LESSON FOR WORKERS!

May Day is here! Once more the workers of the world will go out into the streets and demonstrate. Once more they will stand in a mighty assembly in support of the words of revolutionary fervor. Once more they will assert their international solidarity. Once more they will make the workers’ councils in every country of the world ring in the International and in the name of the International! Workers’ councils in all parts of the world will demand that the working class unite in the fight for the restoration of their energy, their life and even their death to the cause of the working class.

May Day comes in the midst of revolutionary activity in several countries of the world. The workers have grounded down, beaten and crushed, so that there is only one way for them to rise from the degradation and slavery into which they have fallen: the General Strike!

"They had been promised many things; they had been given the "democracy"—that millions of their fellow-workers had died for—and all they got were BREAD, HUNGER AND MISERY!

Europe is in the midst of turmoil. In Russia, the workers are being driven from pillar to post. The unionists have been crushed, the radicals have been crushed, the capitalists have been crushed.

"The working class have been living in revolt, even in their own homes. In Hungary, the whole working class is out, the whole working class is up, the whole working class is marching through the streets, the whole working class is fighting for its freedom!"

Command of Communist International Takes Charge

Fighting on Eve of Prison Term

In the matter of the departure for Soviet Russia of William B. Hays, the Communist Party of the United States now takes over the work of the American Section of the Communist International, the signature of its Secretary, Comrade F. N. C. Langdon.

Comrade Hays did not leave the Party of the United States of America, nor did he desert the cause of the working class, nor did he desert the cause of the international, revolutionary movement. His resignation was his only possible action in view of the present conditions of the battle between the Communist International and the修正

THE REVOLUTION IN KRONSTADT

By J. R.

(Kronstadt, May 12, 1917)

A truce in Kronstadt. All warships in the bay have ceased firing. The submarine service has been disarmed. A change has taken place. The Kronstadt warships have not fired since March 24th.

The Kronstadt revolution has been avoided.

Kronstadt, Apr. 30

The revolution in Kronstadt is over.

We have not yet discovered the exact causes of the conflict between the Government and the sailors. It is possible that there were differences of opinion over the distribution of food and other supplies. The sailors may have been dissatisfied with the conditions of their service. It is also possible that there were political differences between the Government and the sailors. The Government may have attempted to suppress the revolution.

We are not yet sure what the outcome of the conflict will be. It is possible that the Government will be able to suppress the revolution. It is also possible that the revolution will spread to other cities.

We will continue to monitor the situation and provide updates as more information becomes available.
FOR THIRD INTERNATIONAL

Three elements in the Socialist Party and among sympathizers who stand by and merely look on the revolutionary labor movement, who decry 'spills' and achieve in the movement to receive another witting of their hopes within a few weeks when the Socialist national convention convenes in May.

One of utopian ideas, that which only upon a bosom of complete and entire unity of the working masses in a party or to the third international, the issues of the movement of the 2nd International, the greater or lesser rate of the working masses in relation to the revolution, the conditions of the revolutionary movement in America is weaker and less of value to the world's movement when now than at the beginning, is the 2nd International, the blending of our forces, the working for the 2nd International, the working for the 2nd International, the 2nd International.

One would be deeply in error to believe that the condition at the head of the world revolutionary movement is weaker today than a year or two ago, the condition of the working masses is better than before, the condition of our forces is much stronger than before, the condition of the socialist movement is better than before, the condition of the revolution is better than before.

The Third International has become the fact. It is recognized by all the socialist parties in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world.

That is a split in the 2nd International, the 2nd International is inevitable at its next convention and will be dissolved, the 2nd International is dissolved, the 2nd International is dissolved, the 2nd International is dissolved, the 2nd International is dissolved, the 2nd International is dissolved.

One question remains to be answered, to the proponents of a socialist movement in the 2nd International, the question of what affiliation will mean to its members. The third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world, the third international is the expression of the most advanced socialist thinking in the world.

UNEMPLOYMENT
A Study Lesson for Workmen.

1. Industrial internationalization, in the form of the production of commodities. Commodity exchanges, trade fairs, and markets have become universal in the modern world. When will they all finally meet? When will they all meet? The question is whether or not the markets will meet the needs of all mankind.

2. There is a natural and artificial division of labor. The division of labor has become so refined that each country possesses national resources that are not shared by any other country. This division of labor results in the exchange of goods and services between countries.

3. The current economic climate is characterized by a period of high unemployment. The demand for labor is low, and the supply is high. This situation has led to a decrease in the real wages of workers, which has led to a decrease in their purchasing power.

4. The current economic climate is characterized by a period of low unemployment. The demand for labor is high, and the supply is low. This situation has led to an increase in the real wages of workers, which has led to an increase in their purchasing power.

5. The current economic climate is characterized by a period of moderate unemployment. The demand for labor is moderate, and the supply is moderate. This situation has led to a moderate increase in the real wages of workers, which has led to a moderate increase in their purchasing power.
