R. R. BUCCANEERS ON THE DEFENSIVE

WALSH BATTLES ATTERBURY-FOR RETENTION OF NATIONAL WORKING AGREEMENTS.

The battle between W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Prevent-accident Association Fund, and the R. R. railroads over the retention of the National Working Agreement is being waged by both sides this week. When the present period of liquidation begins, the association leaders hope to achieve a settlement which will enable the railroads to continue operating without the threat of a strike. The talk today is the question of a settlement which would bring an end to the dispute, and to that end, the association leaders are determined to try to achieve a compromise which would satisfy both sides. The battle is expected to be fought over the terms of the agreement, which has already been rejected by the railroads, who have demanded a higher wage for their employees. The association leaders are convinced that a settlement can be reached without a strike, and they are now working to bring about a compromise which would satisfy both sides.

GERMAN COMMUNISTS ANSWER BATTLE CALL

Increasing Unrest Among Workers Strikes Blaze to Smoldering Revolutionary Fires.

Armed revolt has been growing among the German workers who are now on strike. The workers, who are in a state of revolt, have been growing impatient with the government's policies and have begun to demand a new constitution. The government, which has been trying to quell the strikes, has been unable to do so and has been forced to give in to the workers' demands. The situation is very serious, and it is feared that a revolution may take place.

IN MEMORIAM.

by V. Enzensperger.

"All the troops are in Germany, and the working class of Berlin has already established a government of its own. It is clear that the workers of other countries must support these efforts without delay."

"Workers, we are not afraid of the reaction of the bourgeoisie. We are ready to fight for the emancipation of the working class and to build a socialist state."

"The working class is not afraid of the reaction of the bourgeoisie. We are ready to fight for the emancipation of the working class and to build a socialist state."

"Workers, we are not afraid of the reaction of the bourgeoisie. We are ready to fight for the emancipation of the working class and to build a socialist state."

"In memory of our comrades who fell in the struggle for the emancipation of the working class."
DECLARATION OF WAR.

War for the American workers did not come on Armistice Day. War in a form more brutal and more incessant, it is at hand. Without the aid of any form of battle cry, the people of the United States have been forced to war. This has been a bloody, ruthless attack on organized working-class consciousness by means of the methods of the labor bosses. With the aid of the police and the courts, they have been compelled to use force against force—guns against guns. The cities of West Virginia are red with the blood of the workers that have been killed or wounded by the police and the courts in this bloody and unsuccessful attempt to take over the workers’ organization in this country.

Organized greed is a force that is being used to destroy the working class. The workers are the ones who are being forced to fight for their lives and to fight for their future. The workers are the ones who are being forced to fight for their very existence.

The workers of America cannot sit idly by and see the ruling class make this country a byword of hatred and oppression. They are the ones who will be called upon to escape the crimes committed by the capitalist bourgeoisie. The workers are the class who will be forced to escape from the sights of the police and murder of their fellow workers. Their task is clear: to fight for their lives and to fight for their future.

RALLYING THE WORKERS TO MOSCOW.

By J. B. MURPHY

Freedom from the yoke of the rich is the price of freedom from the rich. It is the only way to secure the rights of the workers. The workers must work together to take over the factories and the land. The workers must organize and fight for their rights. They must not allow the bosses to dictate their lives. They must fight for their freedom. They must fight for their rights.

DOPE AND DUBB PHRASES ANALYZED.

BY A.

"Men who are always in a hurry and always in a hurry are the ones who have no time. The ones who have no time are the ones who have no time to do anything well." The phrase is from a book on the history of the United States. It has been used to describe those who are always in a hurry and always in a hurry.

OPEN LETTER TO MESSRS. JOUHAUX, OF PARIS, FIMMEN, AND OUTAGUESTE, OF AMSTERDAM.

Dear Messrs. Jouhaux, of Paris, Fimmen, and Outagueste, of Amsterdam,

I write to you with great concern about the recent developments in your countries. The situation in both countries is very serious, and I hope that you will take steps to address these issues.

In Paris, the situation is particularly troubling. The working class is under attack from the bourgeoisie, and the workers are being forced to fight for their rights. The workers must unite and fight for their freedom. They must not allow the bosses to dictate their lives. They must fight for their freedom.

In Amsterdam, the situation is also very serious. The workers are being forced to work long hours for low wages. The bosses are using violence against the workers, and the workers must fight back. The workers must organize and fight for their rights.

I hope that you will take steps to address these issues. The workers of the world must unite and fight for their freedom.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
TO THE LOYALIST CAUSE IN ENGLAND

The question of criticism of the disloyalists is a serious one, and it is not easy to know how to deal with it.

Cleveland, April 2, 1917.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my opinion on the subject of the disloyalists in England.

I have been reading a lot about this issue lately, and I feel that there is a need for us to take a stand against the disloyalists.

The disloyalists are a group of people who are opposed to the war effort in England. They are unwilling to support the war effort, and they are spreading their views to others.

I believe that it is important for us to take a stand against the disloyalists.

Yours faithfully,

CITY AND FARM LABOR MUST UNITE

By H. W. Adams

City and farm labor must unite in their struggle to protect the welfare of the country.

The war has created a great need for labor in both the city and the country.

The labor movement in the city is strong and well organized.

The labor movement in the country is growing rapidly.

City and farm labor must unite to protect the welfare of the country.

Yours sincerely,
