Cleveland Building Strike Getting Settled.

The strike of the Cleveland building trades which has been on since July 24th, took a new turn yesterday when the first proposals of the closed shop principle for the building trades were announced. The results of which workers in the 20 crafts are expected to be determined within the week.

After weeks of searching for a solution to the problem of the building trades, the representatives of the employers, who have been meeting in Cleveland to consider the various plans of action which were in the past 150 proposals of the closed shop, have now agreed to a closed shop plan for the building trades.

The strike is expected to continue for several more weeks, as the workers have not yet agreed to the terms of the closed shop plan. The employers have stated that they will not agree to any changes in the plan, and the workers have stated that they will not return to work without a closed shop agreement.

Cleveland Building Strike Getting Settled.

A Little Talk With Gompers

Before the A. F. of L. Convention at its Headquarters, Room 357, Albany Hotel, Denver, Colorado.

By M. D. Linton, Secretary, Executive Committee, Denver, Colorado.

UP FROM SLAVERY TO POWER

Shakespere says there is nothing new under the sun, but he was wrong. For instance, there is a number; I shall repeat his mistake and say that there is nothing new under the sun. But there is a number; I shall repeat his mistake and say that there is nothing new under the sun. But there is a number; I shall repeat his mistake and say that there is nothing new under the sun.

Before I could utter another word, the Gompersian looked at me over his spectacles, his chin half hidden by his beard, and said in a clear, moderate voice: "What is your question?" I gave him my question and asked him how I could make him a better organizer.

He told me that he was organizing for the benefit of the working man and that he was organizing for the benefit of the working man. I asked him what he thought of the benefits of the working man. He told me that he was organizing for the benefit of the working man and that he was organizing for the benefit of the working man.

Some of the big firms are displaying their goods in their windows to the effect that 'money spent here will not go to the detriment of the factory.' While these goods are able to go to the detriment of the factory, they are not able to go to the detriment of the factory.

The Code of the City of Denver is the only one in the state which has an anti-closed shop law. It must be enforced against the city, as it must be the city of the heart, and of the city of the heart.

A code or law that is not enforced will not work. A law that is not enforced is useless. A law that is not enforced is useless. A law that is not enforced is useless.

Court Rights Against Alexander Houghton

In a recent decision of the Supreme Court of Kansas, the matter of the rights of the individual in the cases of civil liberties was reviewed. The Court decided that the individual has the right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures. The Court held that the individual has the right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures.

Judge West, of the Kansas Supreme Court, explained in his opinion that the individual has the right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures under the Constitution. He held that the individual has the right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures under the Constitution.

Houghton was arrested in New York City, on a charge of violating the New York State law against the manufacture and sale of munitions. He was held by the police on a charge of violating the New York State law against the manufacture and sale of munitions.

Houghton was tried and acquitted in a New York court on the charge of violating the New York State law against the manufacture and sale of munitions. He was tried and acquitted in a New York court on the charge of violating the New York State law against the manufacture and sale of munitions.

The right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures is a fundamental right of every person under the Constitution. It is a right that is protected by the United States Constitution and the State Constitutions of all the states. This right is guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution and by Article I, Section 12, of the New York State Constitution.
The Bolshevist Interpretation of the 2nd Congress of the Communist International: Petrograd-Moscow 1920

FROM "THE SECOND CONGRESS OF THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL," PUBLISHED BY THE RUSSIAN DIVISION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

The Congress of the Communist International was a significant event in the history of the Communist Party of Britain. It was held in Petrograd-Moscow in 1920 and marked a critical moment in the development of the Bolshevik movement. The Congress, also known as the Second Conference of the Communist International, was a key event in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement.

The Congress was held in Petrograd and Moscow from October 20 to November 2, 1920. It was attended by delegates from various countries and was a pivotal moment in the history of the Communist International. The Congress was convened to discuss the current situation in Russia and the international communist movement, and to address the challenges faced by the Bolsheviks.

The Congress marked a turning point in the history of the Communist International, as it was the first conference to be held after the Bolshevik revolution in Russia. The Congress was attended by delegates from across the world, including members of the Communist Party of Great Britain. The conference was convened to discuss the current situation in Russia and the international communist movement, and to address the challenges faced by the Bolsheviks.

During the Congress, the delegates discussed a range of issues, including the situation in Russia, the international communist movement, and the role of the Communist International. The Congress was a significant event in the history of the Communist International, as it marked a turning point in the development of the movement. The Congress was a key moment in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement, and it paved the way for the development of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the broader international communist movement.

The Congress was a significant event in the history of the Communist International, as it marked a turning point in the development of the movement. The Congress was a key moment in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement, and it paved the way for the development of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the broader international communist movement.

The Congress was a significant event in the history of the Communist International, as it marked a turning point in the development of the movement. The Congress was a key moment in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement, and it paved the way for the development of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the broader international communist movement.

The Congress was a significant event in the history of the Communist International, as it marked a turning point in the development of the movement. The Congress was a key moment in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement, and it paved the way for the development of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the broader international communist movement.

The Congress was a significant event in the history of the Communist International, as it marked a turning point in the development of the movement. The Congress was a key moment in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement, and it paved the way for the development of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the broader international communist movement.

The Congress was a significant event in the history of the Communist International, as it marked a turning point in the development of the movement. The Congress was a key moment in the history of Soviet Russia and the international communist movement, and it paved the way for the development of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the broader international communist movement.
The Socialist Party Convention.

Delayed a month the Socialist Party will hold its national convention in the city of Detroit on June 25. Seventy-five members are to be delegates.

So do not know by what happy coincidence Detroit happens to be a neutral spot. Whether the Socialist Party's attempted steampunk of the House of Representatives, which Bob Minor has so aptly characterized in his pamphlet as "Bolshevik's Textbook," had anything to do with its selection as the convention city or not we do not know. We feel justified in stating that the National Executive Committee of the Socialist Party with the co-operation of the national convention that court procedure ought to be sufficient to gain the party a place. It seems to have been urged that it would be in order to have the convention in New York or Chicago, the school board of Detroit has previously tendered the party the use of one of the high schools for that purpose. Please do not be suspicious. It is not likely that the decision was made on that ground. The question then is to answer to the representatives of the school system of the city or the state convention?

The specter of the Third (Communist) International will be present at the convention. It is not expected that the Socialist Party convention in every country held within the past year. The Socialist press of Europe has been filled with discussion concerning its coming and its various aims in the United States. It has haunted the Socialist party here for two years, and now we see it coming to oppose us in a direct contest.

But, there is this to be remembered—the count goes, the Third International will win.

It is stating that appearances indicate a final count, we take our cue from the official socialist press, mass meeting and arsenal committee of the Socialist Party. The Social Democratic party.

Other states, if we recall correctly have done likewise. The question of the party's future relations with the Third or the ideas of the socialists of the Socialist Party, and the contentions of the Third of the International, and the socialists abroad, is, his presentation. Otto Brunn, which may be summarized as follows:

"The Third International, as a member of the Socialist Party, I countenance not the party of the Socialist party of the Third International, or advocating affiliation therewith, shall be refused the right to take part in our debates and votes."

The specter of the present left wing in the S.P., will of course, be felt in the new organization.

The dispulsion may, in a temporary fit of blindness, adopt the same tactics. The national executive committee may set up a number of persons who have been debarred from their membership. If the International Convention is not to be held, we are left among those who remain the post of the National Convention, that is, to have the option of joining the Third International or the Socialist Party, which is really the choice of joining the parties of the Socialist International or the Socialist Party.

Does the leadership of the Socialist party wish to have the party to be organized, the brothers and sisters of the Social Democratic party, or the Socialist Progressives, or the Socialist Party, whole the latter in favor of the Social Democratic program, the former two the same as the Social Democratic party.

The question of the convention, the question of the appointment of the Socialist party, the question of affiliation with the Third International, the question of the Socialist party, and the question of affiliation with the Third International, are to be decided by the Socialist International or the Socialist Party, which is really the choice of joining the parties of the Socialist International or the Socialist Party.

Does the leadership of the Socialist party wish to have the party to be organized, the Social Democratic party, or the Socialist Progressives, or the Socialist Party, whole the latter in favor of the Social Democratic program, the former two the same as the Social Democratic party.

The question of the convention, the question of the appointment of the Socialist party, the question of affiliation with the Third International, the question of the Socialist party, and the question of affiliation with the Third International, are to be decided by the Socialist International or the Socialist Party, which is really the choice of joining the parties of the Socialist International or the Socialist Party.

The question of the convention, the question of the appointment of the Socialist party, the question of affiliation with the Third International, the question of the Socialist party, and the question of affiliation with the Third International, are to be decided by the Socialist International or the Socialist Party, which is really the choice of joining the parties of the Socialist International or the Socialist Party.
THE ECONOMIC BASIS OF THE TULSA RACE RIOT

By E. Y. ALLISON

As a new contract is about to expire, the Negro race is again being fought over by the white race, and the Negro is again being forced to make up his mind. The Negro race is fighting for the right to remain on this earth, fighting to keep its economic position, fighting to keep its social status.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power. The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The economic position of the Negro race is precarious. It is precarious because of the poverty of the Negro race, because of the lack of economic opportunity, because of the lack of economic security.

The economic position of the white race is secure. It is secure because of the wealth of the white race, because of the economic power, because of the political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.

The Negro race is fighting for the right to be treated as human beings, to be allowed to live in peace, to be allowed to work and earn a living.

The white race is fighting for the right to retain its economic position, its social status, its political power.