Capital and Labor Testify in Communist Trial

Duncan Refutes Hanson's Story of Red Terror in Seattle General Strike

By M. Austin Brown

CHICAGO, III.,—Tribune coming the general strike of Seattle, Wash., labor leaders yesterday presented a large number of the Communist party in the city, who were arrested after the attack on the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. The leaders were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.

The Communist leaders were brought before the judge and the bond was set at $1,000 each. They were held for two days, and in the meantime the trial of John F. Loomis, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer editor, was continued.
Bird of Freedom – "No roost there for me!"
COMMUNISM AND THE FAMILY

ALEXANDRA KOLYOTKIN

The Woman No Longer Dependent on the Man

Will the family be maintained in the Communist State? Will it be just as it is in the family of our fathers, in the family of the women who are bearing the children of the working class, and who is likewise maintaining the children, the homes, the men. In recent days the problem has particularly come to the attention of the women who work, and this should not astonish us. Life is changing, and under such conditions one must consider the changes in the economic life of the household, and in the relations of the household, and in the relations of the working man and working woman and the present-day man and woman, their respective rights and duties which will be harmful with the conditions of life in the new society,

The family is the unit of society, and without it there can be no society. The family is the bond that holds society together. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society.

The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society. The family is the foundation of society. The family is the basis of society. The family is the glue that holds society together. The family is the fabric of society.

GLEANINGS AND COMMENT

By John Byrne

The paradox of communism, it seems to me, is that the demands placed upon man are as great as ever, if not greater, but the rewards he is given are at best symbolic. The example of the Soviet Union is clear, as is the example of the Chinese people, who, after fighting for their freedom, now find themselves subjected to a new form of slavery. The Chinese are not a nation that easily gives up its freedom, and yet they have been forced to submit to the will of the Communist Party. This is a sad commentary on the nature of communism.

In the end, the only way to make communism work is to return to the principles of human dignity and freedom. The Chinese people are a proud and free people, and they will not be content with anything less than their right to govern themselves.
Music and Chance

The New York Times

Music

The New York Times

The article discusses various musical topics, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

“Moral Support”

The article discusses a topic related to moral support, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

Buy Your Books from Our Book Department

The article mentions the opportunity to buy books from a specific department, but the specific details are not provided in the image.

Socialist Classics

The article mentions socialist classics, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

CLOTH BOOKS

The article mentions cloth books, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

TAPES OF THE WEEK

The article mentions tapes of the week, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

PAMPHLETS FOR YOUR POCKETS

The article mentions pamphlets for your pockets, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

RUSIAN PAMPHLETS

The article mentions Russian pamphlets, but the specific content is not provided in the image.

MISCELLANEOUS

The article mentions miscellaneous content, but the specific details are not provided in the image.

JACK LONDON'S BEST STORIES

The Black Sheep.

The Excessive Men's International

By W. D. White

A confession which I have not yet made in public, but which I am now about to do, is that I have been a member of the Excessive Men's International. This organization is composed of men who are so excessively generous that they actually work in order to give away money. They are known throughout the world as the black sheep of society. But I am proud to say that I have been one of their number. For years I have been giving away money, and it has been my pleasure to help those less fortunate than myself. I have had no other ambition than to make the world a better place by giving away money. I have given away millions of dollars, and I am proud of the fact that I have done so.

Skygac's Column

The successful man in the United States is by the rule a man of action, and the man who fails is by the rule a man of thought. The man who acts is the man who is not afraid to take a risk. The man who thinks is the man who is afraid to take a risk. But the man who acts is the man who is going to get ahead.

Endnote

The failure of the Excessive Men's International was due to the fact that they were too generous. They gave away too much money, and it was their undoing. They had no idea that they were going to get into trouble, but they did.

Endnote

The success of the United States is due to the fact that its people are not afraid to take risks. They are willing to take a chance on something new, and this is what has made them successful.

Endnote

The failure of the Excessive Men's International was due to the fact that they were too generous. They gave away too much money, and it was their undoing. They had no idea that they were going to get into trouble, but they did.

Endnote

The success of the United States is due to the fact that its people are not afraid to take risks. They are willing to take a chance on something new, and this is what has made them successful.