lord Curzon. "The people are free now, and they can make their own decisions."
