Socialist Reports to The Toledo

At last they have performed the tactical trick which Hilgartner and Berger have been playing around the question of whether or not they have been doing enough for the to-Socialist campaign. The question is whether or not the Party, if we are to judge by the declaration of the party, is ready to play any part in the election. The party may not have foreseen the possibility of a Hiram Johnson campaign, but it must be regarded as a very successful feat of politics on the part of the Socialists to have successfully defeated the plan of the party for the present.

We are not at all surprised that the party should not have been able to present itself on an equal basis with the Republicans, who are likely to present a candidate in the near future who will be able to carry the state for the Socialists. The party is not ready to play a part in the election, and it is likely to remain in its present position for the next few years. The party, however, should not be regarded as a party of ignorance, but as a party of mutual aid. The Socialists, however, should not be regarded as a party of ignorance, but as a party of mutual aid. The

The Bolshevik Interpretation of the 2nd Congress of the Communist International: Petrograd-Moscow 1920

By G. Zinoviev.

"The Second Congress of the Communist International" (Petrograd, July 19, 1920)

The Second Congress of the Communist International opens at Petrograd on July 19th. The Congress is attended by representatives of all the overseas Communist organizations, including those of Switzerland, the Social-Political Party of France, the Near Eastern, and other countries. A new period has already begun in the history of the old Socialist parties, which only recently entered the Communist International. The Second Congress is the result of a great international effort, and it is a sign of the vitality of our movement. The Congress is the first step towards the realization of the international unity of the working class.

To triumph, one must be strong. To win, one must be prepared. The Bolsheviks have been declared the strongest nation, and the Congress has been organized with the strongest organizing principles. The Congress will discuss the main questions of the international situation, and the role of the Communist International in the world.

The Second Congress of the Communist International will be a significant step in the development of the international working class movement. The Congress will lay the foundations for the future international unity of the working class.

BABSON, GOD AND ECONOMICS

Rogue Jabon is a noted statistician on labor and industrial conditions and problems. To some word it is the best of the whole and the prophets. His recent advisory to a large division of manufacturers was dated upon reports obtained from econometers. The inclusion of reports on the business position of the manufacturers, the stability in the production of the manufacturers, and the reports of the manufacturers, was seen as a source of much trouble and effort to get into their head.

Considering the paragraph that follows, what is the name of the statistician mentioned?

Rogue Jabon

The works of Rogue Jabon are known for their extensive use of statistics and data analysis to address economic and industrial issues. His recent advisory to a large division of manufacturers reflects his strong focus on the business position of manufacturers, the stability in their production, and the reports of these manufacturers, all of which contribute to his reputation as a leading statistician in the field.
